This ditch was not capable of carrying more than 250 inches of water in safety, but as hogs they put 400 to 500 in it. They did not care how much harm they might do me, as their kind are many, and if things came to the worst they thought they could prove just what they wanted to. I can prove one of these men said they would make me carry my blankets on my back out of the valley. Good talk, for Christians. Still, here is more! What a shame that the community will keep up such a man as Case! I have heard him say and have heard others speak of it and I believe that he swore to the same effect here in the Justice's Court, that he did not claim any water only when there was a surplus; but at the same time he and others record 600 inches of this water and no one of us knew anything about such recording. I found this recorded August 8, 1876. It is singular that he records water and at the same time says he does not claim a water right. I should think this pretty good. But I tell you, fellow citizens, if this water is allowed to run to those sage brush ranches until the 8th day of August next then they will claim themselves victors, and as they take their water out way above all of us, they will then have a better right in the way of law than we have. They will then say "Here, when we get our 600 inches of water if there is any left you can have it." I think it about time that we make an effort to stop this wholesale thieving affair.

Now, as to the alleged malicious act in knocking off a few boards from a box to save what might do me a hundred dollars damages. No man with a just mind can see where there was any malice. I could fix up all the damage I did the flume in fifteen minutes, and Mr. Chamberlin said he could repair it in less time. Yet Case, Hall and Bowman would like to see me sent to prison for this just act. Reader, can't you see the point? They thought if they could have me sent to San Quentin they thought they would have a larger field to work in and a better chance to steal water. If you read carefully you can comprehend very plainly the facts of these lines. You can see very plainly what these men wanted. When I was arrested and brought before Judge Alexander for examination, Case and a great many sagebrushers came to Court. What did they all come for? 'Twas to get a chance to use their guilty tongues so as to get a better recommendation with Satan. But we found no use for them, for I swore to the fact that I broke their flume, and in the same case I would do it again. I also started to tell of some more facts, but they began to think that I would let the cat out of the bag. So without further examination Judge Alexander had me to give bail to appear before the Grand Jury. But I was not out the expense of going to Independence, as Case was to see this water affair brought before the Jury. These jurymen were men of justice, and of course the charge against me was ignored. Can't you see that this is what makes Case a little sick, or a little hot under the collar? Now, in Case's preaching that Sunday he spoke about the long-headed Judge, saying that he knew what was right in having me to give bail to appear before the Grand Jury, but at that time the Judge did not know the circumstances of this affair. He soon found out that I was right; at the time he was not aware that this flume interfered with the agreement framed by him. He saw plainly that Hall was disregarding this agreement by taking his water out there and in such large quantities. But as I said before there was a better place to take out his water, so Case could have a fair chance to steal.

Now, the above facts can be traced up and proven. I must say that I regret that I had to mention any one else's name in these lines but Case's, but to explain the affair and its truths I had to tell the whole story, so as to make the reader understand. The other parties have kept themselves quiet and are friendly; they seem to think they have done me a wrong, so I can forget and forgive them. On the contrary, when I met Case he never could look me square in the face, but with a down-cast look as low as if he had been baptised in a swill-tub, as I think he was, and instead of washing his sins from him it has made him quite evil. This affair has staid with Case so long that it has got him obnoxious. So when he put it to me from behind the pulpit I could not help but get the whole affair. I do not like to be roguish, so I will give it back to him.

INYO INDEPENDENT.

INDEPENDENCE, CAL.:
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 2.....1880

A NEW DISCOVERY.—A few days ago Phillip Cartier discolered some very rich ore on Badger Flat, near the head of Mazourka Canyon. Cartier was engaged in putting up a pit for burning charcoal, and in shoveling out some soft earth to cover his pit, he found a body of ore about two feet under the surface. A sample was sent down to Mr. Woodhull for examinatien, and an assay showed it to be rich in both gold and silver. Mr. Woodhull immediately started up to look over the ground, and on his return he brought down a large lot of samples, and a number of assays have been made with the following results: gold, $40, silver, $85; total, $125; gold, $150, silver, $160; total $310; gold, $56, silver, $320; total $376. The ore proves to be rich carbonates of lead carrying free gold, which is plainly visible to the eye, it has a light color, and is probably worth about $12 per ounce. The ore occurs in boulders, inclosed in a soft decomposed material, composed of argillaceous earth colored with iron. There is every indication that there are large deposits of it, as the ore has been found in three or four different places by digging down through the soil which covers the surface. There are a number of fine prospects in Mazourka Canyon, and this new discovery will be likely to enhance the value of them all.

AN EXODUS.—There is to be quite a notable "going out" among our people here soon. Judge and Mrs. A. R. Conklin start below Monday next to place their two eldest children, Norman and Maggie, at school, the former at Santa Clara the latter at San José—but "Boots" don't go, which is a partial compensation. The Judge will attend the I. O. G. T., and the F. & A. M. Grand Lodges as one of the Representatives of the respective subordinate Lodges in this place, and, with Mrs. C., expects to be home again about the 20th instant. Mrs. Mary May, wife of Assessor May, and her sister, Miss Maggie Graham, are preparing for a visit of two or three months' duration with their parents at Havilah, Kern county. Mr. Omie Mairs and wife and her sister, Miss Emily Flowers, start in a few days for a visit to the Eastern States, to remain during the Winter. Dr. Blair and family will remove to Candelaria and Mr. Jos. Schalten and family to Big Pine. From this it will be observed that the long-expected populative "boom" has set in, but with the set the wrong way.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT.—At 10, A. M. on Wednesday last, W. A. Ellis was brought before Judge Hannah to receive formal sentence. Before this was pronounced, Mr. Moffat, prisoner's counsel, moved prisoner's acquittal and discharge, on the grounds that the verdict was not recorded in the minutes of the Court and then read to the jury after it was so recorded to ascertain if it was their verdict, all as required in Section 1164, Penal Code. This motion being denied, and also one for a new trial on the same and additional grounds, sentence was duly pronounced, to the effect that the said Ellis be confined in the California State Prison for the remainder of his natural life. Ellis, by the way, is about forty years of age, and a native of Missouri.

COTTON.—Speaking about raising cotton, Dr. George, of this place, has demonstrated that the plant can be grown to perfection right in this region. By way of experiment he planted two or three rows in his garden last Spring. The plants grew beautifully and now hang full of the bolls, some of which are in full bloom, others about ready to open, others again apparently not much over half grown. The opened bolls, as well as can be judged by the uninitiated, indicate a heavy yield of a superior quality of staple—the fibre rather short, perhaps, but of exceeding fineness.

MORE POLITICS.—As announced in the advertisement elsewhere, J. W. Brier, Esq., will deliver a series of Republican speeches in this county, beginning at Lone Pine next Thursday evening, and aftewards at other places as advertised. In accordance with this he will be in this place one week from to-night. We are requested to announce a special meeting of the Garfield Club for the occasion, and to urge a full turnout.

NO BETTER.—We regret to learn that at last accounts Mr. Chas. O'Brion has found it necessary to leave Darwin and go below in hopes of relief from the persistent hemorrhage of the lungs with which he was attacked while in this place. He started two or three days ago in a private conveyance from Darwin to the railroad, to rejoin his family at San José, and in the hope that a change to a lower altitude would prove beneficial.

MONO NOMINATIONS.—The Democrats of Mono County, on the 24th, made nominations as follows: Superior Judge, Frank Owen; Sheriff, E. A. Reddy; Clerk, B. H. Miller; District Attorney, John McQuaid; Treasurer, Z. B. Tinkum; Coroner, Dr. D. L. Deal; County Superintendent, Mrs. L. G. Carroll. As there is to be no election all this labor is lost.

WANTS A HEARING.—We last evening, received a two-column communication signed, "Bill Ellis, whom you choose to call an 'Inyo county murderer,'" with a request to publish. It is not possible for us to publish any portion of it in this issue, but will perhaps give at least some extracts from it next week.

FOR SAN QUENTIN.—Sheriff Smith starts on Monday for San Quentin there to deliver Ellis over for a well-earned life imprisonment. As S. W. of Inyo Lodge No. 221, Sheriff Smith will, we presume, attend the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge, F. & A. M., which takes place in San Francisco week after next,

The Testimony.

Following is the substance of the evidence elicited in the trial of W. A. Ellis for the murder of Hans Jacob Mohr, tried last week before Judge Hannah.

Indian Jim was the principal witness on the side of the prosecution; his testimony was given in his own language, which was readily interpreted by Nelson Gunter, who was sworn for that purpose.

At Westerville's ranch in this county, a difficulty took place between the two men while they and the witness were at the supper table; this was on the 21st of July last, as determined by other witnesses. After supper, Mohr, while sitting on the bed, smoking, complained of being tired; said he was a small man and handling a grain cradle all day made his arms tired. Ellis, who was washing the dishes, remarked: "You must be tired; you have been working hard all day." Mohr told Ellis to leave; that he did not want him there; that he would not do anything. Ellis replied that he hadn't come out to help that day because he had gone up to Bonds' place to get a bar of soap. Mohr again told Ellis to leave; that he was a fool. Ellis picked up a tea-cup to throw, and Mohr got hold of a butcher-knife and made a lick at Ellis; Ellis jumped and got the gun and Mohr ran out of the house; in a little while Ellis followed him, and pointing his gun at Mohr, said: "I'm going to leave now," at the same time pulled the trigger, but the cap snapped; Mohr started to run and got a little ways when Ellis snapped another cap at him. Mohr stopped then and commenced to hunt for a stick or something and got hold of a hoe. Ellis ran toward him with his gun clubbed to strike him; Mohr jumped the ditch and went up toward the granary, Ellis keeping up on the other side; Mohr stopped and began to curse Ellis, and then threw the hoe at him; then he ran back to the house and said; "Where is my gun?" He got a gun and went down below the house with the gun ready to use; he staid there, waiting for Ellis to come back; Ellis went off up the road; witness told Mohr that Ellis had gone; Mohr then came up to the house, and said; "We'll kill him." Witness put the horses in the stable and went home. During the night, "when the moon was straight over head," Mohr came to witness' house, knocked came in, took a seat on a stool, and after saying he had come because he couldn't sleep, and that Ellis had come back, asked witness to go back to the ranch with him, which witness refused to do; then said he would sleep in witness' hay stack, and asked for a blanket, which witness gave him. About sunrise witness went out and awoke Mohr, and told him to go down to the ranch and cook breakfast; wanted witness to go with him, which he did. They went around the north end of the house to get to the door, which was on the east side; there was a small window on that side, with the curtain down close. Deceased walked about a little as if afraid to go in; his left hand was in his pocket; he opened the door a little and started to go in; then Bill Ellis shot him, and he fell back dead; the shot all went through his neck and head; did not hear a word said by either one before the shot was fired; I was about three steps from Mohr; Ellis told me not to touch the body, but to go and tell Bonds and George; went and told them, and came back and sat down by the house." Mohr had no gun or arms of any sort that witness knew of.

J. G. Bonds, who lives some two miles from the scene of the shooting, testified that about dark on the evening prior to the shooting, Ellis came to his house; seemed much excited; had a gun in his hand; said he had had a difficulty with Mohr; had had a fight; that he had got the best of it; had snapped his gun at Mohr twice, but it wouldn't go off; wanted to borrow witness' gun; refused to let him have it; in the fight the copper straps with which the broken stock of his own gun had been previously repaired, had become bent; he straghtened these so the hammers would strike the tubes properly, picked in some powder, and after bursting a number of caps, got both both barrels fired off; let him have ammunition to reload; he said there would be no trouble; he only wanted to be in a condition to defend himself if Mohr tried to shoot him as he had said he was going to do; advised him strongly not to get into a difficulty of that sort—it would prove a very serious matter; said he was not going to be run off the ranch, but was only going to defend himself; he went off toward the ranch. Witness saw the body next morning, lying with the feet to the door as it had fallen; it was covered by a piece of canvass by others who had got there before him; the left hand was in the pocket; there was not even a pocket knife about it.

Gus McGovern, who helped dress the body, testified that the wounds in the neck were powder-burned.

J. R. Westerville had known defendant since 1870; his variable moods and eccentricities had convinced witness that defendant was not a sane man; defendant had come to witness disabled with rheumatism, and without means; thought he could do enough work to pay for his board if witness would let him go to his ranch to stop awhile; told him to go there and stop; Mohr was foreman of the ranch during witness' absence.

Other witnesses testified their belief that defendant was not of sound mind.

Defendant, in his own behalf, gave at great length, in good language, the details of his troubles with deceased, which began almost from the moment of his appearance on the ranch, at which time he presented to Mohr a note from Westerville authorizing him to go there to stop as above given. Defendant explained to Mohr his crippled condition, but at the same time told him he intended to do whatever he could to help him and to pay his own way. Mohr set him at various jobs, beginning the next morning after his arrival, which Ellis performed the best he could, though, having a crippled hand, he could make but slow progress. Mohr found fault with him on every occasion, and often without occasion; until toward the last Ellis submitted to these growls with little or no effort to resent them. On the Sunday previous to the killing, Ellis was sitting at the table scribbling on a scrap of paper; Mohr came in and deponent threw the scrap in the stove; Mohr accused him of writing letters to Westerville to injure him (Mohr); Ellis denied it, and a quarrel ensued, during which, Mohr said Ellis should leave the ranch, and there was considerable talk of fighting, but no fight ensued at that time. Defendant had been on the ranch since the June previous, during which time bickerings had been the rule rather than the exception. Ellis' story as to what took place at the supper table the next day (Wednesday, July 21), is the same as given by the Indian in all material points, including the fact of his having snapped the caps at Mohr as already stated. The quarrel began in relation to the bar of soap, Ellis' general worthlessness, lack of cleanliness in his cooking, and the like. In the course of his remarks on this occasion, as he had done before, Mohr instituted invidious comparisons between Ellis and the Indians, particularly a certain handsome squaw down at Georges Creek, these comparisons tending to show that the Indians were not only Ellis' superior in cleanliness, industry, and so on, but also of Americans in general, the American women especially, whom he denounced in broad terms of vulgarity, the squaw before alluded to again serving as a basis of comparison against them. These things greatly exasperated Ellis.

Passing to events not mentioned by other witnesses, we take up Ellis story of what occurred after he got back from Bonds' place that night. It was about 10 o'clock when he got back; found his blankets were missing; knew that Mohr had taken them; believed that Mohr was hidden behind a clump of bushes a little ways from the house; that he had a gun; approached the bushes cautiously, ready to shoot; heard a noise to the right and found it was by Mohr in the bushes there; called to him to come out if he wanted to do any shooting; Mohr said he had no gun; asked him what he had done with his bedding; Mohr said it was all up by the corral. Ellis told him that if he was not armed he would not shoot him at all; did not want to hurt him in any way; he must throw up his hands, come out and go and show him where the blankets were; Mohr held up his hands, and in that manner went toward the corral. While appearing to search for the blankets, Mohr found an opportunity to run and did so and, it would appear, went first te Goodale's place, but without making himself known there, and then to Jim's camp, where he remained till morning. Ellis failed to find his blankets that night, it subsequently appearing that they were locked up in the granary. He went into the house and lay in the bedless bunk till morning, scarcely even dozing the night through. In the early morning a dog, shaking himself, aroused him to full wakefulness, and to the consciousness of approaching footsteps. He at once prepared himself for action, knowing it was Mohr, and believing (so he says) that Mohr had come prepared to shoot, as he the night before had said he would, Ellis resolved to shoot first—and did shoot first.

Comment is unnecessary.

SMELTING ORES.—Mazourka Cañon, opposite Independence, in the Inyo range, offers a better field to-day for smelting operations than any other district in the State of California. The cañon begins nearly opposite Independence, and runs nearly due north for a distance of about 12 miles. A good wagon road with an easy up grade runs its entire length. The head of the cañon is called Badger Flat, which is not exactly a flat, but low rolling hills, thickly covered with nut pine wood interspersed with a few cedars. This is the source of the wood supply for Independence, and the quantity seems almost inexhaustible. The cañon cuts the Inyo range obliquely, and the general formation on the west side is mostly granite and syenite, and in this granitic rock has been found numerous veins of gold-bearing quartz, and some of them exceedingly rich, though none of them have been explored more than 100 feet in depth, owing to the lack of the necessary capital to develop. On the east side, which is the main mountain range, the formation is entirely different, being mainly lime and slate, and it is in this formation that the smelting ores are found. Here a large number of locations have been made, and some of them have been prospected to a considerable extent, with very encouraging results. The character of the ores are carbonates and sulphurets of lead, or galena, assaying from 40 to 50 per cent of lead, and nearly all of these ores carry both gold and silver; the yield in silver is from 50 to 75 ounces per ton, and about $10 in gold, making the value of the ores from $75 to $100 per ton. From the developments made there is evidently extensive deposits of these ores to be had, and they lay in just the right kind of formation for large bodies to be found. Among the claims that have been most developed, are the Eagle, the Giant, the Cumberland, the Josephine, and the No Name. These claims have from 20 to 50 tons of good ore on thier dumps, and plenty of ore in sight, awaiting a smelting furdace to show up their metallic riches. The facilities for smelting in Mazourka cañon are first-class; plenty of water can be had within one or two miles of the mines; charcoal can be delivered at a furnace by the quantity for 20 cents per bushel; wood can be had at from $5 to $6 per cord; there is plenty of skilled labor in the country, and the produce raised in the valley is comparatively cheap; in fact, there is every inducement for some individual or company to erect smelting works. A smelter conducted on a liberal basis, and prepared to buy ores from the miners at a fair price, would induce a large number of men to go to work taking out ore and opening their mines, and the smelter would be reaping large profits in buying the ores and turning them into bullion. In the Inyo range, mild weather prevails through nearly all the Winter months; the snow falls only a few inches in depth at a time, which soon disappears, and there is no obstacle to the prosecution of active work during every month in the year. That Mazourka cañon is not half prospected is proven by the recent rich discoveries there, and we confidently expect at no distant day to see the smoke from the stacks of smelting furnaces gracefully curling above the foothills across the river.

NO ELECTION.

A dispatch to the Bodie Press, dated September 29th, says that the Supreme Court has decided that there will be no election for county officers this Fall. The decision will fall like a wet blanket on both political parties, as the sinews of war are furnished largely by the local candidates. Nothing in that line can now be expected except from pure patriotism, and in these hard times that is a somewhat slim reliance. It reduces the election down to a square political basis, and the question of Republicanism or Democracy will be unmixed with merely local issues.

APPOINTED AGAIN.—We observe among other recent appointments of Postmasters that Geo. H. Hardy is appointed P. M. for the office at this place. Mr. Hardy has been acting in that capacity for a long time past but some time ago resigned in favor of Frank Blaney. The latter was duly appointed and his commission arrived here the day he started for Texas, there to remain. The vacancy thus created is now filled by this re-appointment of Mr. Hardy.

WAY UP.—The taxes in Mono county are likely to be more than four cents on the dollar, which fact brings to mind a little prophesy of our own made some years ago in relation to what Mono taxes might be when it got a big city of its own, and some Inyo territory. Well, it got the city and the taxes, but not the territory it was to get—on account of Inyo's exorbitant taxes.

WITHDRAWS.—In a card published in the Bodie papers, Mr. D. M. Riordan, the Republican Mono County nominee for Representative for the two counties, formally withdraws in favor of Mr. Jos. Wasson, previously nominated by the Inyo Republicans.

SCHOOL.—Mr. Daniel Crough begins his school here next Monday.

THE political neophytes engineering the Democratic camp at Bodie appear to have a singular system, to say the least of it. We have before us two letters purporting to be from the Secretary of the Democratic Central Committee, one signed O'Keefe, and the other O'Keffe, both dated at Bodie on the 25th ultimo. One says the Democratic joint Convention for nomination of Assemblyman had been set for Benton on the 29th, while the other fixes the date agreed upon as the 30th. Neither was received here in time for delegates to be in attendance. But as the Monoites were instructed for one Ferguson, it doesn't matter much. A good many Democrats here think Joe Wasson good enough anyway.

THE San Francisco Democrats have nominated Gen. Rosencrans for Congress in that District against Horace Davis.

A Curious Number.

Here is something to scratch your head over. A very curious number is 142,857, which multiplied by 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 or 6, gives the same numbers in the same order, beginning at a different point, but if multiplied by 7, gives all nines:

142,857x2=285,714
182,957x3=428,571
142,857x4=571,428
142,857x5=714,285
142,857x6=857,142

Multiply 142,857 by 8 and you have 1,142,856. Then add the first figure to the last, and you have 142,857, the original number, with figures exactly the same as at the start.

THERE was a rumor this morning in journalistic circles that arrangements had been made looking to the consolidation of the Globe with the Examiner, the result to be a first-class Democratic morning paper to be called the Morning Examiner, with a distinguished journalist from the East as editor and Barney Wolff as business manager; the composing room to be run by the Globe printers, and the city department by Col. H. G. Shaw and a corps of competent reporters.—Stock Exchange.

THE writing table which Victoria commanded to be made out of the timbers of the Arctic vessel Resolute, has been finished, and will soon be presented to the President of the United States, "as a memorial of the courtesy and loving kindness which dictated the offer of the Resolute." The table will form a part of the permanent furniture of the White House.

AN honest French farmer's idea of communism: "After all," says a friend who is explaining the subject to him, "if all the money owned in France were to be put together and equally divided your share would be only 505 francs, 35 centimes." "Well," says the honest farmer, "that with what I have already wouldn't be so bad!"

IN the matter of mining locations, Tombstone is the banner district in Arizona. According to the records at the Recorder's office, there have been 569 mines recorded during the past six months, while the next highest is Patagonia with 269.

ABOUT 360 men are at work on the Yuba Riuer dam, and the contractors say they will employ as many more or all they can obtain.

THIS State should be a large exporter of petroleum. It has an immense extent of oil country, but somehow its oil development is slow.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Allgemeine Deutsche Unterstuetzungs Gesellschaft.

[German General Benevolent Society.]

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28, 1880.

Messrs. Harris & Rhine, Independence, Cal.:

DEAR SIRS—The undersigned, President of the German Benevolent Society, begs leave to call your attention to this truly benevolent institution, founded in the early days of California, and being now in the 27th year of its existence. The Society was formed to carry out three objects viz.: to assist poor and worthy or deserving people by support, to find employment for those out of work, and to cure those who are stricken down with sickness. For the latter purpose the Society owns a magnificent Hospital, surrounded by extensive grounds, where all patients are under the charge of excellent physicians and a consulting board of the most eminent medical talent of this city. The Society has expended for hospital and grounds the sum of $188,895

The object of this communication is to propose to you to act as agent for this Society, either personally or through one of your employees, suited for such position, for the purpose of enlisting new members.

The monthly fee is only one dollar and the initiation fee on becoming a member two dollars. Only healthy persons can become members, and only Germans or those who speak that language, also their wives and children. Any member who meets with sickness is treated in the hospital without any expense to him until he has been restored to health. All persons who are not members, or can not become such, not speaking the German language, are admitted for medical treatment in the hospital at as low terms as it is possible to make them.

In this city we have about 3,000 members, but throughout the interior only about 300 It is our aim to increase the number of members throughout the State to make the hospital as much as possible self-sustaining, to enable us to extend the charitable department in this benevolent institution. For the trifling sum of one dollar per month members have the best aid and care in the German Hospital.

Frequently sick people in the country are crippled for life by false treatment from incompetent doctors, or even brought to a premature death. Only too late do they find out that if they had become members they would have been restored to health, and their earnings of years would not have gone into the pockets of inexperienced doctors, as the hospital employs only the best physicians. If there are no earnings, the employers and the friends of the sick are generally called upon to pay for his support All this can be avoided, if the employers would vigorously enforce the rule, now introduced in most of San Francisco's establishments, that every man employed should belong to a relief society in order that in case of sickness he might be well cared for and not be reduced to the rather humiliating necessity of asking aid from the purses of his employer and his friends.

Persons of all nations of the age of 50 years or over are admitted as pensioners for life by paying a certain sum to be agreed upon to the society. They receive a home at the hospital, first-class board, washing and attendance in in case of sickness, free of any expense

To enable Germans and others who do not know of the existence of this institution, neither of the hospital nor its great advantages, to become members, I have addressed you the above, and hope that you will cheerfully accept the agency and do all in your power to further the interests of this society by enlisting new members, and recommending our hospital to those who may be compelled to seek medical aid.

Your Obedient Servant,
JULS. BANDMANN,
President G G B. S.

DEVOTED TO

RICHARD P. ROTHWELL, C.E., M.E., ROSSITER W. RAYMOND, Ph.D., WILLIAM H. WAHL, Ph.D., } Editors. Department of Progress in Science and the Arts.

IT IS AN ACCEPTED AUTHORITY ON ALL questions relating to the great mining industries of the country. It is the oldest publication of its class in America, thoroughly independent; being of the trade and not in it, occupies a just and impartial position, which enables it to advise and teach without fear or favor. It devotes much space to questions bearing upon economical management of mines, and from time to time illustrates the more important improvements in mining machinery and engineering methods. Special attention is given to reliable mining news from all parts of the country, which is gathered by an efficicient corps of correspondents in every section, and from an extended exchange list. The metal and ore markets, and gold, silver and miscellaneous stocks are reported and commented upon weekly by experienced financiers, who are unbiased by private interests, and upon these matters it is accepted as a reliable guide and unfailing instructor. Gives statistics of production of coal and iron, and of our great gold, silver and other mines. Its scientific notes are an epitome of the latest researches, its trade reports full and its editorials sagacious and comprehensive. It enjoys the widest circulation and greatest influence of any journal of its class in the world; its patrons and readers comprising the most select and intelligent men in every quarter.

Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 3—south 71 deg west 3.94 "Post 4 New Enterprise mine," on southeast end of line of lode; commence descending; 8.75 "Post 5 New Enterprise mine" on south corner of claim; said post is 4½ ft high x5½ in in dia and is set in a mound of rocks and earth 2½ ft high, from which a pine stump 11 in high x15 in in dia bears north 38 deg 1 min east 33 chs; an old prospecting hole 5 ft deep x4 ft square bears south 82 deg east 51 chs Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 4—north 38 deg 30 min west 1.15; descending into gulch, commence ascending 4.32; ridge bears southwest; 12.80 main ridge of mountain bears west, commence descending; 22.72 "Post 6 N E mine" on steep rocky side hill; post set in a hole in the rock, from which an old prospecting cut 11 ft long x4½ ft wide from its face bears north 50 deg east 29 chs. "Post 4 Ventura mine" bears north 71 deg east .11 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 5—north 71 deg east .11 "Post 4 Ventura mine;" 4.81 "Post 7 New Enterprise mine" and Post of Ventura mine; 6.92 road, Citizens' grade; 9.52 "Post 1 Ventura mine;" 9.63 "Post 1 New Enterprise mine," place of beginning, containing 20.55-100 acres.

SURVEY OF CONNECTING LINE.

Commenced at "Post 2 New Enterprise mine," Thence, var 15 deg 55 min east, south 11 deg east 3.03 "Post 5 Armagh mine;" north 79 deg east 10.60 point on W. B. line of the Ygnacio mine; north 11 deg west 12.59 to "U. S. Mineral Monument," which when computed gives for a direct closing line from "Post 2 New Enterprise mine" "Armagh U. S. Mineral Monument" north 36 deg 52 min east 14.21 chs.

DESCRIPTION OF THE ARMAGH U. S. MINERAL MONUMENT:

Said Mineral Monument, as described in the field notes of survey of the Armagh mine is built on the apex of a red rocky point at the intersection of Ygnacio Ravine and Cerro Gordo Cañon and very precisely on the west boundary line of, and distant 17.51 chains from the southwest corner stake of the Ygnacio mine, as patented. At this point caused a hole to be drilled in the rock to a depth of 9 inches, in which drove a piece of gas pipe 1 inch in diameter by 16 inches long. On top of gas pipe set a post 4x4 inches square by 4 feet long, around which built a monument of rocks 5 feet high by 5 feet in diameter at its base. Marked the top of the post "U S. Mineral Monument. Erected January 3d, 1880, by Wm. Crapo, U. S. Deputy Mineral Surveyor, under authority of the U S. Surveyor General for California." From said post in Mineral Monument, with a variation 15 deg 55 min E, the extreme end of the rocky bluff on which the Mineral Monument is situated bears N 25 deg W 17 links. The east edge of ridge at the top of a vertical face 7½ feet high bears N 60 deg E .07 links. The northeast corner of an old adobe vaso chimney, a Mexican furnace for smelting silver and lead ores, bears S 38 deg 16 min W 16 links. The middle of the Belshaw toll road at a point where it turns out of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N 81¾ deg W 1.06 chains. The middle of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N 62 links. The northwest corner of Rafael Diaz' house bears S 38 deg 23 min E 1.58 chains. An old well 20 feet deep on north side of cañon bears N 58 deg 20 min W 1.93 chains.

Magnetic variation 15 deg 50 min east, containing 20.55-100 acres.

The location of this mine is recorded in the Recorder's office of Cerro Gordo Mining District, in Book —— of ——. The adjoining claimants are the Ventura and Armagh mines.

Any and all persons claiming adversely any portion of said New Enterprise mine or surface ground are required to file their adverse claims with the Register of the United States Land Office at Bodie, in the State of California, during the sixty days period of publication hereof, or they will be barred by virtue of the provisions of the Statute.

LAST Winter Mrs George Hamilton, aged about 25, wife of George Hamilton, an engineer on the Central Pacific Railroad, aged 26 years, grew jealous of her husband, and one evening asked him to walk out with her and see a girl of eighteen years named Nettie Wimplepeck, and see if the girl would deny that he had had criminal relation with her. The husband went, and when they met the girl, Mrs Hamilton drew a pistol and shot her. The girl was severely wounded, but recovered. Mrs Hamilton was tried in July last and acquitted, as the girl had been taken East by her father, ahd did not appear, but the trial went on and the case was proved, but a defence of insanity of the emotional order was set up, and Mrs Hamilton was acquitted. She and her husband lived together after that two weeks, when she grew jealous again, and they separated. One month ago to day she met him and snapped a pistol at him. On the 25th September Mrs Hamilton bought a bottle of strychnine to kill rats with, though none believed she intended to kill herself after killing her husband. To day she sent a note to her husband and bills for rent and groceries, and he went up to the house to see her, on Twelfth street, between H and F. As he came into the house she caressed him, it is said, and sought to win him to come back to her, but thus far no one is found who was present and can verify this. During the interview she shot her husband once in the left temple and once on the left side of the head near the back parf. Either shot would have been fatal. The powder burned his face. George Bosier who was passing by, saw her walking the porch excitedly, and went in and saw her husband dead on the floor. Mrs Hamilton said she had shot him because she loved him so much and he was going after other women, and spoke to the body and said: "Oh, darling, I loved you, and rather than any other should have you I killed you." She was taken to jail. She is much excited and believed to be now quite insane, though she realizes her act and knows her friends. The couple have one child, a girl aged twelve years. —Record-Union.

THE largest sewing machine in the world has lately been finished. It is of the Singer type. The machine weighs over four tons, and is in some respects of new design, uniting much simplicity of construction with great strength of parts. It is adapted to general manufacturing purposes of the heaviest sort although specially made for stitched cotton belting, an article which is just now taking the market as a cheap and serviceable substitution for gearing and ordinary belting. The material used is of great strength and toughness, and is sewed together in piles or layers up to an inch in thickness. The belting in being sewed together is passed through heavy feed rollers some nine inches in diameter and more than eight feet in length, getting stretched in the process There are two needles at work with two shuttles, and the shuttles can be removed from the bottom without disturbing the overlying piles of belting. The rollers between which the work passes are actuated by reversible worm and cam motions, and the machine has, in addition to these roller feeds, what is known as a top feed motion, suitable for a lighter class of work. The stitches, as in the ordinary sewing machine, can be adjusted from one-eigth inch upward, and the pressure of the rollers on the work passing through the machine can be regulated at the will of the operator. The machine, which is to be driven by steam, has been made for a manufacturing firm in Liverpool.—Scientific American.

SOME maniac on statistics has figured that Vanderbilt,s income would allow him each day to visit 8,000 circuses, eat 10,000 pints of peanuts and drink 5,000 glasses of lemonade.

How the Wives and Female Relatives of Public Men Assist Them.

A Washington newspaper correspondent writes as follows:

Shrewd lookers-on in Washington all agree in the powerful influence of women in politics, not at the ballot box, but in the home; not by taking part in the fight, but by girding her husband's armor, sharpening his weapons and brightening his shield. Women have more to say in the councils of politicians than the world supposes, and their influence is generally for good.

A party of gentlemen, whose familiarity with the occurrences behind the scenes gives their opinions importance, were discussing this question the other night, and agreed that Mrs. Logan, Mrs. Hendricks and Mrs. Hayes were perhaps the most successful and influential politicians that their sex has furnished of late years, Mrs. Logan being conceded the leader of the womanly triumvirate. They all conceded her to be a tactician of unsurpassed powers, having done more for her husband by reason of this than he could possibly have done for himself. Surprise was expressed that from a modest young countrywoman this magnificent specimen of the genus politico had been evolved, as if all the rich blossoming of our conservatories were not the outgrowth of modest flowers of wildwood.

Mrs. Hendricks was said to nearly rival her in her remarkable powers, but that their development was the result of a different cause.

In her early married days Mrs. Logan discovered herself to be the wife of a man greatly ambitious of political distinction, and as a true wife, whose being merged into her husband's to the broadest, most genuine sense, every talent, every energy, every pulsation of her heart and brain was at once devoted to the one purpose of making his ruling passion a success, because to do so was to afford him the chief gratification of life.

With Mrs. Hendricks the reverse was the case. It was she, not he, who had the craving for place and power, the slumbering passion, perhaps undreamed of before, blazing into life and burning with a steady, overmastering flame on finding herself the wife of a man of marked ability. And he became her helper, reluctantly, it may be, for if left to his own desires, a leading position in the profession to which his tastes inclined, and for which his talents so eminently fitted him, would, doubtless, have filled the full measure of his ambition.

It was she who urged him forward, sometimes leading, and may be at times even pushing, when, with the recoil of a nature constitutionally opposed to, he drew back from the devious by-paths, the mud-splashing, the rude jolts, the mortifying bruises, the sharp gashes which mark the highway to political preferment, but which, with her eye fixed on the much coveted goal beyond, were of less importance than the dust atoms on the hem of her skirt. It was her tact and sagacity that secured Senator McDonald's pledge to her husband's candidacy in the Cincinnati Convention, thus causing the good-hearted Senator to lose "the tide that, taken at its flood," might have borne him to the Presidency.

As a politician, Mrs. Hayes is said to be a narrower gauge than Mrs. Logan; but her strong and admirable traits have taken such hold on the people's fancy, or rather their hearts, as to invest with a popularity beyond his deserts him with whom she is so closely identified, and having stamped her individuality indelibly in the White House, her husband's administration will have a higher plane in history than it would have had without Mrs. Hayes there. Beyond doubt she has furnished a standard by which her successors for all time to come will be sharply measured.

HOW IT FEELS TO DROWN.—When I gave up all hope I did not suffer one pang of remorse about my past life. I have always been told that when a man is drowning all his past life comes before him and he suffers horrors of conscience. It was not so with me. I thought of you, my dear father and mother, and of you all at home, and what a sorrow the news of my death would be to you all, and then, strange to say, I thought how people do lie. I have always been told that death by drowning is the easiest death, and yet here I am, suffering agonies of pain, and I remember wishing if I am to be drowned let it be done quickly. Then I thought, I am about to solve the problem about the future world, and I felt the same feeling of shyness and dread come over me that I felt so often and never could conquer, when I was outside a drawing room door, and about to be ushered into the presence of a crowd of ladies and men. I have been asked if I never thought about the sharks which infest the place. I am thankful to say that thought never entered my head. If I had remembered them I feel sure I should have gone down like a stone.—Philadelphia Times.

THE elephant hunters of Ceylon and India corroborate Sinbad's story that elephants when they feel the approach of death, retire to a solitary and inaccessible valley, and there die in peace. Mr. Sanderson, superintendent of elephants to the Government of India, admits that no living man has come across the corpse of a wild elephant that has died a natural death.

A CONTEMPORARY having received a gift of ice cream declares that the flavor "was so delicate and pleasant as to suggest vividly to the partaker the lips of the fair donors themselves." It is understood that the reporter also wrote "and the temperature suggested their feet," but the managing editor, who is not a humorist, contemptuously struck it out.—Stockton Mail.

EXTRAORDINARY.

At Los Angeles, on the 29th ultimo, Wallace Leach felt called upon to deliver a speech in vindication of himself from certain aspersions against his character recently published in a number of papers. In doing so he made use of the following most extraordinary language in reference to himself, and relating to matters not included even by implication in any of the charges he felt called upon to answer. It is hardly reasonable to suppose that he expected his words to be taken literally, but we must say we think he makes a mistake in offering such as a joke. The extract is given in the Los Angeles Express, and is as follows:

This is called a Leach meeting. Let it be so. And I ask you to bear with me while I enter somewhat particularly into matters that are purely personal. I do not know that I ever experienced a greater misfortune than the one which called me into existence. You all understand me. Fellow citizens, I don't know who or what my father was; I don't know what his avocation may have been, his character or his habits; I only think he must have been a very good man, because his son has turned out so well. [Laughter]. I do not know even what State I was born in, though I am certain that I was born under the American flag. And I was even under the necessity of beginning suit in San Diego county to compel them to put my name on the Great Register simply because I could not swear to the State of my nativity; and this after I had voted there for nearly nine years. I only know that my mother was a servant girl in the family of Gov. John H. Reynolds, a prominent citizen of Illinois, when I was three months old. What happened before I was born it is not my business to inquire. Is it any of yours?

The Los Angeles Herald gives this portion of Mr. Leach's speech as follows:

Fellow citizens, I don't know who or what my father was; I don't know what his avocation may have been, his character, or his habits; I only think he must have been a very good man, because his sons have turned out so well. Mr. Leach then gave a succinct account of the members of his family and traced his own history, from childhood to the present time, stating that whatever education he had received was the result of his own labor, and that he was admitted to practice law before he was 20 years of age, because they didn't know how old he was.

WHEN the Czar of Russia invested some millions of dollars in the construction of that wonder of marine architecture, the yacht Livadia, he must have thought he was procuring a retreat from Nihilistic assassins which would be very secure. Shut off from enemies upon the land, he could float about in his great and magnificent vessel, feeling the comfort of absolute security. It was perhaps the desire to retreat frequently from the perils of his Empire to the security of the sea that induced him to devote so much time and money to the perfecting of the Livadia, and the fact that he poured out treasure like water to construct a ship that could not roll, shows that he probably intended to spend much time on board the new craft. What astonishment, indignation and apprehension must fill the mind of the old monarch at the discovery that Nihilists have sent agents to Glasgow, where the Livadia was preparing for sea, to place two nitro-glycerine clocks in the coal in the vessel's hold! The St. Petersburg detectives discovered the plot, and the Swiss police also reported that a diabolical scheme was on foot, but the attempt came too near succes to leave the Czar much confidence that when he launches upon the Livadia he escapes from peril. The two hundred and sixty men the yacht carries should be sufficient to prevent the introduction upon the vessel of any infernal machine, but whom can the Czar trust? Among his crew may be secret Nihilist agents. Barricade himself as he will in the secret recesses of his palace, or fly to his ocean yacht the Czar's life is not safe. Not the least probable event in Russia is the blowing up of the Monarch of the Empire.

THE Postmaster General calls the attention of postmasters to the following reduction of newspapers addressed to foreign countries: It is ordered that on and after the first of October, 1880, the postage charged on newspapers addressed to countries or colonies of the Universal Postal Union shall be the same as on printed matter generally for the same destination under the provisions of the convention of Paris, viz: One cent for each weight of two ounces or fraction of two ounces.

ACCORDING to the New York papers Dr. Tanner does not find his notoriety as a starvationist very profitable. The receipts from his second lecture were but $2.75. There were only twenty-two people in the hall at twenty-five cents a head, and half of these were dead-heads.

THE BROWN MONSTER MINE.

Interesting Report upon the Mine by John Parham, M. E., and upon the Concentrating Process upon the Ores of the Same by John M. Adams, M. E., and Agent of the Frue Concentrator.

One of the best known mining properties in Inyo county is the Brown Monster, or the old Eclipse mine, yet there is no other about which so little is known to most of our readers in the way of details of ore values, assay and working values or results by different process, capabilities of the mine, and so on. The two reports given below afford much interesting information on these points, more especially in relation to the operations of the Frue Concentrating Process. We obtained copies of these reports with the view of giving a mere synopsis, but on review, we consider them of sufficient interest to publish in full. First, in point of time, comes Mr. Parham's, who visted the mine in May of last year, and wrote as follows:

MR. C. R. GREATHOUSE—Dear Sir: At your request I examined the Brown Monster Mill and Mining Company's property, and herewith submit to you my report.

The Brown Monster Mine is situated in Inyo County, California, nine miles south of Independence and one hundred and thirty miles from Mohave, the freighting station, on the S. P. R R. The Cerro Gordo Freighting Company deliver freight at the mine at three cents per pound from San Francisco.

THE VEIN.

Is located on the western slope of the Inyo range of mountains, in a strong limestone formation that has its course nearly north and south. The vein lies with the formation, with an easterly dip of 24°.

THE MINE

Is opened by a large shaft to a depth of 480 feet. The shaft is sunk with the dip of the vein its entire depth. Levels have been run north and south of the shaft; on the south, twenty feet from the shaft a fault cuts the vein entirely; about sixty feet north of the shaft is found another fault. The fault south of the shaft has thrown the vein from its true line nearly 100 feet. The fault north of the shaft only a few feet, as shown in the diagram. The vein has a strong and clearly marked surface line and outcrops, easily traced for 2,000 feet. Cuts and drifts have been made in many places along its surface, and in every instance showing a strong vein of good ore. The vein has a width of from three to six feet. Very little of the vein is waste, as it is clearly defined and easily separated from the rock that confines it. The quartz has a brownish color, containing iron, carbonates of lead, a little copper, and occasional bunches of galena.

The ore is raised from the mine in cars that run on a double track, laid the entire length of the shaft. From the shaft the ore is let down an incline tram a distance of 2,000 feet, the weight of the loaded car bringing up the empty one. From the foot of this tram the ore is taken to the mill on cars drawn by horses at a cost of 50 cents per ton. The vein is

STRONG AND TRUE

In its dips and line, and so free of foreign rock that there is no reasonable doubt but that it will continue to a great depth, maintaining its size and richness. The mine is entirely free from water, and no doubt will be so to a much greater depth than the present developments have reached, as no exploring work has been done for a long time. Nearly all the ore that lay between the faults has been mined out and milled.

I give the assay value of eight large samples of ore, carefully taken from the mine by myself, as follows:

Sample.	Gold.	Silver.	Sample.	Gold.	Silver.
* No. 1.	$44 96	$32 98	No. 2.	$ 7 23	$ 1 15
† " 3.	2 89	4 05	" 4.	8 27	23 12
† " 5.	22 74	4 63	" 6.	2 00	2 41
† " 7.	....	36 11	" 8.	1 86	1 96
	70 59	77 77		10 36	28 67

Total—silver, $106 43; gold, $80 95=$196 38

*From bottom of shaft.
†From 4th level.

COST OF MINING AND MILLING PER TON:

Extracting & bringing to surface	$4,00
Transportation to mill.....	1,00
Milling, including repairs, etc...	2,00
Wear and tear of mill, track, etc.	1,00
Total per ton.....	$8,00

The result of the last 390 tons worked in the mill was—

Bullion product.....	$3,000
Remaining in concentrations...	1,000
Total.....	$4,000

If my assays are a fair average of the ore in the mine, and if the ore worked in this 390 tons was as rich as the samples taken by myself, viz: $24 54, the

LOSS SUSTAINED

In this run was $5,578 40, or $14 30 per ton. Not to make this appear so very bad, we will estimate a loss on the gross value of the ore at 25 per cent. on $2,474 60. This loss would be sustained under the best known methods of treating this class of ore. This will give a clear loss from 390 tons of $3,103 80. It will appear that this must be a mistake unless we can show the assay value of the ore included in this particular run. Mr. Eibeshutz took from the self-feeders, while this ore was being crushed, what he thought to be a fair sample. The assay value given by him was: gold, $12 56; silver, $15 31; total, $27 87. From this it would seem that my average assay was less $3 31 per ton than that given by Mr. Eibeshutz, therefore I can find no reason to think my samples were above the average value of the mine.

THE MILL

Has 30 stamps arranged in six batteries of five stamps each, a Blake rock breaker, self-feeders, four pans and two settlers. It is well constructed for convenient and cheap work. The machinery is run by a four-foot turbine wheel, furnished with water taken from Owens river, six miles above. The supply of water never fails, and the quantity is ample to run 100 stamps. Under the present arrangement the ore is treated in the following manner:

1st. Battery amalgamation;
2d. Copper plated tables;
3d. The entire battery sands are passed over blankets;
4th. Two sets of boxes, three boxes in a set. The sands are passed through these boxes for concentration; the concentrations are saved for further concentration. The blanket sands are treated in pans by raw amalgamation.

I might stop here and say that any mill-man would know that this manner of treating the class of ore that I have stated this vein carries is a most imperfect one, but prefer to give the results ascertained by assay.

Assay value of blanket sands after pan amalgamation, per ton—

Average sample from 20 tons..	$28 90
" " 30 tons box sands	13 40

These sands are the concentration from 390 tons of ore, and show a total loss of $921 90. The mill result as given to me was $3,000; add to this $921 90 my ore samples assayed $24 54 per ton, a total for 390 tons of $9,570 60, a loss of $5,580 20; from the entire value should be taken a loss of 25 per cent that would be sustained by the most perfect concentrating machines would give a gross yield of $7,167 95; loss sustained from the working of 390 tons of $3,146. This loss is due to the lack of concentrating machinery. I would suggest as perhaps the best manner to treat these ores: first, coarse crushing; second, passing all the sands over blankets; third, treating all blanket concentrations by pan amalgamation, after which, these, with all the mill sands, pass over the concentrator; fourth, treat these concentrations by chloridize roasting and pan amalgamation, or sell the raw concentrations to some smelting company.

By the above treatment the expense would be increased only the cost of roasting the concentrations.

I estimate the proportion of concentrations to be one in ten, value, $100 per ton. The mill has a capacity of 35 tons a day, or 1,000 tons per month; 1,000 tons at $24 54 per ton, $24,540; 75 per cent. of this amount, $18,405; cost of mining and milling, $8,000; profit per month, $10,405, less the cost of roasting and amalgamating, say $10 for 100 tons of concentrations, $2,000; profit per month, $8,405.

These figures are found from careful sampling of the mine and a liberal estimate of the cost of mining and reducing the ores.

I very much regret that the mill was not running at the time of my visit, as it made it impossible for me to obtain a sample of the waste sands. Could I have obtained them my figures showing the loss would have been absolutely true and more satisfactory. The failure of Capt. Eudey to send me these samples as he promised has delayed this report, and prevented me from giving the assay value of the waste.

CONCLUSIONS.

That the Brown Monster vein will reach a great depth; that the ores have not decreased in value as depth is attained; that it will furnish a large amount of ore and can be cheaply worked: 1st, because the vein is free from waste; 2d, the ore is easily broken down, and the mine is perfectly dry.

The mill having an ample supply of water the entire year, at the cost of keeping the ditch in repair, can reduce the ore at very small cost.

The property is situated in the centre of a rich mineral district and a fine agricultural valley. These advantages will insure cheap labor for all time to come.

MR. ADAMS' REPORT.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Jan. 8th, 1880.

MESSRS. LADD & CO.—Gentlemen:

I herewith submit for your consideration the results of my tests on and examination of the ores of the Brown Monster mine situated in Inyo Co., Cal.

The mill tests were not exhaustive as there were encountered many obstacles which could not be overcome without the expenditure of much additional time and money. I therefore tested the mine carefully, took samples of the mill workings, on the ores treated as closely as circumstances would allow, and have since my return to this city thoroughly investigated the causes of loss, and determined the needed modifications for overcoming the same. I have tabulated the details and handed your Secretary all the tables, but merely attach to this my summary, or table 7.

In all I worked 36½ tons of ore broken from 8 different parts of the mine under my supervison and in my table 7 are represented what in my judgment will be the results obtainable by proper construction and manipulation.

Ores Nos. 1 and 2 had been left standing in the mine as being too low grade for profitable working. Ore No. 7 was taken out close to and south of the shaft. No. 8 ore is from a spur vein, having width of two feet, and looks well. It is only 6 feet from the main vein at the face of No. 5 lead, and will in a short distance in depth connect with it on the hanging wall. The hanging wall of the spur is slate, and is the only slate wall I saw in the mine.

Although the vein proper at the back of No. 5 is low grade, it is large, well impregnated with sulphurets and the ore is kindly. A good body of ore may be expected on the junction of the veins.

Nos. 4 and 5 ores are quarried from the surface, south of the shaft and south of a cross course. They are very strongly mineralized, containing spathic iron ore, red oxide of copper, native copper, iron pyrites, carbonate of copper, galena, tellurium, carbonate of lead, &c., &c.

As regards the "value from plates" the actual amount of bullion taken from the plates from each one is given, amalgamating inside the mortar as well as outside, but I am satisfied that more gold still will be caught by extending the plates eight feet further.

PROPER PREPARATION OF THE ORE.

To avoid flouring the mineral, thus forming rich slimes, the mortars should be filled up, so that their discharge should be as low as possible. The use of rolls would be still better. The ore having been crushed and passed over the plates must then be sized so that the slimes are separate and distinct, and the sand itself should be divided into two or three sizes and finally the ore separated into slimes and two or three grades of sand passes on the concentrators and results to be obtained as rerpesented in my summary.

The slimes are very sticky, and the specific gravity of the concentrations is but little more than that of the tailings or waste—being on one only as 12 is to 10. The discharges sketched above are absolutely essential for the satisfactory working of the ore, and should not add over 50 cents per ton to the expense of working.

The Brown Monster vein is large, strong and heavily impregnated with mineral. With the mine, mill, etc., working properly, the ore should be mined, hauled, milled and concentrated for $5 50 a ton, not including the cost of working the concentration, while the vein can certainly produce large amounts of ore, and gives every indication of permanence.

Foreign Facts.

THE Sultan has ordered that any official heard expressing an opinion against his policy shall be exiled.

THE Montenegrin Minister of Foreign Affairs has had a two hours' conference with Admiral Seymour.

THE Porte has warned the Prince of Montenegro that any advances on Dulcigno will be construed as a declaration of war.

IT is reported that an indignation meeting will shortly be called in London to protest against the foreign policy of the government.

THE defeat of Ayoob Khan pleases Abdurrahman Khan, the Ameer of Cabul, and has had a very quieting effect upon the people.

MANY of the Norwegians are agitating for a separation from Sweden, and the Norwegian Storthing has denied the King's right to a final veto.

A tenant farmer named Sweeney, who was under notice to quit has been arrested in connection with the murder of Lord Mountmorris, and has been remanded for trial.

M. Constans, the French Minister of the Interior and of Worship, will begin the breaking up of the orders by first removing orders not recognized by the Vatican, then those composed of foreigners, and then deal with the others separately.

The Albanians are camped near Dulcigno, and the prince of Montenegro says he is not prepared without the aid of the land troops of the Powers to to attack them, reinforced as they are by the Turkish regulars and artillery.

DEEP SPRINGS.—In this camp, work is being quietly prosecuted by W. A. Greenley, Scott Broder, Billy Lake, and others, who own claims, their idea being to develop and show up their mines before inviting any more capitalists to come and look at them. These men have perfect confidence in a bright future for Deep Springs, and they are determined to "stay with the works." A shaft has been sunk on the Indian Scout mine fifty feet deep, which shows a continuous vein of ore all the way down, with three feet of ore in the bottom; drifting on the vein will soon be commenced from the bottom of this shaft. A shaft is now being sunk on the Greenley claim, which is on the same ledge, and adjoins the Scout; the prospect in this claim is of the same encouraging character as the Scout's; the ores from these two mines are of the same general character, being milling ores carrying both gold and silver. The average assays from a large number made is $75 to $80, which includes about $15 in gold per ton. The Indian Scout is an immense ledge, having some ten locations on it of 1500 feet each, which can be seen the whole distance, and rich ore can be found on the surface on any of these claims. There are a large number of other first class prospects in the district, on some of which work is being prosecuted. The ledges are large and are inclosed in well defined walls. We are satisfied that in a few months more Deep Spring district will show up some mines that will "astonish the natives."

DARWIN.—The general mining outlook at Darwin is decidedly encouraging, under the impetus occasioned by Messrs. Gorman & Eddy's starting up smelting operations at the old Defiance furnace, which will be fired up on the 20th instant. The Maggie mine, formerly the Promontory, is working seven men, by Sim Reid & Co. They have about 100 tons of ore on the dump. The mine is being opened by an incline, now 150 feet in depth, at the bottom of which has been struck a fine body of high-grade ore—assaying high as 458 ounces silver per ton. The Driver—formerly the Loretta—owned by P. Reddy, Dwight Andrews & Co., has four men extracting ore from the face of an 80-foot tunnel. The Custer has seven men at work, with a big dump of ore out and "plenty in sight." Other properties are at work with stronger forces, so that "base bullion from Inyo" will again be in order, especially as the Modock furnace is expected to start up about the same time.

PANAMINT.—Messrs. Hubbard, Smith & Ragan are working the old properties of the Surprise Valley M. & Co. at Panamint. The big mill started up on Monday last, with eighty tons of rich ore from the Wyoming and Hemlock mines on hand. There is, besides, some forty tons of custom ore ready for delivery. The mining regularly going on employs twenty-five men. Panamint, like some of the other districts of southern Inyo, has had some staunch friends who have stood by the mines in their prosperity and adversity, who now are beginning to reap the substantial reward so well earned. An accurate history, which might be compiled under the title of "The Rise and Fall of Panamint," with an account of its coming resurrection as an addendum, would constitute a famous chapter in Pacific Coast history. We respectfully refer the matter to U. S. Senator John P. Jones and ex-Senator Wm. M. Stewart.

THE BUENA VISTA.—A representative of THE INDEPENDENT visited Cerro Gordo during the week. While there he took a look at the Buena Vista mine, owned by Wm. Crapo, who has conditionally sold it to Wm. A. Roberts of San Francisco, who has inaugurated the work of exploration to some purpose. A strong surface cut has been run across the big croppings, from which a shaft will be started in a few days. This cut shows a well defined ledge fifty feet in width. The ore is chloride in character, and of a grade by assay that promises to make one of the greatest silver mines on the coast. The future of this work will be noted with the greatest interest. In another issue, special mention will be made of the Ygnacio, to which a visit was also included.

STAGE ROBBERY.—We learn through the Mammoth City Herald, of the 2d, that in the afternoon of the day previous, some footpads stopped the incoming stage from Bodie, and took the express box containing something near $1,500 in coin. The robbers have not been captured, though it is believed a clue to their identity has been obtained. The robbery took place about half a mile from King's station on the Bodie-Mammoth City road.

TO VISIT US.—Col. S. D. Ferguson, of Mono, the Democratic nominee for the Assembly from this District, is expected here next Tuesday, his visit being in connection with his candidacy, of course. The Colonel is a very popular gentleman, especially amongst the mining interests.

POLITICAL.—The Garfield Club holds a special meeting to-night, on which occasion J. W. Brier, Esq., of San Francisco, will address the public upon the political issues of the day. The The Hon. Jos. Wasson, candidate for the Assembly, will also be present.

FOR SAN QUENTIN.—Sheriff Smith started on Thursday to escort W. A. Ellis to San Quentin, where the latter expects to make his home for an indefinite period—till death, barring a legal rescue or other accident.

GOOD ATTENDANCE.—Mr. Daniel Crough's school in this place opened this week with forty-four pupils in attendance.

PREACHING.—Rev. F. M. Willis will preach in the school-house in this place to-morrow evening at the usual hour.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

[OFFICIAL REPORT AND PUBLICATION.]

MONDAY, October 4, 1880

On the above named day, the Board of Supervisors of Inyo county, California, met pursuant to law at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of levying the rate of taxes for the present fiscal year.

Present, John Westerville, Chairman, C. Meysan and David Olds. And the Board, without taking any action, took a recess till 1 o'clock, P. M., at which time it reassembled, all being present. And having fully considered the subject of tax levy for the present fiscal, it was Ordered, That a tax of three ($3.50) dollars and fifty cents on each $100.00 of the taxable property of Inyo county, as assessed, be levied and collected; and that said tax so levied be collected and apportioned to the several Funds as follows: To the—

State Fund	$0.64
Inyo Bonds (Interest & Building	0.50
Expense Fund	1.10
Road "	0.10
School "	0.30
Sinking "	0.12
General "	0.32
Hospital "	0.20
Special Bridge Fund	0.22
Total	$3.50

And the following is the rate of levy of special school taxes voted in the Bishop Creek and Independence school districts, respectively, viz:

Bishop Creek school district—Thirty-one cents to be levied and collected on each $100 of taxable property in said school district.

Independence school district—Sixteen cents to be levied and collected on each $100 of taxable property in said school district.

Whereupon the Board adjourned, and at 2 o'clock P. M., same date, met in

SPECIAL MEETING,

Pursuant to notice heretofore given and entered in the minutes, for the purpose of receiving bids for county printing, and to receive report of Viewers of proposed road for Road District No. 1. All present.

The Board then proceeded to open and examine the bid of Chalfant & Parker for county printing. Said bid was duly considered and accepted by the Board. Whereupon the Board adjourned till

TUESDAY, October 5,

At 10 o'clock A. M., at which time Board met with all present. After signing the aforementioned printing contract, the Board adjourned till

WEDNESDAY, October 6,

At 10 o'clock A. M., at which time Board met in special meeting pursuant to notice heretofore given and entered in the minutes of this Board, for the purpose of attending to matters connected with the ensuing general election. All the members present. In accordance with law and proclamation of the Governor of California, an election proclamation was framed in due form and ordered published in THE INYO INDEPENDENT from and after Ooctober 16, providing for a general election in Inyo county on the 2d day of November, 1880.

Upon the completion of other preliminary arrangments for said election, the Board adjourned for the term.

JOHN CROUGH,
Clerk.

SURVEYING FOR WATER.—A few days since C. H. Congden and C. B. Uhl came in from the Sierras back of the Kearsarge Mill, and from the latter, we learn that they have been operating with a party, under control of J. H. Choice, which, since June last, has been engaged in surveying the headwaters of the streams debouching in the San Joaquin Valley to ascertain the feasibility and probable cost of reservoiring their waters for irrigating purposee. At present the party is engaged on the large lake just beyond the summit above the Kearsarge. It is in contemplation to put in a dam at the lower end of that lake and others lower down on King's River, by which to hold back the flush waters of the spring season for use during the dry times of Summer. At this time not a drop of water runs in King's River Channel down in the San Joaquin Valley, although "oceans" of it ran there during the Spring months. These surveys are authorized or in pursuance of State Irrigation Bill passed last Winter. It is thought comparatively inexpensive dams can be built so as to hold back the waters of these high mountain lakes and rivers, to such an extent as to afford an abundant supply for irrigating purposes the Summer through. Mr. Congden, above mentioned, was the "Leveller" of this party, but, owing to sickness, has been obliged to quit the field and return to San Francisco, and it was for this purpose he came down the other day. Mr. Uhl, after obtaining needed supplies, returned to the party at the lake. The party expects to remain in the field till driven out by snow.

HOME AGAIN.—Rev. F. M. Willis arrived home from the Nevada Conference at Virginia City, Thursday last. He speaks of his experience on the journey and during the conference as unusually pleasant and satisfactory in all respects. The appointments made by that body for the ensuing year were published in these columns last week. As mentioned elsewhere, Mr. Willis resumes his regular work here to-morrow evening.

DEPARTURES.—The following named persons departed during the week: Judge A. R. Conklin and family, San Francisco; O. I. Mairs, family and Miss Emily Flowers, Eastern States; Mrs. Thos. May and children and Miss Maggie Graham, Havilah, Kern County.

SWEET POTATOES.—We observe Sher. Stevens on the streets with a load of A 1 sweet potatoes and onions for sale, in the production of which class of "goods," the aforesaid is the biggest success in this valley.

A CHANGE.—Mr. A. H. Wemple is now "mine host" of the Whitney House, Lone Pine, having taken charge a few days since. His advertisement will appear in our next issue.

SUNDAY SCHOOL REPORT.—Attendance for the the 13 weeks ending September 26th, 1880: Whole No. 442; average per Sabbath, 34. This is a good attendance when we consider the excessive heat of the Summer "whooping cough" among the children and the removal of several pupils. The School regrets the departure of Misses Maggie Graham and Maggie Conklin. The former, an efficient teacher whose place we will find it difficult to fill; the latter a faithful attendant, having answered at the roll-call 46 out of the 49 Sundays of the school's existence. We are indebted to parents and friends for occasional visits and material aid in procuring supplies for the School. The School will continue even though the "populistive boom has set in the wrong way."

THE FIRST.—Considerable rain fell in the valley hereabouts last night, and this morning the mountains on both sides bear a good coating of snow.

ON last Sunday week a train carrying the First Regiment of National Guards from Sacramento to San Francisco, was wrecked at Oakland wharf. The engineer went into the water with his engine and died at his post. His was the only life lost. The accident was caused by his own carelessness in running on to the switch open as usual for the local trains, and before reaching which all other trains are by general orders required to come to a full stop. Brown, the engineer, perceived his error when too late, but like a true hero, he saved the lives of his passengers by putting on the air brakes, and reversing his engine, by which all but the engine was kept from going off the wharf.

IT is stated that the Czar's marriage with the Princess Dalgoronki was privately celebrated a month ago, the witnesses being the two Russian Ministers, Adlerburg and Mulitine, and General Baranoff. Even the Czarowiz, it is said, urged the hastening of the nuptials, the only condition imposed by him being, that until the abdication of the Czar, changes in the Ministry should be submitted to the heir to the throne.

AN election took place in Connecticut last Monday, but sufficient returns have not yet reached us to enable us to speak positively of the result as between the two parties. Republican papers, however, claim the result as eminently satisfactory to their cause. No election took place in Colorado on Tuesday, the New Constitution having done away with the October elections in that State.

THE Republicans of Nevada appear to have a proper appreciation of the value of newspapers. The Republican Central Committee of Esmeralda county have ordered 400 extra copies of the Esmeralda Herald and True Fissure each week during the campaign, for gratuitous distribution.

GEN. JOHN F. MILLER has carried the Republican primaries of San Francisco against Senator Booth, and is likely to be the next Senator from California.

THE body of Lord Mountmorres is now lying at Eber Hall, his family seat, county Galway, Ireland, a bullet in the brain, and three others in the neck, and two more in the chest of the murdered man. The peer was assassinated Saturday night, while riding in his carriage, within a mile of his residence. The murder is undoubtedly the work of his tenants, against two of whom he had recently obtained decrees of ejectment, and with fifteen of whom his relations were unfriendly. When shot he was riding from a meeting of magistrates in the Court House of Clonbur, where he had aided the passage of a resolution calling upon the government to use coersive measures for the removal of agrarian disturbances. Although at the land meeting on the spot of the murder, yesterday, all connection of the Land League with the crime was disclaimed, the tragedy will be charged to the account of the agitators. Mr. Parnell may be as much shocked as anyone at the slaughter of Lord Mountmorres, but the legitimate outcome of his speeches to tenants is just such bloodshed.—New York Mail.

FRED GRINAGE, well-known in Carson as one of the likliest tonsorial artists that ever graced the profession in Nevada, died on Sunday night in this city at the age of 52 years. This genial colored gentleman has traveled over the faces of the residents of the capital for many years past, and all the great men of Nevada have felt his gentle touch as he swept his keen, unerring razor over their jaws and were soothed to sleep under his magnetic manipulations. Now the old man sleeps himself. He had been waiting his turn for years, and when Death called out "next" Grinage was ready. The scythe of the destroyer was keener than the best tempered razor ever honed and Grinage was the best tempered old barber that ever lived. His funeral will take place from the colored Methodist church this afternoon.—Carson Appeal.

IN San Diego, in the yard of Mr. Hiscock, is a Mission grape-vine five years old, which has a length of forty-two feet. The circumference of the main stem is ten inches. It is loaded with grapes. The vine has never received any care, having flourished in the face of drouth and neglect.

RUNNING at the rate of twelve miles per hour, it now takes from four to five minutes for the passenger trains on the S. P. C. R. R. to pass through the two largest tunnels on the road. It is proposed shortly to increase the time to seven minutes in the passing of the tunnels.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 9.....1880

THE Democratic and Republican parties are holding larger meetings and torchlight processions this year than ever before. All the populous cities are actuated by a spirit to surpass in the magnitude of these displays. New York had a mighty gathering on the night of the 23d. The World says the procession was seven miles long and contained 70,000 people, which the Tribune denies by reducing it to less than three miles. It is admitted ou all hands, however, that there was an immense outpouring of the people to give eclat to the occasion. The New York Republicans are preparing to get up a parade which they declare shall outdo it in brilliancy and numbers. The Republicans of Philadelphia have held a 35,000 procession; and so it goes, East and West, North and South. The intention of these parades is. of course, to make converts and excite people, that a full vote may be brought out on election day, We shall know after the 2d of November which party made the deepest impression on the public mind.—S. F. Call.

MEGENDIE's experiments have convinced him that dynamite when frozen is less liable to explosion by a blow than unfrozen dynamite; that cartridges of dynamite having small quantities of exuded nitro-glycerine are decidedly more sensitive to explosion by a blow than cartridges from which there has been no exudation; that frozen dynamite is easier exploded by simple ignition than unfrozen dynamite; and that frozen nitro-glycerine is not susceptible of detonation by detonators of the same strength as those with which the detonation of unfrozen nitro-glycerine may readily and certainly be effected.—Nature.

AFTER much work and long waiting, the little eight-stamp mill was got in readiness and started to work yesterday noon. It has been somewhat over a year since the whistle sounded, and it was welcomed by everyone yesterday at 12 o'clock. The first lot of ore being worked is ten tons from the Grand Trunk. After this is finished, there are at least ten or fifteen lots of from two to twenty tons to work for different parties. W. H. Ball has leased the mill for one year, and will no doubt keep it running constantly, as there is plenty of first-class ore here to work.—Aurora Herald.

RECENT reports from the so-called Skagit gold fields are encouraging. It is stated, upon what appears to be excellent authority, that several claims recently opened to the bedrock are producing from $25 to $30 per day to the man. A sawmill established in the mines, and the machinery for which was packed by men alone for over thirty miles, is now cutting from 1,000 to 1,500 feet of lumber per day, which sells readily at $100 per thousand.

THE Chile-Peruvian war is at an end at last. Peru surrenders most of her iron-clads, razees her Callao forts and agrees not to augment her navy for thirty years. This looks like an admission that she had been badly whipped. At all events the civilized world will experience a relief from the recitals of atrocities such as were committed by the armies on both sides the past year.

IT is understood that the handsome sum of $100,000 has been offered for "Maud S.," the mare that has trotted a mile in less time than any other horse has been able to accomplish the feat. This is bringing horseflesh up to about $100 per pound, a figure which certainly places the luxury beyond the reach of the poor.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Allgemeine Deutsche Unterstuetzungs Gesellschaft.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28, 1880.

Messrs. Harris & Rhine, Independence, Cal.:

DEAR SIRS—The undersigned, President of the German Benevolent Society, begs leave to call your attention to this truly benevolent institution, founded in the early days of California, and being now in the 27th year of its existence. The Society was formed to carry out three objects viz.: to assist poor and worthy or deserving people by support, to find employment for those out of work, and to cure those who are stricken down with sickness. For the latter purpose the Society owns a magnificent Hospital, surrounded by extensive grounds, where all patients are under the charge of excellent physicians and a consulting board of the most eminent medical talent of this city. The Society has expended for hospital and grounds the sum of $188,895.

The object of this communication is to propose to you to act as agent for this Society, either personally or through one of your employees, suited for such position, for the purpose of enlisting new members.

The monthly fee is only one dollar and the initiation fee on becoming a member two dollars. Only healthy persons can become members, and only Germans or those who speak that language, also their wives and children. Any member who meets with sickness is treated in the hospital without any expense to him until he has been restored to health. All persons who are not members, or can not become such, not speaking the German language, are admitted for medical treatment in the hospital at as low terms as it is possible to make them.

In this city we have about 3,000 members, but throughout the interior only about 300. It is our aim to increase the number of members throughout the State to make the hospital as much as possible self-sustaining, to enable us to extend the charitable department in this benevolent institution. For the trifling sum of one dollar per month members have the best aid and care in the German Hospital.

Frequently sick people in the country are crippled for life by false treatment from incompetent doctors, or even brought to a premature death. Only too late do they find out that if they had become members they would have been restored to health, and their earnings of years would not have gone into the pockets of inexperienced doctors, as the hospital employs only the best physicians. If there are no earnings, the employers and the friends of the sick are generally called upon to pay for his support. All this can be avoided, if the employers would vigorously enforce the rule, now introduced in most of San Francisco's establishments, that every man employed should belong to a relief society in order that in case of sickness he might be well cared for and not be reduced to the rather humiliating necessity of asking aid from the purses of his employer and his friends.

Persons of all nations of the age of 50 years or over are admitted as pensioners for life by paying a certain sum to be agreed upon to the society. They receive a home at the hospital, first-class board, washing and attendance in in case of sickness, free of any expense.

To enable Germans and others who do not know of the existence of this institution, neither of the hospital nor its great advantages, to become members, I have addressed you the above, and hope that you will cheerfully accept the agency and do all in your power to further the interests of this society by enlisting new members, and recommending our hospital to those who may be compelled to seek medical aid.

Your Obedient Servant,
JULS. BANDMANN,
President G. G. B. S.

Mining, Metallurgy, Engineering and Science.

RICHARD P. ROTHWELL, C.E., M.E., ROSSITER W. RAYMOND, Ph.D., } Editors.
WILLIAM H. WAHL, Ph. D., Department of Progress in Science and the Arts.

IT IS AN ACCEPTED AUTHORITY ON ALL questions relating to the great mining industries of the country. It is the oldest publication of its class in America, thoroughly independent; being of the trade and not in it, occupies a just and impartial position, which enables it to advise and teach without fear or favor. It devotes much space to questions bearing upon economical management of mines, and from time to time illustrates the more important improvements in mining machinery and engineering methods. Special attention is given to reliable mining news from all parts of the country, which is gathered by an efficient corps of correspondents in every section, and from an extended exchange list. The metal and ore markets, and gold, silver and miscellaneous stocks are reported and commented upon weekly by experienced financiers, who are unbiased by private interests, and upon these matters it is accepted as a reliable guide and unfailing instructor. Gives statistics of production of coal and iron, and of our great gold, silver and other mines. Its scientific notes are an epitome of the latest researches, its trade reports full, and its editorials sagacious and comprehensive. It enjoys the widest circulation and greatest influence of any journal of its class in the world; its patrons and readers comprising the most select and intelligent men in every quarter.

MINING APPLICATION NO. 181,

NEW ENTERPRISE MINE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Bodie, California, September 8, 1880.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT Thomas Henning, whose postoffice address is Cerro Gordo, Inyo County, California, has this day filed his application for a patent for fifteen hundred linear feet of the NEW ENTERPRISE Mine or vein bearing silver, gold, etc., with surface ground six hundred (600) feet in width, situated in Cerro Gordo Mining District, County of Inyo and State of California, and designated by the field notes and official plat on file in this office as Lot No. 39, in Township 16 South, Range 38 East, Mount Diablo Meridian. Said Lot No. 39 being described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a post set in mound of earth on northwest end of line of lode; marked the post "Post 7, New Enterprise mine;" said post is marked on its north side "Post A Ventura Mine," being situated on south end of lode of said Ventura mine. From which var 15 deg 50 min E., the middle of Cerro Gordo cañon bears north 30 chs; the entrance to the New Enterprise tunnel, course of tunnel south 35 deg east, 135 ft long, bears south 18 deg east, 1.21 chs; a quartz reef 4 ft high bears south 18½ deg west 86 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, south 38 deg 30 min east 1.21; quartz vein alongside New Enterprise tunnel—commencing ascending 14.74 summit of ridge bears west 20.30; gulch bears southwest 22.72; post 4 ft high x4 in. dia set in mound of earth marking southeast end of line of lode; marked the post "Post 4, New Enterprise mine," from which a pine stump 8 in. in dia by 10 in. high bears north 43¼ deg east 33 chs; a pine tree 6 in. dia by 4 ft high bears north 27 deg east 27 chs.

SURVEY OF EXTERIOR BOUNDARIES.

Commenced at post marked "Post 1, New Enterprise mine," standing in a gulch on north cor. of claim, from which a post marking the southeast cor of the Ventura mine bears south 71 deg west 11 chs. Thence, with var 15 deg 50 min east, 1—south 38 deg 30 min east 3.18, crossing of road in cañon; commence ascending; 18.71 summit of ridge bears west 20.82 "Post 2 New Enterprise mine," marking the point of junction of the New Enterprise, Silver Wedge and Armagh mines, from which the "Armagh U. S. Mineral Monument" bears by calculation north 36 deg 52 min east 14.21 chs. From "Post 2, New Enterprise mine" a pine stump 8 in. in dia bears north 23 deg east 30 chs. A pine tree 4 ft high bears north 71 deg east 62 chs; a pine tree 6½ ft high bears south 50 deg 14 min west 57 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 55 min east, 2—south 11 deg east 1.82; descending, "Post 3 New Enterprise mine," on the west boundary line of the Armagh mine, from which "Post 5 Armagh mine" bears south 11 deg east 1.21 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 3—south 71 deg west 3.94 "Post 4 New Enterprise mine," on southeast end of line of lode; commence descending; 8.75 "Post 5 New Enterprise mine" on south corner of claim; said post is 4½ ft high x5½ in. in dia and is set in a mound of rocks and earth 2½ ft high, from which a pine stump 11 in. high x15 in. in dia bears north 38 deg 1 min east 33 chs; an old prospecting hole 5 ft deep x4 ft square bears south 82 deg east 51 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 4—north 38 deg 30 min west 1.15; descending into gulch, commence ascending 4.32; ridge bears southwest; 12.80 main ridge of mountain bears west, commence descending; 22.72 "Post 6 N E mine" on steep rocky side hill; post set in a hole in the rock, from which an old prospecting cut 11 ft long x4½ ft wide from its face bears north 50 deg east 29 chs. "Post 4 Ventura mine" bears north 71 deg east .11 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 5—north 71 deg east 11 "Post 4 Ventura mine;" 4.81 "Post 7 New Enterprise mine" and Post of Ventura mine; 6.92 road, Citizens' grade; 9.52 "Post 1 Ventura mine;" 9.63 "Post 1 New Enterprise mine," place of beginning, containing 20.55-100 acres.

SURVEY OF CONNECTING LINE.

Commenced at "Post 2 New Enterprise mine." Thence, var 15 deg 55 min east, south 11 deg east 3.03 "Post 5 Armagh mine;" north 79 deg east 10.60 point on W. B. line of the Ygnacio mine; north 11 deg west 12.59 to "U. S. Mineral Monument," which when computed gives for a direct closing line from "Post 2 New Enterprise mine" "Armagh U. S. Mineral Monument" north 36 deg 52 min east 14.21 chs.

DESCRIPTION OF THE ARMAGH U. S. MINERAL MONUMENT:

Said Mineral Monument as described in the field notes of survey of the Armagh mine is built on the apex of a red, rocky point at the intersection of Ygnacio Ravine and Cerro Gordo Cañon and very precisely on the west boundary line of, and distant 17.51 chains from the southwest corner stake of the Ygnacio mine, as patented. At this point caused a hole to be drilled in the rock to a depth of 9 inches, in which drove a piece of gas pipe 1 inch in diameter by 36 inches long. On top of gas pipe set a post 4x4 inches square by 4 feet long, around which built a monument of rocks 5 feet high by 5 feet in diameter at its base. Marked the top of the post "U. S. Mineral Monument. Erected January 3d, 1880, by Wm. Crapo, U. S. Deputy Mineral Surveyor, under authority of the U. S. Surveyor General for California." From said post in Mineral Monument, with a variation 15 deg 55 min E, the extreme end of the rocky bluff on which the Mineral Monument is situated bears N 25 deg W 17 links. The east edge of ridge at the top of a vertical face 7½ feet high bears N 60 deg E .07 links. The northeast corner of an old adobe vaso chimney, a Mexican furnace for smelting silver and lead ores, bears S 38 deg 56 min W 16 links. The middle of the Belshaw toll road at a point where it turns out of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N 81¾ deg W 1.06 chains. The middle of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N 62 links. The northwest corner of Rafael Diaz' house bears S 23 deg 23 min E 1.55 chains. An old well 20 feet deep on north side of cañon bears N 58 deg 20 min W 1.93 chains.

Magnetic variation 15 deg 50 min east, containing 20.55-100 acres.

The location of this mine is recorded in the Recorder's office of Cerro Gordo Mining District, in Book —— of ——. The adjoining claimants are the Ventura and Armagh mines.

Any and all persons claiming adversely any portion of said New Enterprise mine or surface ground are required to file their adverse claims with the Register of the United States Land Office at Bodie, in the State of California, during the sixty days period of publication hereof, or they will be barred by virtue of the provisions of the Statute.

The surveyors have returned from their recent extended trip over the line and are busy working up their field notes. Grading has been entirely completed to the second crossing of the Walker River, sixty-seven miles from Mound House, or nearly one-half the distance to Candelaria, and to a point twenty-eight miles this side of the proposed point of intersection of the Bodie wagon road and the railway at the southern end of Walker Lake. Five bridges have already been completed. The first is ninety feet long, over what is known as Birdsall's Ditch, one mile south of Dayton. The next is 200 feet long, thrown over the Carson River at Dayton. Over El Dorado Cañon, across the river from Dayton, is another, thirty feet in length. One of similar length has been built over Whitman Cañon, eighteen miles beyond Dayton, and one forty-five feet long over Churchill Cañon, four miles further on. Three more bridges will be required before Churchill Cañon can be passed; two in Mason's Valley before crossing the Walker River; two after crossing the same stream and two over Walker River itself. A large force of laborers is now at work grading along the shores of Walker Lake. The work is light and rapid progress is being made. It is confidently expected that the line will be completed through to Candelaria before the completion of the present year.—Carson Times.

A NUMBER of years ago, an American boy visited the tomb of Washington, at Mount Vernon, and picked up an acorn, which he said he intended to present to the Emperor of Russia. He was a poor lad, but managed in some way to get across the ocean, when he proceeded, shabbily dressed, on foot, to St. Petersburg, with the acorn in his pocket. On arriving at the Russian capital, he proceeded to the dwelling of the American Minister, and informed him of the object of his mission, declaring at the same time, that he wanted an introduction to the Emperor. This, our Minister informed him, was impossible. But the boy persisted, and the Minister wrote a note to the Emperor, asking him if it would be agreeable to receive a lad, who had come all the way from America to present him with an acorn from the tomb of Washington. The reply did not come in the shape of a missive, but of a carriage, with outriders, drawn by four horses, which took the boy to the royal palace, where he was graciously received, made a lodger, and loaded with presents. The same carriage was placed at his disposal for several days after, and conveyed him on a visit to all the notable public places of the city. This anecdote is brought to mind, as illustrative of American pluck, by an item in an Eastern paper, which states that a lad, several weeks ago, addressed a letter to "Queen Victoria, at Windsor Castle," which for an unexplained reason, got into the Dead Letter Office at Washington. Nothing discouragad, the boy mailed a second letter, requesting the Queen's autograph, inclosing in it a dime, to pay the return postage. The point of the story is that the boy got the autograph.

A GENTLEMAN just returned from Canada tells the following story: A day or so ago the engineer of a train near Montreal saw a large dog on the track, barking furiously. The engineer whistled, but the dog paid no attention to the noise, and refused to stir. The engineer observed that the animal crouched close to the ground as he was struck by the cowcatcher. A minute later the fireman saw a bit of white muslin fluttering on the locomotive, and he stopped the engine. On going back to where the dog was killed it was discovered that not only the dog but a little child had been killed. It was then seen that the dog had been standing guard over the child, and had barked to attract the attention of the engineer. The faithful animal had sacrificed his life rather than desert his charge. The child had wandered away from a neighboring house followed by the dog, and it is supposed that the child lay down and went to sleep upon the track.

LIZZIE E., widow of the late W. C. Ralston, has filed a complaint in the Superior Court against Senator Sharon. The document covers 265 pages and is to the effect that Ralston and Sharon were partners in business; that Sharon was also executor of her husband's will, of which complainant was the sole beneficiary: that their partnership property at the time of Ralston's death amounted to the value, in round numbers, of $30,000,000; that Ralston just before his death, gave Sharon a trust deed of his property; that Sharon has had the custody of the partnership books and papers; that no inventory of her late husband's estate has been filed by the executors; that Sharon, by false representations and other means, has defrauded her, in the settlement of Ralston's estate, of large amounts, for which she demands an accounting and such restitution as may prove just.

THE assessments which become delinquent on Mono county mines during October aggregate but $77,000. The bullion production of the county during the same period will be about $300,000. The assessments on Storey county mines in October will be $528,000, and the bullion production about the same as our own. Which offers the better field for mining investments?—Bodie Free Press.

A DISPATCH dated Belleville, October 7th, says: Wm. J. Bell, a faro dealer of this place, was shot this evening in front of the Belleville Hotel by Chas. P. Brummett, who is also a faro dealer. The bullet cut Bell's windpipe and lodged beneath the left shoulder blade. Bell is still alive, but his recovery is doubtful. The cause of the shooting was an old grudge between the parties.

HOMER District never presented so encouraging an outlook as at the present. Developments made in the May Lundy and Homer mines during the past three months have proved that the ledges hold their downward course, and are true fissures. The promises given forth by the rich croppings have been amply fulfilled in the depths below. Now the time for reaping the harvest is at hand. In a few more days bullion shipments will be in order. The completion of their mill enables the May Lundy Company to realize returns from their rich mine. An arastra is busy crushing ore from the Little Emma, which has become a bullion producer. Ore from the Jackson is being crushed in an other arastra, and bullion will soon be coming from that quarter. A third arastra is crushing ore from the Matheny mine, and the extensive Lundy reduction works are in process of erection, and will be ready to treat ores in two weeks. These facts show that Homer is rapidly coming out of the "slough of despond" that it wallowed in for awhile. Money is more plentiful than at any previous time, and work is comparatively easy to get. Business has very much improved, and the general tone is hopeful, even buoyant. We are going to have a live camp here and no mistake.—Homer Index.

J. B. HUME, the celebrated detective of Wells, Fargo & Co., was in town Thursday, leaving that evening for below. In conversation with a Free Press reporter Mr. Hume said that the evidence against L. A. Sharp, the alleged stage robber, now in jail at Aurora, was overwhelming and could not fail to convict him. Seven indictments had been found against Sharp—four for the robbery of Wells, Fargo & Co., one for the robbery of Cambridge, the driver, one for the robbery of E. B. Shaw, commercial traveler for Cutting & Co., and one for assault with intent to kill Mike Toby—to all of which the prisoner had pleaded "not guilty." Messrs Kittrel & Huffaker appear as attorneys for Sharp, and the trial is set for the 27th instant. The four charges of robbery of Wells, Fargo & Co. include the two robberies of last Summer, and the two on the same night in September, when one robber was killed by Toby. Mr Hume does not think that the robbery of the Belleville stage, which occurred on the 2d of September, was committed by Sharp and his partner. Their manner of working and their dress were altogether different.—Bodie Free Press.

THE north header of the Sutro tunnel was abandoned October 5, and the whole force there, seventy-five men, discharged. The cause is alleged to be a difficulty with the Bonanza firm, who have complained that the work in the north lateral is not done as it should be. The tunnel company is hauling its drill carriages from that branch, and it looks like a bad state of affairs there. The Bonanza firm alleges that work in the north header of the Sutro tunnel was stopped, first, to cut a drain up the face, second, that the mines have now all connection with the tunnel needed for present economical workings, and third, that the work is not done according to the contract. The header is 300 feet north of the south line of the Mexican, and the north end mines, through these connections, have the full benefit of the tunnel for drainage. In the present state of affairs the mines do not care to pay $70 per foot to run the lateral further. In answer to a question as to when the work there would be resumed, the answer was that no one could tell; it might be resumed and it might not.

MORD BROWN, who resides on the west side of Goose Lake, tells us of the queer antics of a grizzly bear. A few weeks ago a man named Carroll left his mowing-machine standing in the field over night, and when he returned in the morning found that a grizzly had visited it and evidently tried to find out how it worked. He had first taken hold of the tongue and turned the machine half way round. It then seemed that bruin got mad and tore open the tool box and mashed up the oil can, and tore up a cushion that was on the seat. Mr. Brown says that the tracks were of unusual size, and he thinks it is the same "bar" that has roamed in that for several years, and committed various depredations.—Modoc Independent.

THE San Francisco lock expert, C. J. Periam, succeeded in opening the lock of the safe in which the county funds are kept by County Treasurer Carrick. Mr. Periam worked upon the lock in all thirty-nine hours. The $30,000 and other valuables were just as left. Mr. Carrick thought that he had lost the combination, but it now appears that the combination was out of gear and did not act. This is what Mr. Periam says, and he further says that it is nearly always the case that when anything is wrong with the lock of a safe the owner imagines that he has forgotten the combination.—Gold Hill News.

A SYSTEMATIC robbery of the Kansas Pacific Railroad Company, which has been going on for several months, has just been unearthed by the detectives, and the principal conspirators, three conductors and a baggage master, have been arrested. The scheme was to sell bogus tickets on the Kansas Pacific road, cautioning persons to leave Denver on a certain train, thereby taking them through to Kansas City under the supervision of the three conductors engaged in the conspiracy. The amount stolen is unknown.

"Is this my train?" asked a traveler at the Kansas Pacific depot of a lounger. "I don't know, but I guess not," was the reply; "I see it's got the name of the railroad company on the side, and I expect it belongs to them. Have you lost a train anywhere?"

ELECTION NEWS.

The results of last Tuesday's elections are not yet fully determined, but according to dispatches up to 1 o'clock A. M., of the 13th, it appears that West Virginia is largely Democratic, while Ohio and Indiana have both gone Republican, the former by not less than 20,000, the latter by about 4,000, subject to material alterations on complete returns, but in which direction remains to be seen. The Republicans claim a gain of several Congressman in both these States. Contrary to popular belief, Iowa held no election last Tuesday.

IN forming the morality of youth, there is no auxiliary outside the family which performs better labor than the Sunday School. Young children become much attached to these schools, and bear with them to old age a remembrance of the lessons there received. The Christian Churches are aware of this, and their efforts to spread and maintain the system are both successful and commendable. Some interesting facts concerning Sunday Schools were brought out at the Pan-Presbyterian Council, held in Philadelphia. Taking the world over, it is found that 12,680,-267 Sunday School teachers are employed. In the United States alone are 82,261 Presbyterian Sunday Schools, which are attended by 6,623,124 scholars, taught by 886,328 teachers. During the year 1879, 124,856 persons were taken from the Sunday Schools into the Church on the profession of their faith. England and Wales have 3,800,000 scholars and 422,222 teachers. Scotland stands next, and then come Canada and Ireland in order. From Persia 3,000 pupils are reported; from Australia 30,000; Italy, 10,000 and Switzerland, 76,000. Twenty nations were reported.

A DISPATCH from Sterling, Illinois, dated October 9th says: This afternoon the cattle sheds at Miller's distillery were burned. More than half of the cattle in them perished in the flames. Five hundred tons of hay was also burned. The loss will be heavy. The moaning and bellowing of the cattle was frightful beyond description. This is the fourth time in twelve years that the distillery has been burned out. There were over 1,400 head of cattle in the sheds and 1,100 were burned, and those which were gotten out were so injured that many will die. The herd belonged to Isaac Waxel, of Chicago, whose loss is about $40,000. The hay burned was worth about $2,500. The only insurance known here is $5,000 on the sheds.

THE harem of the Ex-Khedive of Egypt has been removed from Naples to Smyrna, as a safer retreat for this peculiar relic of Oriental barbarism. We are told that the unseemly curiosity of the Neapolitans and several actual elopements both alarmed and disgusted the late ruler of Egypt, and much against his wish he had to choose between sending the poor women back to Asiatic seclusion or lose more of them —perhaps all the really attractive ones. Had the Ex-Khedive been well up in western geography and institutions, he and his household might, ere this, have landed at Castle Garden on their way to Salt Lake City.

EX-PRIME MINISTER Cæsar Moreno, who recently arrived in Chicago, attributes all the troubles in the Sandwich Islands to the presence of missionaries. These men pray on Sunday and work on week days. According to the distinguished friend of King Kalakua, the missionaries take everything they can lay their hands on.

SINCE the resignation of De Freycinct, Germany and Austria have been exchanging notes in consequence thereof, and have agreed, it is said, to work for maintenance of peace and not to insist on the execution of any programme which might expose Europe to division.

BY the latest news, it seems that the De Lesseps canal scheme across the Isthmus of Panama is not quite so sure of success as was at one time asserted. Bankers are not usually willing to make advances unless future returns are beyond contingencies.

THE Repudiation Amendment in Arkansas was defeated by a direct vote of about 1,500 majority, and by a failure to receive a majority of the votes cast by about 7,000 majority. The total number of votes cast in the State is 140,000.

MINING PROSPECTS IN THE INYOS.

For many years there has not been so bright a prospect for our mining interests as at present. The county has been under a cloud ever since the failures which occured here about fifteen years ago. The cause of these failures was not the want of merit in the mines, but a lack of knowledge in the science of mining and the reduction of ores. Beginning at Cerro Gordo and following the Inyo range north to Deep Spring Valley, a distance of about sixty miles, there is probably no region in the United States that can show as many and as rich mines and prospects as this section of Inyo Conuty. These mines are now attracting much attention, especially in New York and other Eastern cities. A number of claims have been sold and bonded, and other sales are being negotiated. The formation of the Inyo range is mainly lime, slate, and syenite, in which is found high grade ores of both gold and silver. Nearly all the silver ores carry gold, varying in quantity from five to twenty dollars per ton. Rich veins of gold quartz are also found, as in the Beveridge district, at the Brown Monster mine and its vicinity, and also at Chrysopolis. Cerro Gordo and its vicinity, including Swansea, should be, to-day, one of the busiest and greatest bullion producing districts on the Pacific Coast. And it will be, when capital is invested' the mines opened and mills and furnaces erected. In Cerro Gordo the Union mine has produced its millions, and is not half worked out. This is the only mine in this district that has ever been explored to any great extent, about 900 feet being its deepest workings. The Ygnacio comes next, with a development of about 350 feet in depth, and it shows from three to five thousand tons of ore in sight. The Buena Vista, recently bonded to San Francisco parties, on which work was lately commenced, is already showing an immense body of ore over fifty feet in width. Numerous other claims which have been prospected to the extent of the means of the poor prospector, are showing rich bodies of ore. A rich mineral belt extends north from Cerro Gordo, about eight miles; its formation and metal bearing portion being almost identically the same as that of the Ygnacio. At a point on this belt, eight miles from Cerro Gordo, and about seven miles from Swansea station, on Owens Lake, a number of locations have been made, and some of them prospected, which promise to be of great value. In the foot hills near the lake, and in the vicinity of Swansea, large bodies of smelting ore are being found. It is here that the Indiana, or Boley & Tuttle mine, is situated, which has produced the richest silver ore ever found in this county—averaging over $500 per ton. The Flagstaff and others containing the same class of ores are also situated in this neighborhood. North of Swansea and opposite Lone Pine is another section, rich in gold, silver, and lead; several locations have been made here, and some of them sold to New York parties. Passing north to the Brown Monster mine, which is a largely developed and valuable gold mine, we have a number of veins of rich gold-bearing quartz. In this vicinity the Stonewall Jackson, the Hirsch and the Waco Star are situated, all carrying free gold. From this point north to the head of Mazourka Cañon and Chrysopolis, hundreds of claims have been located. Some of them have been prospected enough to show veins and bodies of rich ores, of both milling and smelting character. Deep Spring district comes next, on the northern end of the range, with its large and prominent ledges of gold and silver bearing ores.

In Mazourka cañon the formation is such as to allow large bodies of ore to be found, especially of the argentiferous lead ores, which occur in masses of greater or less magnitude, being imbedded in soft formations of lime and argillaceous earths. Here is a field in the above mentioned districts that holds out stronger inducements for the investment of mining capital than any other section in America.

JUST at the very moment when the first returns of Tuesday's elections began to come over the wires, a terrible storm prostrated thirty-five miles of the line beyond Cheyenne. It was not possible to repair the break while the storm continued; the Pacific coast was all agog to hear the news; the San Francisco Chronicle, true to its great worth and enterprise, bridged the untimely chasm by a specially chartered locomotive, and in that way got the dispatches in time for its morning issue, though an hour or two delayed.

IN certain counties of Kansas the failure of the crops will leave the people destitute. They must have assistance.

Two thousand acres of valuable timber have been burned over near Arcade mills, Butte county, by recent fires.

Is politics to degenerate into a mere battle of money barrels?—Springfield Republican.

WHAT IS TO BE DONE?

It seems to be a moot question in several counties whether to run full county tickets in the face of the recent Supreme Court decisions, or to let it go by default. We observe, however, that the Republicans particularly propose in a number of the principal counties of the State to go right on with the election without regard to the decision in question. Among these counties we may name San Mateo, Alameda, and Sacramento. In discussing the effects of the first of the two Supreme Court decisions, the San Mateo Times and Gazette argues to this effect: "The [first] decision was based on a case arising in San Francisco. The Court only incidently alluded to the situation in the outside counties, and so far as they are concerned it was not conclusive, as no argument was made for or against. If the rehearing petitioned for from San Francisco should result unfavorably, it does not follow that a case sent up from an outside county would meet with the same action. In fact it is altogether likely it would not. It would probably be decided that the law is different as to it, as it is evident there is no parallelism in the two cases." Therefore it argues that if the Court should decide that all county offices are vacant in January, as it is clear from a careful reading of their decision that they will do, and these vacancies are to be filled by a preceding election, in that case the Republicans of San Mateo would be on the safe side in having elected their officers.

The re-hearing in the case settled the matter beyond dispute that there could be no election for municipal officers in San Francisco. But it is conceded that the question involved in county elections are different, and are in no wise affected by their second decision any more than in the first. The terms of all the county officers clearly expire on the 1st of January next. It will, under the Constitution and in default of an election, be the duty of the Board of Supervisors to fill all the vacancies thus created by appointments, the appointees to hold until the next general election, which does not occur until two years hereafter. Whether to vote a full set of officers this Fall will be of any use or not is a question we do not claim to be able to satisfactorily answer. Nevertheless, we can't see that it will do any harm to fill up the the tickets and vote them, and in that manner obtain an expression of the people as a guide whereby the Supervisors may appoint, or for confirmation by the Legislature, in which body the question will come up in some shape.

THE Carson Appeal says of the recent murder of one squaw by another, in that place: "Sheriff Hill and Deputy Sheriff Wasson proceeded to the scene of the tragedy and found a squaw lying dead in Cannon's barn. A little child about three years old was pulling at the body and crying piteously. It had torn open the dead woman's dress and was endeavoring to find its mother's breasts. Its hands were smeared with blood, and at times it would strike its mother's face and call angrily for its supper. The child did not realize what death was, and the officers had to remove it from the body. A few yards off lay another child about a year old, in a willow basket. The officers said that in all their experience they had never witnessed anything so horrible. When the body was removed te the morgue, a hole was found in the chest, from which blood flowed, of a light color, as if it came from the lung. It was impossible, however, to tell whether the wound was made by a pistol-shot or a slim knife. The Indians said the killing had been done by a squaw, who was hiding in Slater's hay-yard. The officers going to the place, found the squaw crouching in one of the hay lofts, and she only surrendered after some resistance. Soon afterwards another squaw was pointed out by the Indians on the street as an accessory to the deed. Both were lodged in jail. A buck was also taken in, who was found near Cannon's drunk."

It was first published that both squaws were drunk at the time of the murder. Such might have been the case but there is something more than whisky to account for it, and to add to the atrocity of the murderess' act, and to make the pathetic part ot the story above given even more pathetic. In brief it is this: Some two years since the murderess enticed the murdered squaw's husband away from her. The pair lived here and there in the mountains, taking good care to keep away from the wronged wife, as we would say if referring to a white woman. Finally, the buck got tired of that mode of life if not of his mistress, and so came back to his wife and children. The abandoned mistress came to their camp and tried to again win the Indian away from his wife. Failing in that she resolved to murder her, snd did so as above related.

WE are in receipt of the first two numbers of a new paper, with a new style of name, published at Folsom, Sacramento County, by "Bill Dad, the Scribe," alias H. Wallace Atwell, who is a writer not at all new to California readers. He calls his paper, the Hastate, and a well filled, large and bright weekly it is.

THE ORGANIZATION OF MINING COMPANIES.

THE Economist thus expatiates on the matter of organization, and thinks the Eastern method preferable to that adopted on the Pacific Coast: "There has been a marked difference between California and New York methods of organizing mining companies. In California the principal consideration in mining enterprises and investments is the character and prospect of the mines, and but little thought is given to the names in its management, whereas in the East a respectable and influential directory has been the paramount consideration. In many respects the Eastern idea is preferable, if the names be those of men who beside being respectable, are largely interested by their own investments, and are either trained mining men or sufficiently well informed about the particular property under their direction to insure its merit. If, however, the directors and officers are secured by a bonus of stock, and are merely figure heads to inspire public confidence in the property, the public are misled, and would not examine the merits of the enterprise as closely as if its only or chief claim to their confidence lay in the mine itself.

It will be well always if Eastern investors will bear in mind the importance of the intrinsic merit of the enterprise presented for their consideration, irrespective of the character and standing of those represented in the management, and especially to note the stock and capital of the company. An honest management may, for various reasons, often be misled as to the value of the property. There but few, if any mining enterprises which will safely warrant a capitalization of over 200,000 shares. The investor will then consider, first, the merits of the property; second, the character of the management; and third, the stock capitalization. If they will carefully consider these points they will have little trouble in making a safe investment.

A great deal of injury is done to mining by men with no previous training in mining matters and with but little time at their command outside their regular business, who go into mines as managers. It requires a great deal of attention as well as knowledge to make it profitable; and if men entered other vocations as readily as merchants, doctors and lawyers suddenly blossom out as mining oracles and guides, no value would be attached to their recommendations. There are large profits in mining, and it is withal a very fascinating pursuit; but those contemplating investments would better do it through well-established houses who understand the subject, rather than through the advice or direction of some party who has taken it up as an amusement."

THE Constitution says that the instrument shall be mandatory and prohibitory. The Supreme Court says it is not. The Constitution says the elections shall be held biennially, on the even-numbered years. The Supreme Court says they shall not—at least at present. The Constitution says all officers elected last year shall have their terms shortened one year. The Supreme Court says they shall not. The Constitution says the State Board of Equalization shall equalize the assessments of the State. The Supreme Court says they shall not. What is the use of a Constitution where we have a Supreme Court? The Legislature provided for the election of county officers in accordance with the requirements of the Constitution. The Supreme Court said it was unconstitutional. In this case the Court may have been right, but in construing the Constitution so as to prevent an election of county officers this Fall, the special pleading of the Court does not satisfy the people.

THE Esmeralda Herald, has just completed its third year, and sixth volume. It glorifies considerably over the marked changes looking to a permanent and flourishing future for its locality since its first number was issued. It remarks: "The railroad is fast putting out its iron bands to tap our county's riches, and in a short while thriving towns will spring up along-side its track. Everything points to the fact that Esmeralda county in the near future will number among the foremost in the State." However, we will not bother about that matter-of-course kind of talk, but will say that we consider the Herald a remarkably well conducted and most worthy paper, and we warmly hope its highest aspirations may be realized, and soon, too.

THE ceremony of laying the corner stone of the obelisk at Central Park, New York, on the 9th, was witnessed by thousands of spectators. The feature was the Masonic procession, which formed in front of the Temple on Sixth avenue. In the line were all the Commandaries fron Jersey City and Newark and Masonic Lodges of New York, Kings, Queens and Richmond counties.

THE livery men of Nevada City and Grass Valley, California, are becoming greatly alarmed over a new disease that is so prevalent among horses in that vicinity.

Rights of Deserted Wives.

The question recently arose in the United States Land Office as to the right of a deserted wife to make final proof on the homestead entry of her husband and instructions were asked from the General Land Office at Washington. The Commissioner in his reply, under date of Sept. 30, 1880, says:

"I have to state that relief is afforded in such cases by the Board of Adjudication under Rule 27, approved May 8, 1877, which reads as follows: 'In all homestead entries where the husband has deserted his wife and children, who have in good faith complied with the homestead law by residence upon and cultivation of the land, and good proof shall be made by the wife, or in case of death, by her heirs or their legal guardians, such entry shal be confirmed and patent shall issue to the parties entitled thereto.' "

Important Decision.

In another column will be found the decision of the Superior Court, Department No. 2, of Mono County, Hon. M. P. Wiggin, Judge, presiding.

It is an important decision and will command the attention it deserves, as it is the first instance where a county overlapped another State, and the County Seat being in that State. This suit involves the issuance of warrants to the amount of $16,000, a suit for $24,000 more hanging upon the favorable termination of this. It was of vital interest to the taxpayers of Mono, as the interest alone amounts to $50,400 —a total of $90,400. The document is well written and exhaustive, and reflects credit upon its author, Judge Wiggin. —Bodie Chronicle, Oct. 9th.

THE official Republican majority in Vermont was 25,079.

Election Proclamation.

PURSUANT TO LAW AND A PROCLAMATION of the Governor of the State of California, made and done at Sacramento on the First day of October, A. D. 1880, Notice is hereby given by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Inyo, State of California, that a General Election will be held throughout said County on Tuesday, the Second Day of November, A. D. 1880.

The polls to be open one hour after sunrise and continue open until sunset of said day, during which time the following officers are to be elected, to-wit:

Six Electors of President and Vice President of the United States.

One Representative to Congress of the United States from the Fourth Congressional District, comprising the counties of San Diego, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Tulare, Monterey, Fresno, Kern, Merced, Mariposa, Stanislaus, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, San Mateo, Mono, Inyo, San Benito and Ventura.

One Member of the Assembly, for the counties of Inyo and Mono jointly.

"And the Governor of the State of California hereby offers a reward of One Hundred Dollars for the arrest and conviction of any and every person violating any of the provisions of Title IV, Part I of the Penal Code. Such rewards to be paid until the total amount hereafter expended reaches the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars."

And the following officers of Inyo County are to be elected at the same time, viz:

One Supervisor for Supervisor District No. 1 in said Inyo County.

Two Justices of the Peace for Township No. 1, and one Justice of the Peace for each of the remaining Townships in said Inyo County.

One Constable for each of the following Townships, to-wit: Townships No. 2, 3, 4, 7 and 8 in said Inyo County.

One Road Overseer for each Road District in said Inyo County.

Said election to be held at the places and the election to be conducted by the Election Officers hereby appointed and hereinafter named, as follows, to-wit:

INYO INDEPENDENT.

INDEPENDENCE, CAL.:
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 16.....1880

POLITICAL.—Pursuant to announcement, J. W. Brier, Esq., champion of the Republican side of the question, delivered addresses at Lone Pine, Independence, Big Pine, Bishop Creek and Round Valley since Thursday of last week. On Monday evening next he begins at Benton a series of similar addresses in Mono county. Leaving all to pass judgment for themselves as to the weight or lack of weight in Mr. Brier's facts and deductions, we, nevertheless, undertake to say that as a rhetorician and logician and in real eloquence, he is second to scarcely any speaker in this State. One of these days we may give a chapter of pioneer history in which Mr. Brier, when but six years of age, took a part. He and his parents were in that company of '49 emigrants, so many of whom perished down here at Furnace Creek in Death Valley....Hon. Jos. Wasson spent most of last week among us, not bothering but very little if any about politics, but giving attention to certain mining operations to which in part we have made reference heretofore. He promises us that whether elected or defeated, he, probably accompanied by Prof. Hanks, will make a thorough examination of a number of Inyo mining districts and properties, and upon the result of that and pending operations very much for good or the reverse for this region is contingent. Already, both as a writer and as a legislator, Mr. Wasson has accomplished a very great deal for the good of this entire region, and has fairly earned our thanks generally, and votes too, where partisan considerations do not rise above the material....Col. S. B. Furguson, the Democratic nominee for the Assembly, delivered a lengthy address to quite a large audience here on Thursday evening. He, like his opponent, is essentially a mining man, and, though not a great orator, is manifestly the embodiment of business energy, and is well calculated to win friends whereever he goes. On the following evening he addressed a meeting at Big Pine, "which," a correspondent writes, "was the grand Democratic demonstration of the season." On this occasion, Col. B. B. Jackson made a speech which is highly commended for its conservative spirit, style of delivery and subject matter. The same correspondent claims Big Pine as the banner Democratic precinct of the county. Mr. Brier speaks at Bishop Creek to-night.

PROSPECTING.—Col. A. G. Boley, accompanied by Owen Smith, has gone over to make a thorough examination of the country across the summit of the Inyos, from Waucoba southward to Beveridge District. In all particulars it is a more promising field for prospecting than numbers of distant mining camps which have from time to time allured our people away. The Colonel is familiar with the range from end to end, and now takes up that section in the belief that it is good as the best.

GREAT REGISTER.—The Great Register of Inyo's "free and intelligent voters" is under process of printing at this office. It contains 1,444 names, and will make a book of the usual size and form. Having no additional force at the cases, this work necessarily interferes somewhat with the paper, and forms our apology for any shortcomings noticeable in this issue and the next.

PREACHING.—Rev. F. M. Willis will preach in the schoolhouse to-morrow evening at the usual hour, and thereafter at other points in the same routine as previous to the interruption occasioned by his late visit to Nevada.

NEW POSTOFFICE.—A new Postoffice has been established at Spencer's store, or "Upper Bishop," to be officially known as "Avena." Mr. Alexander Spencer has been appointed Postmaster.

DYING.—It is with profound sorrow that we have it to say that another of Inyo's well known old Pioneers, B. L. Brown, now lies beyond hope of recovery, under an attack of pneumonia.

AFFIRMED.—The Supreme Court has affirmed the decision of the Superior Court of this county in sentencing Mike Welch to imprisonment in the State Prison for ten years.

RECORDER'S ELECTION.—See notice elsewhere of a meeting of the miners of Kearsarge District, for the purpose of electing a Recorder to succeed Henry M. Isaacs.

A MEMPHIS, Tenn., dispatch of Oct. 8th says: On Wednesday last at Concordia, Bolivar county, Mississippi, a difficulty occurred between B. J. Owen, Justice of the Peace, and James W. Glover, a farmer. Mr. Owen was holding his Court. Glover made a disturbance and was ordered under arrest by Owen. Pistols were at once drawn by both, and firing commenced by each. Owen fell dead. Glover ran about 300 yards and fell. He died after lingering eight hours. Both were young men, and in good standing in the county.

AT the annual election of the Northern Belle the old officers were all reelected for the ensuing year. The profits of the mine for the past year were $345,170. Four dividends, aggregating $100,000, have been paid. There is a cash balance yet on hand of $112,148 in gold coin.—Candelaria True Fissure.

A LARGE number of girls are employed in cigar factories in New Orleans. Most of them are German girls, and their work gives general satisfaction.

THE first snow of the season fell at Mount Washington, Vermont, on the morning of the 23d ult.

DURING the last few days the police seized 40,000 Socialist prints and pamphlets in Berlin.

CHIEF OURAY'S death brings into prominence the fact that he was the victim of intense and jealous hatred among a number of Ute chiefs, and the suspicion that he was poisoned certainly lacks no foundation as to the existance of a motive for the crime. The superiority of Ouray to the other chiefs in point of intellect, eloquence and influence was the main cause of the dislike toward him, although his enemies sought to cover the real cause of their dislike by allegations that he was the friend of the whites and false to his own nation. His loss will soon convince the Utes that a great misfortune has befallen them, and should it be discovered that he died of poison, vengeance will at length be fierce in pursuit of his destroyers. He was unquestionably one of the noblest Indians who ever walked this continent, and his death not only obstructs the ratification of the treaty with the Utes, but also removes the main prop of the cause of civilization among his people.—N. Y. Mail.

FROM New York alone over twelve million bushels of grain were shipped to Europe in September, employing 300 vessels.

THE amount of foreign gold that has come to this country since July 1st is estimated by Treasury officials at $35,000,000.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 16.....1880

NOBODY'S reputation and honor are safe in this cynical age. For the last ten years Mt. Everest, in Napaul, has been considered the highest mountain in the world, reaching the respectable height of 29,000 feet. Dhawalagiri and Kuchinjinga, in the same range, 28,000 feet each, shared this honor between them until Major Everast, of the Bengal Engineers, discovered their big brother. Before they were measured Humboldt thought some peaks in the South American Andes reached the highest altitude on our globe. And now comes Captain J. A. Dawson, who has discovered in the little known island of New Guinea a peak that beats them all, which he has appropriately named Mount Hercules, and fixes its elevation at 32,000 feet above the level of the sea.

NELLIE HUBBARD, daughter of the ex-Governor of Connecticut, who married her father's coachman, has not been forgiven. She takes in sewing, while her husband drives a hack. MISCELLANEOUS.

Allgemeine Deutsche Unterstuetzungs Gesellschaft.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28, 1880.

Messrs. Harris & Rhine, Independence, Cal.: DEAR SIRS—The undersigned, President of the German Benevolent Society, begs leave to call your attention to this truly benevolent institution, founded in the early days of California, and being now in the 27th year of its existence. The Society was formed to carry out three objects viz.: to assist poor and worthy or deserving people by support, to find employment for those out of work, and to cure those who are stricken down with sickness. For the latter purpose the Society owns a magnificent Hospital, surrounded by extensive grounds, where all patients are under the charge of excellent physicians and a consulting board of the most eminent medical talent of this city. The Society has expended for hospital and grounds the sum of $188,895.

The object of this communication is to propose to you to act as agent for this Society, either personally or through one of your employees, suited for such position, for the purpose of enlisting new members.

The monthly fee is only one dollar and the initiation fee on becoming a member two dollars. Only healthy persons can become members, and only Germans or those who speak that language, also their wives and children. Any member who meets with sickness is treated in the hospital without any expense to him until he has been restored to health. All persons who are not members, or can not become such, not speaking the German language, are admitted for medical treatment in the hospital at as low terms as it is possible to make them.

In this city we have about 3,000 members, but throughout the interior only about 300. It is our aim to increase the number of members throughout the State to make the hospital as much as possible self-sustaining, to enable us to extend the charitable department in this benevolent institution. For the trifling sum of one dollar per month members have the best aid and care in the German Hospital.

Frequently sick people in the country are crippled for life by false treatment from incompetent doctors, or even brought to a premature death. Only too late do they find out that if they had become members they would have been restored to health, and their earnings of years would not have gone into the pockets of inexperienced doctors, as the hospital employs only the best physicians. If there are no earnings, the employers and the friends of the sick are generally called upon to pay for his support. All this can be avoided, if the employers would vigorously enforce the rule, now introduced in most of San Francisco's establishments, that every man employed should belong to a relief society in order that in case of sickness he might be well cared for and not be reduced to the rather humiliating necessity of asking aid from the purses of his employer and his friends.

Persons of all nations of the age of 50 years or over are admitted as pensioners for life by paying a certain sum to be agreed upon to the society. They receive a home at the hospital, first-class board, washing and attendance in in case of sickness, free of any expense.

To enable Germans and others who do not know of the existence of this institution, neither of the hospital nor its great advantages, to become members, I have addressed you the above, and hope that you will cheerfully accept the agency and do all in your power to further the interests of this society by enlisting new members, and recommending our hospital to those who may be compelled to seek medical aid.

Your Obedient Servant,
JULS. BANDMANN,
President G. G. B. S.

IT IS AN ACCEPTED AUTHORITY ON ALL questions relating to the great mining industries of the country. It is the oldest publication of its class in America, thoroughly independent; being of the trade and not in it, occupies a just and impartial position, which enables it to advise and teach without fear or favor. It devotes much space to questions bearing upon economical management of mines, and from time to time illustrates the more important improvements in mining machinery and engineering methods. Special attention is given to reliable mining news from all parts of the country, which is gathered by an efficicient corps of correspondents in every section, and from an extended exchange list. The metal and ore markets, and gold, silver and miscellaneous stocks are reported and commented upon weekly by experienced financiers, who are unbiased by private interests, and upon these matters it is accepted as a reliable guide and unfailing instructor. Gives statistics of production of coal and iron, and of our great gold, silver and other mines. Its scientific notes are an epitome of the latest researches, its trade reports full and its editorials sagacious and comprehensive. It enjoys the widest circulation and greatest influence of any journal of its class in the world; its patrons and readers comprising the most select and intelligent men in every quarter.

VENTURA MINE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE.
Bodie, California, September 8, 1880.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT Thomas Henning and John I. Belshaw, whose postoffice address is Cerro Gordo, Inyo County, California, have this day filed their application for a patent for fifteen hundred linear feet of the VENTURA mine or vein, bearing silver, lead, etc., with surface ground six hundred feet in width, situated in Cerro Gordo Mining District, County of Inyo and State of California, and designated by the field notes and official plat on file in this office as Lot No. 52, in Township Sixteen South, Range Thirty-eight East, of Mount Diablo Meridian. Said Lot No. 52 being described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a post on the south end of lode near the middle of Cerro Gordo cañon. Said post is 4 ft high x 4 in. square, set in a mound of earth and rock 3 ft high x 4½ ft dia. at base; marked the post on its N. side "P. A. V. M.," from which the middle of the cañon bears north 0.30 chs. The entrance to the New Enterprise tunnel bears south 18 deg east 1.21 chains. A quartz reef 4 ft high x 6 feet long bears south 18½ deg west 0.86 chs. Thence, var. 15 deg 40 min E., 1—north 4 deg west 2.73 on the supposed line of the lode, rock in place not appearing on the surface, to gulch bears southwest. Commence ascending at an angle of 26 deg. 3.94 center of road locally known as the Citizens' Grade runs east and west 8.90 open cut on the vein, cut 0.30 chs long, 9.30 upper crossing of Citizens' Grade runs southwest and northeast from which a shaft sunk in ferrugenous quartz croppings to a depth of 25 feet bears south 80 deg east 0.90 chs. 12.12 shaft 6 ft deep on the lode containing lead ores, 18.18 summit of slope 21.21 brow of hill commence descending to north 22.72 post in mound of rock and earth 4 ft dia, at base by 3 ft high marked the post "P. B. V. M." from which a slate ridge extending northwest down the mountain and being elevated from 1 to 2 feet above the surrounding rock bears north 60 deg east 0.12 chs. A ferrugenous quartz vein 0.16 chs high by 0.06 chs thick and 55 feet lower than P. B. V. M. having a north and south strike bears north 27½ deg west 1.37 chs to its topmost pinnacle. A pine bush 5 in. in dia. bears north 88 deg west 0.53 chains.

CONNECTING LINE.

From post "P. 1 V. M." the cor. to Sec. 3 and 4 on 4th standard line south T. 17 S., R. 38 E., M. D. M., bears by calculation south 27 deg 24 min 41 sec west 421.48 chs distant.

MINING APPLICATION NO. 181,

NEW ENTERPRISE MINE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Bodie, California, September 8, 1880.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT Thomas Henning, whose postoffice address is Cerro Gordo, Inyo County, California, has this day filed his application for a patent for fifteen hundred linear feet of the NEW ENTERPRISE Mine or vein bearing silver, gold, etc., with surface ground six hundred (600) feet in width, situated in Cerro Gordo Mining District, County of Inyo and State of California, and designated by the field notes and official plat on file in this office as Lot No. 39, in Township 16 South, Range 38 East, Mount Diablo Meridian. Said Lot No. 39 being described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a post set in mound of earth on northwest end of line of lode; marked the post "Post 7, New Enterprise mine;" said post is marked on its north side "Post A Ventura Mine," being situated on south end of lode of said Ventura mine. From which var 15 deg 50 min E., the middle of Cerro Gordo cañon bears north 30 chs; the entrance to the New Enterprise tunnel, course of tunnel south 35 deg east, 135 ft long, bears south 18 deg east, 1.21 chs; a quartz reef 4 ft high bears south 18½ deg west 86 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, south 38 deg 30 min east 1.21; quartz vein alongside New Enterprise tunnel—commencing ascending 14.74 summit of ridge bears west 20.30; gulch bears southwest 22.72; post 4 ft high x4 in. dia set in mound of earth marking southeast end of line of lode; marked the post "Post 4, New Enterprise mine," from which a pine stump 8 in. in dia by 10 in. high bears north 43¾ deg east 33 chs; a pine tree 6 in. dia by 4 ft high bears north 27 deg east 27 chs.

SURVEY OF EXTERIOR BOUNDARIES.

Commenced at post marked "Post 1, New Enterprise mine," standing in a gulch on north cor. of claim, from which a post marking the southeast cor of the Ventura mine bears south 71 deg west 11 chs. Thence, with var 15 deg 50 min east, 1—south 38 deg 30 min east 3.18, crossing of road in cañon; commence ascending: 18.71 summit of ridge bears west 20.82 "Post 2 New Enterprise mine," marking the point of junction of the New Enterprise, Silver Wedge and Armagh mines, from which the "Armagh U. S. Mineral Monument" bears by calculation north 36 deg 52 min east 14.21 chs. From "Post 2, New Enterprise mine" a pine stump 8 in. in dia bears north 23 deg east 30 chs. A pine tree 4 ft high bears north 71 deg east 62 chs; a pine tree 6½ ft high bears south 50 deg 14 min west 57 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 55 min east, 2—south 11 deg east 1.82; descending, "Post 3 New Enterprise mine," on the west boundary line of the Armagh mine, from which "Post 5 Armagh mine" bears south 11 deg east 1.21 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 3—south 71 deg west 3.94 "Post 4 New Enterprise mine," on southeast end of line of lode; commence descending; 8.75 "Post 5 New Enterprise mine" on south corner of claim; said post is 4½ ft high x5½ in. in dia and is set in a mound of rocks and earth 2½ ft high, from which a pine stump 11 in. high x15 in. in dia bears north 38 deg 1 min east 33 chs; an old prospecting hole 5 ft deep x4 ft square bears south 82 deg east 51 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 4—north 38 deg 30 min west 1.15; descending into gulch, commence ascending 4.32; ridge bears southwest; 12.80 main ridge of mountain bears west, commence descending; 22.72 "Post 6 N E mine" on steep rocky side hill; post set in a hole in the rock, from which an old prospecting cut 11 ft long x4½ ft wide from its face bears north 50 deg east 29 chs. "Post 4 Ventura mine" bears north 71 deg east 11 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 5—north 71 deg east 11 "Post 4 Ventura mine;" 4.81 "Post 7 New Enterprise mine" and Post of Ventura mine; 6.92 road, Citizens' grade; 9.52 "Post 1 Ventura mine;" 9.63 "Post 1 New Enterprise mine," place of beginning, containing 20.55-100 acres.

SURVEY OF CONNECTING LINE.

Commenced at "Post 2 New Enterprise mine." Thence, var 15 deg 55 min east, south 11 deg east 3.03 "Post 5 Armagh mine;" north 79 deg east 10.60 point on W. B. line of the Ygnacio mine; north 11 deg west 12.59 to "U. S. Mineral Monument," which when computed gives for a direct closing line from "Post 2 New Enterprise mine" "Armagh U. S. Mineral Monument" north 36 deg 52 min east 14.21 chs.

DESCRIPTION OF THE ARMAGH U. S. MINERAL MONUMENT:

Said Mineral Monument as described in the field notes of survey of the Armagh mine is built on the apex of a red rocky point at the intersection of Ygnacio Ravine and Cerro Gordo Cañon and very precisely on the west boundary line of, and distant 17.51 chains from the southwest corner stake of the Ygnacio mine, as patented. At this point caused a hole to be drilled in the rock to a depth of 9 inches, in which drove a piece of gas pipe 1 inch in diameter by 16 inches long. On top of gas pipe set a post 4x4 inches square by 4 feet long, around which built a monument of rocks 5 feet high by 5 feet in diameter at its base. Marked the top of the post "U. S. Mineral Monument. Erected January 3d, 1880, by Wm. Crapo, U. S. Deputy Mineral Surveyor, under authority of the U. S. Surveyor General for California." From said post in Mineral Monument, with a variation 15 deg 55 min E, the extreme end of the rocky bluff on which the Mineral Monument is situated bears N 25 deg W 17 links. The east edge of ridge at the top of a vertical face 7½ feet high bears N 60 deg E .07 links. The northeast corner of an old adobe vaso chimney, a Mexican furnace for smelting silver and lead ores, bears S 38 deg 16 min W 16 links. The middle of the Belshaw toll road at a point where it turns out of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N 81¾ deg W 1.06 chains. The middle of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N 62 links. The northwest corner of Rafael Diaz' house bears S 38 deg 23 min E 1.58 chains. An old well 20 feet deep on north side of cañon bears N 58 deg 20 min W 1.93 chains.

Magnetic variation 15 deg 50 min east, containing 20 55-100 acres.

The location of this mine is recorded in the Recorder's office of Cerro Gordo Mining District, in Book —— of ——. The adjoining claimants are the Ventura and Armagh mines.

Any and all persons claiming adversely any portion of said New Enterprise mine or surface ground are required to file their adverse claims with the Register of the United States Land Office at Bodie, in the State of California, during the sixty days period of publication hereof, or they will be barred by virtue of the provisions of the Statute.

An Impertant Project.

A corps of engineers has been engaged in looking out a route for a railroad across the Sierras in Fresno county. In confirmation of the report we were favored with an interview with Col. Bridges and several others of the parties in interest. It is proposed by the company to build a standard broad-guage railroad from the Central Pacific R. R. in Fresno county by the most practical route across the Sierras, then through Nevada and Utah untill eastern railway communication is intersected. There are many arguments in favor of the proposed road: It would be the shortest route across the continent; it would have a much shorter snow line than the Central Pacific; it would open up a rich, but now isolated mining region in Utah and Nevada, and and would supply railway communication to the rich mining districts about Hite's Cove, Mammoth and Bodie; would furnish a market for the produce of this valley in the mining regions, and lastly would enable tourists to go by rail to within a few miles of the Yo-Semite valley and the big trees. The route across the Sierras would be through a continuous forest of magnificent timber, and the building of the road would develop an immense lumber business. Eastern capital is at the back of the enterprise. The incorporators of the company, are Messrs. Lyman and Francis Bridges, P. W. Johnson, A. H. Washburn and E. W. Chapman. The first three gentlemen were connected with the Nevada Centsal railroad, extending from Battle Mountain to Austin, Nevada, and are experienced railroad builders, the other two gentlemen are connected with the Yo Semite and Madera Turnpike Company. It is proposed to build fifty miles, to be known as the Yo Semite Division, as soon as the route can be located, and the necessary materials accumulated. A surveying party will go to the mountains at once, and will work until driven out by the Winter storms. The project is one of the most important that has ever been undertaken, and its completion will result greatly to the benefit of our people, and should receive every reasonable encouragement and support.—Fresno Expositor.

ON Thursday evening, when the Carson bound stage was just beyond Sunshine, a passenger named A. Friend, a solicitor for a San Francisco liquor house, was shot in the back by H. H. Moody, as is supposed, who was sitting on the back seat and immediately behind Friend. The ball entered the back to the right of the left shoulder blade, and ranging upward is thought to have lodged in the upper part of the left lung. Dr. Davison took charge of the wounded man on his arrival at Aurora; and Doctors Rogers and Walker, of Bodie, went to his assistance. Mr. Moody was placed in custody of the Sheriff of Esmeralda county, and was yesterday indicted by the Grand Jury for an attempt to kill, the trial was set for to-day, Frank V. Drake, of Bodie, having been retained as his counsel. Mr. Moody has been a clerk in the Bodie Postoffice for a year or so, excepting a short time he was Postmaster at Lundy, and was much respected as a quiet, gentlemanly person, and one who would not intentionally injure any one. He is about 60 years of age, and was on his way to join his wife at his home in Massachusetts. He claims that he was transferring his pistol from one pocket to another when it was accidentally discharged. It is an unfortunate affair, and it is to be hoped that nothing more serious will result from it.—Bodie Chronicle.

THE Grand Jury of Esmeralda county found several true bills of indictment against Sharp, the stage robber, to all of which he pleaded not guilty.

All Sorts.

Out of a hundred samples of tea sold in Chicago examined by the Health Department, only two were found that were unadulterated.

A few weeks ago the third and youngest daughter of Gen. Rosecrans took the black veil, at the Convent of the Ursulines, St. Martin's, Ohio.

The Jesuits have obtained the Pope's permission to propagate the faith in Central Africa. Next we shall hear that they have been expelled from Ujiji.

Two schoolmasters of a Western town have been put to flight by the inhabitants for cruelty to the children. The pupils do not intend to set out in search of the missing whalers.

Mrs. Myra Bradwell, the editor in chief of the Legal News, was once, according to the Inter-Ocean, asked what was her idea of woman's rights. "The best," said she, "is to delude one man into the idea that the Lord never made another such woman as herself."

"Who are you going to vote for?" somebody asked Oilhooley. "I am going to cast my vote solid for De Smith." "Do you think he is entitled to the confidence of the people? Do you know him?" "Never saw him in my life, but I saw the other fellow, and that settles it."

The New York Graphic having heard of a Maine man who has regularly received the Congressional Globe and Record for the last thirty-six years, and has read every copy, remarks: "We have heard of walking dictionaries and encyclopædias, but this is the first walking waste-basket that has been brought to our notice."

Philadelphia husbands have induced a local paper to state that "the last thing to explode was a milliner's window. Two ladies who were looking at the new styles were seriously injured." But it won't work, gentlemen. What is the danger of a woman compared to the sight of a new bonnet?

"Ah!" said old Mr. Middlerib, watching an exciting chase between his neighbor Bilderback and his son, in which the old man held the whip, while the boy was making time that threatened to shut his parent clear out at the distance-pole, "Ah! truly has it been said, 'The child is father off the man.'"

A customer dining at Collins' restaurant was presented, at the end of the repast, with a piece of pastboard bearing the legand "4 Bits. Pay at the bar." The customer took out his pocket-knife, and very carefully erased all the angles and excresences from the figure 4 leaving it a plain 1. "What the——mischief are you doing?" asked Nick. "Hard times; reducing my expenses!" said the customer.

The time has come when the young man who has just returned to town solemnly enquires of himself: "Shall I call upon the charming but cashless young maiden whom I met at the seaside, or shall I ignore her polite invitation?" and at the same time the young maiden soliloquises: "Shall I receive the pleasing yet ineligible youth whose acquaintance I made by the bounding billows, or shall I be steadily and systematically out when he calls, with no probability of an immediate return?"

The Rival Landlords.

Peck's Sun tells this almost incredible story: It is said that during the high water at Prairie du Chien, the Dousman House was full of guests, the water was up to the second story, and they could not get away. Williams, the proprietor, made his guests catch fish for their board. There was a fish-pole out of every window and Williams had a corner on fish bait. He had a place where he could dig worms and no one knew where it was but himself. It was said to be a touching sight to see him go around to the different rooms with an old oyster can and sell angle-worms to the traveling men. The guests finally struck on buying worms. They opened the windows and let the fish in the rooms, and then chased them under the beds and caught them in the wash-bowls. One traveling man says Williams is awful heartless. A mud turtle came along and roosted on the second-story window-sill and Williams pushed him off into the water because he hadn't any baggage and wouldn't pay in advance. Some of these stories against Williams are told by Colonel Johnson, at the eating house here, who is down on Williams on account of some game played at Hot Springs; we believe they call it a "John Pot." Williams says he turned the mud turtle away because he thought it was one of Johnson's bedbugs. We wouldn't have such a temper as either of those men have got for anything.

AN Indiana youth committed suicide the other day because he loved two girls so well he couldn't decide which he loved best. Both of them returned his affection, too, which made matters worse, and one of them had just sweetly reproached him because she saw him kissing the other one. Moral—Never try to love two girls at once. To love one girl at once is more than some fellows can stand.

"FORGET thee!" wrote a young man to his girl—"forget thee! When the earth forgets to revolve; when the stars forget to shine; when the rain forgets to fall; when the flowers forget to bloom—then and not till then, will I forget thee." Three months later he was going to see another girl with a wart on her nose and $40,000 in the bank.

THE manner in which the land is assimilated by the aristocracy of the old world may be realised when we state, upon authority, that half of Scotland is owned by 70 persons.

A State Fair Described.

When the gates of the State Fair were thrown open, yesterday morning, a man who was built on the plumb-line principle, and whose hat would have attracted the curiosity of a crowd a mile and a half away, was stopped because he had no ticket. He indulged in some rather loud talk, and was taken in hand by a policeman and led to one side.

"Let us now ocme to an understanding," he said, as he cooled off. "Is this a State Fair?"

"Yes, sir;"

"Is there a circus attached?"

"No, sir."

"Is there a free lunch establishment in blast?"

"No, sir."

"Will the President be here to day?"

"Not that I know of."

"Is the man with the prize packages on hand in here?"

"He is not."

"Is there any chance for me to secure a position as special detective?"

"No, sir."

"This, then, is an ordinary State Fair, composed of machinery, live stock, bed quilts, roosters, wind-mills, yeast-cakes, new cheeses and the man who has had his pocket picked?"

"Yes, about that."

"Then, sir, I beg your pardon for my rash and ungentlemanly conduct, and I bid you good day. If I had understood matters in the first place I should have spared the public this scene. Ta-ta, sir, and if we should ever meet again you'll know me by my hat."—Detroit Free Press.

The Masonic State Grand Lodge.

The thirty-first annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons began yesterday at the Masonic Temple. The following Grand Officers were present: M. W., William Wilson Traylor, Grand Master; R. W., Samuel Crawford Denson, Deputy Grand Master; R. W., Clay Webster Taylor, Senior Grand Warden; R. W., John Quincy Adams, Junior Grand Warden; V. W., Moses Heller, Grand Treasurer; V. W., Alex. Gurdon Abell, Grand Secretary; T. R., Thomas H. B. Anderson, Grand Chaplain; W., Edgar Frank Preston, Grand Orator; W., George Tuttle Grimes, Assistant Grand Secretary; W., John Warner Shaeffer, Grand Lecturer; W., Dimsdill Burr Carver, Grand Marshal; W., Albert J. Lowry, Grand Standard Bearer; W., Charles Henry Haile, Grand Sword Bearer; W., George Hinds, Senior Grand Deacon; W., William Emory Cox, Junior Grand Deacon; W., Charles Guy Cargill, Senior Grand Steward; W., Tyron Milton Yancey, Junior Grand Steward; W., William Adams, Grand Pursuivant; W., Samuel David Mayer, Grand Organist; W. James Oglesby, Grand Tyler. After being opened in due form, the Lodge was called off until the afternoon, when the various Grand Officers made their annual reports. The Grand Lodge meets again to-day. The Third Degree will be exemplified this evening.—S. F. Alta, Oct. 16th.

A FATAL shooting affray took place at Ehrenberg on the 4th instant, between Thomas Halleck, William Galloway, and Joaquin Moreno, in which Moreno was killed. The facts go to show that Moreno, while under the influence of liquor, went into the store of A. Frank, Mr. Halleck being in charge during Mr. Frank's absence to San Francisco. Moreno being abusive and creating a disturbance was ejected by Halleck, and went away. Shortly after, Halleck and Galloway went on their way to dinner, and, seeing Moreno, Galloway called out to Halleck to look out for him (Moreno). Halleck replied that he did not think that Moreno would do anything. Galloway turned back towards the store when Moreno fired at him. Halleck then started to turn the corner, when Moreno opened fire on him also, which Halleck returned, hitting Moreno in the breast. Moreno then entered a house and commenced firing at Galloway, who had, at this time, got into Frank's corral, where he grabbed up a needle-gun and fired at Moreno, shooting him through the head, killing him instantly. Halleck and Galloway claim that they acted in strict self-defence in the matter, and inform Sheriff Hodges that they are ready, when notified, to come to Yuma and place themselves under his charge.

A COUPLE recently were married by telegraph, the groom being in Missouri and the bride in Indiana. A dispatch dated Portland, Indiana, Sept. 26th, says: At half-past 2 o'clock this afternoon occurred a marriage by telegraph, that of A. H. Latham, manager of the American Union Telegraph at Albany, in Central Missouri, and Miss Linnie Faris of Pennville, this county. Miss Faris stood beside Rev. R. J. Parrett, the officiating minister, in the telegraph office here while the ceremony was transmitted. She was attired in a neat dress of light goods, trimmed with drab satin and flowers. The ceremony occupied thirty-six minutes. The bride starts to Albany, Mo., to-morrow to join her husband.

EARNESTNESS in business wins. If a lawyer tries a suit, it is of little importance to him, being but one of a hundred, in an extensive practice, yet it may be an epoch in the life of his client; perhaps his first suit, or at least he clothes it with great importance. His life, liberty and property may be at stake.

THE Tuscarora Times-Review says a disease called "blackfoot" is prevailing to some extent among the cattle in Independence valley and further northward, and several head have died from it.

READERS of the Californian will find the November number a very attractive one. The issue opens with an article by Joaquin Miller, in which he gives a humorous account of his stock speculations in Wall street. This article he calls "The New Napoleon," in tribute to Jay Gould, whose character he reviews. Henry D. Woolfe has an article on "The Chinese Army," which is timely, in view of the misunderstanding between China and Russia. Alfred A. Wheeler contributes an able and interesting paper on the "Russian Religion and Russian Government," which reveals many new and curious facts. W. W. Crane, Jr., concludes his "Winter in Berlin," and W. M. Bunker gives a description of "Mining in the Sky." The curious habits of the Indians who fish in the Winnie-Mame, or McCloud, River are described by Lucy Sargent, while J. P. Widney contributes a careful study in the climate of Southern California. In the way of light literature, Mr. Morrow's story, "A Strange Confession," is continued; Helen Wilmans tells the laughable experiences of "A Grass Widow;" Josephine Clifford writes the story of "A Miner from Arizona." There is also a variety of other sketches and articles, besides the poetry from E. R. Sill, John Vance Cheney, Millicent W. Shinn, and Chas. H. Phelps. As a piece of analytical criticism Mr. Chas. H. Shinn's paper on "Thomas Carlyle" is exhaustive and satisfactory. The departments are well filled and the number as a whole is very complete.

A DISPATCH from Little Rock, dated October 16th says: W. B. Strong, General Manager of the Atchinson, Topeka & Santa Fé Railroad, has been to Boston and New York consulting with representatives of the Central, Southern and Union Pacific Railroads with a prospect of arriving at an agreement. The occasion for this grows out of the aproaching completion of the Atchinson, Topeka & Santa Fé road to Florida Pass, where it will intersect the Southern Pacific Railroad. The distance now intervening between the two roads, and which is being daily lessened by rapid construction, is about 120 miles. As soon as the two lines shall be brought into a union, the arrangement for the interchange of traffic will be declared in effect. The details of this arrangement are now occupying the attention of the officers of the different roads asembled in Boston. A contract would probably have been ratified several days since had the representatives of the Union Pacific been punctual in putting in an appearance. The Union Pacific is entitled to a representation in the conference, for the reason that the men who control the Central and Southern Pacific lines are also large owners in the Union Pacific. It is expected that the Atchinson road will soon get a large amount of freight which now goes over the Northern roads.

THE researches of the United States Entomological Commission, now carried on for four seasons, has cleared up the question of the permanent breeding grounds of the Rocky Mountain locust. It is in Montana, in the valleys of the Upper Missouri, the Judith Basin and the Yellowstone Valley, with its tributaries. From this region the swarms visit the border States eastward, and also pass into Utah and Wyoming.

THE Salt Lake Tribune thus strikes at polygamy: Two little boys were quarreling on the sidewalk, when one sneeringly remarked: "Your folks don't amount to much, no how. I have more brothers and sisters nor you've got, ye carrot-headed gutter-snipe." "Yer may," returned the other triumphantly, "but I've got more mothers nor you, anyway."

THE Sovereign Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows now in session in Toronto, Canada, has decided to make a radical change in the ritual of the order, reducing the subordinate degrees from five to three, the work of the three being very elaborate, instructive, and dramatic in exemplification.

IN the graveyard near Bozarth's Hall, on Lewis river, Washington Territory, are five persons buried who were accidentally shot—Ross, Davis, Hughes, Stallcop and Mrs. Millard.

THE San José papers propose to dig a canal and open the Guadalupe from Licks Mills to the Bay of San Francisco. The City Engineer says it can be done at a small expense.

SEVEN bodies have been taken from the broken tunnel at Jersey City, where so many men were buried by the caving in of the tunnel.

THE JAMES RAILWAY.

A very important railroad experiment is now being made by the farmers along the line of the proposed road from Mussel Slough to Antioch. The proposition is to build a single-track railway on the James plan. The company has been organized, and stock is to be paid for either in labor or cash. The whole cost of the road, equipped, is estimated at between two and three hundred thousand dollars. The distance is 174 miles, and the farmers along the route are enthusiastic for its construction. The grading will be done entirely by the farmers, so that money will be required alone for the superstructure of the road-bed, for rolling stock and for stations, etc. When the first few miles of the road is completed, the James system will be thoroughly tested. If it proves equal to the claims of the inventor, and works as satisfactorily for a considerable distance as it has for short distances when tried on different occasions, the enterprise will be carried out with the utmost dispatch. It is believed that San Francisco capital, when it is found that the people are determined to build the road, will come to its aid. The probability that in a year from now the Southern Pacific will carry California grain to the Gulf of Mexico, is a matter which bears so directly on San Francisco as a shipping point, that it is believed her capitalists will see the importance of a counter move that will retain to her merchants the control of the wheat trade. However that may be, the proposed road road would reach deep water at Antioch, and the cost of freight to farmers would be very materially reduced. It is intimated that there is enough wheat now held for transportation by the farmers of the valley to make the new railroad enterprise a paying investment from the start. If the Tulare-Antioch road proves a success, we shall soon see the James single-track railroad in operation all over the State.

THE murder of Dr. Parsons, the American missionary, is to be avenged with commendable promptness by the execution of the guiltiest assasin, but had the court at Constantinople sentenced the other two murderers to death, instead of to fifteen years of penal servitude, the result would have been more satisfactory. A more atrocious murder was never committed, and the lesson of unsparing severity was needed in its punishment.

WORK is to be commenced in a few days on the railroad from Reno, Nev., to Oregon. The grade-stakes have been set for a number of miles from Reno, north, and a set of hands will commence at Reno and grade north, and another force will commence at Belfast, in Honey Lake Valley, Cal., and grade toward Reno.

DURING a recent visit to Cachise Pass, Arizona, E. Leslie discovered five caves that had evidently at some time or other been the habitation of the Apaches. The inner walls were covered with paintings of snakes, Indians, etc., in a manner similar to the painted rock near Gila Bend.

IN Spanish Peak mine, Plumas county, there is a crack or crevice in the bedrock in the deepest worked place. The crack is not more than four inches in length and half an inch in width, but a steady stream of air rushes out of it, which will blow out a candle instantly.

TO THE VOTERS OF MONO AND INYO.

Without having gone near the primaries or conventions, the undersigned finds himself before the people as a candidate for the office of member of the State Assembly. It is impossible as yet to say whether this is the worst or best thing that could have happened him, and that those who resigned in his favor have not decidedly the best of it, in everything that pertains to individual prosperity and peace of mind. On the first occasion, he positively refused to deliver any so-called stump-speeches, and made no effort to secure an election, except that in case of success his supporters might legitimately call upon him for a chromo. On this occasion, there being something of a demand that he shall say or do something in the stereotyped way of political campaigns, even at this late day, let us be frank and once for all, understand each other. It is hard to teach an old dog new tricks. Your humble servant has been too much of a journalist and behind the scenes to relish any such new departure, especially in these days of telegraphs, newspapers and the many appliances for teaching the people to read. Therefore, those who do not know me personally and wish to hear from the stump, store-box or what-not, must be content with the utterances herewith and the promise of a photograph, provided they cast their ballots for me both fearlessly and frequently on the 2d of November next. No campaign in the history of the country has brought out so much of the chief speaking talent, reviewing the politics and history of the country as never before; and yet, no matter who may be next placed at the head of the nation, you will soon find yourselves living and working together, for better or worse, just as before. After the last torch is burned out and laid away, the headaches and heart burning will give way to considerations of government and affairs nearest home. Outside of the mail service, the Washington influence is but little felt or appreciated among the mass of the people. Congress has given us so good homestead, mine and land laws that they seem hard to improve upon. But when one travels over the desert stretches of these two counties, so sparsely populated and with all sorts of business so dull, and sees the regular daily mail service appertaining, the thought is uppermost Uncle Sam is an exceptionally kindly creature after all. But the main question after all, is what can and cannot be done for the common good by a single representative, from so isolated section of the State as this, in the halls of legislation at Sacramento. Talk is cheap, and it was a common remark during the past session that those who said most, as a rule, did least for themselves or the community that sent them there. It must be admitted, however, that it was not the best representative of the intelligence and worth of the State, though a very fit exponent of the state of public opinion incident to the conception and adoption of the new organic act, and wildest fancies appertaining to government and law in the history of mankind, cropped out almost every day and hour of the session. It was not a Republican, Democratic or Workingman's Legislature, but a revolutionary one, growing out of personal disappointment in the race for existance, and political demagogy in places both high and low, running through a period of years, and culminating in a perfect blue fire of vilification and assassination. The only wonder is that the Sacramento crowd did so little harm, if they did little good on top of this whirlwind of excitement and uncertainty. To prevent great harm to existing institutions was the chief work of a comparative few. Take the case of the Mining Stock Exchange, by means of which combined capital has been chiefly raised whereby one State and Territory after another has been opened up. Half that short session was practically devoted to not, let it be understood' prevent probably needed reforms, but the destruction of the institution itself, and with it the whole line of works in Bodie. Bodie is the Comstock of California, and a big one, or it may have seen its best days, which no one will admit who has made a study of such things. Heavier machinery in a few months' time will tell more about it. Every one resident in this portion of the State will pray for speedy and solid developments in both the Comstock and Bodie enterprises. Without it, local markets will be weak indeed. The incorporation and assessment system may not be the best for carrying on work in districts of this character, but should not be broken up until a better one is devised. Owing to the long depression, there will be renewed attempts at reform in the coming Legislature, and the member representing Mono, will find himself solitary and alone, where dealing in stocks and carrying on mines in the same connection pertains to any portion of the State. Both Mono and Inyo counties by nature, belong to Nevada, and get little sympa- from the western slope of the Sierras, and especially the valleys beyond. The work and worry in caucus and committee, in this connexion, were something more than aggravating to reflect upon. What new measures it will be required to direct or defeat, remains to be seen. Under the new Constitution it is idle to talk of direct or special legislation. Those who so much desired an additional Superior Judge, with, powers to hold sessions in Bodie should look at the decisions of the Supreme Court and be glad that they got so good a Judge alone. County and town government bills will be introduced early and duly considered by some of the best qualified members of the Senate and legal talent, and those interested must be ready with their suggestions and get all they can inserted in the general scramble. Any one who witnessed this, last Winter, knows what it is, and will not hanker after more. This classification business is cruel to many counties. Inyo, for instance, is poor in taxable property compared with Mono, yet both are natural neighbors, and in a general law cannot come into the same class.

In conclusion, the writers claims for re-election are, first, an experience of one of the most trying sessions in the history of legislation; a solid Senate, almost, in his favor, for whatever is fair and right, the sympathy of the Governor, and a natural disposition to be on deck at all hours when there is any work to do. The State Mining Bureau, already a useful and growing institution in the mining center of the metropolis, is a creation of his own, which, if let alone, will at no distant day prove a source of pride to all who are interested in legitimate mining and prospecting for every mineral substance possessing a commercial value in California. As to whether the undersigned has stood by Bodie through good and evil report and given all the attention possible according to circumstances, to leading districts outside, but inside the two counties, as a prospector and mining writer or reporter, the average voter must be his own judge,

Respectfully, JOS. WASSON.

Bodie, Oct. 19, 1880.

MR. GEORGE H. PECK informs us that there has been an unusually large crop of castor beans raised in this county this year, and that the flax crop is far more extensive than in former years. The former has been sold by the farmers at $3 50 per hundred pounds, the latter at $3. It will thus be seen that these two products, which are cash articles, purchased on the spot by the agent, have proven a valuable source of revenue here this year. Mr. Peck thinks that twice the amount of flax sown here this year will be put in next. He is now interesting himself actively in trying to secure machinery to break the flax straw into tow, an article which brings $60 a ton in San Francisco. For the want of stripping machines, our farmers have heretofore burnt the flax straw, thus uselessly destroying an article of great value. Mr. Peck also informs us that he will see to it that our flax and castor bean industries are properly represented at the Fair.—Los Angeles Express.

ROBERT ST. CLAIR, who escaped from the county jail at Winnemucca last Monday evening where he was waiting sentence for the murder of Patrick Tully, was recaptured Thursday night. He says when he got away from town about three miles he found his feet were getting sore, so he came back and hid himself till Thursday night, when he ventured forth again and fell into the hands of the officers. The way he escaped from the jail was by merely lifting the iron door off the hinges during the temporary absence of the jailer. Some other style of hinges should be adopted. —Aurora Herald, Oct. 16th.

THE Grand Jury have been waiting for several days to hear what action would be taken in the Justice Court in Candelaria in the case of Chid Brummett, undergoing examination for the shooting of William Bell, at Belleville, one week ago last Thursday. Thursday a dispatch was received here that Brummett had been discharged, whereupon the Grand Jury made their final report.—Aurora Herald.

WANGEMAN'S patent gold dry washer is doing good work in the placeritas gold fields east of Walnut Grove. They work to a charm and can be laid down here at a cost of about $225. It is claimed for this machine that it will save 90 per cent. of the gold in the earth. Capacity of the machine, two tons per hour.—Prescott Miner.

DIED.

At Independence, Inyo Co., Cal., October 16, 1880, BENJAMIN L. BROWN, aged 56 years.

Another of the early settlers of this Valley has passed away. He leaves a wife and two young children to mourn his loss.

Mr. Brown was born in Batavia, N. Y., in 1824, and while yet a minor removed to Wisconsin, in which State he resided until the breaking out of the war in 1861, during which he was attached to the Federal army in the Southwest, in the capacity of sutler. At the close of the war he, in company with Mr. V. Beaudry, came to this valley in 1866, since which time he has been a continuous resident of this county.

There were few men who were more generally known throughout Inyo than the subject of this notice. Possessed of sterling qualities of honesty and integrity, he commanded the respect of all—a respect which increased instead of becoming diminished upon acquaintance.

All those who have known him intimately in his life time—now that he has left us—will join in the wish: Rest in peace old friend! M.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 23.....1880

THE POST CEMETERY.—By the energy of a few, and particularly through the labor and skill of Mr. Thomas Parker, tasty and substantial arched gate-ways now take the place of the rickety affairs lately in the entrance to the Camp Independence Cemetery. The entire fence should be reconstructed on a similar plan, and would be if people generally who have an interest in it, as all ought to have, would contribute something to defray absolute cash outlays, that and nothing more. Mr. Richard Hessian, of Big Pine, has contributed and delivered cedar posts enough for the entire enclosure. A few others have aided toward what has already been done, but as yet the whole amount so received will not more than pay for the material used, although a considerable portion of that was donated, mostly by Sheriff Smith. Mr. Parker is certainly entitled to some compensation for his several weeks of labor. We hereby ask all who can do so to contribute a dollar or several dollars each to help in this matter. All such sums can be given or sent to Mr. V. G. Thompson, or to this office, and, in due time, we shall publish a complete list of the conrributions and statements of outlays, for the information of all concerned. Now let everybody help.

NEARLY READY.—Messrs. Taylor, McEvoy & Chandler have their mill over in Beveridge District all ready for business except the concentrator, for which they have been waiting some two weeks. One of them, of the very latest, and presumably the best pattern, is now on the way, and as soon as it can be got in place, they will fix up for steady operation and in perfect confidence of doing a big paying business from the very start. Their mill, though not under cover as yet, contains the best machinery and appliances in use, and as a whole is put together in a workmanlike manner, "ship-shape and Bristol fashion."

MARBLE WORKS.—Parties contemplating any improvements in the line of marble work, more especially as to marking the graves of deceased relatives and friends, will do well to consult Mr. H. C. Yager, whose advertisment is given elsewhere this week. His quarry is near Big Pine, and the marble is of the same superior, fine and lasting material the discovery of which we mentioned some weeks ago.

SICKNESS.—That distressing complaint, the whooping cough, prevails quite generally in this locality. It is pretty tough on the little ones, but, we are glad to say, all, so far as we know, bid fair to get safely through with it. We hear, however, of one or two children at Big Pine, who are dangerously sick, and one has recently died here, but from other ailments than the whooping cough.

COW SHOT.—Some ten days ago a valuable cow, belonging to P. Reddy, Esq., was shot in the region of the heart with a charge of bird-shot, from the effects of which she died a few days later. Whether it was accidentally or maliciously done can only be surmised, but if the latter, the shooter must be a contemptible wretch indeed.

AGAIN.—The boss editor, our mining authority and old Lokleitems propose to get into newspaper harness again for the next issue, when the political printing shall be done, and will endeavor to make amends for the shortcoming of this and last week.

BISHOP STABLES.—John Clarke, as will be seen by his advertisement this week, has resumed charge of the Pioneer Livery Stables at Bishop Creek, "the which" he knows exactly how to run.

WE understand that the State Line mine at Silver Peak was recently sold by Steve Roberts and others, to George D. Roberts, and that the Highbridge mill, at Belmont is being taken down for the purpose of removal to Silver Peak for the working of the State Line ore. Doc. Garvin, late Superintendent of the Highbridge, has been at the State Line mine with a force of miners for some time past. It is the opinion of our informant that a considerable sized town will spring up at Silver Peak, as there are a number of mines in that district known to be good. The State Line is a gold mine—no silver in the ore.—Reese River Revielle.

BETWEEN two and three o'clock this morning Bodie's reputation was sustained by the commission of a homicide at the dance house on King street, where an altercation occured between a teamster named Wm. Page and a Syndicate miner named Pat Keogh. During the melee Keogh drew his pistol and reaching over the shoulder of a bystander, shot to death Page. The murderer made his escape, and at 2 o'clock this afternoon had not been arrested. An inquest was held at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The body of Page was removed to the undertaking rooms of H. Ward.—Bodie Chronicle, October 16.

THE trial of Jack McTague for an assault with intent to kill one Matias Alcanter was ended last Monday, and the case went to the jury the same afternoon. At about 11 o'clock that night the jury returned a verdict of "guilty." This is certainly as it should be, for there is certainly no denying that McTague is a bad character and ought not to be at large. He will receive his sentence to-day, and is likely to make the State Prison an extended visit providing the officers of that institution don't let him slip through their fingers again.—Aurora Herald.

IT is estimated that there are 2,000 legal voters in Fresno county, although the number of names on the great register is 2513, by reason of many names of persons who have died or moved away.

MORE DEATH VALLEY VICTIMS—DARWIN ITEMS.

DARWIN, Oct. 21.

MESSRS. EDITORS—As there is a little bit of news to communicate, I conclude to act for the nonce as correspondent.

About the first of this month six men left this place for Arizona, with two horses and five or six jacks, and it has turned out to be another ot Death Valley horrors. The names of the parties who started were Joseph Brunell, J. Dannet, Simon Vivier, Henri Allari, Thos. Wilson, and Henry Shaffer. They started across Death Valley, opposite Postoffice Springs, and got lost the first day out, with no water. Two of them, Shaffer and Brunell, got back to Panamint the second day, Dannet got back the third day, but found water the day before and brought back a canteen to his comrades. After telling them where the spring was he struck out for Panamint. Now for the sufferings of the remaining three: Vivier started in one direction towards Panamint, and the other two on across the valley. In the mean time Judge Hanson and an Indian started out with one of the returned men to try and find them. This party returned, and Indian Tom started out on horseback with a jack packed with a five gallon keg of water. He struck their trail and found Vivier had made towards the Panamint mountain, so he followed up the trail of Tom. Wilson until he came to a spring, and finding that Wilson had got water and gone on towardd Resting Springs, he turned back and found the trail of Henri Allari, and after following him about twenty miles found the poor fellow dead, and with not a stich of clothing on, excepting a hat. He then went back to hunt up Vivier, and came across him in the foothills on the east side of the Panamint Range, and by good management brought him into Panamint. Vivier had been five days without water or provisions. The Indian started back immediately to hunt up Wilson, and said he would be gone twenty days or find him. Vivier has but little hopes of the Indian finding Wilson alive, as Wilson was very near sighted and could see but a few yards; still, he says that he has a great deal of endurance and will live if any one could. Many here think that Wilson has found his way into Resting Springs. I will not attempt to pen the horrible tales of suffering that the survivors relate.

MINING.

As for mining news, there is not much. Messrs. Gorman and Eddy will start up their furnace about the 27th. Messrs. Harman and Hubbard have just made a small successful run at Panamint, and the Chloriders say that the time is not far distant when Panamint will be a first class Chloriding camp. Childs is preparing to make a run at Modock. Stein is fast developing his gold mine at Old Coso. As for Snow's Cañon, quien sabe?

Politically the people out here think they can live under any President, Hancock, Garfield, or I was going to say even Dow, but no, not if he shuts their whiskey off.

Truly. W. T. GRANT.

THE number of women and girls who gain their livelihood in Paris as models to painters, sculptors and photographers is 671. Of these 230 are Italians, 120 French, 80 Germans, 60 Swiss, 50 Spanish, 49 Belgians, 45 English, 30 Americans, 4 Austrians, 2 Portuguese and 1 Irish; 130 are somewhat more than of age, the ages of the remainder vary from 16 to 20. Among the 671, 60 are avowedly actresses, 40 milliners, 35 artificial flower girls and 30 seamstresses; all the rest are without any special calling.

A BRILLIANT and useful future is predicted for the milkweed, which has heretofore been considered only a cucumber of the ground. Its seeds yield a finer oil than linseed; its gum can be used in place of India rubber; and from its floss a fabric resembling Irish poplin has been made, while the young shoots are used in the Spring by some people instead of asparagus, which they resemble in flavor.

THE Jesuit schools in France, which have now been entirely abandoned by their conductors and taken possession of by the authorities, number 28, and counted more than 11,000 pupils. They have been established at different dates since 1850, and during the thirty years of their existance have educated nearly 60,000 scholars, 2,500 of whom have entered the Polytechnic and other Government schools.

AARON DAVIS has gathered about him at Walla-Walla, Oregon, about one hundred persons who believe in his divinity. He assumed the title of Commander-in Chief of Heaven and Earth, and is about to marry his son to his daughter, in obedience to what he says is a heavenly order, in order that a line of superior rulers may be founded.

A SATISFACTORY explanation: "What are you doing in here with a knife and a pistol?" asked a Galveston man of a burglar whom he caught in his house at midnight. "What do you suppose, except keeping out of the way of the fellows who are looking for an honest man to put on the local ticket."

MISCELLANEOUS.

Allgemeine Deutsche Unterstuetzungs Gesellschaft.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28, 1880.

Messrs. Harris & Rhine, Independence, Cal.: DEAR SIRS—The undersigned, President of the German Benevolent Society, begs leave to call your attention to this truly benevolent institution, founded in the early days of California, and being now in the 27th year of its existence. The Society was formed to carry out three objects viz.: to assist poor and worthy or deserving people by support, to find employment for those out of work, and to cure those who are stricken down with sickness. For the latter purpose the Society owns a magnificent Hospital, surrounded by extensive grounds, where all patients are under the charge of excellent physicians and a consulting board of the most eminent medical talent of this city. The Society has expended for hospital and grounds the sum of $188,895.

The object of this communication is to propose to you to act as agent for this Society, either personally or through one of your employees, suited for such position, for the purpose of enlisting new members.

The monthly fee is only one dollar and the initiation fee on becoming a member two dollars. Only healthy persons can become members, and only Germans or those who speak that language, also their wives and children. Any member who meets with sickness is treated in the hospital without any expense to him until he has been restored to health. All persons who are not members, or can not become such, not speaking the German language, are admitted for medical treatment in the hospital at as low terms as it is possible to make them.

In this city we have about 3,000 members, but throughout the interior only about 300. It is our aim to increase the number of members throughout the State to make the hospital as much as possible self-sustaining, to enable us to extend the charitable department in this benevolent institution. For the trifling sum of one dollar per month members have the best aid and care in the German Hospital.

Frequently sick people in the country are crippled for life by false treatment from incompetent doctors, or even brought to a premature death. Only too late do they find out that if they had become members they would have been restored to health, and their earnings of years would not have gone into the pockets of inexperienced doctors, as the hospital employs only the best physicians. If there are no earnings, the employers and the friends of the sick are generally called upon to pay for his support. All this can be avoided, if the employers would vigorously enforce the rule, now introduced in most of S n Francisco's establishments, that every man employed should belong to a relief society in order that in case of sickness he might be well cared for and not be reduced to the rather humiliating necessity of asking aid from the purses of his employer and his friends.

Persons of all nations of the age of 50 years or over are admitted as pensioners for life by paying a certain sum to be agreed upon to the society. They receive a home at the hospital, first-class board, washing and attendance in in case of sickness, free of any expense.

To enable Germans and others who do not know of the existence of this institution, neither of the hospital nor its great advantages, to become members, I have addressed you the above, and hope that you will cheerfully accept the agency and do all in your power to further the interests of this society by enlisting new members, and recommending our hospital to those who may be compelled to seek medical aid.

Your Obedient Servant,

JULS. BANDMANN,
President G. G. B. S.

Mining, Metallurgy, Engineering and Science.

RICHARD P. ROTHWELL, C.E., M.E., ROSSITER W. RAYMOND, Ph.D., } Editors.
WILLIAM H. WAHL, Ph.D., Department of Progress in Science and the Arts.

IT IS AN ACCEPTED AUTHORITY ON ALL questions relating to the great mining industries of the country. It is the oldest publication of its class in America, thoroughly independent; being of the trade and not in it, occupies a just and impartial position, which enables it to advise and teach without fear or favor. It devotes much space to questions bearing upon economical management of mines, and from time to time illustrates the more important improvements in mining machinery and engineering methods. Special attention is given to reliable mining news from all parts of the country, which is gathered by an efficient corps of correspondents in every section, and from an extended exchange list. The metal and ore markets, and gold, silver and miscellaneous stocks are reported and commented upon weekly by experienced financiers, who are unbiased by private interests, and upon these matters it is accepted as a reliable guide and unfailing instructor. Gives statistics of production of coal and iron, and of our great gold, silver and other mines. Its scientific notes are an epitome of the latest researches, its trade reports full, and its editorials sagacious and comprehensive. It enjoys the widest circulation and greatest influence of any journal of its class in the world; its patrons and readers comprising the most select and intelligent men in every quarter.

NEW ENTERPRISE MINE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE, Bodie, California, September 8, 1880.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT Thomas Benning, whose postoffice address is Cerro Gordo, Inyo County, California, has this day filed his application for a patent for fifteen hundred linear feet of the NEW ENTERPRISE Mine or vein bearing silver, gold, etc., with surface ground six hundred (600) feet in width, situated in Cerro Gordo Mining District, County of Inyo and State of California, and designated by the field notes and official plat on file in this office as Lot No. 39, in Township 16 South, Range 38 East, Mount Diablo Meridian. Said Lot No. 39 being described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a post set in mound of earth on northwest end of line of lode; marked the post "Post 7, New Enterprise mine;" said post is marked on its north side "Post 4 Ventura Mine," being situated on south end of lode of said Ventura mine. From which var 15 deg 50 min E., the middle of Cerro Gordo cañon bears north 30 chs; the entrance to the New Enterprise tunnel, course of tunnel south 35 deg east, 135 ft long, bears south 18 deg east, 1.21 chs; a quartz reef 4 ft high bears south 18½ deg west 86 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, south 38 deg 30 min east 1.21; quartz vein alongside New Enterprise tunnel—commencing ascending 14.74 summit of ridge bears west 20.30; gulch bears southwest 22.72; post 4 ft high x4 in. dia set in mound of earth marking southeast end of line of lode; marked the post "Post 4, New Enterprise mine," from which a pine stump 8 in. in dia by 10 in. high bears north 43¾ deg east 33 chs; a pine tree 6 in. dia by 4 ft high bears north 27 deg east 27 chs.

SURVEY OF EXTERIOR BOUNDARIES.

Commenced at post marked "Post 1, New Enterprise mine," standing in a gulch on north cor. of claim, from which a post marking the southeast cor of the Ventura mine bears south 71 deg west 11 chs. Thence, with var 15 deg 50 min east, 1—south 38 deg 30 min east 3.18, crossing of road in cañon; commence ascending; 18.71 summit of ridge bears west 20.82 "Post 2 New Enterprise mine," marking the point of junction of the New Enterprise, Silver Wedge and Armagh mines, from which the "Armagh U. S. Mineral Monument" bears by calculation north 36 deg 52 min east 14.21 chs. From "Post 2, New Enterprise mine" a pine stump 8 in. in dia bears north 23 deg east 30 chs. A pine tree 4 ft high bears north 71 deg east 62 chs; a pine tree 6½ ft high bears south 50 deg 14 min west 57 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 55 min east, 2—south 11 deg east 1.82; descending, "Post 3 New Enterprise mine," on the west boundary line of the Armagh mine, from which "Post 5 Armagh mine" bears south 11 deg east 1.21 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 3—south 71 deg west 3.94 "Post 4 New enterprise mine," on southeast end of line of lode; commence descending; 8.75 "Post 5 New Enterprise mine" on south corner of claim; said post is 4½ ft high x5½ in in dia and is set in a mound of rocks and earth 2½ ft high, from which a pine stump 11 in. high x15 in. in dia bears north 38 deg 1 min east 33 chs; an old prospecting hole 5 ft deep x4 ft square bears south 82 deg east 51 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 4—north 38 deg 30 min west 1.15; descending into gulch, commence ascending 4.32; ridge bears southwest; 12.80 main ridge of mountain bears west, commence descending; 22.72 "Post 6 N E mine" on steep rocky side hill; post set in a hole in the rock, from which an old prospecting cut 11 ft long x4½ ft wide from its face bears north 50 deg east 29 chs. "Post 4 Ventura mine" bears north 71 deg east 11 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 5—north 71 deg east 11 "Post 4 Ventura mine;" 4.81 "Post 7 New Enterprise mine" and Post of Ventura mine; 6.92 road, Citizens' grade; 9.52 "Post 1 Ventura mine;" 9.63 "Post 1 New Enterprise mine," place of beginning, containing 20.55-100 acres.

SURVEY OF CONNECTING LINE.

Commenced at "Post 2 New Enterprise mine." Thence, var 15 deg 55 min east, south 11 deg east 3.03 "Post 5 Armagh mine;" north 79 deg east 10.60 point on W. B. line of the Ygnacio mine; north 11 deg west 12.59 to "U. S. Mineral Monument," which when computed gives for a direct closing line from "Post 2 New Enterprise mine" "Armagh U. S. Mineral Monument" north 36 deg 52 min east 14.21 chs.

DESCRIPTION OF THE ARMAGH U. S. MINERAL MONUMENT:

Said Mineral Monument as described in the field notes of survey of the Armagh mine is built on the apex of a red rocky point at the intersection of Ygnacio Ravine and Cerro Gordo Cañon and very precisely on the west boundary line of, and distant 17.51 chains from the southwest corner stake of the Ygnacio mine, as patented. At this point caused a hole to be drilled in the rock to a depth of 9 inches in which drove a piece of gas pipe 1 inch in diameter by 16 inches long. On top of gas pipe set a post 4x4 inches square by 4 feet long, around which built a monument of rocks 5 feet high by 5 feet in diameter at its base. Marked the top of the post "U. S. Mineral Monument. Erected January 3d, 1880, by Wm. Crapo, U. S. Deputy Mineral Surveyor, under authority of the U. S. Surveyor General for California." From said post in Mineral Monument, with a variation 15 deg 55 min E. the extreme end of the rocky bluff on which the Mineral Monument is situated bears N 25 deg W 17 links. The east edge of ridge at the top of a vertical face 7½ feet high bears N 60 deg E .07 links. The northeast corner of an old adobe vaso chimney, a Mexican furnace for smelting silver and lead ores, bears S 38 deg 16 min W 16 links. The middle of the Belshaw toll road at a point where it turns out of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N 81¾ deg W 1.06 chains. The middle of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N 62 links. The northwest corner of Rafael Diaz' house bears S 38 deg 23 min E 1.58 chains. An old well 30 feet deep on north side of cañon bears N 58 deg 20 min W 1.93 chains.

Magnetic variation 15 deg 50 min east, containing 20.55-100 acres.

The location of this mine is recorded in the Recorder's office of Cerro Gordo Mining District, in Book —— of ——. The adjoining claimants are the Ventura and Armagh mines.

Any and all persons claiming adversely any portion of said New Enterprise mine or surface ground are required to file their adverse claims with the Register of the United States Land Office at Bodie, in the State of California, during the sixty days period of publication hereof, or they will be barred by virtue of the provisions of the Statute.

INYO COUNTY.

What Mr. Wasson Saw There During His Recent Trip.

[From the Bodie Free Press.]

BISHOP CREEK, Oct. 12.

Editor Free Press: It is a long, round-about, tedious trip via Mohave and Cerro Gordo to this point, and it is not over yet by considerable. Inyo county is bigger than all out of doors, and, for a country so rich in resource, it is about the dullest in the State. The rapid rise and fall of Panamint followed by that of Darwin, and the shutting down of the Union Con. mine at Cerro Gordo, have done the work completely for the time. How long this state of affairs will last is more or less of a conundrum. I never was at Panamint, have but a limited knowledge of the extent and character of the Darwin mines, but I do know that if Cerro Gordo had but half a show, it alone would bring the country to the front again to some purpose. That Union Con. has produced more dollars worth of bullion than has Aurora or Bodie and not one half of the claim has ever had a pick struck in it so to speak. It is a long and very interesting story, and it is a very melancholy one as well, as you ride by the string of stations deserted, almost all, between Mohave and Owens Lake. They extended to Los Angeles, or tide water, and fed and watered scores of big teams, stage passengers, and so forth, for years. Now a two-horse vehicle, in addition to mail and express, carries on the average about one traveler per day. Cerro Gordo is not altogther deserted; there are even some signs of new life. It is not unlikely the Union mine will change hands at an early day, and that the Ygnacio will turn out bullion. San Francisco parties are opening the Buena Vista claim, giving promise of great things as a silver mine. There is a perceptible revival of work at Darwin, and even old Panamint, I am credibly informed, is looking up a little. Deep Springs is a new district comparatively, and in much favor, especially about Independence and Big Pine. If you have never been down this way, it were seemingly useless to attempt a description of the striking characteristics of the country. You will find the highest and lowest elevations and depressions in the State; land 15,000 feet above and several hundred feet below the sea (I believe those are the figures), and within sight of each other. The County Clerk and Assessor have given me figures to show that the people are by no means the worst off in health and the world's goods. The agricultural and grazing interests are as yet self supporting, though not what they would be were half the mining districts doing anything at all. The mines are the markets nevertheless, and must continue to be. No doubt a railroad would materially assist in opening up the country on an enduring basis. It is a question, however, as to the direction from which it will come. Should the Southern districts come to the front, the road would most likely come in from the Southern Pacific, although the first 100 miles would be through an almost worthless section of the State. Coming from the north, settlements would be met with at regular intervals. Bishop Creek is the extreme northern settlement of Inyo County, and it is a solid and growing one, too. Most everything is grown here successfully that is found in other parts of the State, if not in such great abundance. They do not depend on the rains or snows except as resources in the way of irrigation. In its very isolation, is the secret of this agricultural success. The people are compelled to live and work together, or leave the country entirely. The result is, they seem to be full as content with their lot as one will find anywhere in California. They are, in fact, about the most sociable and hospitable. About one hundred new-comers have come to Bishop Creek to stay, the past year. They amuse themselves just now a good deal with politics, and they are quite tolerant and good-natured about it all. The good people of Inyo county, regardless of creed or party, have made it very pleasant all along, and I regret having to leave them even for however short time. Their pluck and staying qualities are worthy of better returns.

Truly, J. W.

Absurdities.

The society lady never sheds tears. She knows enough to keep her powder dry.

There are few things which are cheaper than talk, unless a lawyer does the talking.

Marriage is a contract, but woman, unless deaf and dumb, is never the silent partner.

A bride first discovers what a brute she has married when she hears him putting up a stovepipe.

"Did you ever see a cat fish, Tom?" "A cat fish? No, not I. But I've seen something else, dear Sue. I've seen a horse fly."

A Cincinnati child tied crape to the door knob to see if the carriages would come to take them out riding as they did the family across the street.

A man is always waiting for some one to tell him how handsome he looks. A woman, on the other hand, will simply stand before a glass and see for herself.

The love of money being the root of all evil, may account for the fact that the best preachers invariably go where there is the most root. They desire to exterminate the evil.

Why is a cow's tail like the letter F? Because its the end of beef. Here's another quite as bad: Why is an egg like a colt? Because it is not fit for use until it is broke.

"What are you holding your hands over the stove in that way for? The weather isn't cold," said a father to his son; who answered: "I ain't trying to heat the weather, pa; I'm warming my hands."

"The most difficult man to please that I ever saw," said old Judge Dakin, "was my friend Colonel ———, who didn't wish to be lied about, and couldn't bear to have the truth told of him."

This is the season of the year when the small boy goeth to the barber, and winketh at him and sayeth, "cut off the ends of my hair." And behold the barber cutteth off the hair and leaveth the ends.

Her mother said the little creature lived on love, but one month after marriage, when the grocery bill came in, he saw that he had made the greatest mistake of his life by not ascertaining what that particular love was for.

Lawyer C. (entering the office of his friend, Dr. M., and speaking in a hoarse whisper): "Fred, I've, got such a cold this morning that I can't speak the truth." "Well, I'm glad that it is nothing that will interfere with your business," replied the doctor.

IN these days of rapid and cheap transportation, with railroads forming a network all over the country— to one who has time and means—the inducements for travel are very inviting. Thus it is that excursion parties are so numerous, and that there is always a rush to the cities when they offer any special attraction. The indications are that Washington City will be overcrowded on the occasion of the inauguration of the next President, whether the choice falls upon Garfield or Hancock. Hotel-keepers at the National Capital are receiving letters bespeaking rooms for guests, and a number of military companies are expected to be present from abroad to join in the inauguration ceremonies. These visitors will not all be disinterested spectators. As there are supposed to be "crumbs" falling from the Executive table when a change of officers takes place, the shrewd party leaders hold that it is just as well to be early on the ground to pick them up.—S. F. Call.

VERMONT has got tired of holding September elections on Presidential years, and a Legislative amendment has been offered to abolish the custom. Vermont and Rhode Island are the only two New England States which hold Fall elections previous to the November election. Indiana made the change, which would have stood had it not been for the decision of her Supreme Court, and, catching the spirit of progress, Ohio, before long, will be likely to follow suit. The expense of such elections is very great and entirely useless. Besides, they impose double labor upon the party leaders and speakers, and give rise to criminative and recriminative charges of fraud, which have a demoralizing effect upon weak minds. There is no opportunity for importing "repeaters" when the States all hold their elections on the same day.

MANY of the miners at the May Lundy mine, says the Homer Index, are suffering from bad colds and sore throat. The mine is over 11,000 feet above the sea level, and the air is very chill and piercing. The men must have very warm quarters, or suffer severely. Men only of strong constitutions and sound lungs can stand living at such an altitude, and the light, frosty atmosphere is severely felt, even by them. Warm, comfortable quarters are being built for the accommodation of the miners, which make it much pleasanter and healthier.

THE indictments against the Irish Land League will include 200 speeches, the drafted testimony of 350 witnesses, and various newspaper articles.

Mineral King.

There is nothing doing here except two or three men engaged in finishing timbering in one of the shafts of the Empire mine. The last of the men will probably be discharged this work. It is said that with all the work done under the new management, they have not attained a depth of more than fifty-five feet below the level reached by Mr. Flemming before the snow slide. It is shrewdly conjectured that it was deemed imprudent to go any deeper while Fowler still clung to the mine, as a bonanza is almost sure to be unearthed immediately below the water level.—There are now some thirty men and eleven women in the camp, but half of them will leave this week, notwithstanding that men who have been here all Summer will be disfranchised from voting elsewhere. Please look out for them, for McCann and your correspondent don't want to be compelled to stay here just to vote, while others are privileged to override the new constitution at pleasure.—You could not sell a sack of flour here now for half what the freight cost, except you sell it to Flemming, and he has already laid in enough to last him two years. But he expects lively times here yet before the ground is fairly covered with snow.—Visalia Delta.

HENRY M. STANLEY has the courage which ought to belong to African explorers. The man who has an intention of piercing the heart of the "Dark Continent," must make up his mind to encounter danger and suffering of every discription. No one better understands this than Henry M. Stanley. He selects his companions with a view to their daring and endurance, but can seldom find those who are endowed with the same courage as himself. A letter has been received at Copenhagen from a Danish sailor who accompanied Stanley in his expedition, which relates that the party had been greatly weakened by yellow fever, and that several of its members were for turning back, when their indomitable leader called them together, and, addressing them, said: "Not one of you shall I allow to turn back before the expidition is over. My motto is 'Forward;' and even if a thousand devils with revolvers or daggers opposed us, or illness, pestilence, and misery threatened us with destruction, not even then should I allow a single person to turn his nose homeward." It is hardly necessary to remark that there were no departures.

IN Maine they have about as close a "corner" on doctors as Chicago ever got on pork. One law forbids a man practicing medicine without having dissected. Another forbids his dissecting anybody but criminals. A third has abolished capital punishment. So that the number of doctors is limited te the number of persons who happen to die in prison. Longevity there, it is said, is becoming absolutely appalling—to the undertakers.—Exchange.

THE Las Vegas Gazette states that the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé railroad will cease its building operations from the eastern end when it reaches the point of juncton with the Southern Pacific, it being cheaper to build from the Pacific side.

I HAVE known vast quantities of nonsense talked about bad men not looking you in the face. Don't trust that conventional idea. Dishonesty will stare you out of countenance any day in the week if there is anything to be gained by it.—Dickens.

CHINESE weddings are not made in heaven, but on earth by relatives. If one of the family objects to the marriage after betrothal, the head of that family gets fifty strokes over the head with a bamboo.

THE farmers of Illinois marketed 1,984,294 hogs in 1879, and will sell about 2,193,000 during 1880. In 1878 there was a loss by disease of 500,000 hogs, valued at $1,500,000.

A DOCTOR in New York writes very positively to a paper in that city that children should not attend the public schools until they are at least nine years old. He says that some children of five or six may be able to bear the mental strain of public school work, but that the majority are not, and that he has in the course of his practice treated hundreds of children for maladies directly attributable to compulsory mental exertion and hygienic neglect during school hours. For, no matter how well the teacher may understand the subject of ventilation, he cannot, in the crowded schools of a city, prevent the children from breathing air which is more or less vitiated and dangerous to health. He attributes the increase of insanity wholly to the cramming system, and the rapidity with which our young people lose their outline and texture is probably due to the atmosphere breathed in the classroom, by which their constitutions are undermined.

MANUFACTURES in San Francisco have been slowly but steadily increasing up to the present time, but various causes have served to keep the interest back. In the future, however, manufacturing establishments must multiply more rapidly. In Chicago, according to a telegram, there are employed in manufacturing establishments 113,507 hands, representing a capital of over $80,000,000. The number of women employed is 15,718, and boys and girls under sixteen, 4,797. The value of the product made per annum is $249,000,000. The value of material used is $178,000,000. The wages paid are $37,000,000.

A FEW days ago the country was shocked by the dreadful death of a large number of men in the tunnel being run under the Hudson river to connect New York with New Jersey. The telegraph informs us that the Tunnel Company has offered $500 to each widow for the loss of her husband and $200 to the mother of each of the unmarried men who were drowned like rats in a hole. Human life is cheap. An ordinary good horse is worth more than this Tunnel Company appraises the life of a laborer at.

OUR neighbor up the road, the Bentonian, now comes out in a fine, brand-new dress from top to bottom, and, typographically, is as neat and tasty a paper as there is, and no doubt after it gets over its present absorbing political responsibilities, will again be as readable a paper as of yore, when it was of the best—as it is now considered by such as endorse its sentiments political.

LAST week a terrible snow storm, accompanied by high winds, raged over Iowa, Minnesota, Michigan and northern Illinois. Many vessels on the lakes have been lost with their crews, and very much suffering from the intense cold has been experienced. Railroads have been blockaded and telegraphs are down everywhere.

JOHN MCTAGUE, who recently escaped from the Nevada State Prison, and was recaptured at Bodie, was tried and found guilty on the 11th instant, at Aurora, for an assault to murder a Mexican named Matias Alcantar, and so goes to Carson again.

THE Oregon Legislature has voted in favor of a Constitutional amendment conferring the privilege of suffrage upon the women of the State. The news will make Susan B. Anthony the happiest woman in the world to day.

THE Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad company has issued a circular to shippers of California freights, announcing that that road and the South-Pacific will be completed and connected about January 1st, 1881.

HOW IT IS DISTRIBUTED.

The following is compiled ready to hand in an Eastern paper, and is worth attention as showing, among other things, how it is that so few of us can command more than $20 apiece, if so much:—The paper circulation of the United States, by which is meant greenbacks and the notes of the national banks, amounts in round numbers to about $960,000,000, and is thought to be greater than that of any other nation. It is more than that of Great Britain, nearly three times that of Germany, $170,000,000 more than that of France, nearly twice that of Austria, and about $50,000,000 more than Russia. With the exception of the Netherlands, we have more paper money per capita than any other country, our proportion being about $15, and that of the Netherlands, $20.45. The paper circulation in Great Britain is only $6.61 per capita; of Germany, $5.38; of France, $12.65; of Austria, $9; of Russia, $6.76. Of coin in circulation Switzerland has a larger amount in circulation than any other nation, it being $34.31 per capita, Belgium coming next with $32.60; then France with $31.41, Great Britain, $22.50, while the United States has less than $8. Russia has but $1 27 and Italy $1 38 specie per capita. Taking specie and paper money together, France stands first, having a circulation of $44.06 per capita, next Belgium with 43.55, then the Netherlands with 42.24. The entire circulation of the United States is about $23 per capita, and that of Great Britain, $29.11. Italy, with a population of nearly 27,000,000, has a circulation of only $6.42, which is smaller than than that of any other European nation. On this continent the United States of Columbia has but $2.24 per capita, Mexico, $4.50, and Canada, $10.92. Of course all these figures are given as but approximately correct.

GRAND LODGE OF MASONS.

The following officers were chosen by the Grand Lodge of California, at the Annual Communication held on the 15th ult., to serve for the ensuing year: Grand Master, Samuel C. Denson, of Sacramento; Deputy Grand Master, Clay W. Taylor, of Shasta; Senior Grand Warden, John Q. Adams, of Vallejo; Junior Grand Warden, Orrin W. Hollenbeck, of Auburn; Grand Treasurer, Moses Heller, of San Francisco; Grand Secretary (26th term), Alexander G. Abell, of San Francisco. The following were appointed by the Grand Master: Grand Chaplain, Rev. Thomas H. B. Anderson, of Sacramento; Grand Orator, Marcus D. Boruck, of San Francisco; Assistant Grand Secretary, Geo. T. Grimes, of San Francisco; Grand Lecturer, John W. Shaeffer, of San Francisco; Grand Marshal, Ralph K. Nichols, of Lower Lake; Grand Bible Bearer, Rev. Benjamin Akerly, of Oakland; Grand Standard Bearer, Wallace Kay, of Jackson; Grand Sword Bearer, Phillippe G. Sabatie, of San Francisco; Senior Grand Deacon, Columbus Waterhouse, of San Francisco; Junior Grand Deacon, Granville Q. Stewart, of Los Angeles; Senior Grand Steward, Chauncey C. Bush, of Redding; Junior Grand Steward, Samuel H. Gerrish, of Sacramento; Grand Pursuivant, Richard Allin, of Elk Grove; Grand Organist, Samuel D. Mayer, of San Francisco; Grand Tyler, James Oglesby, of San Francisco.

THE Nevada county Free Lance believes that blood hounds could be made quite useful in tracking criminals and that a good blood hound would be better than all the Sheriffs and deputies that could be turned into the field. It would be an excellent plan to keep a brace of these useful animals at every station along the route where Wells, Fargo & Co's treasure is carried by stages, and when a robbery is committed the dogs could be put on the trail inside of two or three hours. The dogs never lose the scent and will follow a human trail for days. It is said that if a man mounts a horse and travels for a hundred miles the blood hounds will track him unerringly. This would be a short, effective and inexpensive method of tracking robbers and save hundreds of dollars to the company.

AT a monster land meeting at Longbard on the 18th, Parnell said the solution of the land question would depend upon the efforts of the Irish people during the Winter. He insisted, above all, on the necessity of organization, for all the measures of the Government against the agitation would fail before a united people.

A KETTLE and some cannon balls were lately found in a mine on Socorro mountain, New Mexico. These relics of by-gone days were 30 feet below the surface. There were found thirty balls and only one kettle, and all of these articles are of pure copper.

A FIRST-CLASS furnace for smelting copper and other ores is in process of erection at Walker Lake, Nevada, and 5,000 tons of ore are waiting on the dump.

A SPLENDID RECORD.

Of all the gentlemen named for the Assembly we know of no man who occupies such a coign of advantage as Hon. Jos. Wasson, the joint nominee of Inyo and Mono counties. Mr. Wasson came to the Pacific Coast a mere stripling, with an education and some farming experience for his sole capital, and literally fought his way into the front rank of journalists and miners. He was a pioneer among the mining camps of California, Nevada, Arizona, Idaho and Dakota—mining, writing, fighting Indians and following different lines of general business. He was at Bodie during the original excitement in the district, as far back as 1865, and has contributed more to the revival of Mono county mining interests than any other man or set of men whom we can recall to mind. On the occasion of the Bodie mine discovery, and while the value of the property was a matter of doubt with many people, he visited the district and gave to the public the first reliable and comprehensive account of its prospects. After informing people as to the mineral wealth of Bodie proper, Mr. Wasson took his grip-sack and roamed all over Mono and Inyo counties for the purpose of securing further information on their wonderful mineral resources, and attracting the attention of capitalists. His letters to the Eastern press, to the Daily Stock Report and to various periodicals, induced an immense outlay of capital in the sections mentioned, and were warmly appreciated. His experience and intelligence enabled him to perform a service for which he ought to be richly compensated. At the last legislative election Mono nominated him for the Assembly, Inyo fell in line and he was elected by a handsome majority. In the Legislature he rendered substantial service, not alone to his constituents, but to the whole State. He was faithful among the faithless. He stood up manfully for the mining interest first, last and all the time and displayed a tact which was most effective in dealing with those who were governed by a hide-bound prejudice against the development of mines. The only successful measure in the interest of mining was the Wasson State Mining Bureau Bill. This bill was fought bitterly by all who were opposed to fostering measures, and had only a few devoted friends. Governor Perkins not only complimented Mr. Wasson upon the success of the bill, and conceded its great value but signed it with all possible dispatch. The provisions of the bill were immediately carried out, and to-day California has a Mining Bureau which is a source of public pride and benefit. The correspondence of the Bureau amounts to twenty letters per day on an average and the visitors have already reached into the thousands. That the value of the institution is appreciated abroad is evidenced by the fact that several Eastern States have decided to follow California's example. After seeing the Bureau in good running order Mr. Wasson returned to Bodie, which has since been his headquarters. This year it was Inyo's turn to name the Republican for joint Assemblyman and that county named Mr. Wasson. This nomination, we are pleased to add, was ratified by Mono. We have no fears about Mr. Wasson's re-election. The people of Inyo and Mono, irrespective of party, realize that Mr. Wasson, by reason of his personal popularity with the hold-over Senators and his wide acquaintance with the Republican legislative nominees, to say nothing of his abiltiy and integrity, will be able to do more for his constituency than any other man whom they could name. We trust that his majority will be even larger than it was before.—Daily Stock Report, October 21st, 1880.

THE Bodie Free Press says: It is designed that the road now under construction between Bodie and the end of the C. & C. railway line, at the south end of Walker Lake, shall be first-class in all respects. Contractor Reed is now pushing it through the Del Monte Cañon with all possible speed. It will be thirty-eight miles in length, and the grade is expected to be so even that stages will be enabled to make ten miles an hour over it. No heavy teams will be allowed to pass over it for two or three months, until it shall have been well packed down. In the meantime it will be kept sprinkled from one end to the other, which will assist it in hardening. It is anticipated that the road will be completed by the 1st of January.

PRESIDENT HAYES and his party have returned East, going by way of the Southern Pacific and Atchinson, Topeka & Santa Fé railroads. The present terminus of the Southern Pacific is 185 miles beyond Tucson, and within 25 miles of the Topekaroad. The party was conveyed over this in ambulances. It was reported that a lot of Texas cowboys designed to mob the President while on the Topeka road and some alarm was felt in consequence, but if any such murderous design was entertained nothing came of it.

THE custom of married men shooting their wives and then committing suicide is becoming alarmingly prevalent. The practice is not to be commended, but nevertheless it's cheaper than taking out an insurance policy for the benefit of the widow.

WHEN a St. Louis girl enters a boot-store with a companion, she invariably calls for number threes; but the clerk, who understands his business, brings forth a pair of number elevens, and all is serene.

THE Chicago Inter-Ocean says girls over eighteen cannot vote this Fall, but every one of them can make some fellow vote just as she wants him to. Men who will go around sneering at "women who can't vote," don't know half what they are talking about.

THE other day the Bentonian published a brief article about the wonderful workings of the Indian Queen mine, which we notice is being extensively copied by our exchanges, and by some papers which are—not our exchanges. Supt. Will Adams informs us that we were a little off in our figures, which he is generous enough to ascribe as much to his own fault as to the fault of the Bentonian reporter. Instead of the crosscutting exposing four thousand tons of ore to the wondering gaze, as stated, it should have read twenty-six hundred tons; and instead of our compelling the company to ship $18,000 worth of bullion per month for a period of only six months, the showing will force them to ship that amount each month for the next year to come.—Bentonian, Oct. 27.

IT is a noticeable circumstance that there are less vacant houses in San Francisco than usual, and that business generally is improving. Our wheat and wine both command fair prices, and the surplus we can spare for other than the home markets is steadily increasing. The business prospects in this city have not been more promising than at present for some time past. —S. F. Call.

THE Bechtel company, of Bodie, connected with the Bodie tunnel on the 14th instant, and half the size of the tunnel came under their shaft, so they fell directly into it. Everything is harmonious with both companies. It is of great value to both sides, giving good ventilation and making a very cheap way of putting ore to the mills in that cañon, thereby facilitating further workings to a very low figure.

IT is announced that a contract for the extension of the Denver and Rio Grande Railway to the Gunnison country has been let, and will be finished within seven months. This extension will materially aid in the development of the Gunnison country.

INYO INDEPENDENT.

INDEPENDENCE, CAL.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 30.....1880

THE GREAT REGISTER.—The whole number of names on the Inyo Great Register foots up to 1456; of these, full one-third represent persons who no longer reside in this county. The County Clerk canceled every name he could without assuming too much responsibility. It was within his personal knowledge that many of these registered voters had left the county, but it was not within his knowledge, except when transfers were applied for, that they would not be back to claim a residence. All this trouble, encumbrance, and about $200 extra expense could have been saved had a new Register been ordered, as suggested repeatedly by this paper, and in ample time for the six month's notice required by law. However, it was the intention of the Board of Supervisors to have made the order at the regular session in May last, but when the time came to be figured up after the session begun, it was found that a full six months did not intervene between that and the next election day in which to publish the required notice. Through a somewhat imperfect examination, we find that of the whole number of registered names, 983 are natives of the United States and the remaining 473 hail from various foreign countries. Of the first mentioned, 268 were from the Southern States and 715 from the Northern. It would be interesting, perhaps, to classify our population still further—by letter of surnames, States and countries of nativity as compartively represented, occupations, and so on, but for the present at least each reader of the book will have to see how these things are himself if he desires to know.

A CURIOSITY.—In the excavation of the cellar of the Centennial Brewery at Lone Pine, in July, 1876, an Indian at work dug out from about four feet below the surface a regular curiosity, which excited much wonderment at the time. It was a complicated, saucer-like, oval-shaped arrangement about three inches across the longest way—a hollow, shell-like trick with curiously fashioned ornaments on the side difficult to describe. Nearly everyone pronounced it a natural shell, in view of its being found in the gravelly sediment of the valley. Several months ago Joe Wasson took it with him to San Francisco, and submitted it to Professor Hanks, for examination by the California Academy of Sciences. That scientist, through his knowledge of the substance, solved one part of the conundrum forthwith. It was a Chinese lamp, carved out of nephrite, a species of white soapstone. The hollow point for holding the wick had been broken off, or possibly the identity of the thing might have been discovered without so much scientific knowledge. It is exactly the same as hand lamps are represented in ancient and biblical pictures. By permission of Mr. Von Briesen, of Lone Pine, it remains in the museum of the State Mining Bureau at San Francisco. But, Chinese lamp or what not, science doesn't explain when or how it became imbedded four feet underground in this valley. Such is the well-authenticated fact, however.

BAD NEWS FROM MAMMOTH.—We learn that about everybody is leaving Mammoth City. More than half the business houses are already closed up, and great depression prevails. The principal hope of the camp centered on the Headlight and Monte Christo tunnel, but it is now long past the point where it should have tapped the ledge. We regret this bad outlook for that Mono county camp quite as much as if it was within our county lines; it is bad for Inyo interests everyway. A large portion of the late residents of Mammoth, however, are coming in this direction to seek their fortunes, and some good may eventually come to us in that way. The material of the defunct Mammoth Times newspaper is being removed to Bishop Creek, where an office is being prepared, and that locality is soon to have a newspaper of its own—a luxury that must cost not less than $3,000 a year to afford it just a medium quality of bread and butter. We have not yet learned who the publishers are to be, or any other particulars in that direction.

THE GRAND LODGE, F. & A. M.—The following officers of Inyo Lodge, No. 221, F. & A. M., attended the late session of the Grand Lodge at San Francisco, namely: A. R. Conklin, W. M., J. W. Smith, S. W., and H. M. Isaacs, Secretary. A new District, comprising Inyo and Mono counties, was created, or is to be from and after the 1st of January next, and for which Judge Conklin was appointed District Deputy; he was also placed on the Committee on Grievances, so, through him, Inyo secures a fair share of the honors and the Fraternity the services of one of its most efficient members.

RETURNED.—Judge Conklin and wife got back a few days ago from their trip below. They express themselves delighted beyond measure with the beauties of the country around Santa Clara, San José, Los Angeles, and all that region. They had the President, his wife and Gen. Sherman for traveling companions and fellow-sojourners while at Los Angeles during the Fair.

MILL FOR GOLD MOUNTAIN.—The old Combination mill at Belmont, Nevada, is being torn down and transported to Gold Mountain, where it is to be set up on the famous State Line mine. The water to supply the mill and mine is to be piped across the valley, a distance of twelve miles.

PREACHING.—Rev. F. M. Willis will preach in this place to-morrow evening at the usual hour. Tuesday being election day, there will be no services that evening at the Post school house.

CLUB MEETING.—The Inyo Hancock and English Club will meet at the Court House to-night.

DIED.—In San Francisco, on the 22d instant, Gideon T. Whiteman departed this life. He was a native of Delaware, and had reached the age of 60 years. "Uncle Gid," as he was generally addressed, was a tireless, typical prospector—one of the old class now passing away—and was probably the most noted one on the Coast. He was the original of the celebrated "cement hunters" so characteristically described in Mark Twain's "Roughing It." In '62 the deceased was superintendent of the Ida mill and mine across the river, and took an active part all through the Indian war, with Greenly, Moore, Passmore, Broder, Hubbard and the rest. Since those days he has drifted hither and yon, to every new camp and excitement for years, always hopeful and enthusiastic to the last degree over his "finds." For two or three years past he has been pretty much all over this portion of Inyo again, until some four months ago he was stricken down with paralysis. He died as he had mostly lived, in poverty; yet the great Whiteman lode of Deep Spring will keep his name and memory green before the world when this generation is gone. He has gone to prospect a country with a moral outfit entitling him to a location in that city paved with gold.

RESTING SPRINGS.—The San Bernardino approach to Tecopa Postoffice, or Resting Springs, near the extreme southeastern corner of this vast county, must be attended with about the same dangers as going in from here via. and across Death Valley. A letter just received from there states that for the second time the pony-rider had become crazed on the desert and lost the mail altogether. The best time which can be made on a round trip from here to that point and back is twenty-two days, the route skirting and crossing Death Valley—a fact giving some idea of its terrible isolation and remoteness. Across the continent and back, using the two railroads, would be comparative fun. Our county authorities have made every effort to afford the Resting Springs people an opportunity of voting next Tuesday, but if everything connects it is almost impossible to get the returns in in time for counting. The Los Angeles Mining and Smelting Co. are working about forty men, under the superintendence of E. L. Smith, but the mill is at present temporarily closed down.

THE STEAMER.—A letter from Keeler City under date of 26th instant brings information of the important fact of the arrival of a steamship at that port on that day, direct from Cottonwood, with a cargo principally of wood and charcoal. First Officer, George L. Fiehl; Chief Engineer, Wm. Hedge; Second Engineer, Mr. Webster. The report adds: "Crew in fine spirits and good condition. She will coal, take in supper and breakfast and sail hence on Wednesday, the 27th." The steamer referred to is the Mollie Stevens, which was purchased and has been put through extensive repairs by the Owens Lake M. & M. Co.

NEW PAPERS.—It is stated upon pretty good authority that a new paper is about to be established at Bishop Creek, and we have also heard rumors of one being contemplated at Lone Pine. The money would be vastly better spent in aid of a telegraph. However, we can truthfully say to all parties in interest that there is no necessity for importing a pound of printing material into this county; THE INDEPENDENT will contract with responsible parties to do any amount of printing in that line, for papers of any size up to double that of this journal.

AT HAND.—That momentous and all important quadrennial worriment and semi-insurrection, the Presidential election, takes place before we print another paper. As nobody has opened a "sack" in this section to warp anybody's judgment, we earnestly abjure every voter to vote for—just to suit himself. Meantime, we have made all practicable preparations to obtain the returns, for this county at least, at the earliest possible moment.

IT GOES.—Matrimony goes on in Inyo at other points than Gospel Swamp. For instance, H. R. Gregory, Justice of the Peace at Resting Springs, writes that he has a 30-mile trip on hand toward the State line, where he will hunt out a tree in this county, under which he will marry Mr. Jacob Lewis, of Resting Springs, to Miss Ellen Seers, of Lincoln Co., Nev.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.—The second meeting of the Inyo County Board of Education takes place on the 17th of next month (November). The attention of all desiring teacher's certificates is called to the official notice of the meeting, to be found under "New Advertisements."

FROM THE MOUNTAINS.—Mr. John Broder has brought his herd of cattle down from the Monache Valley and is on the way with them to Belleville, in which neighborhood he will winter such as are not in the meantime sold for beef.

STARTED UP.—The Defiance furnace, at Darwin, fired up on the 26th instant, under the management of Messrs. Gorman & Eddy. The run will be a big one, as they have a large quantity of ore and smelting material on hand.

TO MEET.—The regular term of the Board of Supervisors begins on Monday next. Owing to the near proximity of the Election, the meeting will probably be adjourned; possibly to the Monday following.

IN CALAVERAS.—Capt. Eudey, late of the Brown Monster Mine, has removed with his family to Calaveras county, where, we understand, he is in charge of a very promising mining property.

THE approximate earnings of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad during the third week of September amounted to $112,000, against $32,000 last year.

AN ingenious quack is trying to prove that Absolom must have used some of his "restorative," else he could not have had such long hair.

How would it do to let every thing stand and have no election? The country never was so prosperous, say our Republican friends, yet it is really without government. The President is away in Oregon drinking tea: General Sherman is in attendance, and the army is without a head. Secretary Sherman is in the West, and the Treasury runs itself. Evarts is reviewing Boys in Blue parades, and the world is at peace. We have no Senate, no House, no Supreme Court. The only Federal officer who seems to be alive is Supervisor Davenport, and we might under pressure spare him. Yet how prosperous we are, all the same. If we can get along so well without a Government, why not go a step further and have no election? It would save money and trouble and temper and time.—N. Herald.

ERRORS.—It is a popular error to think that the more a man eats the fatter and stronger he will become. To believe that the more hours children study the faster they learn. To conclude that if exercise is good, the more violent it is the more good is done. To imagine whatever remedy causes one to feel immediately better is good for the system, without regard to the ulterior effects.

To a man traveling from Mason Valley to Candelaria, says the Candelaria (Nev.) True Fissure, it seems that every man along the road owns a quartz mine or has good prospects for one. Even out in the middle of the deserts one will occasionally see location notices tacked to rude posts, announcing the existence of mining claims.

THE Colton Semi-Tropic says the news from the Mojave mining district is most favorable. New and rich discoveries have created intense excitement, and, as a mill is to be put up as speedily as possible, lively times and a big camp are in the near future.

"MY dear," said a smiling spouse to her other half a morning or two since, "I'm going a-shopping; I want a little change." "Pooh!" responded the ungallant man, "that would be no change at all; you go shopping every day."

"No, I can't stay," replied a gentleman who was invited to stay all night at the house of a friend; "before morning my wife would be out with a lantern, like Diogenes, hunting for an honest man."

MORE than six thousand patents will expire this year, many of them being very important. The owners will ask an extension, but the policy of Congress of late has been unfavorable to renewal.

"I don't mean to reflect on your honesty," said one man of another, after speaking harshly of his character. "No I should think not; you are not polished enough to reflect on anything," was the reply.

TONGUE cannot tell the words or express the astonishment of the crippled soldier in Connecticut who awoke to find that his wife was using his wooden leg to pound the beefsteak for breakfast.

THE Nihilists of Russia have determined upon secret political agitation hereafter, instead of assassination, to accomplish their purpose. That is a long stride toward civilization.

THAT father understood human nature who said: "If you want your boy to stay home don't bear too hard on the grindstone when he turns the crank."

THE latest case of singularity of conduct reported is that of a man in Lowell, who "dyed" for the benefit of his "hairs."

"How doth the little busy bee?" Very indifferently we should imagine, seeing how often it is to be found in the cells.

THE Fulton, San Francisco, Iron Works are employing from 272 to 300 men, and are working to full capacity.

Piles—Their Cause and Cure.

Piles are simply the blood vessels of the rectum enlarged. They are generally caused by constipation. The arteries carry the blood down to the rectum and divide into smaller vessels, which inosculate with the smaller veins of the rectum. These when distended cause the piles. The heart forces the blood along the arteries, and the currant of blood looses its force as it returns in the veins, so that a pressure that will not interfere with the currant in the artery will in the veins. The blood is forced into the arteries of the rectum and thence into the veins; is prevented by the pressure of constipation from returning, and the distended vein becomes a pile. These, being irritated by hard movements, become ulcerated and we have a bleeding pile, when the wall of the vein is ulcerated through.

Now for the cure. Remove the cause. Keep the bowels free with good, soft, poultice-like movements. Old Prof. C. R. Gilman [who in his day had no peer in his specialty of diseases of females in New York] used to say that the worst case of piles you could find would get entirely well in six months and stay well, if you could only get the patient to have soft movements. The compound liquorice powder, which may be obtained of any druggist, is a gentle laxative and splendid for this purpose; also, an ointment of stramonium and tannin is recommended. The stramonium soothes and quiets the irritation and the tannin acts as an astringent to contract down the open vessel. Smear a mass as large as a small marble all around inside the bowel after each movement. Again, a still greater advantage will be gained by a soft sponge to be used instead of paper after each movement.—Medical Journal.

A MAN has been found in Pennsylnia who voted for Thomas Jefferson in 1796, at the third Presidential election, which was the first contested election. He is 108 years old, and must have been born in 1772 and been a voter in 1793. He is four years older than the Nation.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28, 1880.

Messrs. Harris & Rhine, Independence, Cal.: DEAR SIRS—The undersigned, President of the German Benevolent Society, begs leave to call your attention to this truly benevolent institution, founded in the early days of California, and being now in the 27th year of its existence. The Society was formed to carry out three objects viz.: to assist poor and worthy or deserving people by support, to find employment for those out of work, and to cure those who are stricken down with sickness. For the latter purpose the Society owns a magnificent Hospital, surrounded by extensive grounds, where all patients are under the charge of excellent physicians and a consulting board of the most eminent medical talent of this city. The Society has expended for hospital and grounds the sum of $188,895.

The object of this communication is to propose to you to act as agent for this Society, either personally or through one of your employees, suited for such position, for the purpose of enlisting new members.

The monthly fee is only one dollar and the initiation fee on becoming a member two dollars. Only healthy persons can become members, and only Germans or those who speak that language, also their wives and children. Any member who meets with sickness is treated in the hospital without any expense to him until he has been restored to health. All persons who are not members, or can not become such, not speaking the German language, are admitted for medical treatment in the hospital at as low terms as it is possible to make them.

In this city we have about 3,000 members, but throughout the interior only about 300. It is our aim to increase the number of members throughout the State to make the hospital as much as possible self-sustaining, to enable us to extend the charitable department in this benevolent institution. For the trifling sum of one dollar per month members have the best aid and care in the German Hospital.

Frequently sick people in the country are crippled for life by false treatment from incompetent doctors, or even brought to a premature death. Only too late do they find out that if they had become members they would have been restored to health, and their earnings of years would not have gone into the pockets of inexperienced doctors, as the hospital employs only the best physicians. If there are no earnings, the employers and the friends of the sick are generally called upon to pay for his support. All this can be avoided, if the employers would vigorously enforce the rule, now introduced in most of San Francisco's establishments, that every man employed should belong to a relief society in order that in case of sickness he might be well cared for and not be reduced to the rather humiliating necessity of asking aid from the purses of his employer and his friends.

Persons of all nations of the age of 50 years or over are admitted as pensioners for life by paying a certain sum to be agreed upon to the society. They receive a home at the hospital, first-class board, washing and attendance in in case of sickness, free of any expense.

To enable Germans and others who do not know of the existence of this institution, neither of the hospital nor its great advantages, to become members, I have addressed you the above, and hope that you will cheerfully accept the agency and do all in your power to further the interests of this society by enlisting new members, and recommending our hospital to those who may be compelled to seek medical aid.

Your Obedient Servant,
JULS. BANDMANN,
President G. G. B. S.

THE ENGINEERING and MINING JOURNAL.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

DEVOTED TO Mining, Metallurgy, Engineering and Science.

RICHARD P. ROTHWELL, C.E., M.E., ROSSITER W. RAYMOND, Ph.D., } Editors. WILLIAM H. WAHL, Ph.D., Department of Progress in Science and the Arts.

IT IS AN ACCEPTED AUTHORITY ON ALL questions relating to the great mining industries of the country. It is the oldest publication of its class in America, thoroughly independent; being of the trade and not in it, occupies a just and impartial position, which enables it to advise and teach without fear or favor. It devotes much space to questions bearing upon economical management of mines, and from time to time illustrates the more important improvements in mining machinery and engineering methods. Special attention is given to reliable mining news from all parts of the country, which is gathered by an efficient corps of correspondents in every section, and from an extended exchange list. The metal and ore markets, and gold, silver and miscellaneous stocks are reported and commented upon weekly by experienced financiers, who are unbiased by private interests, and upon these matters it is accepted as a reliable guide and unfailing instructor. Gives statistics of production of coal and iron, and of our great gold, silver and other mines. Its scientific notes are an epitome of the latest researches, its trade reports full, and its editorials sagacious and comprehensive. It enjoys the widest circulation and greatest influence of any journal of its class in the world; its patrons and readers comprising the most select and intelligent men in every quarter.

VENTURA MINE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE.
Bodie, California, September 8, 1880.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT Thomas Henning and John T. Belshaw, whose postoffice address is Cerro Gordo, Inyo County, California, have this day filed their application for a patent for fifteen hundred linear feet of the VENTURA mine or vein, bearing silver, lead, etc., with surface ground six hundred feet in width, situated in Cerro Gordo Mining District, County of Inyo and State of California, and designated by the field notes and official plat on file in this office as Lot No. 52, in Township Sixteen South, Range Thirty-eight East, of Mount Diablo Meridian. Said Lot No. 52 being described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a post on the south end of lode near the middle of Cerro Gordo cañon. Said post is 4 ft high x 4 in. square, set in a mound of earth and rock 3 ft high x 4½ ft dia. at base; marked the post on its N. side "P. A. V. M.," from which the middle of the cañon bears north 0.30 chs. The entrance to the New Enterprise tunnel bears south 18 deg east 1.21 chains. A quartz reef 4 ft high x 6 feet long bears south 18½ deg west 0.86 chs. Thence, var. 15 deg 40 min E., 1—north 4 deg west 2.73 on the supposed line of the lode, rock in place not appearing on the surface to gulch bears southwest. Commence ascending at an angle of 26 deg. 3.94 center of road locally known as the Citizens' Grade runs east and west 8.90 open cut on the vein, cut 0.30 chs long, 9.30 upper crossing of Citizens' Grade runs southwest and northeast from which a shaft sunk in ferrugenous quartz croppings to a depth of 25 feet bears south 80 deg east 0.90 chs. 12.12 shaft 6 ft deep on the lode containing lead ores, 18.18 summit of slope 21.21 brow of hill commence descending to north 22.72 post in mound of rock and earth 4 ft dia. at base by 3 ft high marked the post "P. B. V. M." from which a slate ridge extending northwest down the mountain and being elevated from 1 to 2 feet above the surrounding rock bears north 60 deg east 0.12 chs. A ferrugenous quartz vein 0.16 chs high by 0.06 chs thick and 55 feet lower than P. B. V. M. having a north and south strike bears north 27½ deg west 1.37 chs to its topmost pinnacle. A pine bush 5 in. in dia. bears north 88 deg west 0.53 chains.

NEW ENTERPRISE MINE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Bodie, California, September 8, 1880.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT Thomas Henning, whose postoffice address is Cerro Gordo, Inyo County, California, has this day filed his application for a patent for fifteen hundred linear feet of the NEW ENTERPRISE Mine or vein bearing silver, gold, etc., with surface ground six hundred (600) feet in width, situated in Cerro Gordo Mining District, County of Inyo and State of California, and designated by the field notes and official plat on file in this office as Lot No. 39, in Township 16 South, Range 38 East, Mount Diablo Meridian. Said Lot No. 39 being described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a post set in mound of earth on northwest end of line of lode; marked the post "Post 7, New Enterprise mine;" said post is marked on its north side "Post A Ventura Mine," being situated on south end of lode of said Ventura mine. From which var 15 deg 50 min E. the middle of Cerro Gordo cañon bears north 30 chs; the entrance to the New Enterprise tunnel, course of tunnel south 35 deg east, 135 ft long, bears south 18 deg east, 1.21 chs; a quartz reef 4 ft high bears south 18½ deg west 86 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, south 38 deg 30 min east 1.21; quartz vein alongside New Enterprise tunnel—commencing ascending 14.74 summit of ridge bears west 20.30; gulch bears southwest 22.72; post 4 ft high x4 in. dia set in mound of earth marking southeast end of line of lode; marked the post "Post 4, New Enterprise mine," from which a pine stump 8 in. in dia by 10 in. high bears north 43¼ deg east 33 chs; a pine tree 6 in. dia by 4 ft high bears north 27 deg east 27 chs.

SURVEY OF EXTERIOR BOUNDARIES.

Commenced at post marked "Post 1, New Enterprise mine," standing in a gulch on north cor. of claim, from which a post marking the southeast cor of the Ventura mine bears south 71 deg west 11 chs. Thence, with var 15 deg 50 min east, 1—south 38 deg 30 min east 3.18, crossing of road in cañon; commence ascending; 18.71 summit of ridge bears west 20.82 "Post 2 New Enterprise mine," marking the point of junction of the New Enterprise, Silver Wedge and Armagh mines, from which the "Armagh U. S. Mineral Monument" bears by calculation north 36 deg 52 min east 14.21 chs. From "Post 2, New Enterprise mine" a pine stump 8 in. in dia bears north 23 deg east 30 chs. A pine tree 4 ft high bears north 71 deg east 62 chs; a pine tree 6½ ft high bears south 50 deg 14 min west 57 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 55 min east, 2—south 11 deg east 1.82; descending, "Post 3 New Enterprise mine," on the west boundary line of the Armagh mine, from which "Post 5 Armagh mine" bears south 11 deg east 1.21 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 3—south 71 deg west 3.94 "Post 4 New Enterprise mine," on southeast end of line of lode; commence descending; 8.75 "Post 5 New Enterprise mine" on south corner of claim; said post is 4½ ft high x5½ in in dia and is set in a mound of rocks and earth 2½ ft high, from which a pine stump 11 in. high x15 in. in dia bears north 38 deg 1 min east 33 chs; an old prospecting hole 5 ft deep x4 ft square bears south 82 deg east 51 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 4—north 38 deg 30 min west 1.15; descending into gulch, commence ascending 4.32; ridge bears southwest; 12.80 main ridge of mountain bears west, commence descending; 22.72 "Post 6 N E mine" on steep rocky side hill; post set in a hole in the rock, from which an old prospecting cut 11 ft long x4½ ft wide from its face bears north 50 deg east 29 chs. "Post 4 Ventura mine" bears north 71 deg east 11 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 5—north 71 deg east 11 "Post 4 Ventura mine;" 4.81 "Post 7 New Enterprise mine" and Post of Ventura mine; 6.92 road, Citizens' grade; 9.52 "Post 1 Ventura mine;" 9.63 "Post 1 New Enterprise mine," place of beginning, containing 20.55-100 acres.

SURVEY OF CONNECTING LINE.

Commenced at "Post 2 New Enterprise mine." Thence, var 15 deg 55 min east, south 11 deg east 3.03 "Post 5 Armagh mine;" north 79 deg east 10.60 point on W. B. line of the Ygnacio mine; north 11 deg west 12.59 to "U. S. Mineral Monument," which when computed gives for a direct closing line from "Post 2 New Enterprise mine" "Armagh U. S. Mineral Monument" north 36 deg 52 min east 14.21 chs.

DESCRIPTION OF THE ARMAGH U. S. MINERAL MONUMENT:

Said Mineral Monument as described in the field notes of survey of the Armagh mine is built on the apex of a red rocky point at the intersection of Ygnacio Ravine and Cerro Gordo Cañon and very precisely on the west boundary line of, and distant 17.51 chains from the southwest corner stake of the Ygnacio mine, as patented. At this point caused a hole to be drilled in the rock to a depth of 9 inches in which drove a piece of gas pipe 1 inch in diameter by 16 inches long. On top of gas pipe set a post 4x4 inches square by 4 feet long, around which built a monument of rocks 5 feet high by 5 feet in diameter at its base. Marked the top of the post "U. S. Mineral Monument. Erected January 3d, 1880, by Wm. Crapo, U. S. Deputy Mineral Surveyor, under authority of the U. S. Surveyor General for California." From said post in Mineral Monument, with a variation 15 deg 55 min E. the extreme end of the rocky bluff on which the Mineral Monument is situated bears N 25 deg W 17 links. The east edge of ridge at the top of a vertical face 7½ feet high bears N 60 deg E .07 links. The northeast corner of an old adobe vaso chimney, a Mexican furnace for smelting silver and lead ores, bears S 58 deg 16 min W 16 links. The middle of the Belshaw toll road at a point where it turns out of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N 81¾ deg W 1.06 chains. The middle of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N 62 links. The northwest corner of Rafael Diaz' house bears S 38 deg 23 min E 1.58 chains. An old well 30 feet deep on north side of cañon bears N 58 deg 20 min W 1.93 chains.

Magnetic variation 15 deg 50 min east, containing 20.55-100 acres.

The location of this mine is recorded in the Recorder's office of Cerro Gordo Mining District, in Book —— of ——. The adjoining claimants are the Ventura and Armagh mines.

Any and all persons claiming adversely any portion of said New Enterprise mine or surface ground are required to file their adverse claims with the Register of the United States Land Office at Bodie, in the State of California, during the sixty days period of publication hereof, or they will be barred by virtue of the provisions of the Statute.

The Nicaragua Ship Canal.

The irrepressible projectors of this scheme have just published in pamphlet form the report of the Executive Committee to the members of Provisional Interoceanic Canal Society on the present condition and prospects of the Nicaragua canal. Among other statements the report sets forth the following: As soon as the concession was made by the Nicaragua Congress this committee sent one of its members to London and Paris to confer with financial firms. Satisfactory interviews were had with many leading financiers of the world. It is generally conceded that subscriptions in this country of, say $15,000,000, to the Nicaragua canal stock, and guarantees of protection by the United States, which, indeed, is fully provided for in the stipulation treaty with Nicaragua, would secure in Europe any amount necessary for the completion of the canal. Its comparatively small cost will enable the company to earn paying dividends upon rates of toll that would be ruinous to the Panama enterprise, without crediting any amount for passenger business, and without an allowance for the growth of business and population of the Pacific States in the interval of canal construction. We have found a traffic actually awaiting its opening, amounting to 3,706,426 tons, about most of which there is very little room for dispute or doubt, but the committee prefers to adopt 3,000,000 tons as the basis of estimates, while still omitting all passenger traffic, and not making reference to the valuable land grants. A charge of $2 per ton for canal tolls, and of 50 cents for all other charges would give a business of $6,000,000 received; $75,000 for expenses of a business of $6,000,000 net gain, or 8 per cent. on $75,000,000. A business of $2,000,000 would, after deducting for expenses, net nearly 5 per cent. on the capital invested.

THE COST OF A BOY.—It would be a good thing for all boys, and girls, too, to get some idea—in real figures—of what their parents do for them. The Rev. P. B. Fisk gives a lecture on the cost of a boy. He computes that at 15 a good boy receiving the advantages of city life will cost, counting compound interest on the amount invested not less than $5,000.

At 21 he will not cost any more unless he goes to college, when he will cost nearly twice as much. A bad boy costs about $10,000 at 21, providing he does not go to college. If he does go, he costs as much more.

Mr. Fisk thinks that girls are nearly as expensive as boys. The computation, however, comprises only the pecuniary cost of raising a boy. The value of the mother's tears and the father's gray hairs are beyond the reach of figures to express. The money side is by far the lesser of the two.

SUICIDE is inspired by various and very conflicting motives. Early in the war of the rebellion a boy hanged himself in Northern Ohio because his father would not let him enlist. A good many more persons put an end to their lives through the mere apprehension of being drafted and killed in battle. An exchange says that the wife of Judge Miller, of Lincolnville, Maine, hanged herself to the bed post, leaving a note to the effect that she was drawing near seventy years of age, and feared she would come to trouble if she reached it.

A LAWYER and doctor were disputing the other day about a bill a fellow owed each of them. He was only able to pay one of them and left it to them to settle which ought to have it. "Why, I ought to have the money, of course," said the lawyer. "I saved the fellow from going to the penitentiary." "Well," said the doctor, "I have saved him from going to h—ll!" It is needless to add who got the money.

"What is That?"

What is that?

Look closer, and you will see that it is a gaunt, grim wolf, creeping out of of the little grove of cottonwoods toward a buffalo calf gamboling around its mother.

Raise your eyes a little more and you will see that the prairie beyond is alive with buffalo. Count them. You might as well try to count the leaves of a giant maple! They are moving foot by foot as they crop the juicy grass, and living waves rise and fall as the herd slowly sweeps on. Afar out to right and left—mere specks on the plain—are the flankers, brave old buffaloes, which ca ch a bite of grass and then sniff the air and scan the horizon for signs of danger. They are the sentinels of the herd, and right well can they be trusted.

The wolf creeps nearer!

All the afternoon the great herd has fed in peace, and as it now slowly moves toward the distant river it is all unconscious that danger is near. Look you well and watch the wolf, for you are going to see such a sight as not one in ten thousand has ever beheld.

Creep—crawl—skulk—now behind a knoll—now drawing himself over the grass—now raising its head above a thistle to mark the locality of its victim. It is a lone, shambling, skulking wolf, lame, spiteful and treacherous. Wounded or ailing, he has been left alone to get on as best he may, and his green eyes light up with fiercer blaze as he draws nearer and nearer to his unconscious prey.

There! No, he is yet too far away. Creep, creep, creep. Now he is twenty feet away, now fifteen, now ten. He hugs the earth; gathers his feet under him, and he bounds through the air as if shot from a gun. He is rolling the calf over and over on the the grass in three seconds after he springs.

Now watch!

A cry of pain from the calf—a furious bellow from the mother as she wheels and charges the wolf—a startled movement from a dozen of the nearest animals, and a rush begins. The one wolf is magnified into a hundred, the hundred into a thousand. Short, sharp bellows, snorts of alarm, a rush, and in fifty seconds after the wolf has wet his fangs in blood, that living mass is in motion to get away from an unknown terror. The waves rise higher and higher as the confusion spreads. One instant it seems as if 10,000 solid acres of prairie were moving bodily away; again waves rise and fall as the cowards behind rush upon those in front, who wait to sniff the air and learn the danger. In one minute the alarm runs down the herd to the leaders—further than the eye can see—and the entire herd is going off at a mad gallop, heads down, eyes rolling, and no thought but that of escape. If Lake Erie were to dash itself against a wall, the shock would be no greater than the awful crash with which this mass of rattling hoofs, sharp horns, and hairy bodies would meet it. The clatter of hoofs and rattle of horns would drown the noise of a brigade of cavalry galloping over a stone-paved road.

Ride out on their trail. Here, where the stampede began, the ground is torn and furrowed as if a thousand cannon had been firing solid shot at targets. Here and there are calves which have been gored or crushed—here and there older animals with broken legs and disabling wounds. Here, where the herd was fairly off, you might as well hunt for a gold dollar as a blade of grass. You look for three miles as you look across it. It is a trail of dirt, and dust, and ruts, and furrows, where half an hour ago was a carpet of green grass and smiling flowers. The most dreadful cyclone known to man could not have left more horrible scars behind.

Miles away, on the banks of the winding, growling river, are three white topped emigrant wagons. A camp-fire blazes up to boil the kettles; men, women, and children stand about, peering over the distant mountains at the setting sun, and glad that their journey is almost done. Butterflies come and go on lazy wing, the crickets chirp cheerily on the grass, and the eagles sailing in the blue evening air have no warning to give.

Hark! Is that thunder?

Men and women turn in their tracks as they look in vain for a cloud in the sky. That rumble comes again, as they look into each other's faces. It grows louder, as women turn pale and men reach for their trusty rifles. The ground trembles, and afar off comes a din which strikes terror to the heart. "Indians," they whisper. No. A thousand times better for them if savage Pawnee dared ride down where those long-barrelled rifles could speak a defence of the peaceful camp.

"A stampede of buffaloes!" gasps one of the men as he catches sight of the advance guard under the awful cloud of dust. Rifles are ready for a shot, and the children climb up on the heavy wagon-wheels to see the strange procession gallop by.

Here they come! Crack! crack! crack! from three rifles and a shout as each bullet tells. Next instant a shaggy head followed by a dust-browned body rushes through the camp. Then another and another. The men shout and wave their arms; the women and children turn paler yet.

The roar and din shut out every other sound, and the wagons jar and tremble with the concussion. Now another shaggy head—another—half-a-dozen—a score—a hundred—a great living wave which sweeps along with the power of a tornado, followed by others more fierce and strong, and the camp is blotted off the face of the earth more completely than by any power of Heaven. Nothing to be seen—no shout to be heard. Wave followed wave across the spot—over the bank—into the stream and across, and when the last of the herd had passed, the keenest hunter can find nothing on that spot of wood or iron, or cloth or bone or flesh to prove that a dozen men, women and children were there wiped out of existence, and reduced to shred and dust.

The Scotchman never fails to put a thing tersely. He says of matrimony: "If marriages were made in Heaven, it is evident that some people had few friends there."

THEN there was Charles M. Barris, the man who invented the Black Crook. He was a very mean man to servants, but we won't talk about him now; because he is dead. He and P. T. Barnum used to eat at the same table with Mr. Coleman. Barnum had his baby show then. One day the Enquirer came out with an article blasting the show. It commenced thus: 'Wanted—One thousand American mothers to exhibit their babies at the human cattle-show.' Old Barnum read it at the table. I thought he would be mad, but he only said to Barris, 'That is worth $1,000 to me. If I knew who wrote that I would make him a present of $50.' 'Give me the money,' said Barris, 'I am the man.' And so he was, and Barnum paid the money to him the next day.

A VALUABLE PLANT.—The sunflower is turned to extraordinary account in Lithania. The seeds yield at first pressure excellent salad oil, and the residue forms excellent oil cake for cattle, who are also fond of the leaves and stalks chopped up. The flowers a little short of bloom are, when cooked, nearly as good as artichokes, and are in the garden very attractive to bees. The leaf, well dried, is used as tobacco. The seed receptacles are made into blotting paper, and the inner part of the stalk is made into a fine writing paper. The more woody portions of the plant, which attains great size, are used for fuel. The best is obtained in the Crimea. As an anti-malarial agent the sunflower is most valuable.

JAPANESE paper air cushions are said to have some advantages over those made of rubber. They may be rolled into a package of smaller dimensions when not in use; they will not stick together as rubber does after it is wet, and for pillows they are better because they have no odor. Their strength is very great; a man weighing 160 pounds may stand upon one without bursting it. They are said to be water proof, and to make excellent life-preservers.

ANOTHER of the popular errors to be corrected is that the African Sahara is a great desert. On the contrary, it is now pronounced a cultivated country, fruitful as the garden of Eden. All that is now wanted is proof that Iceland is a tropic country, and that the Rockey Mountains are below the sea level, in order to convince the average citizen that the time he spent studying geography in his youth was fooled away.—Boston Post.

SENATOR Burnside tells this story of his colleague, Senator Anthony. They were dining together one day when ham formed one of the dishes. "If ever I turn farmer," said Mr. Anthony "I shall raise plenty of calves so that I can get some nice hams like this."

THE VOTE OF INYO COUNTY.

Following are the complete returns of Tuesday's election from every precinct in the county where polls were opened, if we except Resting Springs. That precinct, by the mail route, is 400 miles distant from this place, so that if an election was held there, which is a matter of considerable doubt, it is even more doubtful if the returns reach us in time to be canvassed within the maximum time allowed by law. There are but about 25 registered voters located there—not enough to change results save to increase totals. Contrary to all precedent and expectation, no polls were opened at Olancha, and ten or more votes are thereby lost from the grand array. Except these two precincts, then, the table is full and complete in details and totals:

B. H. CARRICK, Treasurer of Storey county, Nevada, is proven to be a defaulter to the amount of $20,500. Stock gambling. His bondsmen are good. He was a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket.

THE New York Mining News, of a late date, thus hopefully peers into the mining future: "On every hand the most encouraging signs of a grand and and permanent revival in the mining interest is shown. Our promoters are busy with new properties and new propositions, which are shortly to be prought forward; properties of value and merit, to which the public are invited to subscribe, and which are worthy of investors. We should not grow discouraged because of the seeming dullness and apathy of the mining market, as the dullness is only seeming and not real. We prophesy an early activity on the exchanges, not a boom, as many are pleased to call it; but a healthy vital activity that will gladden many investors and fill many pockets. The mining is not dead nor dying out by any means. It is scarcely in its infancy, and considering its age, is a very healthy infant, bidding fair to become a very strong child."

AN interesting experiment has recently been reported to the French Academy of Sciences by M. P. Desmarets. M. Desmarets has succeeded in taking two excellent photographic views from a balloon in mid-air. Such views have hitherto been obtained by M. Nadar from a captive balloon unattached to the earth. M. Desmarets used the instantaneous process of M. Janssen. The plates were very sensitive, specially prepared with gelatine-bromide, and the oxalate of iron was used in developing them. The views obtained are said to have shown a remarkable clearness. The time of exposure was one-fifteenth of a second.

IT is well known, says the Call, that the great West receives much the largest share of foreign immigration. Illinois comes in for her full proportion. The census returns of 1880 evince this. Cook county, in which Chicago is situated shows a population of foreign birth amounting to 242,408 as against 365,060 natives. There are other counties in the Western States to which the immigration has been equally as great, if not greater.

PRESIDENT HAYES has issued his Thanksgiving Proclamation, and asks that the American people return thanks on the 25th of this month. As he says, the country is prosperous and the people have good cause to rejoice and remember Him who has blessed them.

THE Reno Gazette says: It doesn't cost prospectors much for meat in Eastern Nevada. There are always plenty of cattle running around the hills. Sometimes a whole camp will worry along all summer without buying any meat from the butcher.

FROM New York city there have been thirty-two excursions for sick children with their mothers to the Sea-side Sanitarium this season. The blessing of many ready to perish will rest upon the promoters of this good work.

THE question of burning the garbage of New York city is again raised and a committee has been appointed to inquire into the method and cost of this manner of its disposition.

SOMETHING MORE RELATIVE TO MINING "EXPERTS."

We notice in a New York mining paper mention of the return to that city, from his late "scientific" expedition into Inyo, of a certain "celebrated Cornish mining engineer, author, assayer, explorer, mineralogist, metallurgist, etc., etc.— the "etc.'s" standing for "infernal fraud."

This immense humbug reports that he examined thirty mines in thirty days in Inyo county—ran tunnels, and cross-cuts and drifts and sunk shafts in that time, but found nothing of value, five dollars a ton being the highest grade of ore he could find!

Now, this "high priced man," as he called himself, offered to make a good report on certain properties that he came to examine if a certain party would pay him $500 — which offer, it is hardly necessary to state, was indignantly declined. And this same "expert" and undoubted knave, enjoys the confidence of some of the monied men of New York who are seeking investments in mines.

This "honest, high priced man and expert," actually did employ several miners for a few days in prospecting some of the mines he came to examine; and he insulted these men to such a degree by his overbearing insolence that threats were made to "punch" his head; and only through the intercession of the superintendent in charge, whom the men highly respected, was he saved from a severe thrashing. After discharging the miners he dared not to come into town until assured by the superintendent that he would protect him. As a further illustration of the peculiarities of this high priced M. E from Cornwall, these two incidents may be mentioned: His stage fare, when he came to the country, was paid no furthur than to Lone Pine; arrived there, he saw that this place was nearer the scene of his proposed labors, whereupon he insisted that the agent at Lone Pine should forward him here without additional charge. This the agent reasonably enough refused to do; then the high priced M. E. waxed exceedingly wroth, and swore he never would ride on another stage belonging to that "blarsted company." In the other instance, he left some portions of an old pair of boots with our local cobbler to be rebuilt. The work was satisfactorily completed, but the charge was about 50 cents above New York cobbling rates. Again the high priced man's bile was stirred to a considerable depth; "it was a blarsted himposition." So now if any man with a tub of intestines wants to step into the boots of a high priced M. E., he can do it by paying Larry Dugal two or three dollars for the reconstructed pair in question.

Having shaken the Inyo dust from his spare No. 12 brogans and safely regained his office, which is not a thousand miles from the corner of Broadway and Wall streets, New York, this stupendous and conceited "hass" now endeavors to revenge himself on Inyo people for not bowing down before him; for not paying him for a good report—this he does in his unmitgiated lie that there is nothing here of value.

This fellow claims to have had fourteen years' mining experience on the Pacific coast. Now, we happen to know something of a portion of the experience of this fraud. We know that he experienced the fact that he could not deceive our mining men with his puffed-up pretensions and self-asserted superiority over our well known and well tried mining engineers. This disgustingly bigoted jackass asserted here that Prof. Henry G. Hanks, for example, was an upstart and a humbug, and other well known and renowned American mineralogists and geologists were all ignoramuses. But finding himself and his books (which are the veriest trash, as adjudged by all miners and assayers who have examined them) at a very large discount in California, the high priced gentleman transferred himself to New York where, it seems, he has succeeded to some extent, by cheek and aid of newspaper puffs, in worming himself into the confidence of a number of gentlemen, making them believe he is the greatest of all experts. The N. Y. Mining Journal hits the nail square on the head in the following extract:

Mining has suffered but little if at all from mining students, who, as a rule, take pride in their profession, and who endeavor all they can to raise its tone; but mining has suffered terribly from ignorant, bigoted and unprincipled men who are pleased to call themselves "practical," and whose chief occupation is telling lies and pocketing fees.

We have no fears that the reports of this J. S. Phillips, the fraud above referred to, will do this region any material or permanent injury, nevertheless such transparent bilks should and shall be exposed. And our next reference to him will be to tell just how he "examined," "developed" and "experted" some of the mines he traveled so far to get a chance to lie about.

IT was estimated that 245,000 persons would be entitled to vote in New York city this Fall, of whom 98,000 are native born and over 146,000 naturalized citizens.

THE ELECTION.

Since Tuesday last the all-absorbing topic here, as well as elsewhere throughout the Union, has been as to the result of the Presidential election. The first news as well as the latest from the East was and is favorable to Republican happiness, but yet not sufficiently positive to entirely extinguish Democratic hopes. Everything is contingent upon the outcome of the count in the State of New Rork. Hancock has no chance of election without the Electoral vote of that State; neither has Garfield. The dispatches up to 3 o'clock on the morning of the 4th give the latter the State by 25,000 majority, but Democratic papers of this coast claim it the other way by 5,000. The city vote has been counted, and gives Hancock 42,000 majority, which is smaller than the Republicans had anticipated. Nevada is conceded to the Democrats, while their chances in this State, Oregon and New Jersey, especially the last two, are certainly the best. The South is solid for Hancock, but the Republicans gain two or three Congressmen in that section, and a net gain of nineteen in all, consequently the control of the next House, with an even chance in the Senate. On the other hand, the Democrats gain a Senator and Representative in Nevada, and at least one Representative in this State, namely, Gen. Rosecrans, who takes Davis' place. They re-elect Berry, with a chance of defeating Pacheco. The complexion of our next Legislature cannot be determined from any data yet at hand, but it is pretty certain that the Republicans will not have a clear majority over both the other parties, so the Senatorship is an unsolved problem. Pending the receipt of further news, we submit the question.

A New, Curious and Simple Way to Deaden Pain.

The last number of the Medical Record contains a notice of a new and curious method of deadening pain which is of striking simplicity. It was discovered by Dr. Bonwell, a dentist of Philadelphia, in 1875. In 1876 Dr. A. Hewson made a favorable report of his experience with it in the International Medical Congress, and at a recent meeting of the Philadelphia County Medical Society several papers were read on the subject and much discussion followed.

In using the method the operator merely requests the patient to breathe rapidly, making about 100 respirations per minute, ending in rapid, puffing expirations. At the end of from two to five minutes an entire or partial absence of pain results, lasting for a half a minute or more, and during that time teeth may be drawn or incisions made. The patient may be in any position, but that recommended is lying on the side, and it is generally best to throw a handkerchief over the face to prevent distractions of the patient's attention. When the rapid breathing is first begun the patient may feel some exhileration, following this comes a sensation of fullness in the head or dizziness. The face is at first flushed, and afterward pale or even bluish, the heart beating rather feebly and fast, but the sense of touch is not affected, nor is consciousness lost. The effect is produced in females more readily than in males, and in the middle aged more easily than in the old; children can hardly be made to breathe properly. It is denied there is any possible danger. Several minor operations, other than dental ones, have been successfully made by this method, and it is claimed that in dentistry, minor surgery and obstretrics it may supplant the common anæsthetics. Dr. Hewson's explanation is that rapid breathing diminishes oxygenation of the blood, and that the resultant excess of carbonic acid temporarily poisons the nerve centers. Dr. Bonwell gives several explanations, one being the specific effect of carbonic acid, another the diversion of will force produced by rapid voluntary muscular action; third, the damming up of the air in the brain, due to the excessive amount of air passing through the lungs. The Record is not satisfied with the theories, but considers it well proved that pain may be deadened by the method, which it commends to the profession for exact experimental determination of its precise value.—New York Star.

SUNDAY evening about 5:30 o'clock, a quarrel occurred on the sidewalk between Thomas Hamilton and Thomas Keefe. The result was a shot from the latter, which entered Hamilton's coat on the left side, passed through his vest and shirt, grazing his abdomen, and through his vest and the lining of his coat on the right side, when the bullet settled between the lining and the outside, where it was afterwards found. Hamilton is the man who was wounded in the celebrated Owyhee-Jupiter fight, over a year ago, and Keefe has acquired some notoriety by having a very remarkable head put on him on two or three occasions. The latter was arrested by officer Farnsworth.—Bodie Free Press. Oct. 25.

EFFECT OF CLIMATE ON THE BEARD. A singular effect of the dry air of Egypt, and one which, if supported by similar facts, has a scientific value, is thus recorded: An Englishman who traveled up the Nile states that his beard, which at home was straight, soft and silky, began immediately on arriving at Alexandria to curl, and to grow crisp, strong and coarse. Before reaching Es Souan it resembled horsehair to the touch and was disposed in ringlets. He accounts for this by the exceeding dryness of the air, and considers that in the course of many generations it permanently curled and crisped the hair of negroes. The hair on the traveler's head was not affected.

THE only special attraction at Niagara Falls this month is a customs officer who can answer a civil question in a civil manner. He isn't there to stay, of course.—Detroit Free Press.

ARREST OF COUNTERFEITERS.

On the 21st of last month the arrest was made by the United States Secret Service Bureau of a band of counterfeiters implicated in an extensive scheme of counterfeiting. The men arrested were the well known forger and counterfeiter William S. Brockway, alias Edward W. Spencer; J. B. Doyle, who also has a bad reputation in that kind of work; an expert engraver named William H. Smythe, and Jasper Owens, a printer of counterfeit money. Their operations cover $204,000 in 6 per cent. Government bonds, and probably many thousand dollars in national bank notes.

As far back as 1878 dangerous counterfeit National Bank notes of the denomination of $100, on the Revere Bank, of Boston, were discovered in circulation. Some months later a counterfeit $100 note on the Merchants' National Bank, of New Bedford, Mass., appeared, and was followed later by similar counterfeits on the Pittsfield National Bank, of Pittsfield, Mass; the National Bank, of Wilkesbarre, Pa.; the Exchange Bank, of Baltimore, Md., and on the Pittsburg National Bank, of Pittsburg, Pa. All of these counterfeits are believed to be the work of the arrested men, as well as the counterfeit 6 per cent. Government bonds referred to above. Most of the arrests were made in New York and Brooklyn, but Doyle was taken into custody in Chicago, having in his possession $204,000 counterfeit Government 6 per cent. bonds and several Treasury notes, some genuine, and others regarding whose character there is some doubt. Doyle has been held in Chicago in $25,000 bail. United States Commissioner Allen held Brockway on two charges. For uttering the $100 note bail was fixed at $10,000, and for uttering the United bonds bail in $15,000 was demanded. Owens was held in $5,000 bail, and in default both men are in jail.

To Be Built.

It is the intention of the Antioch and Grangeville railroad company to commence work immediately, if they have not already done so. This is the organization that was effected to build the James single track railway between the points indicated. It is the intention to grade and lay down ties, the first few miles of the road, for a narrow-gauge of the ordinary style, but with a single track, in order to test thoroughly the James system, so that if it does not work satisfactorily little will be lost in the experiment. But this is a matter of precaution merely, the managers entertaining very little doubt of its value. Subscriptions are said to be coming in rapidly. Everybody in the two places and along the line of the route takes a deep interest in the enterprise and those who cannot advance money will give their labor. The immense quantity of wheat now waiting to be moved to tide water, and the enormous crops the county is capable of producing and will produce with cheap transportation, assures the financial success of the undertaking. As yet no large capitalists have taken stock, but it is believed they will do so as soon as the enterprise is well under way and it is manifest that the people are imbued with the proper spirit and energy. That they will do so may be inferred from the fact that it is the avowed intention of the Southern Pacific to carry the wheat crop of the State to the Gulf of Mexico, the effect of which will be to so change the current of trade as in a great measure to destroy the commerce of San Francisco, and it must be apparent that this can be prevented in no other way than by the capitalists of that city waking up to the necessity of radiating cheap transportation lines from the Bay into all the agricultural regions of the State. This line is one of the most important of those it will be necessary to construct, if the towns and cities around the Bay would save themselves from sinking into a state of decay, and there is no doubt, when the alternative is clearly presented of meeting with great pecuniary losses, or of investing a little of their surplus means in such a way as to aid all the agricultural interests of the State, that they will choose the latter. The monopoly controling all the railroads in the State can force trade in the direction they wish it to go; but with cheap transportation to the Bay it is doubtful if the Gulf route can compete with that around the Horn. There is a concurrence of circumstances indicating the speedy construction of the Grangeville and Antioch road, and its further extention, before another harvest is upon us, to the utmost limits of the State.—Kern Californian.

"Any good shooting on your farm?" asked a hunter of a farmer. "Splendid," replied the agriculturist; "there's a drive well man down in the clover meadow, a cloth pedlar at the house, a candidate out in the barn, and two tramps down in the stock yard. Climb right over the fence young man, load both barrels and sail in."—Burlington Hawkeye.

IT is an old saying that charity begins at home, but this is no reason that it should not go abroad. A man should live with the world as a citizen of the world; he may have a preference for the particular quarter, or square, or even alley in which he lives, but he should have a generous feeling for the welfare of the whole.—Cumberland,

A LADY at White Sulphur Springs, when asked by a reporter for a description of her dress, said; "I don't wear a very handsome costume, but I have the nicest husband and two of the sweetest children in the room." For sound sense and happy fortune she deserves to rank with the mother of the Gracchi.

An Arizona Cave.

On Cave creek, in Yavapai county, a few miles above the ranch of an Apache chief named Modeski, there is a remarkable cave. A dense growth of dwarf cedar covers the ground in the vicinity and effectually conceals the opening of the cave. A trail so dim as to be scarcely noticeable, passes through this timber and leads to the opening, which is about 2½ ft. square. Crawling in a few feet on your hands and knees, you suddenly find yourself in a chamber 50 feet square and 30 feet high. The cave is in a lime formation, and the water percolating for ages, through the crevices in the rock, has covered the arched roof with stalactites clear as petrified icicles; drawn delicate traceries of fringe and curtain on the walls, and built up numerous stalagmites over the floor; one of which is as graceful and as beautifully proportioned as a corinthian column. The most of these stalagmites are on one side of the room. There is one that attracts attention by its singular beauty and whiteness. One side of it is covered with scars, where it has been beaten by the Indian musicians while the beaux and belles threaded the mazes of some wild dance. Leading from this grand hall are numerous low passages which run into other chambers. The cave has never been thoroughly explored so far as we know. It is known as Thorn's cave, and the legend is, that the man of that name, who a few years ago set the country wild with his stories of wagon loads of gold and silver, was imprisoned in it. Be this as it may, the cave, when fully explored, will prove to be one of the wonders of this wonderful land.—Silver Belt.

Candelaria Dull.

The True Fissure of last Saturday, in its weekly review of mining operations there, sums up the situation as follows: "The past week has been one of the dullest that has been experienced in Candelaria District for a long time. Many of the smaller outside mines have shut down, or discharged the greater part of their working force, and several men have been drafted in the Mount Diablo. The entire force of the Metallic Equator were discharged last Sunday and the works shut down. This, however, we understand will only be temporarily. The Metallic-Equator has expended in the neighborhood of $4,000 and an additional $5,000 will prospect the ground thoroughly. The fact of the matter seems to be that funds were a little short, and the company did not like going further until the delinquent assessments are all paid. The company has everything in such condition that very rapid progress can be made in the prosecution of work, and for that reason it does not seem reasonable that it would be willing to now cease operations for any length of time. The Northern Belle, the old reliable of this district, still continues its regular output of ore and bullion."

INDEPENDENCE, CAL.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 6.....1880

LOOK OUT FOR HIM.—A. M. Sharp, the noted stage robber, took a nail on Tuesday night last, and "scratched" out of the famous Bastile, surnamed the County Jail, at Aurora, Nevada. The presumption is that the nail was about as sharp and considerably better tempered than Sharp himself, else it would not have penetrated the outside coat of whitewash after scratching through two or three courses of sandy bricks; but it did, and Sharp is now at large, and at this writing is not many miles distant from this place; at all events, day before yesterday at noon he was seen at Big Pine where it is thought he made arrangements with an Indian to guide him across the mountains by way of the Kearsarge or Hocket trail—this last, however, is mere guess-work. The escaped robber is described as follows: 5 feet 7 or 8 inches in hight, dark complexioned, with a general resemblance to a Mexican or Italian, black hair, eyes and whiskers, thin mustache, thin, sharp, Roman nose, about 30 years of age, American by birth, weighs about 160 pounds, and in his right boot heel three nails in the iron heel plate project so as to make noticeable marks, together forming a tri-angle. He is a desperate scoundrel, and will not surrender merely for accommodation. There were seven indictments against him for stage robbery and the like.

CABINET SPECIMEN.—Constable Frank Fitzgerald, of Lookout, has favored THE INDEPENDENT with one of the handsomest and most admired ore-specimens that has been exhibited in this county for an age, or any other indefinite period of time, so far as our knowledge extends. It is of a class of ore lately being extracted from one of the Confidence series of silver ledges, the property of the Modock Company at Lookout. Its base is a gray lead carbonate, partly incrusted with beautiful crystals of azurite, or blue carbonate of copper. It shows, also, incrustations of euchroite—a bright emerald-green arsenate of copper, mingled with masses of nadorite, which is a bright yellow lead chlor-antimonate. The whole forms, with its mingled colors, a magnificent specimen, assaying 2,180 ounces per ton in silver and about 60 per cent. lead. If the technicology of our description of the specimen is not comprehensive to Prof. Hanks, of the State Mining Bureau, he can have the same by calling for it during his promised visit to, and scientific report upon, this county.

RESTING SPRINGS.—The Los Angeles Mining and Smelting Co., whose extensive operations at Resting Springs we have frequently mentioned, has levied another assessment upon its capital stock, of $1 50 per share, delinquent December 13; day of sale January 18, 1881. The company is steadily pushing work on the lower tunnel of the Gunsight, it now being in about 850 feet. This will cut the ledge in about 150 feet further, where the incline in the seventh level is to be sunk 100 feet to make the connection. The mill shut down October 20, and as but little ore can be advantageously taken out until the connection is made, it will probably be some weeks before it is started up again. A letter direct from the mines says that eight or ten good miners can get work.

INSTALLED.—The following elected and appointed officers of Busy Bee Lodge, No. 250, I. O. G. T., were, on Monday evening last, duly installed for the current term by S. D. G. W. C. T. Willis: S. P. Moffat, W. C. T.; Mrs. M. G. George, W. V. T.; Willie A. Chalfant, W. S.; Miss Carrie Willis, W. F. S.; L. Wood, W. T.; Fred. George, W. M.; Theodore Olds, W. I. G.; F. M. Willis, W. O. G. Appointed officers—Mrs. M. Conklin, W. C.; Mrs. M. Q. Parker, W. R. S.; Miss Ada Lewis, W. L. S.; Morton George, W. A. S., and Alvah Conklin, W. D. M. H. P. Cartier, L. D. P. A. Chalfant, P. W. C. T.

SWANSEA.—The mines in Swansea District lately sold to a New York company through John Ely and "Doc." Cottrell are commencing active work. Those who sold to the new company are owners of mines in the adjoining Cerro Gordo District, which they have been quietly developing, with very favorable results. The boys are right; the idea is to sell at reasonable figures and then go ahead with the next best, or something else which may prove equally as good.

CONGRESSMAN.—With but two or three exceptions Pacheco runs ahead of his ticket in every precinct both in this county and Mono. Godfrey, the Greenback candidate, cuts but a small figure in either county, more especially in this. The total for these candidates, taking both counties, stands as follows: Pacheco, 1,132; Leach, 843; Godfrey, 171. Pacheco's majority over Leach, 289.

THANKS.—THE INDEPENDENT tenders its sincere thanks to Mr. W. G. Holstead, Gen. Agent C. G. F. Co. at Mohave, for summaries of election dispatches received each day at that place up to stage time. These gave us some ten hours' later news than from any other source, and also the first of any importance that reached us after the election.

CONSTABLES.—Timothy Richards was elected Constable at Lone Pine, John W. Murphy at Independence and Henry Grover at Big Pine. We have no reports in relation to this office from the other precincts.

ALL RIGHT.—The Bodie Free Press of a late date copies a lot of INDEPENDENT items under the head of "Inyo Ingots." Such Inyo-Eudoes are acceptable.

JUSTICES ELECTED.—Seth G. Sneden, at Bishop, D. B. Curtis at Fish Springs, Thos. Parker at Independence, Sherman Stevens at Lone Pine.

AN IMPORTANT ENTERPRISE.—We have it from the best authority that a company is now being organized in New York for the purpose of erecting a smelting furnace in Mazourka Cañon. Deeds to several mining claims have already passed to New York parties, and the matter is assuming an active and business-like shape. THE INDEPENDENT has heretofore called the attention of capitalists to this splendid opening for just such an operation, being satisfied that Mazourka can produce an abundance of first-class smelting ores of high grade in silver. The facilities for smelting are hardly to be equalled—millions of wood for charcoal, with plenty of water close at hand. The proposed site is only two hours' ride from Independence; the mines are of easy access, by good roads. On these counts we know of no place in Inyo County where ores can be reduced cheaply as here, and the great wonder is that an enterprise of this kind has not been started before. We predict a decided success for it, at any rate—provided, of course, that the business is put into the hands of practical and skilled furnace men, and run on economical, business principles. An operation of this kind would set a large number of men to prospecting and taking out ore, which they would be glad to sell at very reasonable prices. As now the men and mines are idle, for the the want of some way of working or of disposing of the ore.

DEEP SPRINGS.—W. J. Lake is in town from Deep Spring District, after supplies for the Winter. He has a shaft on the Lake mine, Indian Scout ledge, 41 feet in depth, sunk entirely by himself. It shows a strong ledge of silver ore averaging $50 per ton. In the adjoining Greenly mine, work in the tunnel has recently disclosed in the main ledge a body of ore two feet in width of exceeding richness, and it is on the safe side to say that the balance of the 8-foot ledge will sample $75 per ton. Other properties of the district are showing up well, but the owners "want nothing said about it at present"—as usual. Mr. W. S. Woodhull, of this place, is in correspondence with parties about to put a five-stamp mill in the district, when the mine-owners calculate upon being permanently "fixed."

WASSON AND FERGUSON.—The vote of Inyo County for these two candidates for the Assembly is given in detail in the table elsewhere, Wasson's majority being 37 in this county. In Mono the vote stands thus; Benton—Wasson, 55, Ferguson, 40; Mammoth—Wasson, 53, Ferguson, 35; Bridgeport—Wasson, 84, Ferguson, 101; Bodie—Wasson, 578, Ferguson, 613. The totals for Mono are: Wasson, 770, Ferguson, 789; Ferguson's majority, 19. In Inyo the totals are, Wasson, 324, Ferguson, 267, Wasson's majority 57, leaving him 38 ahead in the two counties.

THEIR WHEREABOUTS.—Through a private letter from Camp Whipple, Arizona, we have the following in relation to old military friends formerly stationed at Camp Independence: Major Harry Egbert and Capt. W. W. Wotherspoon are stationed at Camp Whipple; Dr. W. Matthews is at Fort Wingate, New Mexico: Capt. MacGowan is in command at Camp Rucker, South-eastern Arizona: Lieut. Clague, who is also in that country, has been promoted to a Captaincy, and Capt. Dove is at Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, on recruiting service.

DEPARTED—Three men with their families, viz. Messrs. Taylor, Hull and Miller, of Bishop Creek, and J. N. Newlon and family of Big Pine, all passed here in the past two or three days bound for Los Angeles, or down that country somewhere, probably to remain permanently. Our "population boom" don't seem to set just the right way yet. To these we may add the departure of George, eldest son of Rev. F. M. Willis, who goes to Santa Clara for an extended term at school at that place.

THE BOARD.—The Board of Supervisors has been in session since Thursday, all the members present. Their work has been mainly in getting affairs back into the same shape as before the passage and final upsetting of the County Government bill. Holders of late issues of county warrants will find elsewhere a notice of interest. The Board meet Monday to canvass the returns, and the official report of proceedings will be given next week.

FOR SUPERVISOR.—The vote for Supervisor in this district stands as follows; Big Pine—Robinson, 40, Barrows, 16; Fish Springs—Robinson, 8, Barrows, 13; Independence—Robinson, 57, Barrows, 43; Georges Creek—Robinson, 9, Barrows, 4; Robinson's majority, 38.

RETURNED.—Westerville's fine new threshing machine, with men, teams and outfit generally, arrived in town last night direct from Porterville, Tulare County, where it has been operating for the past season. The machine will go to Westerville's place, thresh out his crop and lay by for the Winter.

DEFEATED—We regret to learn that R. L. Peterson, formerly of this county, latterly Justice of the Peace at Bodie, has been defeated there for that responsible position. Like the Bodie Free Press, we believe R. L. is about the ablest Justice of the Peace in the State.

GARFIELD AND HANCOCK.—For Presidential Electors in Mono and Inyo combined, the figures are: Garfield, 1,155, Hancock, 1,005, Garfield's majority, 150 in the two counties. Weaver got 14 votes in Bodie, none anywhere else that we have observed.

KEELER.—The new mill has been steamed up and the Superintendent pronounces the ring of the whistle clear, defiant and satisfactory. Mr. Hawley, of the mill, and Mr. Roberts, of the Crapo mine, were expected in Cerro Gordo yesterday.

SAPONITE.—This is the name of a mineral lately discovered near the head of Mazourka Cañon; quite an extensive bed of it was found, and it may prove of considerable value should a smelting fuanace be built in that locality, as it is a first-class fire material. It is deep red in color, feels soft and unctous, and when fiast taken out cuts like cold butter or new soap.

PREACHING.—There will be preaching by Rev. F. M. Willis in this place to-morrow evening at the usual hour, and at the Post school house next Tuesday evening.

"MY son," said Mr. X——, kindly to his youthful heir, "accustom yourself to be polite to the porter, to the servant girl, the coachman, to all the servants; thus you will come in time to be courteous to all people, even your parents."

A SAN FRANCISCO dispatch of the 3d says that since Monday, thirty-six cases of small pox have been discovered in that city and taken to the Pest House. The Health officer has been granted extraordinary powers.

SOMETHING noble, something good, something pure, something manly, something godlike, is knocked off a man every time he gets drunk or stoops to sin through forgetfulness of God. —Gough.

THE Mono people have elected Judge Wiggin Superior Judge for that county.

Truthful Bits.

What society most needs is less kissing before marriage and more kissing after.

Women who "marry for a home" have no right to complain if they get nothing else.

A beautiful woman without vanity or selfishness is as rare as a great man with modesty.

Life is too short to waste words. The word "obey" should be stricken out of the marriage service. It is of no use.

"Men and women," says Labouchere, "are no worse than they ever were, and the majority are a great deal better. They are not bad all through; only in parts here and there, in specks and damaged quarters; but the core is sound and good. For every vice there is a virtue, for every unpleasant quality a charm. Humanity is weak in some places, strong in others and complex always.

THE following pleasant little notice of Bodie is in a Virginia City paber: "The Bodie exodus continues uninterrupted, and old Comstockers straggle into town every day, used up with pneumonia or the more serious complaint of no money. They predict a hard Winter in Bodie."

THE American colony in Paris is smaller than at any previous time in twenty years. It costs twice as much to live in Paris as in America in the same style. Formerly it cost double Paris prices in America. There is nothing now cheaper in France except apparel, and only parts of that.

A baby can put its rosey little toe in its mouth more easily than its father can, but when it comes to put its whole foot in it, the man of years and experience can discount the baby half a hundred and then run out.

A SPECIAL permit having been granted to parties to work mines on the Fort Bowie military reservation causes much feeling among the old settlers there who have been refused the same privilege.

PROF. Tyndall has a theory regarding hay-fever. He thinks it is brought on by drinking liquor out of a jug kept in the barn.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Allgemeine Deutsche Unterstuetzungs Gesellschaft.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28, 1880.

Messrs. Harris & Rhine, Independence, Cal.: DEAR SIRS—The undersigned, President of the German Benevolent Society, begs leave to call your attention to this truly benevolent institution, founded in the early days of California, and being now in the 27th year of its existence. The Society was formed to carry out three objects viz.: to assist poor and worthy or deserving people by support, to find employment for those out of work, and to cure those who are stricken down with sickness. For the latter purpose the Society owns a magnificent Hospital, surrounded by extensive grounds, where all patients are under the charge of excellent physicians and a consulting board of the most eminent medical talent of this city. The Society has expended for hospital and grounds the sum of $188,895.

The object of this communication is to propose to you to act as agent for this Society, either personally or through one of your employees, suited for such position, for the purpose of enlisting new members.

The monthly fee is only one dollar and the initiation fee on becoming a member two dollars. Only healthy persons can become members, and only Germans or those who speak that language, also their wives and children. Any member who meets with sickness is treated in the hospital without any expense to him until he has been restored to health. All persons who are not members, or can not become such, not speaking the German language, are admitted for medical treatment in the hospital at as low terms as it is possible to make them.

In this city we have about 5,000 members, but throughout the interior only about 300. It is our aim to increase the number of members throughout the State to make the hospital as much as possible self-sustaining, to enable us to extend the charitable department in this benevolent institution. For the trifling sum of one dollar per month members have the best aid and care in the German Hospital.

Frequently sick people in the country are crippled for life by false treatment from incompetent doctors, or even brought to a premature death. Only too late do they find out that if they had become members they would have been restored to health, and their earnings of years would not have gone into the pockets of inexperienced doctors, as the hospital employs only the best physicians. If there are no earnings, the employers and the friends of the sick are generally called upon to pay for his support. All this can be avoided, if the employers would vigorously enforce the rule, now introduced in most of San Francisco's establishments, that every man employed should belong to a relief society in order that in case of sickness he might be well cared for and not be reduced to the rather humiliating necessity of asking aid from the purses of his employer and his friends.

Persons of all nations of the age of 50 years or over are admitted as pensioners for life by paying a certain sum to be agreed upon to the society. They receive a home at the hospital, first-class board, washing and attendance in in case of sickness, free of any expense

To enable Germans and others who do not know of the existence of this institution, neither of the hospital nor its great advantages, to become members, I have addressed you the above, and hope that you will cheerfully accept the agency and do all in your power to further the interests of this society by enlisting new members, and recommending our hospital to those who may be compelled to seek medical aid.

Your Obedient Servant,
JULS. BANDMANN,
President G. G. B. S.

RICHARD P. ROTHWELL, C.E., M.E., ROSSITER W. RAYMOND, Ph.D., } Editors.
WILLIAM H. WAHL, Ph. D., Department of Progress in Science and the Arts.

IT IS AN ACCEPTED AUTHORITY ON ALL questions relating to the great mining industries of the country. It is the oldest publication of its class in America, thoroughly independent; being of the trade and not in it, occupies a just and impartial position, which enables it to advise and teach without fear or favor. It devotes much space to questions bearing upon economical management of mines, and from time to time illustrates the more important improvements in mining machinery and engineering methods. Special attention is given to reliable mining news from all parts of the country, which is gathered by an efficicient corps of correspondents in every section, and from an extended exchange list. The metal and ore markets, and gold, silver and miscellaneous stocks are reported and commented upon weekly by experienced financiers, who are unbiased by private interests, and upon these matters it is accepted as a reliable guide and unfailing instructor. Gives statistics of production of coal and iron, and of our great gold, silver and other mines. Its scientific notes are an epitome of the latest researches, its trade reports full, and its editorials sagacious and comprehensive. It enjoys the widest circulation and greatest influence of any journal of its class in the world; its patrons and readers comprising the most select and intelligent men in every quarter.

MINING APPLICATION NO. 181,

NEW ENTERPRISE MINE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE, Bodie, California, September 8, 1880.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT Thomas Henning, whose postoffice address is Cerro Gordo, Inyo County, California, has this day filed his application for a patent for fifteen hundred linear feet of the NEW ENTERPRISE Mine or vein bearing silver, gold, etc., with surface ground six hundred (600) feet in width, situated in Cerro Gordo Mining District, County of Inyo and State of California, and designated by the field notes and official plat on file in this office as Lot No. 39, in Township 16 South, Range 38 East, Mount Diablo Meridian. Said Lot No. 39 being described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a post set in mound of earth on northwest end of line of lode; marked the post "Post 7, New Enterprise mine;" said post is marked on its north side "Post A Ventura Mine," being situated on south end of lode of said Ventura mine. From which var 15 deg 50 min E., the middle of Cerro Gordo cañon bears north 30 chs; the entrance to the New Enterprise tunnel, course of tunnel south 35 deg east, 135 ft long, bears south 18 deg east, 1 21 chs; a quartz reef 4 ft high bears south 18½ deg west 86 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, south 38 deg 30 min east 1.21; quartz vein alongside New Enterprise tunnel—commencing ascending 14 74 summit of ridge bears west 20 30, gulch bears southwest 22 72; post 4 ft high x4 in. dia set in mound of earth marking southeast end of line of lode; marked the post "Post 4, New Enterprise mine," from which a pine stump 8 in. in dia by 10 in. high bears north 43¼ deg east 33 chs; a pine tree 6 in. dia by 4 ft high bears north 27 deg east 27 chs.

SURVEY OF EXTERIOR BOUNDARIES.

Commenced at post marked "Post 1, New Enterprise mine," standing in a gulch on north cor. of claim, from which a post marking the southeast cor of the Ventura mine bears south 71 deg west 11 chs. Thence, with var 15 deg 50 min east, 1—south 38 deg 30 min east 3 18, crossing of road in cañon; commence ascending; 18.71 summit of ridge bears west 20 82 "Post 2 New Enterprise mine," marking the point of junction of the New Enterprise, Silver Wedge and Armagh mines, from which the "Armagh U. S. Mineral Monument" bears by calculation north 36 deg 52 min east 14 21 chs. From "Post 2, New Enterprise mine" a pine stump 8 in. in dia bears north 23 deg east 30 chs. A pine tree 4 ft high bears north 71 deg east 62 chs; a pine tree 6½ ft high bears south 50 deg 14 min west 57 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 55 min east, 2—south 11 deg east 1.82; descending, "Post 3 New Enterprise mine," on the west boundary line of the Armagh mine, from which "Post 5 Armagh mine" bears south 11 deg east 1 21 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 3—south 71 deg west 3 94 "Post 4 New Enterprise mine," on southeast end of line of lode; commence descending; 8.75 "Post 5 New Enterprise mine" on south corner of claim; said post is 4½ ft high x5½ in in dia and is set in a mound of rocks and earth 2½ ft high, from which a pine stump 11 in high x15 in. in dia bears north 38 deg 1 min east 33 chs; an old prospecting hole 5 ft deep x4 ft square bears south 82 deg east 51 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 4—north 38 deg 30 min west 1 15; descending into gulch, commence ascending 4 32; ridge bears southwest; 12 80 main ridge of mountain bears west, commence descending; 22 72 "Post 6 N E mine" on steep rocky side hill; post set in a hole in the rock, from which an old prospecting cut 11 ft long x4½ ft wide from its face bears "Post 4 Ventura mine" bears north 71 deg east 11 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 5—north 71 deg east 11 "Post 4 Ventura mine;" 4 81 "Post 7 New Enterprise mine" and Post of Ventura mine; 6.92 road, Citizens' grade; 9.52 "Post 1 Ventura mine;" 9 63 "Post 1 New Enterprise mine," place of beginning, containing 20 55-100 acres.

SURVEY OF CONNECTING LINE.

Commenced at "Post 2 New Enterprise mine." Thence, var 15 deg 55 min east, south 11 deg east 3.03 "Post 5 Armagh mine;" north 79 deg east 10.60 point on W. B. line of the Ygnacio mine; north 11 deg west 12 59 to "U. S. Mineral Monument," which when computed gives for a direct closing line from "Post 2 New Enterprise mine" "Armagh U. S. Mineral Monument" north 36 deg 52 min east 14 21 chs.

DESCRIPTION OF THE ARMAGH U. S. MINERAL MONUMENT:

Said Mineral Monument as described in the field notes of survey of the Armagh mine is built on the apex of a red, rocky point at the intersection of Ygnacio Ravine and Cerro Gordo Cañon and very precisely on the west boundary line of, and distant 17.51 chains from the southwest corner stake of the Ygnacio mine, as patented. At this point caused a hole to be drilled in the rock to a depth of 9 inches in which drove a piece of gas pipe 1 inch in diameter by 16 inches long. On top of gas pipe set a post 4x4 inches square by 4 feet long, around which built a monument of rocks 5 feet high by 5 feet in diameter at its base. Marked the top of the post "U. S. Mineral Monument. Erected January 3d, 1880, by Wm. Crapo, U. S. Deputy Mineral Surveyor, under authority of the U. S. Surveyor General for California." From said post in Mineral Monument, with a variation 15 deg 55 min E. the extreme end of the rocky bluff on which the Mineral Monument is situated bears N 25 deg W 17 links. The east edge of ridge at the top of a vertical face 7½ feet high bears N 60 deg E .07 links. The northeast corner of an old adobe vaso chimney, a Mexican furnace for smelting silver and lead ores, bears S 38 deg 16 min W 16 links. The middle of the Belshaw toll road at a point where it turns out of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N 81¾ deg W 1.06 chains. The middle of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N 62 links. The northwest corner of Rafael Diaz' house bears S 38 deg 23 min E 1.58 chains. An old well 30 feet deep on north side of cañon bears N 58 deg 20 min W 1.93 chains.

Magnetic variation 15 deg 50 min east, containing 20 55 100 acres.

The location of this mine is recorded in the Recorder's office of Cerro Gordo Mining District, in Book —— of ——. The adjoining claimants are the Ventura and Armagh mines.

Any and all persons claiming adversely any portion of said New Enterprise mine or surface ground are required to file their adverse claims with the Register of the United States Land Office at Bodie, in the State of California, during the sixty days period of publication hereof, or they will be barred by virtue of the provisions of the Statute.

The Mistake They Make.

It seems to us that very many newspapers make a serious mistake in the manner in which they conduct a campaign—so called—or a controversy. The mistake they make is in not giving their readers credit for as much sense as they, or, perhaps we should say, the editors possess. We believe we are correct in saying that the generality of people not only dislike but detest and despise partisanship. They like to have the news and expect to get it when they subscribe for a newspaper. They are often deceived in this respect and receive only the garbled reports of partisans; or, in other words, about half the news to which they are entitled. One by one they ascertain the unpleasant fact and one by one transfer their names to a paper which aims to be fair instead of to earn a party salary. That this is the result of partisanship is manifested by the immense circulation of the independent press and the comparatively small circulation of that which is partisan. Readers do not object to newspapers having opinions; in fact, as in the case of men, not much respect is accorded to them if they have not; but readers do not want and will not take a paper which continually and intentionally lies. No good cause needs to be bolstered with lies; no good journalism needs such bolstering; the cause or the newspaper which resorts to it is on the down grade; at any rate the cause or the paper which least resorts to it is the strongest. We respect a man who has an opinion and who can maintain it firmly and yet with consideration, courtesy and honesty. An honorable man we trust in business no matter what his politics may be; a dishonest man we mistrust no matter with how loud a mouth he may preach our political doctrines. We feel the same in regard to newspapers; for they are only individuals communicating with us by ink and paper instead of by tongue and hand. —S. F. Stock Report.

End of the Oneida Community.

The Oneida Community, so-called, has taken a very dacided step recently towards disintegration as a community and association upon ordiuary business principles. Its basis in communism in property exists no longer; it has been dissolved and superseded by organization into a joint stock company, with $600,000 capital. Members who brought as much as $1,000 to the old association get $500 worth of stock, and pro rata, and there is a certain allotment to the children. Of course, wages will have to de paid, the best to the most capable, and the weakest will go to the wall, as in ordinary society. The community will, in fact, become a company of capitalists controlling vast industrial operations, instead of a social enterprise in which the strong were the helpers and protectors of the weak. It seems a pity, for it has grown into such prosperous life as a community, and has been watched abroad, as well as at home, by so many eyes, anxious to know if the social theory could be made into an abiding principle. It seems it cannot. All others have failed one by one, and now the "Oneida" has gone. If they survive adversity, they succumb to prosperity.—Jenny June in Baltimore American.

THE New York Graphic says: Mrs. Mackay, the wife of the very rich miner of Nevada, has a beautiful house in Paris fronting the Arch de Triomph, which is her own property. She has a good reputation in Paris for kindness of heart as well as personal beauty. She is beseiged with begging letters from all kinds of rascals, French and Americans, and being without her husband is sometimes put to great fear by that kind of persecution which only monarchs and very rich people receive.

Advice to Prospectors.

The following, from a Black Hills paper, has been going the rounds for some time. It is sensible advice, and now comes our turn to print it:

No silver or gold vein is continually rich. The ore is most generally found in chambers, chimneys, or "pots." To find one of these before sinking the shaft should be the object of every prospector. This is very easily done if the proper course is pursued. Instead of sinking a shaft on worthless ground, the work of which is absolutely thrown away, and worse—it positively injures the claim—why not prospect the surface, noticing the indications closely, and if possible, find a chamber to sink on? To find these chambers it is necesary to have assays made. Not one or two assays, but several all along the vein. No man can tell how rich his ore is by looking at it. Very often the poorest looking ore is the richest. It is necessary to assay the rock to know its value. Having found the richest spot on your vein, sink or drift on that. Never mind the convenience or inconvenience of the place. One may find thousands of convenient places to sink shafts and to make good dumps. But rich or pay ore in sufficient quantities is what is needed to sell a mine. Bear this fact in mind, then, and look for pay ore. Do not be afraid to spend ten or fifteen dollars in assaying to find this out. Do not trust to any one assayer. Take the same pulp to all the assayers in your place. If they all agree to within one or two dollars you may feel safe, but if there is a great difference, try again. Keep checks of all your assays. Having found the richest spot on your claim, sink there, no matter how inconvenient. In sinking, have assays made every few feet. Watch your ore closely. If it gets poorer and you are a poor man, stop! You can realize more money out a shaft thirteen feet deep of rich ore than you can out of a shaft 150 deep in poor ore. If you have means at your command, why go ahead; you will probably find the rich ore again by sinking deep enough. The great blunder prospectors make is not in assaying enough. Do not be afraid to spend a few dollars in that way. It is money well spent.

His Objections.

They were trying an assault and battery case in Justice alley the other day, or were getting ready to, when the defendant objected to the jury which the Constable had gathered together. Beginning at number one, the Court asked:

"State your objections to the juryman?"

"I beat him out of $50 on a horse-trade, and I know how he feels."

"And this one?"

"He and I couldn't agree on a game of cards one day about two weeks ago, and I punched his aged head. He hasn't forgotten it, you bet."

"Well, here's the third man?"

"He has a grudge against me for licking his brother-in-law."

"And the fourth?"

"We have not been good friends since I shot six of his hens."

"And the fifth?"

"I know him of old. He says I stole his shotgun."

"And do you object to the sixth and last?"

"I decidedly do. It isn't four days since I got ready to throw him off a wood dock."

"Wouldn't it be safe for you to dispense with a jury and let the Court try the case?"

"No, sir!" was the decided reply: "I don't say that I've got anything in particular against this Court but this Court may have formed an opinion that I am the man who bagged his twenty-six game fowls one night last month. I've heard that he had his suspicions."

The case was adjourned to procure six jurymen from the city.—Detroit Free Press.

THE Battle Mountain Messenger has the following: "The Nevada Central has secured the contract of moving 200 tons of freight—milling machinery—from San Francisco to Gold Mountain by way of Battle Mountain and Ledlie Station. It will be taken as far as Ledlie on the cars, at which point it will be transferred to the necessary number of teams required to transport it the balance of the distance. Their freighting business is steadily increasing, and the prospects are excellent for a rushing business next year, as a number of old mining camps south of here are showing renewed life."

A GIRL should hesitate to give her promise to any man for whom she is constantly making mental apologies. The manners which annoy her will not be altered by marriage; and, if she is ashamed of them, be the poor fellow ever so good, ever so rich, ever so commendable as an honest man, she will not be able to fulfill her vow of honoring him; and in the end she will not love him—for shame kills love, while pride only awakens it.

A MEDICAL journal says that a man can cure himself of colic by simply standing upside down. If you would rather stand upside down than have the colic, try it.

"You wouldn't take a man's last cent for a cigar, would you?" "Certainly I would," replied the proprietor. "Well, here it is then," passing over a cent, "give me a cigar."

ALL reports to the contrary, the ice crop for 1881 has not yet been damaged by frost.

Useful Maxims and Safe Counsel.

Attend to your own business first.

If you would not lend do not borrow.

Ten hours labor, daily, and two hours devoted to reading and meditation will accomplish more than fourteen hours' labor.

Wealth without intelligence is not worth having.

Nothing yields so large a net profit on its cost, as true politeness.

If the child is so instructed that he is truly kind, nothing will tend more to make him honest.

Always live within your means, and you are always surrounded by means.

The judicious farmer will always drive his work so that it may not drive him.

The farmer who is giving his wife green wood, cut daily for cooking, will be very likely to give somebody a mortgage.

Lean animals require more food than fleshy ones, and are often ready, but never fit to die.

Good crops and perfect animals cannot be produced from poor seed and imperfect ancestors.

"Like produces like." An animal well wintered is half summered.

It is cheaper and easier to maintain a vigorous physical condition than to produce it.

Judicious irrigation may be made to quadruple production.

Interval lands, needing draining, are generally more productive when drained than higher lands.

In the selection of a farm, avoid large streams, and seek an abundance of perennial springs.

It was not the Devil.

Rowland Hill was always annoyed when there happened to be any noise in the chapel, or when anything occured to divert the attention of his hearers from what he was saying. On one occasion, a few days before his death, he was preaching to one of the most crowded congregations that ever assembled to hear him. In the middle of his discourse he observed a commotion in the gallery. For some time he took no notice of it, but finding it increasing he paused in his sermon and, looking in the direction in which the confusion prevailed, he exclaimed: "What is the matter there? The devil seems to have got among you." A plain, country-looking man immediately started to his feet, and addressing Mr. Hill in reply, said: "No, sir, it arn't the devil as is doing it; it's a fat lady wot's fainted; and she's a werry fat 'un, sir, as don't seem likely to come to again in a hurry." "Oh, that's it, is it?" observed Mr. Hill, drawing his hand across his chin; "then I beg the lady's pardon—and the devil's too."

HE gracefully accepted: "I assure you, gentlemen," said the convict upon entering the prison, "that the place has sought me, and not I the place. My own affairs really demanded all my time and attention, and I may truly say that my selection to fill this place was an entire surprise. Had I consulted my own interest, I should have peremptorily declined to serve, but as I am in the hands of my friends, I see no other course than to submit."

WHAT a talent for statistics some people have. It is announced that the paid Bank of England notes in seven years number 94,000,000, and that placed in a pile the mass would be eight miles high, or, if joined end to end, would form a ribbon 15,000 miles long. But who wants to pile them up or join them end to end?

THE Burns monument trustees of Ayr, Scotland, have completed the purchase of the cottage in which Robert Burns was born. The builbing has hitherto been used as a public house. It is to be converted into a museum, in which relics of the poet will be gathered together. The price of the house and ground was $50,000.

IN a Berlin newspaper we read these words, which sound very natural to American ears: "It is a beautiful thing thing to die for Fatherland; it is a still greater privilege, however, to live for Fatherland; but the best thing that can happen to a man is to be appointed army contractor for Fatherland."

THE emigration from Canada to this country is probably far greater than is generally supposed. The Bankers' magazine gives the number for several years as follows: In 1874 the number arriving was 32,560; in 1875, 24,051; in 1877, 21,916; in 1878, 25,563, and in 1879, 31,568.

THE attitude of the Catholic church in Irish affairs is reported to be that of absolute non-interference. The Pope is said to have recently exhorted Bishops to keep strictly within the laws of the country where they may be located, on all questions of local order or politics.

IT is suspected by thoughtful fathers that the circumstance that the Infanta's cradle cost $4,000 brings no joy or comfort to Alfonso when Mrs. Al. snakes him out of bed at 3 a. m. to light the gas-stove and warm the baby's fodder.

THE TROUBLES IN IRELAND.

Recent dispatches from Dublin tell fully of the great excitement that has been provoked there by the determination of the British Government to prosecute the head men of the Land League. It is recognized on every hand, apparently, that what was the other day only an agitation for resistance to the payment of rent has suddenly become a moral revolt not only against the payment of rent but against obedience to all laws and to the hitherto acknowledged authorities. Peasant proprietorship and such other proposed remedies for Irish troubles are now heard of no more, but schemes for resistance to British "misrule"—and all rule is misrule in this sense—are the staple of popular eloquence. One speaker is apparently disposed to consider that it will be an ideal condition of things when landlords are "shot like partridges," and Mr. Parnell proposes "legislative independence," and advises his hearers to appeal to this country for organized assistance for "the purpose of breaking the yoke" of British oppression. It is clear from all this that the movement sweeps forward rapidly, and must soon put hostile forces face to face in the field if the Land League movement is prepared to fight England elsewhere than on its oratorical platforms; for the failure of the prosecutions, which is already foreseen, must lead to the use of force.

CALIFORNIA PETROLEUM.

Great efforts have been made of late to bring about the fulfillment of Prof. Silliman's prediction, that California would ultimately be the largest oil producing country in the world. The oil region consists of a section of Coast Range Mountains covering 200,000 acres, and extending from Santa Cruz to Santa Barbara, a distance of 550 miles. During the past four years the Pacific Coast Oil Company have got control of the most of this territory under long leases and within the past year they have sunk wells which yield good results, built pumping works and refineries, laid down pipe lines, and established factories for the production of casks and barrels. They have now about a score of wells, and hope soon to be able to supply not only the markets of Nevada, California, and Oregon, which require 3,500,000 gallons yearly, but Japan, China, Java, Australia and Mexico, which require perhaps ten times as much oil.

THE New York Engineering and Mining Journal says: "The State Line gold mine, of Nevada, we understand, is being placed here. The mine has long been spoken of as good property, situated in an expensive, out-of-the-way place. Some of the reports we have heard of its enormous value come through interested sources and should be taken cum grano salis."

This last is doubtless good advice; nevertheless, we know of our own personal knowledge that the State Line is a ledge of immense proportions—that many thousands of tons of ore can be almost shoveled out of it without the use of powder—and we have pretty good reasons to believe that all of this ore carries gold in fair paying quantities though the ledge is situated in such an out-of-the-way place. In a straight, northeasterly course, the State Line mine is about 80 miles distant from this place; by the traveled road, via Lida Valley, it is about 40 miles further.

The latest insult to the United States comes from Chile, where, it is alleged, an officer of the army improved some public occasion to trample upon the American flag and apply to it the most opprobrious epithets. It is urged that the United States is in no condition to go to war with Chile at the present time; that, in fact, the latter belligerent little power has a single iron-clad which could knock our whole navy into smithereens. Well, if that's so, as is probable, let us say never a word. What is a mere windy insult anyway when divided around among fifty million of free American people? It wouldn't be a taste for half that many.

THE Financial Report closes an article on American shipping as follows: Let ships have an open registry here; let us buy them where we please and make them ours, and one of the greatest restrictions on American commerce will have been removed.

THE return of Gladstone to power has not checked the exodus from England as it was hoped to do. There have been this year 2,353 emigrants registered in outward-bound vessels from Liverpool more than in 1879.

A THEOLOGICAL QUESTION.

Religionists, especially those of the Methodist Church, are just now greatly interested in an important heresy case about to be put on church trial in Chicago. The Sacramento Record-Union, of the 10th, discusses the points at issue at considerable length. The subject matter is one to enlist the attention of the secular as well as the clerical of all denominations whose religion is based on the Bible or any part of it. We shall merely endeavor to give the points at issue without any attempt to argue on the merits.

The alleged heretic is the Rev. H. W. Thomas, for the past three years the able and popular pastor of the Centenary M. E. Church at Chicago. He has heretofore received warning that he was preaching unorthodox theology, and must stop it or be brought to account. The warning had no effect.

The Dr. differs from the old theologiana on these points: the nature of the Atonement, the nature and duration of future punishment, and the plenary inspiration of the Bible.

An extract or two from his farewell sermon will give an idea of his views. Touching the first point, he says: "Now, take the doctrine of Atonement-I believe it. But I do not believe the old penal butcher theory of the Atonement, where you make Jesus Christ a sinner, and punish him for sin, and execute the penalty of a broken law upon a man who had never broken it, in order that those who had broken it could be pardoned. To me such a theory simply distorts, overthrows and undermines the very root-ideas of justice and morality. * I believe in God's great moral government over men, and I believe He came forth in Jesus Christ that He might further the ends of that government and bring peace and harmony among all His children as far as may be after the law; but I no not believe that any penalty was ever executed upon the innocent Jesus Christ."

In regard to the doctrine of Eternal Punishment, he said he fully believed in punishment after death for men who die in their sins. Also, that the law that punishes sin was essentially eternal. But "I do not believe the old, literal, terrible ideas of a hell-fire, in which the bodies of men and women shall be consciously tortured forever. I do not see how any man of good sense can believe it at this day."

The third point on which he declared his difference from the Church was the theory of plenary inspiration of the Bible. He stated by way of preface that he believed "that the Holy Scriptures contain all that is essential for salvation, so that whatever is not taught therein, or cannot be proved thereby, should not be regarded of any account. I believe that. I believe that God has spoken to us in the Holy Scriptures. I believe they contain a revelation of His will—a clear, unequivocal law of human duty. I believe it. I believe implicitly in the teachings of Jesus Christ. I don't suppose that in all instances we have the exact words in which the Savior spoke. But I do suppose and believe this: that we have the consensus, or substance—the spirit—of His teachings. But I don't believe that all parts of the Scriptures are equally inspired. I don't believe that the Old Testament throughout is critically and literally infallible, and I don't see how any man with the facts of literature before him can believe it. I don't believe in the literal rule of inspiration, as applied to all parts of the Scriptures, and to apply that rule is simply to incumber ourselves with difficulties, and to attempt to prove what is utterly impossible; to burden ourselves in a way that we cannot go forward, and to put clubs in the hands of infidels with which to break our heads. And I won't take positions which in my mind are not in a degree rational and tenable, and I won't waste the balance of my little life standing out on picket lines from which I know I must be driven in when the attack comes."

Those are the points on which the Dr. is to be tried. The arguments by which he supports his views cannot be given in our limited space. We will say that we do not believe the Dr. is much if any in advance of a very great many thinking people, both in and out of church membership.

ON Friday night of last week, a drunken brute named Job Draper murdered a drunken women named Ellen Draper, with whom he had been living for a couple of years and called his wife, the couple being camped about four miles from Bodie on the Bridgeport road at the time of the murder. He beat and kicked her to death, both being drunk at the time. The murderer is in custody.

AT a Mormon conference in Liverpool recently there were 345 members present. It was reported that sixty-eight members have been received into their ranks within the last six months.

THE Bentonian says there are three hundred tons of freight at Wadsworth awaiting transportation to Gold Mountain. The freight comprises hoisting works and a quartz mill.

ELECTION AND OTHER MATTERS.

The exact result of the late election is not yet fully determined as regards this and some other States. Enough has been ascertained, however, to make it certain that Garfield has not less than 213 of the 389 electoral votes. In this State Hancock gets at least five out of the six electoral votes, the majorities being about 190. Terry, one of the Hancock electors, runs so far behind his ticket as to make it quite sure he is defeated and one of the Republicans is elected in his place. The Republicans have 41 or 42 of the Assemblymen and a majority in the Senate, and will therefore choose the next U. S. Senator. Pacheco leads Leach about 140 votes, or enough to make his (Pacheco's) election certain. Oregon gives Garfield about 500 majority; Nevada, California and New Jersey are the only Northern States favorable to Hancock. The National House of Representatives is Republican by a small majority, while the Senate is very nearly if not quite a tie.

Chairman Barnum and John Kelly talk of contesting the New York election; but Tilden and other leading Democrats denounce the scheme, and nothing is likely to come of it. That State gives Garfield 22,000 majority.

The investigation of the Morey forgery business is going on, and is watched with the greatest interest. Two of the witnesses whose testimony went to prove the letter genuine are under arrest for perjury.

LETTER FROM BENTON.

BENTON, Nov. 11th, 1880.

MESSRS. EDITORS—You have doubtless already heard of a recent discovery of gold near the mouth of Hutch's Cañon in Esmeralda County, Nevada, and about fifteen miles from this place. The find is a rich one; but knowing how readily the mining community of this county will pick up any discovery at a distance and magnify its importance until the excited imagination wreaths it into a mineral discovery of dense magnitude and marvelous proportions, your correspondent visited the new diggings yesterday and gave them a careful inspection—so far as superficial observation is licensed to form an opinion.

It has long been known that gold has existed in small quantities at this point; but until now a careful prospect has never been made. The country in the neighborhood is smothered in iron formation and the ground has been trodden and stumbled over by prospectors and others for years, like many other localities in California have heretofore been, before an absolute rich find was developed.

On Sunday last a wood-chopper named Clifford went out from his cabin to take his accustomed Sabbath stroll and, perhaps, to meditate. He came upon this same iron indication where he had, perhaps, before often trod. Impulse or something else induced him to devote a little energy and time to investigation and the result was that he entered the assay office of the Indian Queen on that evening with a few specimens which he desired assayed. But little attention was paid to what he had or what he thought or what he said. However he contracted with Willie Yaney to assay his rock for half his location when he made it. Putnam Taney, the assayer proper, who probably was busy at the time, suggested the propriety of throwing the "specimens" into the waste dump. But our wood-chopping prospector seemed to have become imbued with some enthusiasm, and thinking that his quartz was not being properly treated, went to his cabin and by process of pounding horned out quite a handsome showing. If the gold came from his claim, the claim was rich—that was a self-evident proposition. Before the evening had passed, a sale, a purchase, and a transfer had been effected; Will Adams, Jr., and Put Yaney becoming the owners of the wood chopper's claim. At the mouth of Hutch's Cañon a mining enthusiasm at once spread with rapidity and has already reached as far as this camp. Claims were rapidly staked off and recorded, and at this writing a distance of two miles up and down the cañon is now on record and has become negotiable property.

The surface indications are good. The ledge can be readily traced for a distance of half a mile, and from cañon to cañon it is clearly three feet wide, and the walls in which it is encased are clear, beautiful, and distinct. Your correspondent has seen assays which go well up in the hundreds.

These are the plain facts. What the discovery may prove to be remains to be demonstrated. A tunnel has been started on the original find to tap the vein at distance of about thirty feet below the surface. If the same class of ore is discovered at that point as assays have already been made from, the gold mines in the mouth of Hutch's Cañon will prove to be of wonderful richness. These gold discoveries could not be better located for all the natural advantages, wood and water, in abundance. The ore is free and will be worked readily by simple amalgamation in pans.

M.

JOHN T. RAYMOND had a curious experience at Lincoln, Nebraska, while acting in the trial scene as Col. Sellers. Two dogs began to fight in the center of the theater, and all attention was instantly diverted from the stage to the fight. "I move we suspend proceedings in this Court," said Raymond, "and I'll bet a dollar on the white dog." "I'll take you," cried a man in the audience. The white dog won, the dollar was passed across the footlights to Mr. Raymond, and the acting of the play resumed.

Sharp, the Stage Robber, Re-captured.

A special from Aurora to the Bodie Free Press says: "When Sharp left the Aurora jail he went over Middle Hill, across the race track, six miles east from town, on the Benton road. He was heavily shackled and, to be free from the weight of the balls—fifteen pounds—was his first duty. He seated himself upon a rock and commenced pounding away on the rivets of the shackles. There was no way to cut them and he had nothing at hand to do the work if there was, so he had to resort to the slow and tedious job of crystalizing the steel. The work was long and monotonous but he kept it up for a long time, until the fastenings dropped off and he was free to increase his speed. When this was accomplished Sharp says he was the happiest man in the State. He was determined to make his escape and would travel as fast as his legs could take him. The night was dark, but he took the route to Frank Shaw's (Adobe Meadows) and was at that point in a short time. After a drink of water he made for Black Lake and then to a wood camp, four miles west of Benton. At the ranch he got something to eat, but kept aloof from humanity as much as possible and trudged on his way. He was weary and foot-sore, but what was that to him who was fleeing from a long term in the penitentiary. After leaving the wood camp he took a cut across the hills to Candelaria, about forty-five miles, arriving there about dark Sunday night. Officer Alex. McLean heard of a man coming in with a blanket on his arm and went in search of him, and in a short time found him sitting down behind a boarding-house some distance east of McKissack's saloon, about 8 o'clock. Sharp was immediately recognized, and without any resistance he allowed himself to be arrested. His object in going to Candelaria was to get assistance from a man named Willoughby, who was in jail with Sharp a short while ago.

The prisoner was kept in Candelaria that night and was brought to Aurora yesterday in charge of officer McLean. Sharp says he has had a hard trip and has suffered several deaths. He is securely locked in an iron cell, where the officers in charge say he will remain until he is taken to his room at the State Prison. Sharp looks very bad from the effects of his long and hurried trip. The anxiety, lack of food and rapid traveling have taken a great deal of flesh from his frame, and he is broken down in spirits. He has given up all hope of making another escape, and says the penitentiary will claim him for its own.

Fire in a Bodie Mine.

At 1:30 o'clock this morning the Goodshaw hoisting works were discovered to be on fire, and in less than half an hour the entire building was consumed. At the time of the fire there was no one in the hoisting works but the engineer, a man named Parker. Captain Buckley, who resided within a few feet of the works, saw the blaze and immediately got out of bed and rushed into the works. He gave the alarm to the men in the mine and then endeavored to reach the engine, but the fire prevented him from approaching, and he was soon driven from the building. The fire originated near the engine, but from what cause it is impossible to state at this hour, as the engineer could not be found. It is possible that he was asleep when the blaze commenced. Great precaution was always taken to prevent a fire, and the hose was attached to the pumps at all times.

The Babcock engine was brought up after some time had expired and the water turned into the mouth of the shaft. No other water could be brought into play.

There are four men on the night shift, and it is hardly probable that they can escape with their lives, as there is no connection with other mines. They were at work in a drift from a winze on the 660 level. The winze is deep and at the bottom of which is a sump containing about four feet of water. If they had the presence of mind to build a bulkhead, air sufficient to keep them alive for twenty-four hours could be retained. The names of the men in the mine are Duncan McCrae, Jackson, Smith and another man whose name our reporter could not learn.

The timbers of the shaft, at this hour, 3:30 A. M., are burning rapidly in spite of the efforts of many willing hands. The works of the Goodshaw were large and substantial, and the loss will be heavy.—Bodie Free Press, Nov. 9.

HOMER ITEMS.—The Mining Index of November 6 has the following:

Lundy is growing rapidly. Houses are gowing up on every hand, and the streets are being graded into respectable thoroughfares. There is a busy air all through the town that denotes general prosperity. Nearly everybody is at work, and loafers are very scarce. The extensive improvements being made by the Lundy Reduction Works and the May Lundy Company are putting new life into the community.

A. J. Howk, F. W. Pike, A. A. Travis and others are making a wagon road from the lower end of Lundy Lake into Lake Cañon. They are also making a branch road to come around the Lake to the town of Lundy. Twenty-five men are employed on the work, which is superintended by Mr. Howk. It will take several weeks' time and several hundred dollars to complete the road.

Three arastras of the Lundy Reduction Works are completed and will be started up to day. The running gear and framework of the other three is in position, and they will be ready to run in a few more days. The roasters are finished, and one charge of Mocking Bird ore has been roasted. The big wheel has been tried, and works splendidly.

Work in the Homer mine has all been concentrated in the west crossent, which will be continued till the Piute vein is tapped. For the next two months operations will be mainly directed towards opening the Piute and Shoshone ledges and placing them in condition for stoping in the Spring. Supplies and timbers for the Winter are nearly all laid in.

Pitchblende in Colorado.

Some three years ago an intelligent mineralogist discovered specimens of pitchblende on the waste dumps of Denver City, Colorado, and, recognizing the value of the mineral, gathered a quantity and sent it to Swansea, where it brought five shillings a pound, or at the rate of $5,500 a ton. To what extent the mineral occurs in that region does not appear, but the incident affords another illustration of the facility with which unscientific miners may throw away minerals of more value than those they are looking for.

Pitchblende, or uraninite, is an oxide of uranium, obtained in Saxony and Bohemia, and used in fine glass making. Glass colored with uranium has the peculiar property of showing green when looked at, although perfectly and purely yellow when looked through.

ALIAS SUMMONS.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT OF THIRD Township, in the County of Inyo, State of California. Frank Broder, Plaintiff, v. Wm. Dickenson, Defendant.

The People of the State of California send greeting to Wm. Dickenson, Defendant: You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named Plaintiff, in the Justice's Court of Third Township, County of Inyo, State of California, and to answer before the Justice at his office in said Township, the complaint filed therein, within five days (exclusive of the day of service), after the service on you of this summons—if served within the Township in which this action is brought; or, if served out of said Township, but in said County, within ten days; or, within twenty days if served elsewhere.

The said action is brought to recover judgment against Defendant and in favor of Plaintiff for the sum of Sixty Dollars, and interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent per annum from October 1, 1880, due on a promissory note given in the third Township in said County June 23, 1880, and payable October 1, 1880, together with costs of suit, as will more fully appear by the complaint filed herein, to which reference is hereby made.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to so appear and answer said complaint, as above required, said Plaintiff will take judgment against you for the sum of $60 and interest, together with costs of suit.

Make legal service and due return hereof.

Given under my hand this First day of November, 1880.

THOMAS PARKER,
Justice of the Peace of said Township.

REDDY & CONKLIN, Attorneys for Plaintiff.

Had the Sand.

The other day a youngish, long haired, lantern jawed, typical tramp with a grip sack, stepped boldly into this office. "A book agent!" thought one. "Wants to enlarge photographs," mentally exclaimed the rest, and each individual shrunk into himself, as it were, as if to escape a chilly blast.

But it wasn't a book agent, neither was it a photograph enlarger. Far better it had been either or both—at least a dollar's worth!

It was a lantern jawed young man who had "sand"—to sell.

"Gentl*emen*," said he, "I've got here a preparation to prevent kerosene lamps from explodin'. I give you my word, gentl*emen*, taint possible for no lamp to explode with my preventative. I'm introducin' it in every house; sellin' it to everybody."

No one spoke; the silence deepened painfully; a more assiduous force never stood at cases. Again the young man lifted the pall of silence. He said:

"Gentl*emen*, I don't want to interrupt your work, but I pledge you my word this preparation will transact the gases from coal oil so you couldn't set the oil afire. Ef you'll let me take a lamp full of oil, I'll prove it and won't charge you a cent."

Then he was told to go ahead. Screwing the burner from a lamp, he carefully immersed in the oil therein a red flannel bag full of the preparation to "transact" coal oil gases. One or perhaps two little air bubbles rose to the surface of the clear liquid. The young man pledged his word he had never seen a better article of kerosene than that—"so free from inflammatory and delirious gases." Lighting the saturated wick, previously withdrawn for the purpose, he soused the whole hat-full of bright flame into the open lamp. There wasn't any explosion. On the contrary, the flame was instantly extinguished! According to all current coal oil traditions, this was a bold trick. Anyway, the young man made a dollar by it and other similar tests proving that some people know but little about kerosene, after all. The "light" thus thrown on the subject might be valued at about $1 by some seekers after knowledge. The young man kindly proffered to "fix" every lamp in the office on the same terms and guarantee them for a year. On account of the guarantee this offer was declined. It is a notable fact that, notwithstanding the gas "transacting" power of the little red flannel bag, the lamp, when restored to its normal condition, burned as brightly as ever. But the young man included that in his general guarantee. He also said a "green" flannel bag could be used if preferred. Of course this was no covert reflection on the mental condition of purchasers of the petroleum gas transacter—it was merely an affable suggestion, that was all.

Then he departed, going south to supply the suffering people in that direction with a long felt want, and at the same time, do what he could to restore public confidence in kerosene lamps in general. He hurried off somewhat so as to get to Lone Pine before they lit the lamps for the evening. Perhaps he was afraid somebody would get "blowed up."

Then some experiments were instituted in this office. Some of the oil surrounding the little red flannel bag was poured upon the "stone," and flame applied to it in various ways to induce ignition. It wouldn't ignite at all. Evidently the gases had been effectually "transacted;" the young man was no fraud, and insurance rates would come down. The same thing was tried with oil that had never surrounded a flannel bag of the transacter. That wouldn't burn a bit more than the safety article! Then came the final experiment, and to which everything had been tending for some time. The little red flannel bag was fished out. When it was cut open there was a subdued sort of an explosion—but it was not the contents of the red flannel bag that exploded.

The commonest kind of sand won't explode—you need not be the least afraid of a bushel of it.

BUHRSTONE.—Mr. S. D. Woodbull has laid upon our table a sample of what appears to be genuine buhrstone, apparently equal if not superior to the French article, which is so largely imported into the United States for millstone purposes. The sample comes from Mazourka Cañon, here close at hand, and in which is found such a great variety of valuable minerals and geological productions, of which this buhrstone may not prove the least valuable. We read that "buhrstone is a cellular, siliceous rock, flinty in texture, and found mostly in connection with tertiary rocks. It is apparently formed through the action of silicious solutions on pre-existing fossiliferous beds, the solutions removing the fossils and leaving cavities." The sample is to be submitted to satisfactory tests.

HOW HE WON.—Uncle Pap Walker, down at Olancha—who claims credit for a Democratic victory in his precinct, whereby two Democrats beat ten Republicans through not opening the polls—accounts for the defeat of Leach for the reason that many Democrats who voted for Pacheco were under the impression that his name was Pat. Chayco.

RECOVERING.—The many friends of Mr. C. F. O'Brion will be pleased to learn that he is surely, though slowly, recovering from the dangerous illness which, a few weeks ago, enforced him to quit this section for the benefits of a lower altitude. He is with his family at San José.

SUPERIOR COURT.—His Honor John A. Hannah called Court this morning at 10 o'clock, the Sheriff and Clerk present. A Grand Jury of twenty-five was drawn, returnable on Monday, the 6th day of December next.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

Proceedings - Bills Allowed, Etc.

MONDAY, November 1, 1880.

On the above named day J. R. Westerville, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, appeared at 2 o'clock P. M., and no quorum being present the Board of Supervisors was adjourned till Wednesday, November 3, 1880, at 2 o'clock P. M.

THURSDAY, Nov. 4.

The Board of Supervisors of Inyo County met pursuant to adjournment at 10 o'clock A. M., J. R. Westerville, C. Meysan and David Olds present; proceeded with business as follows:

WHEREAS, The Board of Supervisors at their May session (1880), under and by virtue of an Act of the Legislature entitled "An Act for the Government of Counties," did create funds known as the Salary Fund, General Expense Fund and Annual Hospital Fund; and,

WHEREAS, The Supreme Court of the State of California has declared said Act unconstitutional, thereby annulling the act of said Board creating said funds; and,

WHEREAS, Warrants have been drawn upon said several funds; it is therefore Ordered—That the order heretofore made creating said funds is hereby rescinded; and the Auditor of said county is hereby directed to call in and take up all warrants heretofore issued on said funds, and in lieu and stead thereof, as the same may be surrendered to him, issue warrants upon the Expense Fund for all warrants heretofore drawn upon the General Expense and Salary Funds; and issue warrants upon the Hospital Fund for all warrants heretofore drawn upon the Annual Hospital Fund. Said lieu warrants to bear same date as those surrendered, and be numbered successively in the respective order in which they were issued. And the Treasurer of said county is instructed to register the warrants so issued so that the lieu warrants will retain the order of payment in which they were originally registered.

Board adjourned until Friday, November 5, 1880, at 9 o'clock A. M.

FRIDAY, November 5.

GREEN MONSTER.—Work on this property, which has been going on for some time under the superintendence of A. Wingard, Esq., was suspended on the 10th instant, by order of the managers—the Independence Mill & Mining Co., of San Francisco. From the information at hand this action was unfortunate at the present time, just on top of an important development. The ledge has long had the reputation of being a very large and powerful one, and the recent work shows vein matter sixteen feet in width. On the 10th a crosscut had opened an ore body four feet in width, showing well. A lot of this has been sent to the company's office for assay, and the probabilities are that the work of development will shortly go ahead again.

OFFICERS.—The following officers were, on Saturday night last, duly installed by Oasis Lodge, No. 352, I. O. G. T. (at Bishop Creek), for the term commencing November 1st: Frank Parker, W. C. T., (re-elected); Eliza McCrosky, W. R. H. S.; Katie Hughes, W. L. H. S.; Addie Inman, W. V. T.; Wm. Hull, W. S.; P. W. Forbes, W. A. S.; Frank White, W. F. S.; H. M. White, W. T.; Nellie Hughes, W. M.; Stanton Powers, W. D. M.; Joseph Love, W. I. G.; Frank Inman, W. O. G.; Wm. Matlock, W. C.; J. C. Mills, P. W. C. T.; J. C. Mills, L. D.

MIXED.—The Rescue, organ of the Grand Lodge of Good Templars, deadheads ministers of the Gospel and Superior Judges. It has been changed in form, and under a new manager, is now published in San Francisco instead of Los Angeles. It also appears to have a new mailing monkey, else one who is given to mixing things. To our Superior Judge he addresses the paper in these words: "Rev. John A. Hannah," etc., and our local preacher thus: "Hon. F. M. Willis," etc. Perhaps that's the new m. m.'s way of getting even on deadheads.

Troublous Times at Benton.

By private letter the True Fissure learns of a shooting affray which happened in Benton on the 26th of last month, in which Jim Millner, Gus Millner and Dan Ashley were engaged. There has been bad blood between the parties for some time on account of a law suit. On the day mentioned the Millners went to Ashley's saloon, and after having a few angry words the trouble began, Ashley firing the first shot. They all had six-shooters, and all of them emptied their pistols. After the trouble was over, it was discovered that Jim Millner was shot in the fleshy part of the left arm, and that a ball had struck him just over the heart, but that a package of letters in his vest pocket had stopped it. Pat Guilfoyle, who was under arrest for beating a man over the head with a beer glass, and who rushed in to see the fun, caught a stray bullet in his leg, and wished he had been kept in jail instead of being out on his own recognizance. The men were only a few feet apart at the time of the shooting, and the local paper is so ashamed of the bad marksmanship displayed that it does'nt say a word about the matter. No arrests. N. Daniels and James Watterson, respectively Justice of the Peace and Postmaster at Benton, had a quarrel last week, and both pulled their guns. No shooting, however.—Candelaria True Fissure.

Messrs. Harris & Rhine, Independence, Cal.:

DEAR SIRS—The undersigned, President of the German Benevolent Society, begs leave to call your attention to this truly benevolent institution, founded in the early days of California, and being now in the 27th year of its existence. The Society was formed to carry out three objects viz.: to assist poor and worthy or deserving people by support, to find employment for those out of work, and to cure those who are stricken down with sickness. For the latter purpose the Society owns a magnificent Hospital, surrounded by extensive grounds, where all patients are under the charge of excellent physicians and a consulting board of the most eminent medical talent of this city. The Society has expended for hospital and grounds the sum of $188,895.

The object of this communication is to propose to you to act as agent for this Society, either personally or through one of your employees, suited for such position, for the purpose of enlisting new members.

The monthly fee is only one dollar and the initiation fee on becoming a member two dollars. Only healthy persons can become members, and only Germans or those who speak that language, also their wives and children. Any member who meets with sickness is treated in the hospital without any expense to him until he has been restored to health. All persons who are not members, or can not become such, not speaking the German language, are admitted for medical treatment in the hospital at as low terms as it is possible to make them.

In this city we have about 3,000 members, but throughout the interior only about 300. It is our aim to increase the number of members throughout the State to make the hospital as much as possible self-sustaining, to enable us to extend the charitable department in this benevolent institution. For the trifling sum of one dollar per month members have the best aid and care in the German Hospital.

Frequently sick people in the country are crippled for life by false treatment from incompetent doctors, or even brought to a premature death. Only too late do they find out that if they had become members they would have been restored to health, and their earnings of years would not have gone into the pockets of inexperienced doctors, as the hospital employs only the best physicians. If there are no earnings, the employers and the friends of the sick are generally called upon to pay for his support. All this can be avoided, if the employers would vigorously enforce the rule, now introduced in most of San Francisco's establishments, that every man employed should belong to a relief society in order that in case of sickness he might be well cared for and not be reduced to the rather humiliating necessity of asking aid from the purses of his employer and his friends.

Persons of all nations of the age of 50 years or over are admitted as pensioners for life by paying a certain sum to be agreed upon to the society. They receive a home at the hospital, first-class board, washing and attendance in in case of sickness, free of any expense.

To enable Germans and others who do not know of the existence of this institution, neither of the hospital nor its great advantages, to become members, I have addressed you the above, and hope that you will cheerfully accept the agency and do all in your power to further the interests of this society by enlisting new members, and recommending our hospital to those who may be compelled to seek medical aid.

Your Obedient Servant,
JULS. BANDMANN,
President G. G. B. S.

IT IS AN ACCEPTED AUTHORITY ON ALL questions relating to the great mining industries of the country. It is the oldest publication of its class in America, thoroughly independent; being of the trade and not in it, occupies a just and impartial position; which enables it to advise and teach without fear or favor. It devotes much space to questions bearing upon economical management of mines, and from time to time illustrates the more important improvements in mining machinery and engineering methods. Special attention is given to reliable mining news from all parts of the country, which is gathered by an efficicient corps of correspondents in every section, and from an extended exchange list. The metal and ore markets, and gold, silver and miscellaneous stocks are reported and commented upon weekly by experienced financiers, who are unbiased by private interests, and upon these matters it is accepted as a reliable guide and unfailing instructor. Gives statistics of production of coal and iron, and of our great gold, silver and other mines. Its scientific notes are an epitome of the latest researches, its trade reports full, and its editorials sagacious and comprehensive. It enjoys the widest circulation and greatest influence of any journal of its class in the world; its patrons and readers comprising the most select and intelligent men in every quarter.

Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 4—north 38 deg 30 min west 1 15; descending into gulch, commence ascending 4 32; ridge bears southwest; 12 80 main ridge of mountain bears west, commence descending; 22 72 "Post 6 N E mine" on steep rocky side hill; post set in a hole in the rock, from which an old prospecting cut 11 ft long x4½ ft wide from its face bears north 50 deg east 29 chs. "Post 4 Ventura mine" bears north 71 deg east 11 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 5—north 71 deg east 11 "Post 4 Ventura mine;" 4 81 "Post 7 New Enterprise mine" and Post of Ventura mine; 6.92 road, Citizens' grade; 9 52 "Post 1 Ventura mine;" 9 63 "Post 1 New Enterprise mine," place of beginning, containing 20 55-100 acres.

SURVEY OF CONNECTING LINE.

Commenced at "Post 2 New Enterprise mine." Thence, var 15 deg 55 min east, south 11 deg east 3.03 "Post 5 Armagh mine;" north 79 deg east 10 60 point on W. B. line of the Ygnacio mine; north 11 deg west 12 50 to "U. S. Mineral Monument," which when computed gives for a direct closing line from "Post 2 New Enterprise mine" "Armagh U. S. Mineral Monument" north 36 deg 52 min east 14 21 chs.

DESCRIPTION OF THE ARMAGH U. S. MINERAL MONUMENT:

Said Mineral Monument as described in the field notes of survey of the Armagh mine is built on the apex of a red rocky point at the intersection of Ygnacio Ravine and Cerro Gordo Cañon and very precisely on the west boundary line of, and distant 17.51 chains from the southwest corner stake of the Ygnacio mine, as patented. At this point caused a hole to be drilled in the rock to a depth of 9 inches in which drove a piece of gas pipe 1½ in in diameter by 16 inches long. On top of gas pipe set a post 4x4 inches square by 4 feet long, around which built a monument of rocks 5 feet high by 5 feet in diameter at its base. Marked the top of the post "U. S. Mineral Monument. Erected January 30, 1880, by Wm. Crapo, U. S. Deputy Mineral Surveyor, under authority of the U. S. Surveyor General for California." From said post to Mineral Monument, with a variation 15 deg 55 min E. the extreme end of the rocky bluff on which the Mineral Monument is situated bears N 25 deg W 17 links. The east edge of ridge at the top of a vertical face 7½ feet high bears N 60 deg E .07 links. The northeast corner of an old adobe vaso chimney, a Mexican furnace for smelting silver and lead ores, bears S 38 deg 16 min W 16 links. The middle of the Belshaw toll road at a point where it turns out of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N 81¾ deg W 1.06 chains. The middle of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N 62 links. The northwest corner of Rafael Diaz' house bears S 38 deg 23 min E 1.58 chains. An old well 70 feet deep on north side of cañon bears N 58 deg 20 min W 1.93 chains.

Magnetic variation 15 deg 50 min east, containing 20 55-100 acres.

The location of this mine is recorded in the Recorder's office of Cerro Gordo Mining District in Book —— of ——. The adjoining claimants are the Ventura and Armagh mines.

Any and all persons claiming adversely any portion of said New Enterprise mine or surface ground are required to file their adverse claims with the Register of the United States Land Office at Bodie, in the State of California, during the sixty days period of publication hereof, or they will be barred by virtue of the provisions of the Statute.

A Feat in Pronunciation.

The following rather curious piece of composition was recently placed upon the black-board of a teachers' institute in Vermont and a price of a Webster's offered to any person who could read it and pronounce every word correctly. The book was not carried off, however, as twelve was the lowest number of mistakes in pronunciation made: "A sacrilegious son of Belial, who suffered from bronchitis, having exhausted his finances in order to make good the deficit, resolved to ally himself to a comely, lenient, and docile young lady of the Malay or caucasian race. He accordingly purchsed a calliope and coral necklace of the chameleon hue, and securing a suite of rooms at a principal hotel, he engaged the head waiter as his coadjutor. He then dispatched a letter of the most unexceptional caligraphy extant, inviting the young lady to a matinee. She revolted at the idea, refused to consider herself sacrificable to his desires, and sent a polite note of refusal, on receiving which he procured a carbine and a bowie knife, said that he would not now forge fetters hymeneal with the queen, went to an isolated spot, severed his jugular vein and discharged the contents of his carbine in his abdomen. The debris was removed by the coroner." The mistakes in pronunciation were made on the following words: Sacrilegious, Belial, bronchitis, exhausted, finances, deficit, comely, lenient, docile, Malay, calliope, chameleon, suite, coadjutor, caligraphy, matinee, sacrificable, carbine, hymeneal, isolated, jugular, ahd debris.

A New York Dilemma.

They are again discussing the assessment question in New York. There is a mining company there which has what is generally believed to be a very good mine and those who know most about it are not discouraged because the working capital of the company has been expended upon it without the discovery of a bonanza. They are confident that the expenditure of just a little more money would result in the opening up of an ore body and the paying of dividends. Unfortunately, however, the laws of New York do not permit the levying of assessments, hence the shareholders in the mine in question must either apandon it or take up a collection, so to speak. It is, however, very certain thst a voluntary subscription would only result in a few putting up the coin in order that the many might divide the dividends. It is probable that a few more dilemmas like this will result in a change in the assessment laws. The Legislature might at least pass a law allowing the stockholders to assess themselves by a majority vote of stock. This would perhaps satisfy those who do not like to see Trustees shorting and assessing the mine they are running.

MRS. ARNOLD, the sole surviving sister of "Stonewall" Jackson, now lives at Buckhannon, West Virginia. She was throughout the war a faithful Unionist, although every member of her family except one—a young nephew—was a Secessionist. For her brother she entertains the reverence of an undying love and affection, and she insists that it was with extreme reluctance and profound misgiving that he took up arms against his country. He declared that he never would go outside of Virginia to fight; he voted against the ordinance of secession in old Virginia, and urged his sister to use her influence to keep West Virginia fast to the Union. A profoundly religious man, he was wont to say, even after he had taken up the sword: "If we are right God will prosper us; if we are wrong God will destroy us."

THE case of R. R. Parkinson, charged with illegal voting, has been transferred to the United States Supreme Court, Judges Sawyer and Hillyer failing to agree.

Mining Engineers.

The title of Mining Engineer is conferrred by a school of science, indicating that the student has pursued a full course of mining engineering and has graduated creditably. It is just the same as M. D., Ph. B., A. B., etc., in this respect. But as we see a good many add the M. D. to their names who are mere quacks, so also are there many with an M. E. who are just as much quacks.

Nobody is entitled to the name who has not had it conferred upon him by a legitimate institution. He may call himself an assayer, surveyor, or expert, if he chooses, but legitimately, not mining engineer. The medical profession jealously guards its title, and makes it hot for those who wrongfully assume it when possible. The mining engineers, let the quacks in their line go, thinking their employers are sufficiently punished from the mere fact of employing them.

In reality there are very few mining engineers, and the present number is not annually increased to any material extent. Our own American colleges having mining schools are the University of California; School of Mines, Columbia College, New York; Rensslaer Polytechnic School, Troy, N. Y. There are also the Lawrence School, Harvard College; Stevens' Institute of Technology, Hoboken; Sheffield School, Yale College, and a few others of less importance. The graduating classes at any of these institutions are exceedingly small, the largest only turning out half a dozen or less a year. The foreign schools do not send us many mining engineers, but they usualy send pretty thorough ones.

There is no doubt that we need more good mining engineers than we have, as there is always a demand for men of thorough practical education and skill to conduct our mines. These men should be encouraged in every way to come among us. But this is no reason why every assayer, superintendent, foreman or mineral surveyor who chooses should take to himself the suffix M. E. Those who do are sure to misrepresent the profession, and it is this fact which has frequently brought discredit on a useful and highly cultivated class.

We have seen reports on mines from self-styled mining engineers that were perfect curiosities of illiteracy and psuedo-science, abounding in recklessly applied geological and mineralogical terms, and written without any regard whatever to the rules of grammar. The presence of bad spelling and garbled scientific phraseology in a report is in itself sufficient evidence that the writer is destitute of thorough scientific training since it is a moral impossibility that any graduate of a respectable school should fail in the rudimentary branches of education. We saw, not many months since, a manuscript report on a mining property in this State signed with the writer's name and M. E. after it, and on the fhe first page was a photograph of its author. This was surrounded by flourishes without number, and was evidently intended to embellish the report. It preceded the diagrams and sections, which were well drawn, but the photograph was apparently of more importance in this "mining engineer's" opinion. It advertised him.

First-class mining engineers receive high pay for their services, and it is this which causes so many imitations. The spurious article reaches its level in time but is apt to do great harm before this downfall occurs.—Mining and Scientific Press.

MILTON ANTHONY SHARP was last Thursday sentenced to twenty years in the State Prison. Before sentence was pronounced Sharp made a plea for leniency. H spoke full twenty minutes. Referring to his late attempted escape, he asked the Court to take into consideration man's love of liberty, and begged the Judge not to be too hard on him. The language used by the prisoner was the best, and showed that his education had not been neglected. Sharp was taken to Carson last night. —Esmeralda Herald.

THOSE who stand on the high places of the earth understand not what necessity, what suffering, means; they know not what it is to a noble mind to be obliged, like the worms, to crawl upon the earth for nourishment, because it has not the strength to endure famine. Life moves around them with so much grace, beauty and splendor; they drink of life's sweetest wine, and dance in a charming intoxication. They find nothing within them which can enable them to understand the real sufferings of the poor.

UNDER the United States laws a publisher of a newspaper is not obliged to stop the paper of any subscriber until all arrears are paid. It makes no difference whether the paper is taken from the office or not, the publisher can collect pay for it until all arrearages are paid. Subscribers in arrears who have no property liable to attachment and decline to pay, can be arrested for fraud.

THE recent large advance in lead and copper has greatly stimulated exploration and developement in this class of mines; which promises to become one of the most important branches of mining on the coast.

DE LESSEPS considers it prudent to delay in his canal scheme until after the meeting of Congress in December, when he will know whether American opposition will be likely to interfere with his project.

THE Democrats have a majority on joint ballot of 31 in the Nevada Legislature.

Outspoken.

In speaking of Hawkins, the slayer of Robbins, the Free Press gives the minions of the law a rough shot, as follows: Hawkins is at heart a cold-blooded murderer and is as incorrupt and unprincipled as possible. His story of the shooting as published is false in almost every particular. His removal from the Bridgeport jail to Bodie and then to Aurora, has developed the fact that the officers hereabouts are particularly active in shielding red handed murderers from the arm of justice, and putting the county to unnecessary expense. The respectable people are not looked after and protected half so carefully as the murderers. He would have been safer at the county seat than in Aurora's jail, where prisoners walk out at pleasure. The people of the Big Meadows without exception wanted to hang Mr. Hawkins and save the expense of a mock trial. Hawkins was on trial in Inyo county a few years ago for stealing a band of horses, and was driven from Reno by the "601," as the editor of the S-News is aware. To be brief: Hawkins ought not to live in Mono county. The tax-payers are growing weary of paying out money to protect men who ought to hang. And they will not submit much longer.—Esmeralda Herald.

A Humorous Turn.

Happy is the mind which is so constituted that it can give a humorous turn to everything. We all know how it brightens up things generally to have a lively, witty companion who sees the ridiculous points of things, and who can turn an annoyance into an occasion for laughter. It does a great deal better to laugh over some domestic mishaps than to cry or scold over them. Many homes and lives are dull because they are allowed to become too deeply impressed with a sense of the cares and responsibilities of life to recognize its bright, and especially its mirthful side. Into such a household, good, but dull, the advent of a witty, humorous friend is like sunshine on a cloudy day.

An impatient question may sometimes be turned aside by a witty retort. Some children have a peculiar faculty for giving a humorous turn to things when they are reproved. It does just as well oftentimes to laugh things off as to scold them off. Laughter is better than tears. Let us have a little more of it at home. We certainly need it there.

Mint Statistics.

The Director of the Mint has prepared an estimate of the amount of gold and silver coin in the United States on October 1, 1880. The amount of gold coin is estimated at $369,881,003, an increase over the amount on June 30, 1879, of $83,300,000, of which $66,700,000 were coined at the mint, and $16,600,000 were imports. The total silver coin is placed at about $150,000,000, an increase since June 30, 1879, of over $37,000,000, of which $34,700,000 were from coinage and $3,000,000 net imports. The total gold and silver coin amounted to $519,680,338. Of this amount $139,658,893 were in the Treasury, and consisted of $67,000,000 gold and nearly $72,500,000 silver. The amount in circulation was $380,051,444, of which $302,676,709 were in gold and $77,344,735 silver. There were in the Treasury on October 1, $68,040,540, uncoined gold bullion, and $5,557,759 silver bullion, making a total of $593,378,638 coin and bullion available for coinage in the United States.

IN answer to the Phrenological Journal, which tells a man that in choosing a wife he must be governed by her chin, the Cleveland Voice says: "The worst of it is that after having chosen a wife one is apt to keep on being governed the same way."

THE CARSON AND COLORADO.

A representative of the Candelaria True Fissure interviewed D. A. Bender, who was in Candelaria last week, with regard to the railroad to that place. He said: The road will surely be built, and that as soon as it is possible to push it through. The first thing to do will be to lay the track to Walker Lake, which will completed some time about the 1st of February; not before. There is a delay on account of the rails not arriving as expected. When the company decided to build a narrow-guage instead of a wide guage road, a shipload of 45-pound rails was transferred to an Oregon company, they agreeing to replace the heavy iron with a like amount of 35-pound rails. Instead of that they sent a cargo of 32-pound iron, which has been refused as too light for this country. A vessel is now due with a cargo of the required 35-pound iron, and as soon as it can be landed and delivered the work of laying the track will be resumed. The track is now completed a distance of ten miles, and the engine Candelaria works splendidly in running over it. She is a beauty. If the coming Winter is open the grading will be continued right through to Candelaria and on as far as the Gold Mountain country, where the road will terminate for a time. The road will not come directly to Candelaria, but will pass to the east of the town, and on out by Columbus. A branch road will be run up to Candelaria for the transportation of freight and passengers. Mr. Bender is Vice-President of the Esmeralda County Bank, and is well posted on the plans of the Carson and Colorado Railroad.

THE Marysville Appeal, referring to the operations of the debris dam on the Yuba, says that the contractors and engineers are more than delighted with the apparent successful completion of the work, and have no fear of the future. The water was piled to one-third the height of the dam, and is going through in about forty places without washing. It is filling crevices with sand and slickens just as was expected, and carrying but little matter through in solution. Engineer Dolsen took a glassful of water from above the dam and another from the stream after it had ran through. The deposit that was made by the water taken from above the dam was six times as much as that made by the water that had passed through the great brush filter.

A SEVENTH edition of that much praised book, Copp's Hand-Book of Mining Law, will soon be out: to contain the State and Territorial mining Laws, and instructions how to examine title, in addition to the lists of Government patents, digest of decisions, and other good things in previous editions. Its editor, Henry N. Copp, of Washington, D. C., has an extensive work on the same subject in press. It will give in full the Land Office and Court dicisions now in force, and be the authority on United States mining law without doubt.

THE New York Times advocates a National subscription to provide a perpetual fund, whose annual income shall be enjoyed during life, and the non-holding of Federal office by the oldest ex-President of the United States. The minimum capital of the fund shall be $250,000, and its probable income not less than $12,500. The details as to the management of such a trust are a matter for after consideration.

IRISH journals claim that there are now 28,000 British troops on that island to preserve order. The royal constabulary consists of 11,448 men, besides. The entire army of the United States falls below 28,000 men; yet with a small population in comparison with ours, England is conducting the wars in South Africa and Afghanistan, besides employing a sufficient force in India to keep down insurrection.

It is a noticeable circumstance that immigrants are coming to the United States in unusually large numbers. Enough Europeans to found a new State arrive each year. A portion of these people engage in manufactures in the Eastetn States, but the larger portion come West, some stopping in the cities and towns while others go upon Government lands.

HUNDREDS of men in San Francisco are starting for Arizona to mine at wages less than paid Chinamen. They say they propose to run the Chinamen out of the country by underbidding them.

THE California Legislature will meet on Monday, January 3d.

POLITICAL EDUCATION.

There has recently been established with headquarters at New York, a new association under the name of Society for Political Education, non-partisan in its character and, in the best sense, national in its scope. The society is to be managed by an executive committee of twenty-five members selected from different sections of the United States, many of them being experts in different departments of the study of social and political science. A singular feature of its organization is that it has no President, and thus avoids the risk of having its aims confounded with the idiosyncracies of any individual chosen for its head. The correspondence of the society is to be divided among five secretaries, one each for the East, including the Middle States, the Northwest, the Southeast, the Southwest, and the Pacific slope. Its Executive Committee, which is not yet filled up, now comprises Prof. W. G. Sumner, of Yale College, New Haven; Hon. David A. Wells, of Norwich, Conn.; Charles Francis Adams, Jr., of Boston, Mass.; Geo. S. Coe, Horace White, Geo. Haven Putnam, R. R. Bowker, E. M. Shepard and R. L. Dugdale, of New York City; Franklin MacVeagh and M. L. Scudder, Jr., of Chicago, Ill.; Gen. Bradley T. Johnson, of Richmond, Va.; Hon. John H. Ames, of Lincoln, Nebraska; A. Sydney Biddle, of Philadelphia,, Pa.; A. Mitchel, of New Orleans, La.; Geo. Mason, of Galveston, Texas; and Peter Hamilton, of Mobile, Ala.

The society haa selected as a course of readings for the first year, Nordhoff's "Politics for Young Americans," Prof. Perry's "Introduction to Political Economy," Johnson's "History of American Politics," and McAdam's "Alphabet in Finance." These volumes in a cheap edition, costing only $3, are specially published for the society as a Library of Political Education, boxed in sets with uniform binding, and bearing the name of the society on the cover. G. P. Putnam's Sons, of New York, and Johnson, McClurg & Co., of Chicago, will be the publishing agents. Next year another set of books will be selected, and it is planned to extend the Library gradually according to the growth of the society, until attention shal have been given to the whole range of subjects comprised under Social Science. In addition to the Library, a series of tracts are to be published on economic and political subjects, including among the earlier ones; "What is a Bank?" by Edward Atkinson, of Boston; and Turgot's celebrated essay "On the Creation and Distriontion of Wealth." This latter work, by the great finance Minister of Louis XVI., although first published in 1766, and acknowledged to be one of the most valuable contributions ever made to economic literature, has never been published in the United States and, so far as known, only once translated and published in the English language, and then most imperfectly, in a pamphlet which appeared in London at the beginning of the present century.

The valuable pamphlets of the Honest Money League of the Northwest, which did such strong service for the country during its activity, will be continued, including a revision of Mr. Thos. M. Nichol's effective pamphlet on "Honest Money." It is proposed to also issue lists, recommending desirable courses of reading on economic and political subjects. Two such are now ready: a list af books on political economy and political science, recommended by Prof. Sumner, of Yale, and another on the Constitution of the United States, prepared by W. E. Foster, Librarian of the Providence Public Library.

There are two classes of membership—active and co-operating. Active members are such persons as will pledge themselves to read the books recommended by the society for the official year and included in its "Library of Political Education," and will pay an annual fee of 50 cents (which may be forwarded in postage stamps). Any person may become a co-operating member on the annual payment of $5 or more, which shall entitle such member to receive all the tracts published by the society. There are no other conditions or obligations of membership. The number of tracts to be published annually will depend chiefly on the amount of subscriptions received. It is also desired to establish a fund for furthering the general work of the society and for facilitating the placing of the above books and kindred literature in public and school libraries.

Members of the society will, in addition to receiving without charge the tracts issued each year under the direction of the executive committee and the above specified recommendations of courses of reading, have the advantage of coming into direct communication with a body of experts who will aid them in selecting judiciously from the mass of books which issue yearly from the press, and will enable them to obtain certain classes of books at lower rates than if bought singly of the booksellers.

Coast Notes.

The San Francisco Chronicle of the 13th collates the following:

Diphtheria has appeared in Petaluma.

Visalia police are cleaning out the opium dens.

Napa grape-crushers are beginning on the second crop.

Tombstone, A. T., is to have a prize fight, $200 a side.

Small-pox is killing the Indians near Jackson, Amador county.

A number of citizens of Lundy are about to apply for a patent for a town site.

The Yosemite stage on the Madera route has withdrawn for the season.

R. J. Hendricks Sr., committed suicide on Friday at Elk Head, Douglass county, Or.

Herman C. Bush, aged upwards of 80 years, an old resident of San Jose, died on Saturday of apoplexy.

Christian Reider, a prominent citizen of Sutter Creek, fell into a well last Tuesday and was drowned.

It is estimated that at least $3,000 changed hands in Merced on the result of the Presidential contest.

The Galloway canal extension in Kern county is progressing, with about thirty teams and as many men.

A man named Haugh of Beaver Lake (Or.) killed four panthers with four successive shots in the course of two hours.

Pedro Guzman of Gilroy, a sheep herder, died on Monday last from the effects of a bite by a venomous insect received while asleep on the ground.

Francis Guerero was bucked from a horse at Cushin's station, San Luis Obispo county, last week, fell on his head and broke his neck, dying instantly.

The Common Council of San José are taking steps towards the improvement of the channel of the Guadalupe river to prevent overflow in times of high water.

Phil. McDonald, an old resident of Williamson valley, Northern Arizona, shot and killed Frank Richardson. The homicide took place at the polls November 2d.

Three fires ars reported near San José, destroying John Trimble's barn, loss $1500; Martin Lameson's barn, loss $3,000, and C. Hertel's barn, loss $400.

Edward Murphy, who shot and killed T. D. French, near Heppner, Umatilla county (Or.) several months ago, has been convicted of murder in the first degree.

A miner named Dagan was fatally injured at the Tioga mine, Bodie, on Tuesday morning, a rock falling three hundred feet and striking him between the shoulders.

A drunken Indian in Austin, Nev., lately attacked some Chinese. Other Indians tied the drunken brave with ropes and carried him up the hillside to one of the wickiups.

The Russian murderer, Messie, who escaped from jail at Port Townsend ten days ago, was caught Nanaimo (B. C.) on Saturday. He is in jail waiting extradition.

Albert Van Voohees, convicted of burglary in the first degree, for entering the house of George Osborn in October last, was sentenced on Thursday at Napa to three years in the State Prison.

A few days ago, while some persons were engaged in scalding hogs near Eugene City (Or.) a little son of H. Wisman accidently fell into a tank of boiling water and was fatally burned.

Johnny and Rosa Hall, Redding school children, were on their way home the other afternoon when they saw a large California lion a few feet distant, which, however, did not molest them.

The Amador Dispatch says that a number of Indians, camped near Slabtown, were poisoned a few days ago by eating toadstools in mistake for mushrooms, and two of them died from the effects.

On Monday a farmer named Henderson, who resides about three miles below Merced, on Bear Creek, set fire to the stubble in his field, and burned his barn and entire stock of hay, barley and seed wheat.

Samuel Manuel, aged 17, a brakeman on the Nevada narrow guage railroad, was terribly mangled on Monday while coupling cars. He died on Tuesday, after undergoing amputation of both legs.

Samuel Freeman was thrown from a load of wood on a steep grade near Lexington, Santa Clara county, on Saturday last. Among other injuries received a sliver three inches in length was driven into one eye.

In the Superior Court at Merced on Monday all the indictments pending against E. J. Hamilton, County Recorder, were dismissed. All the indictments against ex-Treasurer Turner, except three, were also dismissed.

The residence of John M. Fulweiler, at Auburn, Placer county, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday morning. Loss about $4,000; uninsured. Mr. Fulweiler had his hands and feet severely blistered while saving furniture.

Last week, near Placerville, Pasqual Varroza was attacked by a bull and thrown on a pile of rubbish, resulting in a fracture of the left arm. He would probably have been killed but for Eugene Piaggi, who was armed with a pitchfork.

Charles Reed, an old Mexican war veteran, was found dead from exposure and starvation in an unoccupied house near Merced on Wednesday. He was a silversmith, aged about 65, and came to California from Philadelphia.

W. A. Branch of Modesto, son of Thomas Branch, a banker of Richmond, Va., has been acquitted of assault to murder John Burdett, who lies dangerously ill, shot through the lung. Branch was fired upon twice before he delivered his fire.

Last week, in a Watsonville saloon, Tom Martin accidently shot L. Strube in the leg, and also shot himself in the hand. The wounds are painful, but no serious results are anticipated. Martin was arrested, and is now out on bonds of $1,000.

RARE ELEPHANTS.—There are now on exhibition in this city (New York) two peculiar elephants brought from the mountains of the Malay peninsula, about 800 miles from Singapore. They are remarkable for their small size, being respectively 28 and 36 inches tall, and for being covered with a thick coat of bristly hair or wool. They are supposed to be from five to seven years old. In size they resemble the extinct elephants of Malta, and in covering, those of Siberia. Their woolly coat is attributed to the circumstance that they live high upon the mountains where the climate is cold. The species appears to be all but unknown to naturalists, this pair being the first that has survived the passage through the heated low country to the coast and the subsequent journey by sea. The sailors on the steamer which brought them—the Oxfordshire, Capt. C. P. Jones—named them Prince and Sidney. They are described as playful and harmless, and they keep their little trunks stretched out to strangers to be petted. They love to be scratched on the under side of the trunk close to the mouth, and they hold their trunks curled back over their heads as long as anyone scratches them. Like elephants of larger growth, they keep up a swaying motion, either sidewise or forward and backward. When a visitor lets one of the little fellows take his hand he delicately curls his proboscis around it and carries it gently to his mouth. Then he trumpets his satisfaction.—Scientific American.

MAMMOTH ITEMS.—Since last report Mammoth tunnel No. 3 has been advanced 9 feet, giving a total length of 1712 feet. The upraise from this tunnel has been advanced 38 feet; total hight 190 feet. No. 6 crosscut has been driven 13 feet. The intermediate drift north, 138 feet above No. 3 tunnel, has been advanced 13 feet.

Distance made this week in the H. L. & M. C. Joint Tunnel, 29 feet, giving a total length of 1271 feet. The rock is still hard, but breaking well, and next weeks run promises to be the best made in many weeks.

Work in the Lisbon mine is progressing as usual, but work at the arastra is suspended for a time on account of the waterwheel being loaded with ice. —Mammoth Herald.

THE Supreme Court has just decided a question of considerable interest to business men and officers of the law. Where personal property has been attached by a creditor upon which another creditor has a chattle mortgage, it has been held that the Sheriff or attatching officer must pay to the mortgage creditor the amount of his mortgage, and if he fails to do so he will be liable to the mortgage creditor to the amount of his mortgage.

THE number of people alive a year ago, but dead now from not knowing it was loaded, is estimated at 500, with a few old shot-guns yet to hear from.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 20.....1880

SATURDAY, Nov. 13, 1880.

Board met at the usual hour, all the members present; proceeded to business as a Board of Canvassers of the returns for Inyo county of the General Election held on the 2d instant.

In the returns from Bishop Creek Precinct, it was shown by the tally list that A. S. Mizener had received 158 votes, but no office being designated therefor, said votes were not counted.

In like manner, the tally list from Round Valley showed that Seth G. Sneden had received 24 votes, S. C. Swan 24 votes and F. M. Randolph 14 votes, but no office being designated therefor in either case, said votes were not counted.

The following votes were ordered entered of record, to wit: [First comes the votes for Presidential Electors, Congressman and Assemblyman, all exactly corresponding with the tabulated statement published last week, except that Pacheco, for Congressman, received a total of 327 votes instead of 326, as shown in the said table; with this correction, it is unnecessary to republish the table of votes for those officers, except to recapitulate the totals.—EDS.]

Garfield Electors, 321; Hancock Electors, 274. Congressman — Pacheco, 327; Leach, 260; Godfrey, 3. Assemblyman—Wasson, 324; Ferguson, 267. Total number of votes polled, 595.

For Supervisor, 2d District—E. Robinson, 114; Wm. Barrows, 74.

Justices of the Peace—Independence —Thos. Parker, 35. Big Pine—Thos. W. Beasely and James Mitchell, each 22. Darwin and Lookout—S. P. Reed, 28. Bishop Creek—F. M. Randolph, 55; S. G. Sneden, 154, C. S. Swan, 98. Fish Springs—D. B. Curtis, 13. Lone Pine—Sherman Stevens, 47.

Road Overseers—Independence—W. M. Boyd, 59: Lafe Gill, 49. Lone Pine—C. C. Harvey, 13; G. H. Palmer, 12. Big Pine—S. G. McMurry, 28; H. H. Burt, 20. Darwin—J. Barnes, 12.

Constables — Independence— John Murphy, 12. Lone Pine— Timothy Richards, 28. Big Pine—H. Grover, 24. Lookout—Frank Fitzgerald, 8.

And certificates of election were ordered to be issued accordingly.

Ordered, That Harris & Rhine be authorized to procure sufficient sheet lead to re-line the eve water-ways of the Court-house roof; also, a sufficient number of redwood shingles to re-roof the Court-house. And that John Alexander be authorized to supervise the laying of the new roof.

Bill of G. H. Palmer, Road Overseer, laid over.

Bills were allowed as follows:

A. S. Mizener, Road Overseer, District No. 1, $186 72, on the Road Fund.

And the following on the Expense Fund:

Georges Creek Election Board $24; and $30 each to the Round Valley, Bishop Creek, Fish Springs, Independence, Deep Spring, Cerro Gordo and Darwin Election Boards. Supervisors' salaries and mileage—Westerville, $76; Meysan, $66 80; Olds, $102.

Adjourned for the term.

THE STATE MINING BUREAU.—Mr. S. D. Woodhull has forwarded a box of samples of ore, representing a number of mines in this county, to the above named institution. The specimens represent the Ygnacio, Indiana, Golden Wreath, Hirsch, and Deep Spring mines. The samples will be classed, accredited and displayed in the mineralogical department of the Museum. They have been carefully selected and will compare favorably with the gold and silver ores from any part of the Pacific Coast. Collections will be sent on from time to time to represent all the valuable mines in Inyo. This is a move in the right direction. This county with its vast number of rich gold and silver mines should be well represented in the State collection. Miners who wish to place on exhibition samples of their ores, should send them to Mr. Woodhull, who will forward them to the Mining Bureau free of expense. Mr. Henry G. Hanks, State Mineralogist, in his circular, says: It is the intention of the Bureau to make sooner or later a thorough industrial survey of the State. As every county is to a certain extent a mining county, all should be represented, and the prominent men of each are requested to see that the State Museum is provided with a full representation of the mineral resources of the county in which they reside.

GATHERING STATISTICS.—Mr. Percy Thompson, of New York, spent a day or two with us this week in collecting statistics of various kinds for Government records. Mr. Thompson is special agent for the Pacific cost for this purpose under direction of Clarence King. His leading object is to collate mining information, particularly the bullion productions and mining operations and values; but among other things he wants to know something of the criminal operations of the country—how many people have been murdered, how many hung, sent to the Penitentiary and otherwise brought to justice for doing murder. In the matter of homicides, cool murders and the like, is wherein Inyo will shine on the records like a Texas county if a full or half-way full record can be obtained; if the bullion record was relatively as good Inyo would stand mighty well on the big books at Washington.

WEATHER.—Last Monday a remarkably strong, cool and very fresh breeze came down on us from the north, stirring things an inch or more into the ground, and causing profane wayfarers to swear like militia captains. Since then the nights have been freezing cold, but with calm and sunshiny days. So far there has not been a drop of snow or rain in the valley for weeks, and the "wells are all going dry."

DEATH AND AN INQUEST.—On the 14th instant, Justice Sneden, Acting Coroner, held an inquest upon the body of a man named Joseph Edwards, who came to his death under the following circumstances: On the 9th instant, W. C. Long, on his way from Bodie to San Bernardino, where he resides, was encamped some 18 miles this side of Bodie when deceased and another man named Stewart McVay came up. After some other conversation, the two prevailed on Long to haul their blankets, etc., on to Bishop Creek, they themselves to walk as Long's team was heavily loaded. The next day, while proceeding on their journey, deceased became quite unwell, each day growing worse till Sunday, when he died. Long had a front and trail wagon, the former being occupied by his wife and children, the latter by deceased until a short time before his death when the family got out and gave the sick man their place where he could be made more comfortable and where he died. The body was brought on to Bishop Creek where the inquest was held, the following named serving as jurymen, viz: John Doyle, C. McVicar, W. J. Phillippay, John Clark, Gus. McGovern and J. H. Stoutenborough. Their finding was that deceased came to his death on the 14th instant by pneumonia; that he was about 35 years of age, and a native of England, and that his name was Joseph Edwards. It appears further that deceased had no money or other valuables whatever with him; that he was on his way to Darwin; that he was a carpenter by trade; was not a married man; that his mother resided in Los Angeles. Witnesses thought he had been drinking quite heavily just prior to leaving Bodie, a fact that probably aggravated if it did not superinduce the disease with which he died.

FRUITLESS CHASE.— The following item ought to have appeared last week, but did not for sufficient reasons. In our issue of the 6th instant, it was stated that Sharp, the escaped stage robber, had been tracked to this locality. That was an error, for Sharp was then in Candelaria, and had not come in this direction at all; but some other fellow was making an exceedingly devious trail in this direction, and caused a good deal of trouble by so doing. No one here has the remotest idea who or what this track maker was. But J. Y. Ross, a Wells, Fargo messenger, and Frank Brown, of Big Pine, took the trail and ran it like fox hounds to this place. Here they were reinforced by Sheriff J. W. Smith of this county, and the three ran the trail warmly to a point about 25 miles this side of Indian Wells, where they lost it and never more to find it. Pushing on to the Wells, the party laid in wait there till satisfied the Lost Man would never come. Smith and Brown took the back track with a faint hope of jumping him up somewhere, but did not, and so came on home, having had a hard trip. Ross continued on to Mohave, with no better success. The Lost Man stopped at an Indian camp near the lower end of the Lake where, according to Indian testimony, he devoured an immense sight of "hogadie," and wanted to sell them a coat, but which they did not buy. He had a shotgun, and had on a black suit and a white hat. He traveled off the roads most of the time, and with great speed.

GARNETS.—Among the minerals sent to the State Museum were a collection of garnets, found in the formation at at the old San Carlos tunnel. They are of the variety known in minerology as Almandine—an iron alumina garnet. Garnets occur of various shades, from ruby red to brownish red. When transparent they are called precious garnet, and, if not so, common garnet. The best precious garnets are from Ceylon, and Greenland. The garnet is the carbuncle of the ancients. The clear deep red garnets make a rich gem, and are much used. Pulverized garnet is sometimes employed as a substitute for emery.

FIRE IN MAMMOTH.—On Sunday morning last a fire broke out in George Rowan's store in Mammoth City, and, spreading from that to other buildings, was not effectually checked until a large portion of the town was wiped out of existence. Among some forty other heavy losers, we can mention but the following, all former Inyoites: George Rowan's store building, stock, dwelling and furniture, aggregating $7,500, with $3,000 insurance and $250 of clothing etc., saved; James Wales, saloon and dwelling, fixtures and furniture, $3,000; no insurance; Robt. Trigg, furniture, etc., $600.

SCHOOL BOOKS.—The period during which the physiologies and grammars heretofore in use in the schools in this county may be exchanged for the new books expires on the 1st of next month. Children desiring the exchange must obtain an order or certificate from their teacher, or some one of their District Trustees, and forward with the old books to G. H. Hardy, Independence, within the time stated or the exchange will be barred by limitation. The exchange period for all other exchangable books is sixty days from the beginning of the school in which the books are to be used.

THE COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION. This body met on Wednesday last, but as their labors are not yet completed, report of proceedings will be deferred till next issue.

IF anyone is anxious to own an elephant, now is the time to buy. They have to kill 30,000 elephants a year to supply England with ivory, and 70,000 annually to supply the rest of the world. It will thus be understood that elephants must soon become scarce and consequently expensive.

Samuel Paul of Clayton, Contra Costa county, was found dead in his room October 3d. Heart disease was the cause.

The Indians engaged in a deer-drive near Truckee, Nevada county, returned on Thursday last. The number of deer killed was about 150.

Allgemeine Deutsche Unterstuetzungs Gesellschaft.

Messrs. Harris & Rhine, Independence, Cal.:

DEAR SIRS—The undersigned, President of the German Benevolent Society, begs leave to call your attention to this truly benevolent institution, founded in the early days of California, and being now in the 27th year of its existence. The Society was formed to carry out three objects, viz.: to assist poor and worthy or deserving people by support, to find employment for those out of work, and to cure those who are stricken down with sickness. For the latter purpose the Society owns a magnificent Hospital, surrounded by extensive grounds, where all patients are under the charge of excellent physicians and a consulting board of the most eminent medical talent of this city. The Society has expended for hospital and grounds the sum of $188,895.

The object of this communication is to propose to you to act as agent for this Society, either personally or through one of your employees, suited for such position, for the purpose of enlisting new members.

The monthly fee is only one dollar and the initiation fee on becoming a member two dollars. Only healthy persons can become members, and only Germans or those who speak that language, also their wives and children. Any member who meets with sickness is treated in the hospital without any expense to him until he has been restored to health. All persons who are not members, or can not become such, not speaking the German language, are admitted for medical treatment in the hospital at as low terms as it is possible to make them.

In this city we have about 3,000 members, but throughout the interior only about 300. It is our aim to increase the number of members throughout the State to make the hospital as much as possible self-sustaining, to enable us to extend the charitable department in this benevolent institution. For the trifling sum of one dollar per month members have the best aid and care in the German Hospital.

Frequently sick people in the country are crippled for life by false treatment from incompetent doctors, or even brought to a premature death. Only too late do they find out that if they had become members they would have been restored to health, and their earnings of years would not have gone into the pockets of inexperienced doctors, as the hospital employs only the best physicians. If there are no earnings, the employers and the friends of the sick are generally called upon to pay for his support. All this can be avoided, if the employers would vigorously enforce the rule, now introduced in most of San Francisco's establishments, that every man employed should belong to a relief society in order that in case of sickness he might be well cared for and not be reduced to the rather humiliating necessity of asking aid from the purses of his employer and his friends.

Persons of all nations of the age of 50 years or over are admitted as pensioners for life by paying a certain sum to be agreed upon to the society. They receive a home at the hospital, first-class board, washing and attendance in in case of sickness, free of any expense.

To enable Germans and others who do not know of the existence of this institution, neither of the hospital nor its great advantages, to become members, I have addressed you the above, and hope that you will cheerfully accept the agency and do all in your power to further the interests of this society by enlisting new members, and recommending our hospital to those who may be compelled to seek medical aid.

Your Obedient Servant,
JULS. BANDMANN,
President G. G. B. S.

Mining, Metallurgy, Engineering and Science.

RICHARD P. ROTHWELL, C.E., M.E., ROSSITER W. RAYMOND, Ph.D., } Editors.
WILLIAM H. WAHL, Ph. D., Department of Progress in Science and the Arts.

IT IS AN ACCEPTED AUTHORITY ON ALL questions relating to the great mining industries of the country. It is the oldest publication of its class in America, thoroughly independent; being of the trade and not in it, occupies a just and impartial position, which enables it to advise and teach without fear or favor. It devotes much space to questions bearing upon economical management of mines, and from time to time illustrates the more important improvements in mining machinery and engineering methods. Special attention is given to reliable mining news from all parts of the country, which is gathered by an efficicient corps of correspondents in every section, and from an extended exchange list. The metal and ore markets, and gold, silver and miscellaneous stocks are reported and commented upon weekly by experienced financiers, who are unbiased by private interests, and upon these matters it is accepted as a reliable guide and unfailing instructor. Gives statistics of production of coal and iron, and of our great gold, silver and other mines. Its scientific notes are an epitome of the latest researches, its trade reports full, and its editorials sagacious and comprehensive. It enjoys the widest circulation and greatest influence of any journal of its class in the world; its patrons and readers comprising the most select and intelligent men in every quarter.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 20.....1880

SINCE accounts of the ravages of the small-pox are reaching us from the Bay, from Virginia City, Reno and elsewhere, it may not be uninteresting to read a communication from Edward Hine to the Liverpool Mercury, as follows: "I am willing to risk my reputation as a public man if the worst case of small-pox cannot be cured in three days simply by cream of tartar. This is a sure and never failing remedy. One ounce of cream of tartar dissolved in a pint of boiling water to be drank when cold, at short intervals. It can be taken at any time and is a preventative as well as a curative. It is known to have cured in thousands of cases. It never leaves a mark, never causes blindness and always prevents tedious lingering.

THE Elko Mining and Soap Deposit Company have just put a force of men at work upon their mine, and have made arrangements for hauling and shipping 200 tons of the material from Elko to Oakland, California, as soon as the same can be done. Arrangements have also been made for the manufacture of soap on a large scale, at the Oakland Soap Works.

ALIAS SUMMONS.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT OF THIRD Township, in the County of Inyo, State of California. Frank Broder, Plaintiff, v. Wm. Dickenson, Defendant.

The People of the state of California send greeting to Wm. Dickenson, Defendant: You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named Plaintiff, in the Justice's Court of Third Township, County of Inyo, State of California, and to answer before the Justice at his office in said Township, the complaint filed therein, within five days (exclusive of the day of service), after the service on you of this summons—if served within the township in which this action is brought; or, if served out of said Township, but in said County, within ten days; or, within twenty days if served elsewhere.

The said action is brought to recover judgment against Defendant and in favor of Plaintiff for the sum of Sixty Dollars, and interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent per annum from October 1, 1880, due on a promissory note given in the third Township in said County June 23, 1880, and payable October 1, 1880, together with costs of suit, as will more fully appear by the complaint filed herein, to which reference is hereby made.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to so appear and answer said complaint, as above required, said Plaintiff will take judgment against you for the sum of $60 and interest, together with costs of suit.

Make legal service and due return hereof.

Given under my hand this First day of November, 1880. THOMAS PARKER.

NEW ENTERPRISE MINE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Bodie, California, September 8, 1880.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT Thomas Henning, whose postoffice address is Cerro Gordo, Inyo County, California, has this day filed his application for a patent for fifteen hundred linear feet of the NEW ENTERPRISE mine or vein bearing silver, gold, etc., with surface ground six hundred (600) feet in width, situated in Cerro Gordo Mining District, County of Inyo and State of California, and designated by the field notes and official plat on file in this office as Lot No. 39, in Township 16 South, Range 38 East, Mount Diablo Meridian. Said Lot No. 39 being described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a post set in mound of earth on northwest end of line of lode; marked the post "Post 7, New Enterprise mine;" said post is marked on its north side "Post 4 Ventura Mine," being situated on south end of lode of said Ventura mine. From which var. 15 deg. 50 min. E., the middle of Cerro Gordo cañon bears north 30 chs.; the entrance to the New Enterprise tunnel, course of tunnel south 35 deg. east, 135 ft. long, bears south 18 deg. east, 1.21 chs.; a quartz reef 4 ft. high bears south 18½ deg. west 86 chs. Thence, with a var. 15 deg. 50 min. east, south 38 deg. 30 min. east 1.21; quartz vein alongside New Enterprise tunnel—commencing ascending 14.74 summit of ridge bears west 20.50, gulch bears southwest 22.72; post 4 ft. high x4 in. dia. set in mound of earth marking southeast end of line of lode; marked the post "Post 4, New Enterprise mine," from which a pine stump 8 in. in dia. by 10 in. high bears north 43¼ deg. east 33 chs.; a pine tree 6 in. dia. by 4 ft. high bears north 27 deg. east 27 chs.

SURVEY OF EXTERIOR BOUNDARIES.

Commenced at post marked "Post 1, New Enterprise mine," standing in a gulch on north cor. of claim, from which a post marking the southeast cor. of the Ventura mine bears south 71 deg. west 11 chs. Thence, with var. 15 deg. 50 min. east, 1—south 38 deg. 30 min. east 3.18, crossing of road in cañon; commence ascending; 18.71 summit of ridge bears west 20.82 "Post 2 New Enterprise mine," marking the point of junction of the New Enterprise, Silver Wedge and Armagh mines, from which the "Armagh U. S. Mineral Monument" bears by calculation north 36 deg. 52 min. east 14.21 chs. From "Post 2, New Enterprise mine" a pine stump 8 in. in dia. bears north 23 deg. east 39 chs. A pine tree 4 ft. high bears north 71 deg. east 62 chs.; a pine tree 6½ ft. high bears south 50 deg. 14 min. west 57 chs. Thence, with a var. 15 deg. 55 min. east, 2—south 11 deg. east 1.82; descending, "Post 3 New Enterprise mine," on the west boundary line of the Armagh mine, from which "Post 5 Armagh mine" bears south 11 deg. east 1.21 chs. Thence, with a var. 15 deg. 50 min. east, 3—south 71 deg. west 3.94 "Post 4 New Enterprise mine," on southeast end of line of lode; commence descending; 8.75 "Post 5 New Enterprise mine" on south corner of claim; said post is 4½ ft. high x5½ in. in dia. and is set in a mound of rocks and earth 2½ ft. high, from which a pine stump 11 in. high 15 in. in dia. bears north 38 deg. 1 min. east 33 chs.; an old prospecting hole 5 ft. deep x4 ft. square bears south 82 deg. east 51 chs. Thence, with a var. 15 deg. 50 min. east, 4—north 38 deg. 30 min. west 1.15; descending into gulch, commence ascending 4.32; ridge bears southwest; 12.80 main ridge of mountain bears west, commence descending; 22.72 "Post 6 N. E. mine" on steep rocky side hill; post set in a hole in the rock, from which an old prospecting cut 11 ft. long x4½ ft. wide from its face bears north 50 deg. east 29 chs. "Post 4 Ventura mine" bears north 71 deg. east 11 chs. Thence, with a var. 15 deg. 50 min. east, 5—north 71 deg. east 11 "Post 4 Ventura mine;" 4.81 "Post 7 New Enterprise mine" and Post of Ventura mine; 6.92 road, Citizens' grade; 9.52 "Post 1 Ventura mine;" 9.63 "Post 1 New Enterprise mine," place of beginning, containing 20.55-100 acres.

SURVEY OF CONNECTING LINE.

Commenced at "Post 2 New Enterprise mine." Thence, var. 15 deg. 55 min. east, south 11 deg. east 3.03 "Post 5 Armagh mine;" north 79 deg. east 10.60 point on W. B. line of the Ygnacio mine; north 11 deg. west 12.59 to "U. S. Mineral Monument," which when computed gives for a direct closing line from "Post 2 New Enterprise mine" "Armagh U. S. Mineral Monument" north 36 deg. 52 min. east 14.21 chs.

DESCRIPTION OF THE ARMAGH U. S. MINERAL MONUMENT:

Said Mineral Monument as described in the field notes of survey of the Armagh mine is built on the apex of a red rocky point at the intersection of Ygnacio Ravine and Cerro Gordo Cañon and very precisely on the west boundary line of, and distant 17.51 chains from the southwest corner stake of the Ygnacio mine, as patented. At this point caused a hole to be drilled in the rock to a depth of 9 inches in which drove a piece of gas pipe 1 inch in diameter by 16 inches long. On top of gas pipe set a post 4x4 inches square by 4 feet long, around which built a monument of rocks 5 feet high by 5 feet in diameter at its base. Marked the top of the post "U. S. Mineral Monument. Erected January 31, 1880, by Wm. Crapo, U. S. Deputy Mineral Surveyor, under authority of the U. S. Surveyor General for California." From said post to Mineral Monument, with a variation 15 deg. 55 min. E. the extreme end of the rocky bluff in which the Mineral Monument is situated bears N. 25 deg. W. 17 links. The east edge of ridge at the top of a vertical face 7½ feet high bears N. 60 deg. E. .07 links. The northeast corner of an old adobe vaso chimney, a Mexican furnace for smelting silver and lead ores, bears S. 38 deg. 16 min. W. 16 links. The middle of the Belshaw toll road at a point where it turns out of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N. 81¾ deg. W. 1.06 chains. The middle of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N. 62 links. The northwest corner of Rafael Diaz' house bears S. 38 deg. 23 min. E. 1.58 chains. An old well 20 feet deep on north side of cañon bears N. 58 deg. 20 min. W. 1.93 chains.

Magnetic variation 15 deg. 50 min. east, containing 20.55-100 acres.

The location of this mine is recorded in the Recorder's office of Cerro Gordo Mining District, in Book —— of ——. The adjoining claimants are the Ventura and Armagh mines.

Any and all persons claiming adversely any portion of said New Enterprise mine or surface ground are required to file their adverse claims with the Register of the United States Land Office at Bodie, in the State of California, during the sixty days period of publication hereof, or they will be barred by virtue of the provisions of the Statute.

The Obelisk.

There is a lesson in connection with the Obelisk which has not been particularly alluded to in the various notices that have appeared which its presence among us has called forth—the elements of the religions with which it is identified, and its connection with Scriptural history. When it is erected in Central Park, New, York it will then stand a monument of the fulfilment of unerring prophecy.

In the prophecies the utter destruction of the city from whence it originally came is minutely foretold, and the very place where it was quarried is mentioned, Syene, the name of which place also gives the name of the stone of which it is composed, Syenite. This city was on the confines of Newbis, or the "Land of Cush," as named in the Bible. Syene is said to stand directly on the tropical line, and a well was once there where the sun at the Summer solstice shone directly into it without leaving a shadow, at noon on the one day of its highest altitude. The obelisk was originally set up at the city of Heliopolis, on the east bank of the Nile at the Delta. Heliopolis is the Bethshemeth of the Scriptures, both having the identical meaning—"the City of the Sun." The name is sometimes rendered "On," in the Hebrew text, and so mentioned in the Scriptures. In the utter destruction of this city we see the literal fulfilment of the prophesies, not only of this city, but the entire land of Egypt, for Jeremiah and Ezekiel in their denunciation against "all Egypt," mention the cities of Aven, Pibeth, No, Zoan, Noph, and many others, the very sites of which are now unknown.

Obelisks were always erected with religious rites and ceremonies, and the inscriptions were usually panegyries to the "Phrah" (as the hieroglyphical spelling makes King) by whom the shaft was erected. This Phrah, or as rendered in the vulgate, Phraoh, who erected our monolith was probably Pharaoh Thothmes, as his "cartouch" is found upon it.

The city of Pibeseth contained many magnificent temples adorned with obelisks. Its position is now known as Basta. By the Greeks it was known as Bubastes. Its ruins are now plainly discernable. The site of Zoan is also known from the numerous fragments that now strew the ground where that once famous city stood, among the debris several broken obelisks. It is rather singular that the word obelisk does not occur in the Bible, where it should be, and as the Scriptures are now undergoing a revision perhaps the learned scholars will render the Hebrew equivalent correctly, so that the prophecy of Jeremiah shall read thus: "Thus saith the Lord of Hosts, the God of Israel: Behold I will send Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon, and when he cometh he shall smite the land of Egypt. He shall also break the obelisks of Bethshemeth, that is in the land of Egypt, and the temples of the gods of the Egyptians shall be burnt with fire."

The prophecies against the land are literally fulfilled, and nearly all the ruins show the marks of fire, and it is well known that when Cambyses, the Persian conqueror, overran Egypt he took especial pains to destroy the temples with fire; those at Zoan particularly show that this was the principal element in their destruction. Some writers have supposed that Cambyses was the Nebuchadnezzar of the Bible, but to make them identical would produce an anachronism. Bethshemeth or Heliopolis, from whence the Park monolith was taken, was undoubtedly the residence of Joseph from whence he governed the land, for he married a daughter of one of the priests who officiated in the great temple of the sun that stood here, from which the city took its name of City of the Sun. Obliskepolis would have suited it better, for it evidently was a city of obelisks, as nearly all those taken to Europe came from this city. Joseph must have often gazed upon our Park monument as well as Moses, as the city was the seat of learning in ancient Egypt where the latter studied, and perhaps also murdered the Egyptian, for which he had to flee the land, cross the desert and go into Midian, and was fortunate there in finding a wife in the person of Jethro's daughter. Jethro was a priest, as well as Joseph's father-in-law, Potipherah. As the latter was a pagan-priest, and worshiped the sun god, perhaps Moses' father-in-law was also.

Important Ruling Regarding Mining Claims.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office has written a letter to General Hill, of Colorado, announcing an important ruling in regard to the present law regarding the annual expenditure on mining claims. The question submitted by Senator Hill in behalf of one of his constituents was, in substance, whether the Department would recognize as in compliance with the act of last January an expenditure of $100 worth of work between October 10th and 20th, 1879, upon a mining claim located October 1, 1879. Commissioner Williamson, in reply writes as follows: "Under the act of May 10, 1872, section 2,324 of the revised statutes says: 'The annual expenditure for improvements was due within each year, commencing with the date of location, except in regard to claims located prior to the enactment of that law, the expenditures upon which were made due by January 1, 1873, and annually thereafter.' The purpose of the amendatory law of January 22, 1880, was to secure a uniform period within which the annual expenditure should be required on all locations, and it provided that such period should commence on the 1st of January succeeding the date of location of each claim. It therefore follows that a claim located October 1, 1879, requires the expenditure of one hundred dollars' worth of labor or improvements thereon within the calender year of 1880, and that whatever may have been expended during the year 1879 will not answer the expenditure requirements of 1880. It also appears by reason of the change made in the requirements of the act of May, 1872, by the amendatory law of January, that a claim located on any day subsequent to the 1st of January, 1879, requires no further expenditure during the remainder of that year than is made necessary by the local laws." The Commissioner adds that he has inadvertently signed a letter indicating a different construction aforesaid, but the conclusion now given has been reached after careful consideration, and will control his official action.

THE NEW RULING.—The ruling of Land Commissioner Williamson, in his letter to General Hill, of Colorado, which was published in yesterday morning's Sentinel, under a Washington dispatch of the 17th inst., has occasioned no little comment among mining men and prospectors since its publication. The prevailing opinion has been,—and the Commisioner himself, in the same dispatch, is accredited with having put on and sent forth a different construction to the law—that, from the date of doing assesment work, the labor held the claim for one year. By the ruling it is plainly to be seen that from and after the first of January in each year the $100-worth of labor required to hold the ground must be performed, and will make "assessment work" especially lively about Eureka, as a great many persons and corporate bodies hold properties all over the district. The letter does not state specifically that the work shall be done immediately, but to those who have valuable claims it will be apparent that to neglect until late in the Fall their assessment work, jeopardizes their right and title, and mine owners on or about Prospect Mountain will hardly take the chances of neglect.—Eureka Sentinel, Nov. 20.

OSTRICH RANCHING.—It rather seems as though ostrich ranching was to be tried in this State after all. The Bakersfield Californian states that Haggin and Carr seriously contemplate such an enterprise in Kern county, and the Los Angeles Commercial announces that a Mr. Whiting, of South Africa, is now in that city endeavoring to enlist capitalists in an ostrich enterprise. Something should come of these rumors of intention.

A MODEST REQUEST.—Mary: "Oh, if you please, ma'am! the young person next door, her sister's husband's cousin ma'am, is down below, and he says, would you have any objection to me calling the young person over the wall, 'cause followers ain't allowed at her place."—Judy.

"IN what condition was the patriarch Job at the end of his life?" asked a Brooklyn Sunday-school teacher of a quiet-looking boy at the foot of the class. "Dead," calmly replied the quiet-looking boy.

ACROSS THE ISTHMUS.

The question that is now agitating the engineering and commercial circles of the world is whether to dig a ship canal across the Isthmus of Panama or to build a ship railroad, it having become pretty much a settled question that one or the other must be done. Count de Lesseps is contending manfully for his canal project, and claims that he now has his company organized to construct it. Capt. Eads, on the other hand, is driving ahead with the rival project of a railroad, and, we think, will make it go. A late number of the Scientific American contains two full page illustrations of the proposed railway for transporting ships with their cargo across continents. Captain Eads claims by his plan to be able to take loaded ships of the largest tonnage from one ocean to the other across the Isthmus of Panama, as readily as can be done by a canal after the Lessep plan, and at a much less cost for engineering construction. The project is certainly bold and ingenious, and the projector anticipates no serious difficulties in carrying forward his enterprise. The engravings referred to in the Scientific American show the proposed construction of not only the railroad, but the appliances for transferring the ships from the water to the rail.

In addition to the large number of engravings, illustrative of engineering works, inventions and new discoveries which appear weekly, the Scientific American has, during the past year, devoted considerable space to illustrating and describing leading establishments devoted to different manufacturing industries. This feature has added very much to the attractiveness and usefulness of the paper. More than fifty of the most important industrial establishments of our country have been illustrated, and the processes of the different manufactures described in its columns. The Scientific American has been published for more than thirty-four years by Munn & Co., 37 Park Row, N. Y., and has attained a larger weekly circulation than all similar papers published in the country. The publishers assure the public that they have not published less than 50,000 copies a week for several months.

The San Francisco Stock Report says: "It is a fact now too generally known to be kept out of the newspapers, that a movement is on foot to organize in this city an "American Party," which the promoters hope will become a National political party before the next Presidential campaign." This matter has has been openly talked of on the Comstock for months, but was considered too idle for even an item. The Stock Report outlines the policy of the supposed to be forth-coming "American Party:" Citizens who love their country are to be called "Americans" and to be intrusted with the government; foreign-born citizens who identify themselves fully with their adopted country, will form a strong element of the party.

About as tasty and complete a pictorial weekly newspaper as there is published on this side of the water is the San Francisco Wasp. Its large illustrations are really fine—are never broad or vulgar in nature, which is equally true of its reading matter. It is entirely neutral in politics, yet "stirs 'em all up" as occasions offer. It promises a magnificent holiday supplement, and other improvements therefter, and in view of these facts, and the general excellence of the publication we shall next week offer the Wasp and some other worthy periodicals at club rates with The Independent.

Gen. Pope does not think there will be any "trouble with the Utes" till late in the Spring and perhaps not at all "as their lands prove too barren to attract white immigration." There is in that remark a very good but unconscious suggestion of the whole Indian question. It is the same as saying that as long as Indians are free from attempts to rob them of their land there is no trouble with them; and that Indians, treaty or no treaty, cannot expect to hold valuable land against raids by the whites.

Some idea of the business of the Post-office Department may be gathered from the fact that the total revenue during the past fiscal year amounted to $33,-314,479, while the total expenditures were $36,101,820. Truly, we are a letter-writing people.

The Cleveland Herald published the ninety-sixth psalm as a leading editorial on the morning after election, and all the patrons came in to inquire who the editor was that could write such an article.

TREATY WITH CHINA.

It seems, after all the lugubrious predictions that that Chinese Commission would do nothing toward checking Chinese immigration to this country, and that it was only got up for a blind anyway, that it has actually effected about all that could be reasonably expected or desired in the premises. The full text of the terms of the treaty that has been agreed upon between the Commisioners and the Chinese Government has not been given to the public, nor will it be until it comes before the Senate for ratification: but the main points are telegraphed, showing the treaty to be identically the same as proposed in the famous "Fifteen Passenger Bill," and which Hayes vetoed on the ground that it was a direct violation of the Burlingame Treaty. It is understood that the new treaty provides that no master of any vessel owned in whole or in part by any citizen of the United States, or of any foreign country, shall take on board from any port in the Chinese Empire, or other foreign port, any number of Chinese passengers, male or female, in excess of the number of fifteen, to bring them within the jurisdiction of the United States. Any master of a vessel who violates this clause of the treaty shall be considered guilty of a misdemeanor, and subject to penalties to be provided for in the way of fine and imprisonment. It further stipulates that the master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign place shall be required to furnish to the Collector of the district in which he arrives a separate list of all Chinese passengers on board his vessel. This list shall be sworn to, and any evasion or misrepresentation under this stipulation shall be considered a misdemeanor. The fines imposed upon the masters are to be considered liens upon their vessels. The provisions of the present statutes forbidding importation of coolies and for immoral purposes are not affected by the treaty. No Consul or Consular agent of the United States can grant a certificate to any vessel leaving China for this country if she has on board more than fifteen Chinese passengers. Of course it is explicitly stated that the limitations do not apply to persons officially connected with the Chinese Government or to persons rescued from shipwreck. No fears need be entertained but that this treaty will be ratified by the Senate at an early day.

The treaty is intended to prevent further additions to our present Chinese population, but permits all Chinamen now in this country to remain till it suits them to go, while the status of all American citizens now in China or who may go there hereafter, remains as provided for in the Burlingame Treaty. The conditions of inter-commerce remain as heretofore.

The True Fissure says that all the operations in the Mount Diablo mine at Candelaria are confined to prospecting. At every point the workings are showing well. On the third level a drift has been carried west 25 feet, developing a fine ledge of high grade ore all the way. On the intermediate level a three foot ledge was struck, the ore going from $500 to $1,200 to the ton. This ore is being taken out as work progresses, and there is now between 80 and 100 tons of it in the ore-house. "To-day good ore was encountered in the hanging wall at this point. On the first level near the shaft, a ledge of ore has been struck the average assay of which is $414. The east drift going towards the East Mount Diablo is looking favorable. The formation is good and indicates the approach of an ore body. A drift is being run west from the end of the tunnel on the tunnel level along a ledge of good ore, a foot and a half wide. No ore is being taken out except what is necessary to get out of the way in working. There are 55 men employed in and about the mine. The company still has a large surplus of working capital on hand. The result of crushing 2,247 tons of ore was $162 600. The reason for discontinuing the ore crushing was because of the high price charged ($20 per ton) and because the mine was not in exactly the right shape to facilitate the work of extracting the ore. Superintendent Henderson thinks that in 60 days everything can be in readiness for resuming the work of reduction, provided the management think proper to do so."

Senator-elect Mahone, of Virginia, says: "I weigh only 109 pounds, and yet I am told that I am to be the balance of power in the Senate. If so, there will be a very great change, at least in the weight of the important individual who is to play see-saw before that body, as I am told that the Senator who formerly filled that position, Judge Davis, of Illinois, weighs over 300 pounds."

By the failure of an Election Marshal in one of the strongest Republican Districts in Indiana to send in his election returns in proper shape, his party loses one Electoral vote in that State, Hancock becoming winner that much.

MINING DECISIONS.

The mining law does not prohibit the same party from holding more than one claim on the same lode.

A party is not authorized to go within the claim in possession of another party and discover a ledge on which he may base a location.

The location of a third party upon a location outside of the first location but within the second, will probably be recognized as legal.

A locator's record should conform to the actual location on the ground and the proper method to correct a mistake in this matter would be to make a new record.

It cannot properly be stated just how far a locator may deviate from the plain requirements of section 3,624 of the Revised Statutes in making his location and yet save his claim. Strict compliance with the law is the only security with the location.

A distinguished mining expert who was recently in this city, says the Salt Lake Tribune of November 11th, made the statement that it was easier to raise capital in New York to purchase or develop mines in old Mexico than in any State or Territory of the United States. This is one of the mysteries which attends upon mining. Men would put money in Arizona mines when the country was almost unapproachable because of hostile tribes and the want of communications, who will not now invest a dollar there, though they can go to within one day's journey of the property. But they will look with favor on a proposition to put their money where there is a heavy tax on every dollar taken from the mines, where revolutions are endemic and where the whistle of the locomotive has never yet been heard. It is impossible to explain why this is so, but it is so nevertheless, and deserves consideration particularly at this time, because it foreshadows the speedy peopling of Northern Mexico by men from the United States. In eighteen months more the whole border line of Mexico will be flanked by two through railroads. Arizona is swiftly filling up and the natural tendency of the people will be to overflow toward the South. The northern States of Mexico are sparsely populated, and so soon as men from the United States go there in any considerable numbers, they will insist upon a peaceable and stable Government, and will have it even if they have to fight for it. They will not permit some impecunious brigand to get up a revolution merely to make a stake by robbing them. And when the first collision comes where will it stop? It is nothing to start such things but it is the mischief to stop them. Of course if a fight should commence it would be known is San Francisco, St. Louis, New Orleans and Galveston as soon as the wire could flash the news and there would be no lack of volunteer reinforcements from the North. Then the government of Mexico would be forced to interfere and then what?

The Californian for December opens with an article by Dr. John Lord, the eminent historical lecturer, on "Savonarola," one of the most interesting characters in history, who has been called "the Martin Luther of Italy," although Dr. Lord shows great differences in the characters of the two reformers. R. E. Desmond contributes an interesting narrative of "A Brief Visit to Calcutta." Mr. W. C. Bartlett has a graceful paper on "Thoreau in Books and in the Woods," written in complete sympathy with that lover of nature. John Muir, the well known student of mountains and glaciers, gives an article on "The Ancient Glaciers of the Sierra." Joaquin Miller, in "Utopia," follows up a suggestion which he made in a recent number of the Californian of an ideal, communistic city. Mr. Geo. H. H. Redding has been spending "An Evening with Wintoon Indians;" "D. S." has been investigating the alleged voyage of Juan de Fuca, which he pronounces a fraud. C. E. S. Wood tells of "An Unknown Turning-point in the Destiny of the Republic." In the way of stories, Miss Milicent W. Shinn has an artistic study entitled "Their Great Scheme;" Philip Shirley contributes "Not a Success," and W. C. Morrow continues his "Strange Confession," a very interesting serial. The poetry is by Edgar Fawcett, J. P. Widney, and Julia H. S. Bugeia. Mr. J. S. Bacon relates a reminiscence of Rufus Choate. In the "Outcroppings" is a very bright imaginary "Boston Symposium," at which a number of eminent writers are supposed to be present, and make responses. With this number, the Californian completes its first year. For four dollars it can be secured for 1881, and certainly the money could not be invested so as to give greater or more continuous pleasure.

The New York Herald is waging a bitter war against John Kelly, the Boss of Tammany. A movement is on foot to have the municipal government reorganized by the Legislature, and there are indications that Kelly will be shorn of much of his power.

The Constituents of Rocks.

We design under the above heading and in articles to follow hereafter, to aid as far as practicable the prospector and miner in determining the nature of his discoveries. With this object in view we believe the series will be found interesting and valuable.

Rocks are made up of minerals. A few kinds consist of a single mineral alone: as, for example, limestone, which may be either the species calcite or dolomite; quartzite (along with much sandstone) which is quartz. But even the simple kinds are seldom free from other ingredients, and often contain visibly other minerals. Nearly all kinds of rocks are combinations of two or more minerals. They are not definite compounds, but indefinite mixtures, and hardly less indefinite than the mud of a mud-flat. The limits between kinds of rocks are consequently ill-defined. Granite graduates insensibly into gniess, and gniess as insensibly into mica schist and quartzite, syenite into granite, mica schist into hornblende shist; granite also into a compact porphyry-like rock and trachyte; and so it is with many other kinds. This fact is a chief source of the difficulty in studying and defining rocks, especially of the crystalline kinds. The different rocks are not species in the sense in which this word is used in science, but only kinds of rocks.

The minerals which are the chief constituents of rocks are of two classes—the siliceous and the calcareous (quartz and lime). The siliceous are as follows: Quartz, which probably makes up one-third of the rocky material of the earth; the feldspars and the micas and some others. The calcareous species are calcite, or calcium carbonate (carbonate of lime), in various states of impurity; and dolomite, or a lime and magnesia carbonate, which in its rock form is indistinguishable in aspect from calcite. Gypsum (sulphate of lime) is also a constituent.

CLASSES OF ROCKS.

1, Fragmental. A large part of common rocks were formed of sand, or pebbles and sand, and are only consolidated sand-beds or gravel-beds; other related kinds are more or less consolidated mud-beds or clay-beds. The mud-beds of an estuary, or of the shallow seas off a coast, and the stratified sand and gravel accumulations of sea-shore and valley formations, are precisely the kind of material which by consolidation have made the fragmental rocks the most abundant rocks of the earth's surface. Each pebble, grain of sand and constituent part of the mud was derived from pre-existing rocks, and is either an actual fragment from those rocks or else a fragment altered by decomposition. The pebbles, and often the sand, have a worn surface, and this fact, together with the structure of the beds, affords evidence that they are fragmental. They are also the sedimentary rocks of geology, for the material which was for the most part carried and dropped by the waters as sediment is carried and dropped by the waters mainly of the ocean.

2 Crystalline. Other rocks are crystalline. The grains are angular instead won, and they crowd upon or penetrate one another because made in one process of crystallization. They are generally angular over a fractured surface because of the cleavage of planes, like the grains of a surface of broken iron. Granite and white marble are examples of crystalline rocks. When such a rock is distinctly granular there is little difficulty in deciding upon its being a crystalline rock. If too fine grained for a positive conclusion with the aid of a pocket-lens, the doubt may usually be removed by tracing it along to places where it is coarser. Crystalline rocks have received their crystalline texture in different ways:

1 By cooling from fusion. The rocks thus made are called igneous or eruptive rocks; as, for example, lavas or volcanic ejections, and all rocks that, like trap, have come up melted through fissures in the earth's crust. The depth of the liquid source of such eruptions is unknown.

2. By subjection to long-continued heat without fusion, making metamorphic rocks. Through this means fragmental or sedimentary strata, over areas of thousands of square miles and many thousands of feet in depth, have been simultaneously crystallized, turning the beds that were originally made from sand, gravel or mud in to granite and other related rocks, and compact limestone into marble. Where granite has been the result it is probable that the material was sometimes reduced to a pasty state, so that all lines of the original bedding were obliterated. Rocks thus metamorphosed or rendered crystalline are called metamorphic rocks.

The following item appears in the Boise City (Idaho) Statesman of the 11th instant, with a request for all Pacific coast papers to copy: Geo. Meyers, about 60 years old, who has been in this county eight or ten years, and follows teaming, was last seen (Sept. 23d) about two miles beyond Emigrant Springs, on the Kelton road, driving a team of six mules and four horses, and a man well known here by the name of McDonald, riding with him. That night McDonald drove the team into O'Connor's place—Salmon Falls—and told that he had bought the team. McDonald drove the team to Kelton and has hauled a load of goods here, and is now on his way to Wood River. Myers has not been seen or heard of. He has a small band of horses on Dry Creek, ten miles west of here, and his friends are anxious to know what has become of him.

The French republican government has outlined a splendid scheme of territorial acquisition in northern and Western Africa, by the extension of its dominions from Algeria to Senegal, utilizing as far as possible the natural water-ways, and building connecting railroads. This would open up a vast field for French commercial enterprises.

How to Stop a Paper.

Editor Bentonian—If a subscriber to a paper sends the money for a six months' subscription, and the paper is sent after the time has expired, is the subscriber obliged to pay for the extra time, after ordering for six months only? A Reader.

Bishop Creek, November 20.

Of course he must pay for it; of course he must pay for it. Publishers have some rights which the public are bound to respect—besides the right of being abused by every man who reads a borrowed paper. A subscriber having had the benefit of a newspaper, the law says he must pay for it. Nor does the fact that he refuses to receive it from the postoffices stop his obligation to the publisher. And if through any carelessness of the postmaster at the office where the paper is sent a misunderstanding arises between a subscriber and a publisher, the postmaster at once becomes liable to the publisher on his official bonds. The law in this respect is explicit and imperative, and from it there can be no appeal. The object of this law is, that if some subscribers cannot be honest, the Government will force them to be as honest as they can—even if it busts the Postoffice Department up. And, besides, this law is intended to cover that class of subscribers (yourself among the number, perhaps), who will take a paper for a year and a half before they make the startling discovery that they never wanted the paper from the first. In all sincerity we respectfully inform "A Reader" that there is but one way—one honest way—to stop a newspaper: and that is to promptly pay your bill, and then tell the publisher to go to thunder with his paper. The other day a neighbor of ours received a note from a delinquent subscriber which commenced as follows: "Your very impudent letter received." Further on he explained that he had stopped the paper six months ago. Although the writer of the letter considers himself a business man, he seems to have no idea that a newspaper cannot be stopped by simply writing a letter to the office with a request to discontinue. The United States Newspaper Law is very explicit on the subject. It says that a newspaper can be sent until the subscriber pays, and, although he may refuse to take it out of the office, he can be held responsible, and, if he has no property to attach, can be arrested for fraud! Publishers lose a good deal in the course of a year through men who are willing to take a newspaper but hate to pay for it. We again mildly suggest that the best way is to pay up.—Benton Bentonian.

Board of Education Proceedings.

The Inyo County Board of Education met in its second semi-annual session on Wednesday morning of last week, and continued in session until 9 o'clock on the following Saturday evening. All the members present, viz: S. W. Blaisdell, Daniel Crough, P. A. Chalfant, Supt. J. W. Symmes, Secretary, and A. R. Conklin, President.

T. H. Shannon applied for a first grade certificate. After an examination in all the studies pertaining to that grade (21 papers), and having attained an average of 85.1 per cent., the required certificate (first grade State) was granted.

Report of the Secretary, relating to approval of bonds submitted by the several successful bidders to supply text books, and other business connected therewith, was received, considered and adopted as submitted.

The Secretary verbally further reported that Clark & Maynard, to whom was awarded the contract to supply grammars and physiologies, having failed to forward the books, had been twice notified by him of the fact; but, it appearing that an invoice of the books was now on the way, to arrive here in a few days, no action by the Board was deemed necessary.

Renewed certificates were granted as follows: A. B. Hagerman, 1st Grade County on a 1st Grade State; Samuel D. Baker, 1st Grade County on a State Educational Diploma; Miss Etta H. Jackson, 2d Grade County on 2d Grade State.

Ordered, That applications for certificates must hereafter be filed in due form with the Secretary on or before the first day of the regular sessions, or no action would be taken upon them.

A resolution, by Mr. Blaisdell, to reduce the number of questions on each paper from ten to five, was lost.

Moved by Mr. Blaisdell, that the paper on orthography be withdrawn, and, in lieu thereof, the award in that branch be based on the spelling in the written answers to all the questions in general.

Mr. Chalfant moved as a substitute that spelling be stricken from the list of minimum studies (in which less than 60 per cent. of correct answers in any one bars the applicant from further examination), and placed in the general list, in its present distinct form. The substitute was adopted.

Ordered, That all teachers in the county, irrespective of the grade of their respective schools, be requested to give regular instructions in vocal music and industrial drawing, as required by law in all first grade schools. Also, that the Secretary be required to call the attention of District Trustees and teachers to this recommendation.

The day for the first semi-annual meeting of the Board for the year 1881 was fixed for the third Wednesday of May next, to which time the Board adjourned, having been in session three evenings during the four days' term.

RELATING TO EX-INYOITES.—Through different newspaper items, we have the following references to former residents of this county: Judge R. B. Snelling, of Candelaria, is going to Oregon to spend the Winter....Mr. and Mrs. John Langer, of the same place, lost their only child a short time since.... Ramon Montenegro, of the same place, got married the other day....Jerome Hoover is in Louisville, Kentucky, "trying to freeze," as he explains it in a private letter ...Ex-Sheriff Cy. Mulkey is raising fine stock in Montana, and on the 20th of last month sold the following named thoroughbred horses at the prices stated: Patsey Duffy, $2,000; Joe Howell, $1,000; Premium (aged), $1,500, and Nerva Winters, $1,500....Ex-County Clerk Wm. B. Daugherty, now Deputy Controller of Nevada, has invented and patented a "book holder," which is said to be a good thing in itself and likely to be a good thing for the inventor—but we can't afford to puff even a patent pill till we have taken a dose or two by way of test.

GONE BELOW.—A. Wingard, Esq., Superintendent of the Green Monster mine, lately being developed by the Independence M. & M. Co., started for San Francisco a few days since. Mr. Wingard has been identified with mining operations in this county for a good many years, and by his enterprise and pluck has earned the good wishes of all our residents. He is at present engaged with a company being formed to work the Sultana mines Nos. 1 and 2, adjoining the Green Monster on the west, and the Hancock location, west of the Sultanas, taking in the entire hill across the river known as the Green Monster mountain. The claims are stratified with lodes, furnishing some specimens of very fine ore. There is a bonanza in it, and we know of no one more entitled to a realization thereof than Mr. Wingard.

FOR BISHOP.—District Attorney Laird and family left during the week for an extended visit to Bishop Creek, though Mr. Laird will be here at the meeting of the Superior Court and impaneling of the Grand Jury, December 6.

TO IMPROVE.—Mrs. M. A. Barry, the popular hostess of the Lone Pine Hotel, we hear, is about putting up a two-story building on the corner of her property, to become a part of the present hotel.

SALOON.—The Big Pine Saloon, recently run by McDonald & Brown, is now being engineered by Mr. Brown alone—Frank himself. See his advertisement, this week.

THANKSGIVING.—There was a considerable lack hereabouts of turkey dinners and other enthusiasm on Thursday last.

PREACHING.—Rev. F. M. Willis will hold regular services in this place tomorrow evening at the usual hour.

DIED.—S. W. Cowles, formerly of the Cerro Gordo Freghting Company, and for the past two or three years of the merchandising house of J. T. Belshaw & Co., Cerro Gordo, a few days since received the sad intelligence ot the death of his father, Judge Samuel Cowles, of the Superior Court of San Francisco. The son immediately left and is now in the city. San Francisco papers, which gave an extended biography and eulogy of the deceased, are not now at hand to quote from; suffice it to say that Judge Cowles was one of the ablest jurists in the State. At his obsequies all the Courts adjourned and the bar attended in a body. One of his sons was connected with the Cleveland Leader, and another with the Chicago Times, as we remember a conversation in Cerro Gordo with S. W. not long ago.

CHRYSOPOLIS.—J. Wal. Phillips, Esq., of New York, arrived last week, on a visit of inspection to the Chrysopolis mines and some properties at Deep Springs, in the interest of New York parties. Mr. Phillips was one of our valley pioneers, in '61–2; was the locator of the Phillips ranch on the Broder property, where he lived with his family. He is a brother of our George K. Phillips, but is liable to get "sorter riled up" if anyone should suppose him to stand in anywise related to one "J. S. Phillips, M. E., Consulting Engineer, Examiner of Mines, Mineral Assayer & Metallurgist." J. Wal. reports this country as looking perfectly natural, and is more than ever convinced that it is one of the richest and most varied mineral regions on the globe.

ORNAMENTEL TREES.—Mr. William Horner, agent for Green's Nursery of the Western Reserve, Ohio, has, for some time past, been canvassing the valley in the interest of that establishment, and, we infer, has been quite successful in finding purchasers of its products. The nursery supplies any and every fruit and ornamental tree and shrub and vine grown in the temperate zone, though ornamental trees and shrubs seems to be rather a specialty. Mr. Horner's sales in this valley are largely of the latter class, which indicates a most commendable determination to make homes here something more than mere temporary stopping places. Mr. Horner will deliver trees during February; in the meantime his address will be at Oakland, this State.

PASSED THROUGH.—On Monday last teams loaded with the late Bodie Standard printing material, in all about 20,000 pounds, passed through town en route for the railroad at Mojave. It was accompanied by the somewhat noted Pat. Holland, of Nevada journalistic and fire-jakey fame, who proposes engineering the material into Guymas, Mexico. There, in company with Mr. T. S. Harris, formerly of the Darwin News of this county, he intends establishing a daily paper. The undertaking is a bold one, but in view of the future commercial importance of Guymas on account of the railroad now under way we believe it will be successful, and certainly hope so.

DIPHTHERIA.—This dread disease is prevailing to some extent at Big Pine, Mr. S. G. Gregg, we are truly sorry to say, having a few days since lost another of his children by it. Other children in the neighborhood have been attacked, but, up to last accounts, all were in a fair way of recovery. Too much care cannot be taken to prevent the disease from spreading. In other portions of the State it has more than decimated the juvenile population, and without especial care may carry sorrow to many homes here, notwithstanding the general remarkable healthfulness of this valley.

WINTERISH.—It rained, snowed and blowed last Wednesday in true hyperborean style, all tending to prove that the weather clerk hasn't forgotten how to make things winterish when the almanac demands something in that line. The Sierras are whitened down to the valley's edge.

An Effective Scare.

In 1712 Mr. Whiston, an eccentric Millenarian divine and astronomer, who served as deputy to Sir Isaac Newton when Professor of Mathematics at Cambridge, predicted that a comet would appear at noon on Wednesday, Oct. 14, and that the world would be d stroyed by fire on the following Friday. The comet came, and had an extraordinary effect. More than a hundred clergymen were reported to have waited on the primate on the Wednesday afternoon to request th t proper prayers might be prepared, while thousands of men who believed that the end of the world was coming married on the Thursday the women with whom they had been living. Many people embarked on the water, thinking that they would be safer when the fire came, and Sir Gilbert Heathcote, Chief Director of the Bank of England, issued instructions to the officers to keep a sharp lookout on the Bank of England, on which there was a prodigous run, presumably by those who thought that, albeit they brought nothing into the world, they might be able to take something out. The Captain of the Dutch ship in the Thames threw all his powder into the river. Whiston is only remembered now by his translation of Josephus.

THE Democratic Electors have the following vote: Wallace, 80,400; Terry, 79,871; Shorb, 80,395; Brown, 80,388; Henley, 80,403; Del Valle, 80,417. According to these figures, Edgerton has a majoriety over Terry of over 507 votes. With 80 more votes McKaig would have tied Brown. The vote for Republican Electors, stands: Miller, 80,312; Edgerton, 80,378; Bauer, 80,308; Fox, 80,250; McKaig, 80,273; Bard, 80, 283.

ESTRAYS.—Attention is called to Mr. W. S. Morton's advertisement in another part of this paper of some estray horses taken up by him.

330 PINE STREET, SAN FRANCISCO, November 19, 1880.

MESSRS. EDITORS—A document received from Mr. Crough, County Clerk of Inyo, makes it clear that the undersigned is re-elected to the State Assembly. It would be foolish to say that I do not feel grateful for this result, and to all who voted for me in either end of the district, and I feel sure they will not regret it. If the clause in the Constitution against special legislation were out of the way it would be a pleasure to go to Sacramento in the interest of the two counties, but if we work together some good may be done during the short session beginning the first Monday in January.

I have got track of the author of the author of the West Side irrigation bill of two or three years ago, and he is reelected to the Assembly. I think an improvement in that bill will be introduced and passed, but it will require work and intelligent effort. An improvement on the County Government Act of last session is already prepared, but I shall endeavor to get Mono and Inyo into a class by themselves, for I think before another session Inyo will increase in population and business equal to Mono. In meantime, I earnestly hope you folks, both official and otherwise, will forward to the above address every practical suggestion possible, so I can be ready when the disturbance begins.

From all accounts the next Assembly will be quite an improvement on that of last Winter, to say nothing of the experience on the part of the hold-over Senate. The Republicans, of course, will fight for the United States Senatorship and the re-apportionment of the State, but beyond that I think the next Legislature will not be characterized by partisanship. Good legislation is so much needed that the members must be on their good behavior; besides, the people are wearied with a surplus of elections and political uproar.

I had intended and desired to return to Inyo before the Legislature met again, but private affairs have willed otherwise. After Mr. Hanks, State Mineralogist, gets his report ready for the Governor, he will go to Inyo on an exploration—in January at furthest, according to present calculations. Your humble servant starts to-day for Arizona and New Mexico, to be gone a couple of weeks, to report on mining properties for parties here.

Very Truly,
JOS. WASSON.

THE Presidency now is not only the highest honor the American people can bestow upon a citizen but also one of the riehest of pecuniary prizes. Two hundred thousand dollars for four years' easy service in a rent free house is something worth having. Probably President Hayes has saved $150,000.

IT is stated that Charles Francis Adams voted for Hancock; his son, Charles Francis, Jr., voted for Garfield, and John Quincy Adams didn't vote. It always was a peculiar family.

NEW YORKERS are delighted with the large and luscious California grapes which have been received.

THE work of glaciers, especially the part they played in sculpturing the ace of the earth, is as yet but little understood, because they have so few loving observers willing to remain with them long enough to appreciate them. Water rivers work openly where people dwell, and so does the rain and the dew, and the great salt sea embracing all the world; and even the universal ocean of of air, though invisible, yet it speaks aloud in a thousand voices, and explains its modes of working and its power. But glaciers, back in their cold solitudes, work apart from men, exerting their tremendous energies in silence and darkness. Outspread, spirit-like, they brood above the long-predestined landscapes, working on unwearied through unmeasured ages, until, in the fullness of time, the mountains and valleys and plains are brought forth, channels furrowed for the rivers, basins made for the lakes and meadows and long, deep arms of the sea, soils spread for the forests and the fields—then they shrink and vanish like summer clouds.—John Muir in the Californian for November.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Allgemeine Deutsche Unterstuetzungs Gesellschaft.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28, 1880.

Messrs. Harris & Rhine, Independence, Cal.: DEAR SIRS—The undersigned, President of the German Benevolent Society, begs leave to call your attention to this truly benevolent institution, founded in the early days of California, and being now in the 27th year of its existence. The Society was formed to carry out three objects viz.: to assist poor and worthy or deserving people by support, to find employment for those out of work, and to cure those who are stricken down with sickness. For the latter purpose the Society owns a magnificent Hospital, surrounded by extensive grounds, where all patients are under the charge of excellent physicians and a consulting board of the most eminent medical talent of this city. The Society has expended for hospital and grounds the sum of $188,895.

The object of this communication is to propose to you to act as agent for this Society, either personally or through one of your employees, suited for such position, for the purpose of enlisting new members.

The monthly fee is only one dollar and the initiation fee on becoming a member two dollars. Only healthy persons can become members, and only Germans or those who speak that language also their wives and children. Any member who meets with sickness is treated in the hospital without any expense to him until he has been restored to health. All persons who are not members, or can not become such, not speaking the German language, are admitted for medical treatment in the hospital at as low terms as it is possible to make them.

In this city we have about 3,000 members, but throughout the interior only about 300. It is our aim to increase the number of members throughout the State to make the hospital as much as possible self-sustaining, to enable us to extend the charitable department in this benevolent institution. For the trifling sum of one dollar per month members have the best aid and care in the German Hospital.

Frequently sick people in the country are crippled for life by false treatment from incompetent doctors, or even brought to a premature death. Only too late do they find out that if they had become members they would have been restored to health, and their earnings of years would not have gone into the pockets of inexperienced doctors, as the hospital employs only the best physicians. If there are no earnings, the employers and the friends of the sick are generally called upon to pay for his support. All this can be avoided, if the employers would vigorously enforce the rule, now introduced in most of San Francisco's establishments, that every man employed should belong to a relief society in order that in case of sickness he might be well cared for and not be reduced to the rather humiliating necessity of asking aid from the purses of his employer and his friends.

Persons of all nations of the age of 50 years or over are admitted as pensioners for life by paying a certain sum to be agreed upon to the society. They receive a home at the hospital, first-class board, washing and attendance in in case of sickness, free of any expense.

To enable Germans and others who do not know of the existence of this institution, neither of the hospital nor its great advantages, to become members, I have addressed you the above, and hope that you will cheerfully accept the agency and do all in your power to further the interests of this society by enlisting new members, and recommending our hospital to those who may be compelled to seek medical aid.

Your Obedient Servant,
JULS. BANDMANN,
President G. G. B. S.

"Post 6 Ventura mine" bears north 71 deg east 11 chs. Thence, with a var 15 deg 50 min east, 5—north 71 deg east 11 "Post 4 Ventura mine;" 4 81 "Post 7 New Enterprise mine" and Post of Ventura mine; 6.92 road, Citizens' grade; 9 52 "Post 1 Ventura mine;" 9 63 "Post 1 New Enterprise mine," place of beginning, containing 20 55-100 acres.

SURVEY OF CONNECTING LINE.

Commenced at "Post 2 New Enterprise mine." Thence, var 15 deg 55 min east, south 11 deg east 3 03 "Post 5 Armagh mine;" north 79 deg east 10.60 point on W. B. line of the Ygnacio mine; north 11 deg west 12 59 to "U. S. Mineral Monument," which when computed gives for a direct closing line from "Post 2 New Enterprise mine" "Armagh U. S. Mineral Monument" north 36 deg 52 min east 14 21 chs.

DESCRIPTION OF THE ARMAGH U. S. MINERAL MONUMENT:

Said Mineral Monument as described in the field notes of survey of the Armagh mine is built on the apex of a red, rocky point at the intersection of Ygnacio Ravine and Cerro Gordo Cañon and very precisely on the west boundary line of, and distant 17.51 chains from the southwest corner stake of the Ygnacio mine, as patented. At this point caused a hole to be drilled in the rock to a depth of 9 inches, in which drove a piece of gas pipe 1 inch in diameter by 16 inches long. On top of gas pipe set a post 4x4 inches square by 4 feet long, around which built a monument of rocks 5 feet high by 5 feet in diameter at its base. Marked the top of the post "U. S. Mineral Monument. Erected January 3d, 1880, by Wm. Crapo, U. S. Deputy Mineral Surveyor, under authority of the U. S. Surveyor General for California." From said post in Mineral Monument, with a variation 15 deg 55 min E. the extreme end of the rocky bluff in which the Mineral Monument is situated bears N 25 deg W 17 links. The east edge of ridge at the top of a vertical face 7½ feet high bears N 60 deg E .07 links. The northeast corner of an old adobe vaso chimney, a Mexican furnace for smelting silver and lead ores, bears S 38 deg 16 min W 16 links. The middle of the Belshaw toll road at a point where it turns out of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N 81¾ deg W 1.06 chains. The middle of Cerro Gordo Cañon bears N 62 links. The northwest corner of Rafael Diaz' house bears S 38 deg 23 min E 1.58 chains. An old well 30 feet deep on north side of cañon bears N 58 deg 20 min W 1.93 chains.

Magnetic variation 15 deg 50 min east, containing 20 55-100 acres.

The location of this mine is recorded in the Recorder's office of Cerro Gordo Mining District, in Book — of —. The adjoining claimants are the Ventura and Armagh mines.

Any and all persons claiming adversely any portion of said New Enterprise mine or surface ground are required to file their adverse claims with the Register of the United States Land Office at Bodie, in the State of California, during the sixty days period of publication hereof, or they will be barred by virtue of the provisions of the Statute.

Good Reasons Why.

"If your mine is as valuable as you represent it to be, why do you wish to sell it for a mere nominal sum?" This inquiry is perhaps more frequent than any other among those to whom mining properties are offered. It is easily answered from a chapter of our own personal experience, which is that of all the patient prospectors. The prospector is always a poor man. Men of wealth never engage in that kind of business. When a lode or deposit is uncovered—and they are for the most part found near the surface—the expensive work begins. The law requires that before a valid title can be obtained, mineral in place must be defined, terms of law which every prospector understands. Few shafts pay the expense of sinking and timbering from the proceeds of the ore taken out, and very few miners who understand the business will drift or stope at less depth than 50 to 100 feet. Having no money and only a grub stake to begin with, and the discoverer knowing that unless the ore is of extraordinary richness, and the vein very large he cannot do the sinking without assistance, he offers his prospect, or a large interest to the first man who may be willing to pay his price. The buyer, if unfamiliar with mining, never thinks that the shaft must be timbered from top to bottom as the sinking proceeds, and that both sinking and timbering are expensive. At a depth of seventy-five to one hundred feet, horse or steam power must be used for hoisting. All these improvements are costly, and until the mine is well opened, which connot be accomplished above 300 feet, no large profit need be looked for. This every miner knows, and proceeds to sell if he can upon understanding. In this manner capital comes into possesion of all the best mines in the country, because it has the force which the prospector has not, and without which few mines can be put upon a paying basis.—Denver Inter-Ocean.

A RARE BIRD.—The Reno Gazette reporter a days ago found an old revolutionary flint lock leaning up against a tree which had been left there (the gun) by some emigrants who were going to California in '49. The tree had grown over the gun barrel and both gun and tree were brought into town as interesting relics. This reminds us of a curious discovery made by Mr. Slater, of the hay yard, a few months ago. A teamster brought in some wood last Summer which Mr. Slater had to split up to get in the stove. After splitting a piece he discovered the axe had exposed a peculiar protuberance. An investigation showed that it was a perfectly formed egg imbedded in the wood. The egg had probably been laid in some depression in the tree and the wood had grown around it. The wood kept the air from the egg, consequently it did not get stale. How could it? Mr. Slater got the egg out and put it under a hen. It hatched out a curious pird which proved to be a game cock of a breed heretofore considered extinct. It can whip a dog easily. Mr. Slater has spent some time in research and has proved to his own satisfaction that the fowl came from a breed brought over in the Mayflower by Roger Williams. The happy reclaiming of this noble and bellicose breed of bird will be hailed with enthusiasm by the sportsmen of the coast.—Carson Appeal.

IT will cost the Southern cotton planters, at a close estimate, $40,000,000 to pick the crop this year, $25,000,000 of which will go into the pockets of the colored laborers, women and children.

ALL the nickel from which our five cent coins are made comes from a mine in Lancaster County, Penn. It has worked now seventeen years and produces from four to six hundred tons of ore monthly.

The Location Fiend.

There is not a mining community on the coast that is not cursed by the Location Fiend. That the blackmailer is bad there is no denying; but for all tricks that are mean and tricks that are contemptible, the location fiend is boss. Like the cayote you can not scare him off. With a copy of Copp's handbook and a tape line, he roams abroad and woe betide the old stakes that may come in his way. You might build a Chinese wall around the 1,500 feet of ground upon which you had been at work for years and congratulated yourself upon having a clear title if not a good mine. Try to sell your claim and you will find that the fiend has been around and swung the northwest corner of his "Whangdoodle" through your Chinese wall and can bring ten good citizens to swear that they had seen him put up the location notice of the "Whangdoodle" long before you were born. It never annoys the location fiend to be cramped for room. He has been known to climb up one side of a pine tree and down the other with a tape line between his teeth, in order to get all the 300 feet on each side of his ledge that the law allows him. The location fiend never works a claim. He is too busy for that. He is the first at a stampede and the last to leave. You could not get up in the night and put up a monument on a new discovery without finding the fiend hard at work staking off extensions. Lynching cannot squelch him—he was never known to die; but we would suggest as the most effective remedy for his extermination the enforcement of the stumpage law. Compel the fiend to pay stumpage for the timber he has destroyed in making stakes on the public domain and a pine board would soon mark the last resting place of the remains of him who could not live long enough to deed away half of his mining claims.—Salt Lake Tribune.

THE party in charge of H. B. Joice, fitted out by Mr. J. H. Schuyler, of the State Engineering department, for the purpose of exploring the mountain system from which Kern river derives its waters, returned Tuesday, having occupied five or six months in the performance of that duty. They state that the opportunities for the storage of water in the upper part of its course are remarkable and surpass those of any river in the State south of San Francisco. They had a hard, but, on the whole, enjoyable time, and made many interesting discoveries. They visited many places that had evidently never before been pressed by human footsteps. The game of all kinds, which was most abundant, especially the deer, grizzly, black and brown bear, mountain sheep, etc., seemed to regard them with indifference and hardly cared to get out of the way.—Kern Co. Californian, Nov. 25.

MINING superintendents in this State should recollect that there is a law requiring them to make out every week a sworn statement as to the state of the mine, etc., and requiring the trustees to make out a monthly sworn statement of receipts and expenditures. The penalty for non-conformity with the law is a fine of $1,000. There have been several suits of late for neglect to comply with the law, and any company is liable to get into trouble if any stockholder chooses to make trouble. As the law reads it makes no difference whether the mine is worked or not.

THE STATE MUSEUM.—Mr. Henry G. Hanks, our efficient State Mineralogist, is busy preparing a report for the Governor and Legislature, which will contain a great deal of interest to the mining community. Among other things there will be a history of mining in California. The saleries paid in the office of the Bureau at present are, State Mineralogist, $3,000 per year; Secretary, $150 per month; Chemist, $125 per month; Janitor, $75 per month. The museum contains 40 glass cases with 2,000 classified specimens.

NEW TELEGRAPH LINE. — Frank Chagnon, well known throughout this State and Nevada, and at present in charge of the Aurora office of the Nevada and California Telegraph Company, passed through Bodie on Thursday from Mill Creek, where he has been completing arrangements for building a telegraph line from that place to Bodie. Work will be commenced in about two weeks, and pushed along as fast as possible.—Bodie Free Press, Nov. 28.

SUIT TO RECOVER $100,000.—Alexander Palm has brought suit against the Indian Queen Mining Company in this county, and its Directors, alleging that he is the owner of the "Extension of the Indian Queen," but that the defendants drifted into his claim and extracted 2,000 tons of mineralized rock of the value of $100,000; therefore he prays for damages in that amount.—Esmeralda Herald.

CAPT. JOHN ERICSSON, of Monitor fame, is experimenting in New York harbor with a most destructive engine of war in the shape of a torpedo boat, and he is reported as being confident that no vessel now afloat in the world can successfully resist the attack of this new naval battery, which will deliver its charge of 250 lbs. of dynamite seven feet under water.

A LARGE number of Nihilist placards have just appeared upon the walls of St. Petersburg, some of them in the most frequented parts of the city. They proclaim in flaming characters the beginning of a fresh revolutionary movement, beside which all former agitations will be considered puerile and insignificant.

THE PROFITS OF MINING.—Legitimate mining in the United States offers better inducements to persons seeking investments than any other industry, not excepting agricultural or commercial. Carefully compiled statistics show that for every dollar expended in searching for gold, between four and five dollars are realized. A great proportion of the failures that occur in connection with this pursuit are due to gross mismanagement. Men who would not for a moment entertain a thought of embarking in a mercantile venture without having an extended experience in the particular line of business and having about them a corps of equally well posted assistants, will rush blindly into mining and place complete reliance in luck. Such men regard their efforts as a mere gamble, and are successful about as often as the faro player. The other class of mine owners who in developing their properties put every dollar where it will do the most good, require their employes to do a good day's work for a good day's wages, save a dollar here and a dollar there wherever they see an opportunity above or below ground, are practical miners of wide experience or else have under them in every department trustworthy men, while they themselves are shrewd financiers—these men are almost always successful. A failure with them is the exception, while with less shrewd investors it is the rule.—Nevada Transcript.

A BLOCK of granite four and a half ft. in width and thickness, eight ft. in length, and weighing 16 tons, was received in Sacramento from Rocklin last Thursday. It is to be placed in position as one of the gate piers at Capitol park, of which there will be two similar ones at each opening.

IT is rumored that the Earl of Airlie while traveling through Oregon, a few weeks ago, selected a large tract of farming land with the purpose of forming a colony. The Earl has started for home, where he will select some of his farming tenants and send them to build homes in the Far West.

THE country is now prospering under the re-invigorating effects of copious rains. They have come down at intervals during the day, and the weather appearances are altogether in favor of its continuance. The prospects for a farmers Winter are good.—Los Angles Express, November 29.

SIXTY thousand immigrants arrived at the leading ports of the U. S. during October, and despite the Irish troubles, nearly a thousand more English than Irish came, and three times as many Germans as Irish.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 4.....1880

THEY are still going on with the I. M. Kalloch farce in San Francisco. It is too bad that they should keep that sanctimonious young Danite languishing in Sheriff Desmond's best prison parlors month after month, and all for no greater crime than deliberately murdering an editor. If he had stolen a horse or something of that sort it would be all right and natural enough to give him the full penalty of the law—but it is rough to thus tear the Reverend young assassin away from his sphere of usefulness in the moral vineyard all because of the murder of one man. What's one man, anyway, among so many millions? Besides that, the young man's congregation is being made to suffer by being deprived of the teachings of their beloved pastor. Why should the law be used to punish them, too? Also, the young man's delectable sire? What anguish that hypocrical old scoundrel must suffer in having this judicial make-believe prolonged! Why don't they turn the murderer loose at once, and stop fooling? One day he claims acquittal on the ground that a murderer can't constitutionally be put on trial on "information." The next day the case is called (months having elapsed in the meantime, however), an acquittal is demanded on the ground that an adverse decision on the first motion was a legal jeopardy of the life of the accused. The Court cogitates over this the usual time and then ventures to deny the motion. Then the emphatic plea of "not guilty" is entered, and serves to give defendant's counsel a chance to get sick when the distant day set for the trial finally arrives; the lawyer can't stay sick always, and at last has to make another plea. This time, having withdrawn the other, it reads: "Because of prior acquittal on the same charge." And now the Court will have to go to studying law again so as to understand this proposition— and that poor young man will be kept from his pulpit just that much longer. But there is one comfort: the assassin has not yet tried the emotional insanity dodge.

COL. BEE, the Chinese Consul at San Francisco, is now in Denver investigating the recent riot against the Chinese in that place. He states that he has been induced by the Chinese Embassy at Washington to make a close inquiry; that he had carefully looked into the matter, and would return to San Francisco to prepare his report for transmission to the Chinese Minister to the United States. Bee has taken steps to procure an estimate from Chinese residents of Denver of the amount of damage sustained by them, and has procured the evidence brought out at the Coroner's investigation of the death of Sing Lee, who was killed by the mob. He says he has no doubt his Government will demand full compensation from the United States,

A LETTER from Sonora in regard to the Guaymas and Arizona Railroad says: The pile bridge is complete from Ardella Island to the main land, and a new town has been laid out on the shore. Forty miles of road have been graded and sixty more are under contract, completing the line to Hermosillo. Half a mile of track has been laid at Punta Arena, one locomotive and twenty construction cars are working, and 1800 tons of steel rails have been landed and more are on the way. The road will be completed and running to Hermosillo by April.

THE great Eastern papers are busying themselves with silly propositions as to how our ex-Presidents shall be cared for—such as making them life Senators, retiring them on half-pay, creating a fund by subscription for their support, etc., all having immediate reference to Grant, of course. Now, to carry out this idea, so utterly repugnant to republican institutions, it would be as well to provide a life pension for all ex-Constables and other ex-officers, of whatever grade or station.

ADDITIONAL information, received at Washington by telegraph, makes it certain that the new treaty with China on the subject of Chinese immigration will be satisfatory to Pacific Coast sentiment. It does not attempt to regulate the subject minutely by treaty stipulations, but broadly clears the way for Congressional action to restrict the immigration to any extent Congress may deem advisable.

THEY have a brilliant spectacle on the Sandwich Islands in the shape of a belching volcano, which is pouring out a stream of lava thirty miles long and many feet wide.

MANY of California's rich men are moving permanently to the East.

THE U. S. SUPREME COURT.

Justice Strong, of the United States Supreme Court, will retire from the bench before the first of January and Justice Swayne intends to retire as soon as Strong's successor shall have been confirmed by the Senate. They are both eligible for retirement on full pay, each being over 70 years of age and have served ten years. They cannot both leave the bench at the same time without breaking the constitutional quorum of the total nine, because Justices Clifford and Hunt are each physically, if not, also mentally, unable to perform any judicial labor. Although permanently disabled, neither Clifford nor Hunt is willing to resign, the first having long ago declared that he would not retire unless he could be succeeded by a Democrat, and Hunt being not yet eligible to retirement with pay. If they do not resign, or if Justice Hunt is not provided for by a special act of Congress there is some probability that a law will be passed providing for the appointment of two additional members of the Supreme Court, whose places should not be filled until the total number is again reduced to nine. This would give the Court its full complement of membership, both before and after the death or retirement of Clifford and Hunt. It is practically certain that ex-Senator Stanley Matthews will succeed Justice Swayne, and it is for this reason that he has withdrawn from the contest for the Ohio Senatorship.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS IN OREGON.

The Oregon Legislature has recently passed a bill introduced by Senator Humphreys, and which has become a law, that strikes us as being the most sensible and just "woman's rights legislation" of which we have any knowledge. Section 1 provides: All laws which impose or recognize civil disabilities upon a wife which are not imposed or recognized as existing toward the husband, are hereby repealed; provided that this act shall not confer the right to vote or hold office upon the wife, except as otherwise provided by law; and for any unjust usurpation of her property or her natural rights, she shall have the same right to appeal in her own name alone to the courts of equity for redress that her husband has.

(2.) Henceforth the rights and responsibilities of the parents in the absence of misconduct shall be equal, and the mother shall be full entitled to the control and custody of the children and their earnings as the father, and in case of the father's death, the mother shall come into as full control of the children and their estate as the father does in case of the mother's death. All laws and portions of laws inconsistent with the foregoing are hereby repealed.

We commend this well conceived law to the careful consideration of our California law makers who begin work next month.

OVER two years ago, a man named A. L. Feeler was found dead near San Diego. It was supposed at the time that his death had been accidental, through a fall from his wagon, it being presumed that the team he was driving had become unruly, and so was buried without suspicion of foul play, notwithstanding a small wound in the neck was observed and commented upon. As time passed the suspicion of foul play became so much of a certainty in the minds of his friends that they, only the other day, exhumed the body, and found that the wound referred to had been caused by a bullet which remained imbedded in the bones of the neck. But it is not known who did the murder, though every effort is being made to find out.

THE search for the Morey letter forgers still continues. The latest is the effort to find Edwin Todd, who, it is supposed, originally received the envelope from which certain figures had been erased and others substituted to suit the purposes of the forgers. Todd was a reporter for Truth, the paper which first published the forgery. It is discovered in this search that Fox, another of the gang who is badly wanted by the prosecution, has fled to Nova Scotia. A Truth employé named Warren is suspected of being the person who went to Maryland to secure false witnesses.

EARLY next week, says a Washington dispatch of November 27, a proclamation will be issued by President Hayes, placing China on the same footing as Great Britain and other nations in the matter of port and tonnage dues in this country. The proclamation will, in short, declare that "Chinese vessels are not subject to any discriminating duties."

JACKSON FERGUSON, Supervisor of the Census for Nevada, has completed the returns, and finds the total population of the State to be within a hundred or two of 60,000, showing a gain over the last census. Contrary to popular belief, Storey county has gained, its present population being between 16,000 and 17,000, an increase of 4,500.

On the Nature of Rocks.

CONTINUED.

Waters often hold lime in solution. When carbonic acid is present in any waters, those waters will take up carbonate of lime and make bicarbonate of lime; when the waters evaporate, the carbonate of lime is deposited. This is the process by which stalactites and stalagmites are made, which are found hanging from the roofs of caves and covering their floors. Compact limestones are usually fragmental. They have been made mainly out of worn or ground up shells, corals, and like calcareous material, the movements of the ocean having been, and still being the grinding agency. They were consolidated through the ocean waters which penetrated the beds, taking up a little lime and then depositing it again. It is in one sense metamorphism. But when such compact limestones become truly metamorphic they are distinctly crystalline-granular, and often very coarsely so, making crystalline limestone or marble. Crystalline texture varies in coarseness from that in which the crystals are visible only under a high magnifying power, and the rock is apparently as close grained as flint, to that in which they are very coarse.

Not unfrequently one of the minerals appears in large crystals, distributed through the mass—the mass being made of the rest of the material in a comparatively fine grained condition. Any metamorphic or igneous rock containing such disseminated crystals of feldspar is said to be porphyritic. The feldspar crystals in porphyritic gneiss or granite sometimes measure three inches by one and a half, and again only a fraction of an inch.

The degree of coarseness in the texture of a crystalline rock has been determined chiefly by the rate of cooling, in connection with the nature of the material; usually, rapid cooling produces a fine grain, and very slow cooling a coarser. A great mauy miners think that a fine grained galena must necessarily be richer in silver than a coarse grained one, but this does not follow, for the fine grained galenas are often the poorest in silver. A melted rock may cool too rapidly to become stony throughout, or to become stone at all; and, in the latter case, the material made is glass. Common melted glass would be stone on cooling, if the process were slow enough. These differences in crystalline texture are of small importance compared with differences in mineral and chemical composition. They are the results of accidents, and, at the best, lead only to a distinction of varieties among kinds of rocks. The presence of a little glass or of disseminated large crystals in a porphyritic way, does not make the rock different in kind. Sometimes igneous rocks show under the microscope a fluidal texture; that is, the material when examined, shows wavy lines or bands, which are evidence of a former fluid state, and of movement or flowing when in that state.

Durability in a rock is due largely to compactness and firmness of texture, and to the absence of any ingredient or mineral that is liable to oxidation. As far within the rock as water and air can gain access, degradation will always be going on, whatever the rock. The alternate melting and freezing of the cold season will be one means of destruction; and direct chemical action of the moist air, and especially of the carbonic acid it contains, will be another. This carbonic acid may take the alkalies out of the feldspars of a granite; and with the commencement of the action the rock will begin at surface to fall to pieces, or at least show signs of weakness. Fineness of grain gives further protection against destruction, Alternate heating and cooling in the daily passage of the sun is a destroying agency of great effect, especially on coarse grained kinds. There is no more durable rock than slate of a good quality. The presence of an oxidizable ingredient is a common source of destruction. Pyrite is found in grains or crystals in almost all kinds of rocks; and it generally oxidizes easily whenever water and air can get access to it. Only the firmest crystals resist change, and these not always. If a limestone contains a few per cent, or even one, of iron or manganese replacing a part of the lime, it has a source of destruction within it. The iron and manganese are sure after a while, to oxidize; the iron will give rusty stains, and the manganese turn it black.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Charles Martin, hauling hay from Round Valley, on Saturday last was approaching the toll house, below Benton. He had brought his wagon up a grade and over a knoll. While bringing his backaction to make the connection, and while descending a gentle slope, the brake failed to answer its purpose and the wagon and team became unmanageable. Young Martin tripped and was thrown under the wagon, both weels passing over his body. The sufferer was removed to the tollhouse and Dr. Middleton summoned. The pelvis was found to be crushed in several places, and other bones broken. Of course he was beyond surgical aid, but at Dr. Middleton's request Dr. Bicknell of Bishop Creek was called in, and the patient's sufferings relieved as much as possible until death released him at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. Charles was an exemplary young man, but nineteen years of age last August. He was a son of J. H. Martin of Round Valley, who removed the body to the family home for burial to-day. We learn that the Martin family formerly resided at The Monte, in Los Angeles County.— Bentonian, Dec. 1.

James Stevenson, in charge of the geological survey in New Mexico, claims to have discovered another remarkable pre-historic city, about forty miles distant from Santa Fé. It extends for miles, the houses being built in the face of a cliff along a cañon.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 4.....1880

EXPRESS ROBBERY.—Johnny Lynch, a driver of the Northern Stage Line, and Nate Mount, who happened to be a passenger and who became very much interested in the peculiar proceedings of the occasion, relate the experiences of the buck-board trip on last Monday night. On the following morning Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express box was delivered to the agency here in a badly demoralized condition; it looked too sick for anything. At a point near the race track on the road this side of Bishop Creek, the hour being about 1 o'clock A. M., while Nate and Johnny were crossing the sand stretch and were comparing notes upon the true inwardness of a late horse race, there came a sudden diversion. Nate is of the belief that the man creating it—the diversion, we mean—was seven feet high, at the lowest calculation, and that his shot gun was of prodigious proportions as he then saw it. The big man with the big gun had also a gunny-sack mask and an axe. "Hello," said he; "halt!" Johnny halted. The b. m. with the b. g. balanced the gun upon his left arm and requested the boys to "throw out that box." "Can't," was the reply; "it's chained to the wagon." In a disguised voice the seven-footer then gave some general directions as to how matters were to be managed—"stand up," "throw up your hands," etc., followed by instructions for them to get down and assume certain positions. With one hand throwing the axe to Nate and then taking the gun in both, he ordered Nate to break open the box and to "hit it hard." Here's where some of the funny business came in, as the b. m. was evidently a new hand at the work; he was so violently agitated that Nate was in mortal fear of the gun going off accidentally. Nate did "hit it hard," and in about three licks shivered the box open. At this point Johnny made some movement which the man with the gun promptly corrected, and, getting them both in range, held the gun upon them with his right hand while he abstracted the contents of the box with his left. He seemed disinclined to talk much, notwithstanding the boys called him "pardner" and other pet names. Stepping back, he ordered the "young men" to get aboard and go right along, but not to mention the episode to any one they might meet before reaching Big Pine, on penalty of complete annihilation. Lynch energetically plied the silk until they reached Watson's, when Mr. W. started to Bishop and there reported the facts. Deputy Sheriff Hollenbeck was soon on the trail, but with what results we have not heard. Both Mount and Lynch are decidedly dangerous to fool with at any time, but on this occasion were totally unarmed. Nate thinks he would like to have that same gun and get a similar "drop" on that fellow; he'd have more circus than would patch Halifax a mile. The big man with the big gun, however, did not endanger the financial solidity of Wells, Fargo & Co., for there wasn't a cent in the box. He got for his pains papers intended for filing in the County Clerk's office, being transcripts of proceedings in Justice Sneden's Court in the actions of the People vs. Cobb, charged with killing an Indian at Bishop Creek, and the People vs. John Mallory, on some charge not exactly known here. If the b. m. with the b. g. has no particular use for them except for the stove they ought to be found somewhere.

SUPERIOR COURT.—A regular term of the Inyo County Superior Court, John A. Hannah, Judge, begins on Monday next. The first Grand Jury for this county since the New Constitution went into full effect, has been drawn for the occasion, and is composed as follows: J. I. W. Smith, H. M. Smith, J. M. Merryman, W. P. Bailey, W. R. Tibbetts, H. Levy, A. I. Villegas, Jas. Hines, J. H. Brown, H. G. Plumley, J. D. Sears, H. Williams, D. E. Hunter, Ben Houghton, William Powers, W. W. Inman, John Briscoe, S. J. Crane, D. H. Williams, C. C. Winter, J. W. Murphy, R. A. Russell, A. A. Cashbaugh, A. S. Cotler, Jos. Wagoner.

BY REQUEST.—We are requested to note the fact that Louis Brandenberg, for a year or more a driver on the Southern stage line, was killed about a month ago while teaming on the road between Bodie and Aurora, as his friends to the southward may not have heard of it. The Bodie papers containing an account of the accident were mislaid at the time or mention would then have been made.

IN MEMORY.—We are in receipt of some very beautiful lines dedicated to the memory of little Georgie L. Duval. Why did not the author send his or her name with the communication? It is a rule with all papers, and one based upon good sense and experience, to decline anonymous contributions.

GOING SOUTH.—Great numbers of men and teams keep the roads pretty well lined now days. All are going southward; many, doubtless, having no idea where they are going or what for. They are simply getting out of Bodie, Candelaria, Mammoth, etc.

PAINTING.—Those wishing any kind of painting or paper hanging, etc., done are advised to consult the card of Mr. Frank Dorenberg, elsewhere. He is a fine sign-writer and a good workman.

RACE.—A horse race has been arranged to come off at the Bishop Creek track on the 29th, between Little Tricks, belonging to Bob Russell, and Charley Fields' Black Nell, for $250 a side.

MEETING.—A stated meeting of Inyo Lodge, No. 221, F. & A. M., will be held at the hall, next Saturday evening, upon which occasion the annual election of officers will take place.

NEXT WEEK.—Look out for the new advertising announcement of A. K. Briggs, Bishop Creek, next week.

SCARCE.—Wood is becoming a scarce article in town.

DIED.—As our readers throughout Inyo are aware, John R. Westerveldt, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, died suddenly at Bishop Creek on the morning of November 30, of hemorrhage of the lungs. J. R. Westerville—as he generally wrote his name—was in many respects a remarkable man. He was a native, we believe, of New Jersey, but was raised from an early age in New York, where he received a good education and for several years engaged in the study of medicine. He was scarcely of age when he arrived on this coast, and has been a resident of this valley for nearly sixteen years. At the special election of April 25, 1866, when the county was organized, Mr. Westerville was chosen a member of the first Board of Supervisors, in which position he has served a number of terms since. His business comprised farming, stock-raising, threshing, and mining and merchandising at Fish Springs, near his home. Of late years he became embarassed in business matters, and was a constant sufferer from fast-failing health. In this, it would seem that he some time ago gave up all hope of recovery, and, while refusing any rest or curative measures, awaited patiently the end. He prepared a will, leaving the residue of his property to his sisters, at Utica, New York, and appointing S. P. Moffat, Esq., and James Jones executors. Immediately upon his death members of the Masonic fraternity at Bishop Creek took the remains in charge, and, dispatching a messenger to the Lodge at this place, made complete arrangements for the funeral, which took place from the Court House at this place on the following day, under the auspices of Inyo Lodge No. 221, of which the deceased was a member. Strong delegations were present from Bishop Creek and Lone Pine, who participated in the solemn, last sad rites of the mystic craft. If the deceased officer and citizen had a fault it was of the mind and not of the heart; he died among friends and leaves no enemies behind.

"INYO REDEEMED"—A PRODIGIOUS ENTERPRISE.—From John H. Ely, who has spent the past three or four days in Independence, we glean the following interesting particulars of John's last and greatest scheme to bring out Inyo county, and incidentally make fortunes for himself and friends. A company is to be formed, to be called the "Great North American Irrigation, Mining & Fish Association," with a paid up capital of $17,000,000. The general plan and objects of the company may be stated thus: To take the water from Owens River at a point near Independence, and carry it under the Inyo Range through a large tunnel; thence by canal to Death Valley, where it will be discharged, forming a large lake. This lake will be stocked with fish, Mr. Ely having already ordered from the U. S. Fish Commissioner five million bull-heads and three million suckers. A large cannery will be erected at a convenient point near the lake, for the purpose of canning the fish, which will be sold to the different Indian tribes inhabiting this region. A contract has been concluded with Joe Fernbach to start a branch brewery and beer garden at some pleasantly located and convenient spot. Old Joe Bowers, the Indian scout, has been appointed general agent to dispose of the canned fish to the Piutes, usual commission allowed. The blind ledges struck in tunneling the Inyos will be located, mining immediately commenced, and mills built along the line of the canal. Joe Seeley, with a competent corps of engineers, has been solicited to take the field immediately, in the work of surveying the route. The grand enterprise, if carried out as John has planned it, cannot fail of success. The books of the company for subscriptions to the capital stock are now open at Lubken's brewery, at Lone Pine.

AN INDIAN KILLED.—Last Sunday, near Wm. O. Harrell's place on Bishop Creek, —— Cobb shot and instantly killed an Indian man, under circumstances related to us as follows: Mr. Cobb was walking on the road from town to Harrell's, when the Indian came up on horseback, wildly drunk, and began striking the footman with a rope, driving him from the road several times. He made his escape to the house, but found that in the effort he had lost his watch. Upon returning to look for it he was again assaulted by the Indian, when he drew a pistol and shot the crazy brute dead. Mr. Cobb immediately gave himself up to the authorities and was, upon examination before Justice Sneden, discharged. When the dead Indian was placed in a wagon to be conveyed to town other Indians surrounded him and joined in a most mournful and dismal chorus of howls. Mr. Cobb has has the reputation of a peaceful, quiet citizen, and no blame is attached to him. There is a wide opening for future trouble to grow out of such an unfortunate affair, however, and it should result in the most energetic measures to root out and punish the villains who furnish Indians with whisky. In its possibilities the crime is bad as murder, and should be punished accordingly.

RACES.—The Lone Piners propose kicking up a bobbery with horses on the coming 24th and 25th, as will be noted by the advertisement elsewhere, to which the attention of our sportsmen is invited. Our neighboring town is preparing for a general observance of the holidays, as attested by the number of turkeys and appropriate edibles contracted for there during the time.

LIT OUT.—It is stated that W. W. English, late of Cerro Gordo and a contractor at the flume and saw mill at the lake, left for parts unknown a week or two since, having drawn his money and leaving a number of creditors in the lurch. English is about the last man in the world we should expect such a thing from, and we hope that the matter may not prove as now represented.

ARM BROKEN.—On Wednesday last a young son of W. H. Wheaton, of this place, managed to get a fall which broke his arm. It was righted up by Dr. Blair and the boy is getting along well.

CHECKS STOLEN.—Some three weeks ago, or thereabouts, C. L. Van Epps, doing business at Bishop Creek, had occasion to forward some checks to Los Angeles. For this purpose he took ten checks, aggregating $600, drawn by different mining companies, payable in San Francisco, and, after taking their numbers, amounts, etc., but without personally endorsing them, mailed them together in an unregistered envelope in the Bishop Creek Postoffice. A sufficient time having elapsed to have received an acknowledgment of their receipt at Los Angeles, but receiving none, Mr. Van Epps wrote to the consignees, and thereby ascertained that the latter knew nothing about them. Inquiry of the Postoffice clerk elicited nothing of a satisfactory nature, and a statement of the case was laid before the Postal Agent at San Francisco, who at once sent up a sub-agent to investigate. Circumstances made it clear to the agent soon after his arrival that the letter containing the checks had been abstracted from the office soon after it had been deposited, or at least before it was made ready for transportation. Suspicion pointed to a young man named Mallory as the guilty party, it appearing that he had gambled off one of the missing checks. He was arrested and brought before Justice Sneden. The trial resulted in the acquittal of the accused, he proving that he had himself won the check at the card table, but from whom does not appear in the very meagre reports we have of the affair. One of the checks was cashed in San Francisco, but nothing is known of the remainder, except that they have not been presented for payment. It is certain that some outsider nipped the letter from its temporary resting place in the Postoffice, having, probably, seen Mr. Van Epps prepare and deposit it, but who this was remains to be proved.

A NEW MINING CAMP.—About eight months ago several mining claims were located in the Inyo range nearly opposite Lone Pine, in what is known as Slate Cañon. Some of these claims were sold to New York parties some time ago. A company has been organized called the Cerro Gordo Gold & Silver Mining Co., and under the direction of Mr. J. H. Ely. The claims are being prospected. Work has been going on for the past three weeks, and some splendid ore has been found. The formation is slate and porphyry, and the ores carry both gold and silver. Some very rich gold ore has been found assaying up in the hundreds, and silver ores as high as 140 ounces to the ton. The claims are named the Detroit, the Michigan, Molly and Mountain View. There are fine springs of water in Slate Cañon, and plenty of wood near the mines, which are about eight miles from Lone Pine.

OLD COSO.—Active work has been prosecuted at the Old Coso mine since its purchase by Mr. Robert Steen, about three months ago. The old shaft, which was down 200 feet has been sunk 80 feet deeper, and from the bottom of this, one hundred and fifty feet of levels and drifts run, and one hundred more contracted for. A continuous, uniform, and well defined vein of ore 30 inches wide between good walls, shows itself the whole distance run. The ore is a fine gold bearing quartz assaying $50 per ton, average. Two shifts of men are at work under the intelligent direction of Mr. Steen, who is rapidly developing a first class property.

A CENTENARIAN.—In its proper place this issue will be found notice of the death of Saturnia Dias, of Lone Pine, in the one hundred and first year of his age. His son, Jesus Carrasco, is now well along in years. The family is from Mexico and has been well known in Lone Pine since the early settlement of the place. Doubtless the deceased was the oldest man on the coast.

RUN OVER.—Dr. W. H. George, as he was about getting into his buggy at his office last Saturday, had the bad judgment to allow his horse to throw him under the wheel, which passed over his head, badly bruising the left side of his face, eye and nose. The worthy doctor looks like a prize fighter, willing to reform on account of a disastrous defeat.

THE WEATHER.—It was so blustery and cold yesterday that our weather editor could'nt get out and around to see what was going on. In the pleasant atmosphere of to day, however, he reports that the mountains all around are comfortably blanketed with the beautiful.

MORE RACES.—The Bishop Creek Jockey Club give notice of a series of New Years' races, at its track at Bishop, a full programme of which will be given next week. In the mean while, put your nags in training.

ARRIVED.—The shingles and material for the new roof of the Court House arrived to day. When completed the work will be appreciated, after the pretty thorough soaking of yesterday's rain.

TO START UP.—The Modock Company's furnaces at Lookout are to start up on the 19th instant for an extended run.

RETURNED.—Dr. J. D. Blair has returned from his Candelaria expedition; has had enough of it and comes home to stay.

GONE BELOW.—Nathan Rhine, Esq., of H. & R., is still in San Francisco and is being missed from his usual post here.

WANTED.—Flour, bran and hay, on accounts at this office.

Moody and Sankey are wrestling Satan in San Francisco with might and main; but the last named has run things to suit himself down there from the beginning, and can easily stand off this celebrated Chicago double team. Nothing short of the awakening powers of a first class earthquake will save them from disastrous defeat.

In General.

Tuscarora, Nevada, is troubled on account of a threatened scarcity of water.

A Chinaman in Eureka, Nevada, has opened a two-bit restaurant. No doubt but it is a popular boarding place for the Kearneyites of that locality.

Seventy thousand pounds of trout were caught in Pyramid Lake during October last.

Fourteen pairs of twins have been born in Humboldt county, this State, during the current year—and the last month yet to hear from.

Wood is reported worth $20 per cord in Candelaria.

And there 20,000 cords piled up around Bodie.

New Mexico papers believe that Victorio wasn't killed at all, and that he will soon be heard from to somebody's sorrow. But that will give Gen. Hatch a chance at him by telegraph.

A sick man is considered out of danger when the doctor discontinues his visits.

A man in Candelaria has given up the business of saloon keeping after an experience of two weeks. "For," says he, "if times are lively and business good, a man's customers are liable to get drunk and kill him; while on the other hand, if times are dull and people don't drink, he is sure to starve to death."

The cotton dealers of Memphis and St. Louis estimate that the recent severe weather has damaged the cotton crop to the extent of half a million bales.

The amount of grain now reported ice-bound in canals is 1,498,000 bushels wheat and 4,538,000 bushels corn, besides oats and barley.

Demetrio Dominquez was judicially hanged for murder in Phœnix, Arizona, November 26. He was but 17 years of of age, and confessed the murder. Arizona is showing signs of civilzation.

The trial of the Mussel Slough settlers is now going on in the U. S. District Court before Judges Sawyer and Hoffman. Great difficulty is experienced in obtaining a jury.

The trial of Schroeder, who murdered Dr. Lefevre, is going on in Oakland, and excites much interest.

Smallpox still prevails in San Francisco, and four cases, all in one family, have occurred down here in Tehachipi Pass.

George W. Williams, a prominent colored member of the Ohio Legislature, is organizing a gigantic exodus of blacks to New Mexico.

A MINING SQUABBLE.—C. W. Bennett, of Salt Lake filed a complaint in the Third District Court on the 16th to quiet title to certain portions of what is known as the Emma ledge, at Little Cottonwood. Notice was served that the application for an injunction would be made November 26th. This case will again bring up the question of side lines, decided once in the United States Supreme Court in the case of Turbet vs. the Flagstaff Mining Company, in October, 1879. The Flagstaff patent was secured across the ledge, and the Supreme Court decided that they were entitled to only that portion of the ledge within the side lines. Bennet claims the Emma patent goes across the ledge. This suit creates considerable excitement in mining circles, and will be fought hard on both sides.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Allgemeine Deutsche Unterstuetzungs Gesellschaft.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28 1880.

Messrs. Harris & Rhine, Independence, Cal.: DEAR SIRS—The undersigned, President of the German Benevolent Society, begs leave to call your attention to this truly benevolent institution, founded in the early days of California, and being now in the 27th year of its existence. The Society was formed to carry out three objects viz.: to assist poor and worthy or deserving people by support, to find employment for those out of work, and to cure those who are stricken down with sickness. For the latter purpose the Society owns a magnificent Hospital, surrounded by extensive grounds, where all patients are under the charge of excellent physicians and a consulting board of the most eminent medical talent of this city. The Society has expended for hospital and grounds the sum of $188,895.

The object of this communication is to propose to you to act as agent for this Society, either personally or through one of your employees, suited for such position, for the purpose of enlisting new members.

The monthly fee is only one dollar and the initiation fee on becoming a member two dollars. Only healthy persons can become members, and only Germans or those who speak that language, also their wives and children. Any member who meets with sickness is treated in the hospital without any expense to him until he has been restored to health. All persons who are not members, or can not become such, not speaking the German language, are admitted for medical treatment in the hospital at as low terms as it is possible to make them.

In this city we have about 3,000 members, but throughout the interior only about 300. It is our aim to increase the number of members throughout the State to make the hospital as much as possible self-sustaining, to enable us to extend the charitable department in this benevolent institution. For the trifling sum of one dollar per month members have the best aid and care in the German Hospital.

Frequently sick people in the country are crippled for life by false treatment from incompetent doctors, or even brought to a premature death. Only too late do they find out that if they had become members they would have been restored to health, and their earnings of years would not have gone into the pockets of inexperienced doctors, as the hospital employs only the best physicians. If there are no earnings, the employers and the friends of the sick are generally called upon to pay for his support. All this can be avoided, if the employers would vigorously enforce the rule, now introduced in most of San Francisco's establishments, that every man employed should belong to a relief society in order that in case of sickness he might be well cared for and not be reduced to the rather humiliating necessity of asking aid from the purses of his employer and his friends.

Persons of all nations of the age of 50 years or over are admitted as pensioners for life by paying a certain sum to be agreed upon to the society. They receive a home at the hospital, first-class board, washing and attendance in in case of sickness, free of any expense.

To enable Germans and others who do not know of the existence of this institution, neither of the hospital nor its great advantages, to become members, I have addressed you the above, and hope that you will cheerfully accept the agency and do all in your power to further the interests of this society by enlisting new members, and recommending our hospital to those who may be compelled to seek medical aid.

Your Obedient Servant,
JULS. BANDMANN,
President G. G. B. S.

Mining, Metallurgy, Engineering and Science.

RICHARD P. RICHTHWELL, C.E., M.E., ROSSITER W. RAYMOND, Ph.D., } Editors.
WILLIAM H. WAHL Ph. D., Department of Progress in Science and the Arts.

IT IS AN ACCEPTED AUTHORITY ON ALL questions relating to the great mining industries of the country. It is the oldest publication of its class in America, thoroughly independent; being of the trade and not in it, occupies a just and impartial position, which enables it to advise and teach without fear or favor. It devotes much space to questions bearing upon economical management of mines, and from time to time illustrates the more important improvements in mining machinery and engineering methods. Special attention is given to reliable mining news from all parts of the country, which is gathered by an efficient corps of correspondents in every section, and from an extended exchange list. The metal and ore markets, and gold, silver and miscellaneous stocks are reported and commented upon weekly by experienced financiers, who are unbiased by private interests, and upon these matters it is accepted as a reliable guide and unfailing instructor. Gives statistics of production of coal and iron, and of our great gold, silver and other mines. Its scientific notes are an epitome of the latest researches, its trade reports full, and its editorials sagacious and comprehensive. It enjoys the widest circulation and greatest influence of any journal of its class in the world; its patrons and readers comprising the most select and intelligent men in every quarter.

The Poor Man's Mill.

We do not often hear anyone say anything in praise of the burro, yet the burro, as any miner knows, is a most useful little animal in his place. He will not cut the dash that a trotter will; but he will live on less, do more work, cost less and be more patient under adversity. He will not go so fast as a trotter; but put him on a mountain trail with a pack, and he will kill half a dozen of the fancier breed. But people do not often praise him much. Probably because we are used to him. The telegraph informs us of all the movements of Maud S. or St. Julien, and how they beat time, etc. We never recollect having seen anything or any telegram about a burro. He is, apparently, beneath the notice of the telegraph. But the country could get along very much better without Maud S., St. Julien and others of their kind, than it could without the burro.

In the same way you do not often hear anyone say much about arastras. We hear a good deal about 10-stamp mills, and 50-stamp mills, and 80-stamp mills. They form subjects for a great many telegrams, and they have cost more than Maud S. a dozen times over, in many cases. Yet, for the miner, the working miner, in a gold country, they never have done as much as the simple old arastra. We are so used to these that we are apt to ignore their merits. Half the time we do not use them when we can; looking upon them as primitive implements.

And yet the arastra, with all its great rudeness, is worthy of praise. It is the poor man's mill. A mule is cheaper than an engine; his grub costs less than coal, and a club or black-snake is equal to an engineer, at the same time costing less. You run your own mill and pay no money out to mill companies. What gold comes out of the rock you get and you do not have to divide on it as some mills make you do without your knowledge With free gold an arastra will beat the best mill ever built, in results. Amalgamation is more satisfactorily accomplished in an arastra than in the finest quartz mill. You do not break down and have to wait for "castings," and you never have to build a big house to cover in your machinery.

You build your own mill in the first place; get out the rock; hew the timber, and set the whole up. When you run it you are your own engineer, foreman, amalgamater, feeder and superintendent. You boss the job yourself. You can stand at one side and break the rock, and keep the mule going by throwing pieces at him. If anything goes wrong, a single "whoa" stops all the machinery immediately and quicker than any engineer and throttle ever stopped a quartz mill. If you go away a few minutes there is no danger of anything blowing up or going wrong, for the mule will stop and the whole outfit remains quiet awaiting your return.

You have no insurance to pay. There is no great loss on equipment if the ledge "peters" on you. You are independent of custom mills, and know what really is in your rock. You haven't any very big water bill to pay.

Any miner of common intelligence can learn to run an arastra easily enough. There is not much of any science about it, but a good deal of common sense.

If miners in camps where the ore will admit of it, would go to work with their own arastras instead of waiting for capital or for mills, we would have more prosperous camps and more well-fixed miners.

A HIGH mountain near Colorado Springs has proved to be a genuine volcano. Two eruptions have taken place within the past two months, and the flow of the lava has extended three miles. It threatens Colorado Springs with the fate of Pompei and Herculaneum.

A SHOWER OF STONES.—Last Saturday a week ago, while Mr. Isaac Reed and his four children were picking cotton upon a portion of land belonging to Mr. Newton Cates, in this county, rocks began to fall about, when Mr. Reed, in anger, grasped up a stone and exclaimed: "Whoever you are, if you don't stop, you'll get this!" holding up the stone in his hand. But the rocks kept on falling so fast that all began to wonder who could be throwing them, when it was noticed that they were rising off the ground about them and falling back! So strange a sight caused them to leave the field and go to the house near by, when the stone falling commenced there. Some of the near neighbors were sent for, among them Mr. N. Cates and Mr. J. Bazel (a sister of whom is Mr. Reed's wife), and all saw the rocks falling, some of which were hot, and all testify to the same facts—for facts they are—but as to the cause, none of them pretend to know. Now, some will be so incredulous as utterly to deny this, and cry out "Pshaw!" and "Superstition;" yet, in spite of all, these are well established facts, as human testimony can establish. Better accept them as facts, and go to investigating for the cause. On Monday week the same manifestations were repeated at the same place, and one of the stones struck a little boy on the foot, and another struck Mr. Bazel on the shoulder. By the way, this is not the first time that these sort of "manifestations" or "appearances," or call them by what names you please, have occurred, for in other places in this State and Virginia such have occurred.—Marietta (Ga.) Journal.

THE Oakland Times says: "We learn from good authority that J. C. Flood, the bonanza king, will be a candidate for United States Senator to succeed Newton Booth. Mr. Flood, it is reported, contributed more than any other ten men to carry California for Hancock, and to show their gratitude for his assistance, the Democratic members of the Legislature think of giving Mr. Flood the party nomination for Senator. He would then only lack ten votes of an election. If the Republican members are divided over rival candidates and get split asunder, many politicians seem to think Mr. Flood can win the prize. His friends claim for him much sagacity and financial ability of the highest order—qualities much needed in a Senator from California. It is very evident that the fight for the Senatorship is going to be a lively one."

THE night of the 16th ult., on the Colorado Desert, was the most memorable in the railway annals of the Yuma branch of the Southern Pacific. The eastward-boun train was caught in the Tortugas switch, seven miles west of Mammoth Tank, by a simoon, which literally took all the ballast and roadbed away. The train careened over to one side, and the engineer and brakeman only prevented the locomotive from keeling over outright by shovelling in dirt and improvised ballast on one side or the other of the track, as the occasion demanded. There was a detention of sixteen hours there, which the hungry passengers and train hands improved by breaking into the stores of canned pork and beans consigned to Arizona merchants. The incident was one long to be remembered.—Los Angeles Herald.

FENCE POSTS.—The decay of wood imbedded in the earth is difficult to guard against; but a simple precaution, costing neither money nor labor, will increase the durability of posts put in the ground by fifty per cent. This is, by simply taking care that the wood is inverted---i. e., placed in the opposite diection to that in which it grew. Experiments have proved that oak posts put in the ground in the same position as that in which they grew, top upwards, were rotten in twelve years; while their neighbors, cut from the same tree, and placed top downwards in the soil, showed no signs of decay for several years afterward. The capillary tubes in the tree are so adjusted as to oppose the rising of moisture when the wood is inverted. Whatever the cause, the fact is of importance.—Florida Agriculturist.

ANNEALING TOOLS.—It is well known that glass acquires considerable toughness by being annealed in oil and that a high degree of hardness is conferred upon metals by a similar process. It is said that engravers and watch makers of Germany harden their tools in sealing-wax. The tool is heated to whiteness and plunged into wax, withdrawn after an instant and plunged in again, the process being repeated until the steel is too cold to enter the wax. The steel is said to become after this process, almost as hard the diamond, and when touched with a little oil or turpentine, the tools are excellent for engraving, and also for piercing the hardest metal.

THE introduction of the chain gang has worked marvellously well in Sacramento. Before its institution the County Jail was filled with big, lazy loafers, who were well fed, well housed, and who passed their time in reading novels and playing seven-up. Now the cells are nearly empty, and the chain-gang, which started out with twenty members, now rarely has over five or six. Chinese chicken thieves have disappeared, and a number of old stand-by petty offenders have gone to pastures new.

THE San Francisco Safe Deposit Company has just put in the largest single vault in the world. It weighs 800,000 pounds, and had to be carried across the continent in pieces, 40 cars being required to transport it.

THERE are about 3,000 Indians, so the Indian Bureau says, in extreme Southern California. They reside in San Diego and San Bernardino counties, among the mountains, where the scenery is beautiful and the soil generally productive, in regions lightly timbered, but where very few facilities are offered to the destitute Indians for agricultural pursuits. Acting Commissioner Marble, of the Indian Bureau, has brought their case before the public, and makes an appeal in their behalf. These Indians find themselves upon lands which they had supposed their own, since they had been undisputedly occupied by their ancestors for generations; but they are now siezed upon by the whites, and the Indians are threatened with ejectment. "Where are we to go?" is the question which they ask. They are willing to work, if they were only set aside on a tract which they could call their own, and be furnished with seeds and implements with which to till the soil. Commissioner Marble urges the Government to look after these Indians, and it is certainly its duty to do so.

COMMODORE JOS. DE STEPHENSON, well known over the Western Continent, and now a resident of Antelope Creek in this county, informs us that during the Summer he has been incessantly prospecting in his section, having the faith in finding a great fortune, and that at one time he lived on roasted barley for seventeen days without other food save two doves and an occasional rattlesnake. He has killed since his advent 200 Antelope rattlesnakes, whose skins he has retained, which, when stretched out will measure sixty yards. Commodore has a long stick with a crotch on one end, between which he has fixed a thong, with which he captures these little pets, by pushing the fork over the neck, holding the snake secure until he decapitates them. He tells us that after skinning the snake he cuts the meat up into slices three or four inches long, puts it into salt water for a few hours, when he takes it out and fries it in hot lard until it is ready for the table, and it is unsurpassed by any meat in the world.—Prescott Miner

THE lawyers of the Comstock have discovered that the bondsmen of Carrick, the defaulting Treasurer, cannot be held responsible for the sum abstracted from the safe. In drawing up the bonds the clerk forgot to dot an i in Carrick's name and the whole thing is invalid. In another place the ink was not of the right shade and the paper on which the bond was written was not of legal thickness. They have also made the discovery that the indictment against Carrick is not good, because the dates of all the coins he took are not described. Then the foreman of the Grand Jury parted his hair on the wrong side, and taking these various things together, the taxpayers are invited to arrive at the conclusion that the money wasn't taken anyhow.—Carson Appeal.

THE following incident is related of the venerable Dr. Nesbitt, formerly president of Dickinson College, Carlisle: "It amazes me that ministers don't write better sermons. I am sick of the dull, prosey affairs!" said a laby, in the presence of Dr. Nesbitt. "But, it is no easy matter, my good woman, to write sermons," suggested the doctor. "Yes," rejoined the lady, "but you are so long about it. I could write one in half the time, if I only had a text." "Oh, if a text is all you want," said Dr. Nesbitt, "I will furnish that. Take this one from Soloman: 'It is better to dwell in a corner of a housetop than with a brawling woman in a wide house.'" "Do you mean me, sir?" inquired the lady, quickly. "Oh my good woman," was the response, "you will never make a sermonizer. You are too soon in your applications."

GENIUS looks to the cause and life; it proceeds from within outward, whilst talent goes from without inward. Talent finds its models and methods and ends in society, exists for exhibition, and goes to the soul only for power to work. Genius is its own end, and draws its means and the style of its architecture from within, going abroad only for audience and spectators, as we adapt our voice and phrase to the distance and character of the ear we speak to. All your learning and all your literature would never enable you to anticipate one of its thoughts or expressions, and yet each is natural and familiar as household words.—R. W. Emerson.

A CAVE in eastern Tennessee is two miles in length, and has openinge at both ends. The owners of the ground around each entrance charged for admission and acted as guides for visitors. Their rivalry led to serious fights in the cave, for each held the other to be a trespasser. Then one of the contestants hit upon a novel and effective means of ruining the other's business. He sunk a shaft so as to admit a large stream into the cave at about the center, and, as there was an incline in a favorable direction, the water poured out at the enemy's portal, while his own was unobstructed. The matter is to be made the subject of a lawsuit.

THE MESSAGE.

President Hayes' annual message, read to Congress on the 6th, is a very lengthy one. We can give but its drift.

The President expresses satisfaction with the outlook of political affairs in the South, and believes that sectionalism as a factor in politics will soon pass away, and that political freedom in the South will soon be as complete as in the North, though a firm attitude on the part of the Government is essential as an aid to that end. He urges the necessity of greatly strengthening all our coast and harbor defenses; commends Secretary Schurz's Indian policy—Indians must be educated and given lands of their own in severalty; recommends the establishment of a Court intermediaie between the Supreme and Circuit Courts; that all remaining public lands be set aside for the education of the illiterate of all sections, which would result in giving the most of the proceeds to the South; strongly urges Congress to legislate polygamy beyond the limits of the United States, even if special legislation should be required to wipe out the foul blot; thinks the new treaty solves the Chinese question effectually as a political question in this country, but promises a special message on the subject when the treaty or treaties come up for action. Foreign relations, subsidies and the like, receive a due share of attention, but are not of much interest to the general reader.

A SINGULAR COINCIDENCE.

That truth is often stranger than fiction finds many illustrations. Charles Place writes to the New York Tribune relating the following historical incident:

In November, 1843, thirty-seven years ago, an action in ejectment was tried in the Supreme Court, Troy, N. Y., the title of which was Sherman vs. Garfield; and, strange to say, aside from the parties to the action was a man by the name of Grant. But far more strange than all, the case is reported in the first volume of Denio's New York Supreme Court Reports at page 329!

The combination of names and the figures 329 constitute a coincidence, which is of very novel character.

THE session of the Forty-Sixth Congress commenced on the 6th day of December, and will expire on the 4th day of March next. It will be the second and last session of the Forty-Sixth Congress. The only independent function which Congress will have to perform is the counting of the votes in the late Presidential election. That duty will have to be performed on the second Wednesday in February. There are many unsettled questions in relation to this formality. But as the popular will was so clearly manifested in the late election there does not appear to be any chance for an excitement. After the inauguration of Garfield the Senate of the Forty-seventh Congress will be called together in extra session for the transaction of executive business. It will not be kept together more than two or three weeks. The Chinese treaties, if acceptable, will probably be immediately ratified. President Hayes will be desirous of signalizing the close of his Administration by relieving the Pacific Coast of this menacing danger.

A WASHINGTON dispatch to the N. Y. Herald says that the President's recommendation to make Grant a Captain-General is the universal subject of conversation there. There is but little doubt but that a bill to that effect will, in accordance with the recommendation, be introduced this session. It will have strong Democratic support, and will probably pass both Houses, as there is a feeling of good will on both sides toward the General, and a desire to see him honorably provided for by Congress instead of leaving him dependent on on private munificence. "The real sentiments of the best men, Democrats as well as Republicans," says the dispatch, "is that Grant ought to be so placed and provided for by Congress as to place him outside of and above partisan politics or private adventurers, and to make him Captain-General on the retired list."

THE new and novel locomotive, invented by Eugene Fontaine of Detroit, arrived from that city, to Fort Wayne, Indiana, on schedule time, making a mile a minute with ease. On some parts of the road it is confidently expected that it will make over 75 miles per hour. Tests with a loaded train up a grade gave great satisfaction. Railroad men are greatly interested.

IN the entire Mussel Slough country, over 90,000 acres were susceptible of irrigation from the seven ditches this season. The yield of wheat in this district does not fall far short of 40,000 tons.

WHAT THEY SAY IS NEEDED.

It is being demonstrated in various journals that a National Marriage Law is needed—not a law to make everybody get married whether or no, but to so arrange things that if a couple should get married, as frequently happens nowadays, they may know they are married for a fact, and may stay married, barring a regular divorce, even if they should remove to another State. Of course, some people not fully posted have an idea that if they should get married in Iowa, for instance, and then go to Illinois or any other State to live they would still be married. Ordinarily, the presumption would be so nearly correct, or so little worth disputing by others, they could go right along as if it was an established fact that a marriage legal in the one State where it was committed, would be recognized as legal in every other State and Territory; but, then again, circumstances might arise whereby it would be shown that it was not a right marriage in the eyes of the law. It is to obviate possible troubles of this sort that a national marriage law is needed and demanded, provided, of course, that it does not interfere with any rights of the regular polygamists.

The following circumstance is what has treshened up this matter: A fellow by the rather ordinary name of Sloan got married in Ohio, and, in due time, went to Iowa and got divorced, a Chicago lawyer superintending the latter operation. The reports failed to state why Sloan wanted to quit Mrs. Sloan in this way, but it don't matter. Sloan, of course, married again, being of a domestic turn of mind. The Iowa Courts, probably at the instance of the original Mrs. Sloan, declared the divorce illegal and the second marriage void. But Sloan went to Illinois and had the Superior Court of that State to consider his case, which he felt to be rather lamentable—he didn't know for certain whether he was married at all or not, but if so, it was to the woman he did not love very much if any. The Illinois Court decreed the divorce to be valid and the second marriage lawful—an exact reverse of the Iowa decision. This was precisely as Sloan wanted it, provided Illinois law was good law in Iowa. But it isn't, for each and every State has the right to fix marriage and divorce laws to suit itself, even though illegal in material points when tested in other States. So the matter stands this way with Sloan: So long as he stays in Illinois Mrs. Sloan, No. 2, is his lawful wife; but the moment he crosses the river into Iowa the other Mrs. Sloan becomes his lawful wife, and by the same operation, No. 2 becomes a woman who, in the eyes of Iowa law at least, is no better than she should be, while the same thing would happen to No. 1, if she and Sloan were to make it up and go to Illinois together. But as Sloan adores No. 2 the most, which is the one he can't take to Iowa, and as what little property remains to him after settling with his lawyers is in that State, and where he wants to live with the wife of his choice and not the one decreed to him by the Iowa Court, he is still in a peck of trouble, and without hope of permanent relief till a national marriage law acknowledges him lawfully married in any part of the Union he may go to. But in default of such relief, Sloan might manage to control both of those women in this way: Let him locate them at convenient opposite points on the banks of the Mississippi, taking care to have them on the sides where each is respectively recognized a lawful wife in good standing before the law. With care on this point no stain of illegitimacy could attach to the little Sloans though dozens should spring up on both sides of the river. Then as a means of controlling both wives, he could on the least indication of a storm in the kitchen flee to the other side of the river, where the stormer dare not pursue him for reasons already stated. In that way he could, without feeing a lawyer, legally divorce himself from either as often as circumstances impelled him to seek a change. But of course we will leave Sloan to judge of this chance of relief for himself.

In all seriousness, the only way to obviate such absurd situations is by a uniform marriage and divorce law, enacted by Congress and applicable to all the States and Territories alike. The only reason why such a law cannot be passed is the fear of "Centralization," that nightmare of ultra States Rights people which bars the way to a great deal of much needed legislation.

THE power of burnt coffee as a disinfectant has been tested by some recent experiments in Paris. A quantity of meat was hung up in a closed room until decomposed, and then a chafing dish was introduced and 500 grammes of coffee thrown on the fire. In a few minutes the room was completely disinfected. In another room sulphurated hydrogen and ammonia were developed and 90 grammes of coffee destroyed the smell in about half a minute. It is also stated that the fumes of coffee quickly destroy the smell of musk, asafœdita and other powerful odors.

SILVER ORES.

We give below a condensed description of the character and composition of all the silver ores of importance known in mineralogy. The descriptions given are of pure ores; that is: not mixed with the gangue of the ore vein. There are thousands of combinations, or mixtures of the pure ores with quartz, lime, and many other minerals, so that it would be impossible to give a description of each.

Ores are compounds of the metals, not metals in the native state. The more common kinds are compounds of the metals with sulphur (sulphides); with arsenic (arsenides); with sulphur and arsenic (sulph-arsenides); with sulphur in combination along with arsenic, antimony, or bismuth; with tellurium (tellurides); with oxygen (oxides); with chlorine, iodine, bromine, (making chlorides, iodides, and bromides).

With oxygen in combination with carbon (making carbonates); with sulphur (making sulphates); with arsenic (making arsenates); with phosphorous (making phosphates); with silica (making silicates).

Silver is found in the state of sulphide, antimonide, selenide, telluride, sulph-arsenites, and sulph-antimonites, but never as oxide.

Quicksilver is found in the state of sulphide (cinnibar); and sulph-arsenites.

Copper and lead occur in the state of sulphides (common ores) and also in all the states mentioned above.

SILVER ORES.

Native silver is sometimes found nearly pure, although it is usually alloyed with a little copper; it is also alloyed with gold. It occurs in masses and string like shapes penetrating the gangue; it is also found mixed with native copper.

One specimen of native silver found in the mines of Norway, weighed five hundred pounds; and two other masses have beed found weighing 238, and 436 pounds. Arizona is reported to have produced one mass weighing 2,700 pounds.

Silver glance (sulphuret of silver) has a metallic lustre, and a blackish ead gray color; composition, when pure, sulphur 12.9, silver 87 1 in 100 parts. Resembles some ores of copper and lead, and other ores of silver; it is easily cut like lead with a knife.

Stromeyrite—A steel gray sulphide of silver and copper.

Sternbergite—A sulphide of silver and iron containing 33 per cent of silver. This ore resembles graphite, and like it leaves a tracing on paper; color, brown to black.

Naumanite—A selenide of silver and lead in iron black cubes, and massive; contains 73 per cent of silver.

Hessite—A telluride of silver; color, between lead gray and steel gray; tellurium 37, silver 62.

Petzite—A hessite, with the silver replaced in part by gold: color, between steel gray and iron black.

Tapalpite—A telluride of bismuth and silver from Mexico.

Sylvanite—A telluride of gold and silver; color, steel gray to silver white; and sometimes nearly brass yellow, composition, tellurium 55, gold 28, silver 15.

Dyscrasite (antimonial silver) consists sipply of silver and antimony; it has a tin white color, antimony 78, silver 22, in 100 parts.

Ruby silver (dark red silver ore); color, black, to dark red; it has a metallic lustre, and when pure is composed of sulphur 17, antimony 22, silver 59.

Proustite, or light red silver ore, is a related ore containing arsenic in place of much or all of the antimony.

Stephanite—A black silver ore, often found in crystals; color, iron black: composition, sulphur 16, antimony 15, silver 68.

Polybasite is near stephanite in color, but contains some arsenic and copper.

Horn silver (Chloride of silver) is found massive and incrusting; colors, black, gray, green, and blue, looks like horn or wax, and cuts like it; composition, chlorine 24, silver 75.

Embolite—Silver united with bromine and chlorine; it resembles the chloride or horn silver; color, asparagus to olive green.

THE Irish Land League people have sent a telegram to Parnell asking if American counsel should be sent to Ireland to defend the Land Leaguers. If Parnell should send a favorable response, a delegation of able lawyers will be dispatched to Ireland at once. Among those suggested are Jere Black, Roger A. Pryor, Emory A. Storrs and Matt. Carpenter.

A WASHINGTON dispatch says there is a poor prospect of unaminous action on the funding bill. Members who favor the Kelley measure insist that the surplus revenues will wipe out such maturing indebtedness as the Treasury is actually forced to meet. Others say an extra session will be necessary if the funding bill be passed.

ONE of the provisions of the new Chinese treaty is that Americans shall not import opium, carry the product coastwise or sell it.

MEXICO has a public debt of $144,000,000, and she is just launching out in an ominous era of railroad building.

SEVEN men were fined from $500 to $1,000 at Carson a few days ago, for fishing in Pyramid Lake.

DUNCAN MCRAE, the wood contractor, has failed at Carson (Nev.) for $50,000.

"GATH" reports that the big, white-whiskered bar-keeper at the Fifth Avenue Hotel said one night: "Look around this room. You see 300 men in it. Well, there ain't one of them that has not just sold his mine for $2,000,000, and is in despair because he had not asked $4,000,000."

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 11.....1880

WHAT WHISKY DID FOR ANOTHER INDIAN.—Monday morning last Messrs. Lank & Kehoe, at their place about three miles below town, found "Big Sam," an Indian, lying dead about a hundred yards from the house. His bruised and bloody condition made it plain that death had come through violence. It appears that another and younger Indian, called "Little Sam" by way of distinction, had been farming on the shares, and among his other products, were some ten sacks of beans. These, with a team borrowed from Mr. Kehoe for the purpose, and accompanied by Big Sam, he took down to Lone Pine and sold. Having money, the pair soon found one of those natural born sneak-thieves ready to rob them of it by giving whisky instead. With an ample supply of the poison to make both roaring drunk, they started for home, the horses on the run. Sometime in the course of their rapid transit, it being then after night, Big Sam tumbled forward on to the double-trees, where, as shown by many blood stains, he received serious injuries, though it is probable he finally fell to the ground and got his quietus from the wheel or the force of the fall. But in either case his drunken companion managed to get him back into the wagon, and reach home with him some time in the night. It is likely he then discovered that Big Sam had ceased to breathe, and not wishing to return the wagon with a dead Indian in it, or other reasons, tumbled him out on the spot where he was found the next morning. The team had evidently been run until unable to run any longer. Except this escapade these Indians have both ever proved themselves good and reliable in all respects to an exceptionable degree.

ANOTHER STAGE ROBBERY.—Newt. Barnabey, one of the drivers of the Northern Stage Line, was the man who was, about 1 o'clock this morning, furnished with an axe to break loose the express box. The scene was very near the usual place this side of Bishop Creek, and the same apparition in the shape of a big man with a big gun, mask and gunny sacks, as before. The stage came in minus box, mail, way-pocket, blankets or anything else. If the b. m. with the b. g. is to become a regular thing it might be as well for the Government or Wells-Fargo authorities to investigate the subject a little. We respectfully suggest some movement of the kind, anyway. There is no telling what the robber realized, but as this institution probably lost about $4 all creditors are notified to keep away for the next two years. It may be a comfort to Mr. Wells-Fargo, who has lost so largely by robbers, to be informed that the iron handles of the express box were saved, and may be utilized again.

GRAND JURY.—The following Grand Jury was impaneled by the Superior Court on Monday last, and has been at work all the week: A. A. Cashbaugh, D. E. Hunter, J. T. W. Smith, H. G. Plumley, Wm. Powers, J. H. Brown, W. P. Bailey, J. D. Sears, John Briscoe, W. R. Tibbetts, James Hines, H. Levy, J. W. Murphy, H. D. Gelatt, John Baxter, George Bartshe, John Fiehman and James Olds, Foreman. It is probable that they will finish up and ask for discharge by Tuesday next. The reports will be given in full in our next issue.

BIG FANDANGO.—Monday evening next the Piute ladies and gentlemen of all this region will congregate at George's Creek and begin the first grand re-union, or social hop, or fandango, or blow-out, or shin-dig, or whatever it is called, of the season. No cards, but a general invitation is extended to all to attend without distinction as to color. An abundance of the best obtainable hogadie will be prepared, but non-participants in the real labors of the occasion are expected to not make hogs of themselves on that account.

PROTRACTED MEETING.—Rev. F. M. Willis, has been holding a protracted meeting in this place every night since Thursday of last week. Most of the time the attendance has been quite large for this place, and quite an interest has been manifest. No meeting is announced for this evening, but regular services will be held to-morrow evening, at which time further announcements will be made.

NEW MINING MOVEMENTS.—Geo. T. Hawley, of the Owens Lake Mining Co., has been up looking at the new mill and the Cerro Gordo mines....Dr. G. R. Cottrell and a party of New Yorkers are examining their property in Swansea District....J. Wal. Phillips is over at Mazurka Cañon, planning out future mining business.

GENTS, do you want a good shirt or underwear for Winter? Go to Briggs'. *

RACES.—See elsewhere the programme for the coming Bishop Creek races, the sum of the purses offered being $350. The posters will be issued from this office next Monday.

ARE you in want of building material? You will find it at Briggs'. *

A CHANGE.—Frank Fitzgerald, the popular "Little Fitz," of Lookout, has purchased George Turner's store and boarding house.

WHATEVER you are in need of, go and ask Briggs. *

AT DARWIN.—W. T. Grant and W. R. Johnson, the well-known jokists, are "pards" in a new saloon business at Darwin.

GO TO Briggs' and try those excellent cranberries. *

TO-NIGHT.—Stated meeting and annual election of officers of Inyo Lodge No. 221, F. & A. M., at the hall to-night.

DO YOU want fine cheese? Go to Briggs'. *

A CHANCE FOR CHLORIDERS.

SNOW'S CAÑON, LOOKOUT DISTRICT, INYO CO., CAL., Dec. 4, 1880.

MESSRS. EDITORS — The "Snow's Cañon mill"—owned by Mr. F. S. Collins, of New York, and hereafter to be known as the Pinckney Gold and Silver Mining and Milling Company—has just been thoroughly overhauled and refitted, at a cost of several thousand dollars. It is now in firstrate running order; and being the only quartz mill now in running condition in this section, it will be run for the convenience of the numerous chloriders in the neighborhood, many of whom have excellent paying claims and only need the opportunity of having their ores worked at fair and reasonable rates, by reliable parties, to enable them to secure handsome returns for their labors.

This has been a long felt need in this section, and we trust that our low rates of charge (thirty dollars per ton for milling) will enable one and all to reap that benefit from their toil and perseverance that has been so long hoped for. In addition to working the ores at this comparatively low rate, the company offer to grant good men the privilege of taking out ore from any of their own claims in the Cañon for a stated period, to be agreed upon by those concerned, free of charge—only requiring that all ore so secured shall be worked in the company's mill at the regular rates.

The company also offers to board such as may so desire while working claims in the immediate vicinity at the regular rate of nine dollars per week, and to loan them such tools and mining implements as they may require for the advancement of their work.

It now remains with the chloriders themselves to prove their faith in the permanence and good paying qualities of their claims. The company will assist them in that object in every way in its power. Begging that you will give this a place in your columns, I remain,

Very respectfully, yours,

L. P. HUGER,

IN MEMORY OF GEORGIE L. DUVAL

The young, the loved the beautiful—
Why must they pass away?
Why must the flowers we love so well
The earliest decay?

Why must the gentle and the good
Retrace their steps so soon?
Why must the morning-glory hide
Before the mid-day sun?

The young, the loved, the beautiful—
They early pass away
Because they cannot bloom and shine
Where death's chill breezes play.

O, gentle Father! Master good!
Help us to love—and lose!
To trust Thee when not understood;
To acquiesce—not choose!

—A FRIEND.

PEDESTRIANISM.—A foot-race, to come off at this place on Monday, the 27th instant, was this morning arranged by the principals—Dan'l Crough and Dan W. James, 100 yards for $500 a side. A forfeit of $240 on each side has been deposited, and the articles signed. The contest will be "blooded," and some remarkable speed recorded.

THE MAIL.—Owing to the great depth of snow on Esmeralda mountain no mails from the north were received here from Sunday until Thursday of this week. It has come through regularly since, however. No doubt the stage men have had a terribly rough time of it in opening the road on that mountain during and since the storm.

FOR THE EX-PRESIDENTS.—Anyone wishing to contribute something toward the fund for the relief of ex-Presidents, will confer a favor by leaving the money at this office. We will see that its transmission will not cost the contributor, or any other man, anything to speak of.

PAT. HOLLAND, the poet, fighter and evangelist, has reached Independence. It will be remembered, he took with him—or, rather the wagons had on board—the old Standard press. Pat. is making good use of this piece of machinery and the cases of type. The caravan stops at all the small stations and he distributes tracts and songs composed on the route. Several conversions have been made. At Independence he advertised a religious meeting, but, as his reputation had reached the place before he did, the house was empty at the advertised hour for the opening. This surprised Pat. somewhat, but he was not discouraged. Pulling his mountain howitzer he started out to call the lambs. The saloon was full in a short time, as was also the poet. After taking up a collection he bid farewell to the congregation, admonishing the people to vote the democratic ticket. He said his address would be Guymas, Mexico.—Bodie Free Press.

We would cast no shade of doubt upon any portion of the foregoing, if the part about "taking up a collection" had been left out—the idea of anybody being able to take up a collection in this place is too ridiculous for anything.

HENRY BERGH, the man who has labored so long to prevent cruelty to horses, said at a meeting at Cooper's Institute recently, "If a man cannot get along without killing somebody, I say kill him." He believes in substituting the whipping post for the penitentiary, and thinks that jails are too good for half the villians confined in them.

At the command of your leaders you violate the laws of the country that gives you homes and protection; you violate all laws of society; you degrade your wives and daughters, and thereby degrade yourselves; you take from your children all power to ever fairly compete with other American children, and finally, in the name of a bogus prophet, you submit to systematic and continued robbery, by a set of knaves, year after year. Coleman of San Francisco the Pacific Borax Works near Columbus. This company owns an immense tract of borax country in and adjoining Columbus, and has large and costly reduction works erected thereon. The sum paid by Mr. Smith for the property is not stated, but it was no doubt a large one, as the property is valuable.—True Fissure.

INDEPENDENCE, CAL.:

ELIZA GANNON, of Sand Lot notoriety, who had held criminal relations with John Tully, and when the latter, after having been blackmailed by the woman until he could stand it no longer, refused to accede to her money demands, was shot at by her, has been sentenced by Judge Belden at San José to two years in the State prison. The Judge, in the course of his lecture to the woman before sentence, said that she had been the heroine of similar adventures before. Tully, who has a family, and is a man of property, has been on the verge of death with shame and mortification at the exposure of which he is the object.

A SPIRITUALIST medium and an avowed sleight of hand performer met in what was supposed to be a real competition at Tremont Temple, Boston. The advertisement said that the admission money would be given to the medium if he produced any manifestations which the other could not duplicate and explain, and to the latter if the result was contrary. There was a great crowd and the exposer was victorious. But it is now said that they were amicable partners in the enterprise, and had carefully rehearsed the tricks together.

STARTLING IF TRUE.—A number of miners from the Comstock were in Carson last night. They say that the mine owners are planning to reduce the price of wages to $3.50 per day for underground work. If this is done the Miners Union will resist it and a lock-out will result which will bring still harder times to the Ledge. It is claimed that the trouble will begin before Jan. 1st.—Carson Appeal, Dec. 2d.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Allgemeine Deutsche Unterstuetzungs Gesellschaft.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28, 1880.

Messrs. Harris & Rhine, Independence, Cal.:

DEAR SIRS—The undersigned, President of the German Benevolent Society, begs leave to call your attention to this truly benevolent institution, founded in the early days of California, and being now in the 27th year of its existence. The Society was formed to carry out three objects viz.: to assist poor and worthy or deserving people by support, to find employment for those out of work, and to cure those who are stricken down with sickness. For the latter purpose the Society owns a magnificent Hospital, surrounded by extensive grounds, where all patients are under the charge of excellent physicians and a consulting board of the most eminent medical talent of this city. The Society has expended for hospital and grounds the sum of $188,895.

The object of this communication is to propose to you to act as agent for this Society, either personally or through one of your employees suited for such position, for the purpose of enlisting new members.

The monthly fee is only one dollar and the initiation fee on becoming a member two dollars. Only healthy persons can become members, and only Germans or those who speak that language, also their wives and children. Any member who meets with sickness is treated in the hospital without any expense to him until he has been restored to health. All persons who are not members, or can not become such, not speaking the German language, are admitted for medical treatment in the hospital at as low terms as it is possible to make them.

In this city we have about 3,000 members, but throughout the interior only about 300. It is our aim to increase the number of members throughout the State to make the hospital as much as possible self-sustaining, to enable us to extend the charitable department in this benevolent institution. For the trifling sum of one dollar per month members have the best aid and care in the German Hospital.

Frequently sick people in the country are crippled for life by false treatment from incompetent doctors, or even brought to a premature death. Only too late do they find out that if they had become members they would have been restored to health, and their earnings of years would not have gone into the pockets of inexperienced doctors, as the hospital employs only the best physicians. If there are no earnings, the employers and the friends of the sick are generally called upon to pay for his support. All this can be avoided, if the employers would vigorously enforce the rule, now introduced in most of San Francisco's establishments, that every man employed should belong to a relief society in order that in case of sickness he might be well cared for and not be reduced to the rather humiliating necessity of asking aid from the purses of his employer and his friends.

Persons of all nations of the age of 50 years or over are admitted as pensioners for life by paying a certain sum to be agreed upon to the society. They receive a home at the hospital, first-class board, washing and attendance in in case of sickness, free of any expense.

To enable Germans and others who do not know of the existence of this institution, neither of the hospital nor its great advantages, to become members, I have addressed you the above, and hope that you will cheerfully accept the agency and do all in your power to further the interests of this society by enlisting new members, and recommending our hospital to those who may be compelled to seek medical aid.

Your Obedient Servant,
JULIS. BANDMANN,
President G. G. B. S.

THE ENGINEERING and MINING JOURNAL.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

DEVOTED TO

RICHARD P. RICHTHWELL, C.E., M.E., ROSSITER W. RAYMOND, Ph.D., WILLIAM H. WAHL, Ph.D., Editors. Department of Progress in Science and the Arts.

IT IS AN ACCEPTED AUTHORITY ON ALL questions relating to the great mining industries of the country. It is the oldest publication of its class in America, thoroughly independent; being of the trade and not in it, occupies a just and impartial position, which enables it to advise and teach without fear or favor. It devotes much space to questions bearing upon economical management of mines, and from time to time illustrates the more important improvements in mining machinery and engineering methods. Special attention is given to reliable mining news from all parts of the country, which is gathered by an efficient corps of correspondents in every section, and from an extended exchange list. The metal and ore markets, and gold, silver and miscellaneous stocks are reported and commented upon weekly by experienced financiers, who are unbiased by private interests, and upon these matters it is accepted as a reliable guide and unfailing instructor. Gives statistics of production of coal and iron, and of our great gold, silver and other mines. Its scientific notes are an epitome of the latest researches, its trade reports full and its editorials sagacious and comprehensive. It enjoys the widest circulation and greatest influence of any journal of its class in the world; its patrons and readers comprising the most select and intelligent men in every quarter.

Subscription, $4 per year, in advance; 10c., single copy.

TORTURED AT HARVARD.

Why Don't the Civil Authorities Interfere?

A report has come to us from the city of Cambridge, which we trust is untrue, that the Chinese instructor at Harvard College—a dignitary who dresses in silk and is the author of a volume of poems, on which no American critic has been able to pass an adverse judgment, since there is no Western scholar who can interpret its tea-chest hieroglyphics—is subjecting his little daughter to the foot-binding process, a fearful torture in itself, and resulting in making the child a cripple for life. We have been told that the screams of the poor child have been heard by the neighbors.

The operation has been often described. Bandages ten feet long and two feet wide are laid on the inside of the instep and carried over the four small toes and around the heel, drawing the two extremities nearer each other, bulging the instep and making a deep hollow in the sole underneath. Once a month or oftener the bandage is removed and the feet are soaked and kneaded. Pulverized alum is put on to prevent the sloughing and putrescence which often occur. Sometimes a toe or more drops off. The pain, which is intense, continues about a year, then gradually diminishes, and by the end of the second year the feet are dead and painless. During the first twelve months the poor girl sleeps only on her back, lying crosswise of the bed, with her feet hanging down over the side, so that the edge of the bedstead presses on the tendons and nerves behind the knees in such a way as to dull the pain somewhat. There she swings her feet and moans, and even in the coldest weather cannot wrap herself in a covering because every return of warmth to her limbs increases the aching. The sensation is said to be like that of puncturing the joints with needles.

While the binding is continued, as ever after, the feet are useless for purposes of locomotion. With dead feet only two inches long, the woman thus "beautified" is a wretched cripple. As we have said, it is reported that the learned instructor above mentioned is thus treating his daughter. He has remarked, we are informed, that were he to live permanently in the United States, he should not bind her feet, but he expects to return to China in a year or two, and were she then to have natural feet her social prospects would be ruined. This may be; but for the present he is living in Massachusetts and under Massachusetts laws, and those laws should be invoked to protect the wretched victim of Oriental folly. —Cincinnati Gazette.

Sharon's Philanthropy.

We don't believe this story, though it is fathered by the Carson Appeal:

On the night before Thanksgiving a poor, ragged devil met Senator Sharon on Kearney Street, San Francisco.

"To-morrow's Thanksgiving and I'm dead broke. I used to work in the Yellow Jacket."

The Senator was turning away when he caught the words "Yellow Jacket," and the remembrance of old times got the better of his heart. He turned kindly toward the voice, and as the light of the street lamp fell upon the miner's features he recognized a man who was once a tried and trusted shift-boss.

"Is this old Jim Madison?"

"That's me, Senator—what's left of me."

The Senator's lip quivered as he pressed the money into the miner's rough palm.

"Old boy, here's two bits; now go and make a beast of yourself.—Eureka Sentinel.

For the seventh time in his career as a Freemason the Prince of Wales has been nominated for the office of Grand Master of the order throughout the United Kingdom.

Those Palmy Days.

"California will never see the like of those palmy days when her rich mines were being opened and Nevada silver mining was in its youth," observed a gray headed broker yesterday.

"Were you out there?"

"I was. I was a clerk in a dry goods store during most of the craze. Ah! those were exciting times. I was keeping company with a seamstress. One Wednesday night I put my arm around her and asked her to marry me. She almost fainted with joy. The next day I called around to see if her cold in the head was better and she had gone.

Unbeknown to me she had saved a little money, bought Dead Horse when it was down to six, and in one day it junped to $570 and put $25,000 in her pocket. She came out in a $500 wardrobe the next Sunday, and when I edged up to her she looked me square in the face and said, 'young man, if you don't stop following me I shall call the police!' It was the cold shake with a ton of ice added."

"And didn't you speculate?"

"Don't ask me. It makes me sad to think of it.. You've heard of the Comstock?"

"Yes."

"Well, a chap came along one day who owned the whole of it. He was clear discouraged and wanted to sell out, for he hadn't even struck color yet. He offered me the mine for $10, but I declined. He kept dropping and dropping, and finally said he'd sell ont for a clean white shirt. He hadn't had one on in six years, and he thought it might change his luck. I had an extra one, but when he came to see it he backed out. The flaps were gone."

"How?"

"Why, I had cut em' off for handkerchiefs, same as we all used to do in those days. He was a man who preferred shirt-tails to handkerchiefs, and, though I offered to throw in a lot of hair oil to tune him up for funerals, he went away and traded his mine for a new pair of suspenders and a red necktie. Ah me! let's change the subject. I always think what a fool I was to pay so much attention to my nose in those days. Two shirt-flap handkerchiefs beat me out of millions of dollars.—Wall Street Daily News.

LINCOLN'S WIDOW.—The Argonaut does not believe in a subscription to contribute $100,000 to Gen. Grant, but suggests a pension to the widow of Abraham Lincoln. This is an excellent suggestion and there is no doubt that if the citizens of America were allowed to contribute to this project more than $100,000 could be raised by ten cent subscriptions. There is no denying Grant's distinguished services to his country, but he is a man in the full strength of physical and mental health and abundantly able to provide for himself. The suggestion of a contribution is an insult. Lincoln's widow is now an almost forgotten woman, living in poverty. It is a disgrace to the nation that the relict of the greatest man that ever grasped the reins of its government should be allowed to live in poverty. But for his strength of character, his tremendous energy and strong hope in the country's future there might have been no nation left for Grant to govern. —Carson Appeal.

THE TABLES TURNED.—The Homer Mining Index tells the following: It has been a favorite joke of the officers here to get some man to try on the handcuffs and then "soak" the key to some saloon keeper for the drinks. The victim of misplaced confidence would have to redeem the key to get released. A few days ago one of the officers got badly left on a joke of this kind. Jim Slack, Deputy Constable, got Charley Hector to try on the "bracelets" just for fun. When they were securely fastened, Jim soaked the key at the Snowflake saloon for a dollar's worth of whiskey. Charley refused to put up, and after a while Jim took a walk, leaving his victim to meditate on the pleasures of being handcuffed. While Jim was absent Charley redeemed the key, and then pawned the handcuffs for eight dollars' worth of whiskey. When Jim returned he gave in that he was beat, set up the whiskey and redeemed his jewelry.

LAST year, the newspapers were lamenting the number of commercial failures. But that is all changed now. Thus far the failures of the present year amount to only $45,000,000. During the same period last year they reached $81,000,000, and the year before they aggregated the disastrous figure of $197,000,000. Present appearances indicate that when the record is made up for 1880 complete, the failures will be found to be relatively smaller than any time for the last fifteen years.

THEY have an expeditious way of paying off the employes of the Hudson River railroad. The paymaster goes over the road, paying out $150,000 in greenbacks and gold. The train runs at its highest speed. Pay of the flagmen between the stations is put in envelopes, and, attached to sticks, is thrown at the various flagmen as their shanties are passed. In this way $15,000 has been thrown from the pay car as the train was going at the rate of nearly a mile a minute.

GAZARD, a noted runner of Montana, was recently killed at Denver. It appears that Gazard had entered into a a match race of eighty yards with a man whom he knew he could defeat, and on the strength of his knowledge he induced a friend to back him to the extent of $18,000. At the same time he entered into a counterplot to lose the race to his opponent by affecting to be taken ill at the forty yard post. His backers then shot him.

CHALFANT & PARKER.

J. E. PARKER. P. A. CHALFANT.

INDEPENDENCE, CAL.:

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 18.....1880

THE Los Angeles Express has high hopes of immense changes for the better to come to that city and country through the completion of the new continental railroad. It points out that goods, via that railroad, can be laid down in Los Angeles direct from Eastern cities at freight rates not higher than those now paid simply from San Francisco—which is expecting rather too much. Also, for this and other reasons shown Los Angeles may become a great exporting city, an important point on the world's highway, and all that. But for one or two things, we could believe our neighbor's hopes not at all too sanguine. The first, which is not a very important factor this time, is that Los Angeles enterprise will never "set the river afire." Still, there are people there active enough to keep from being run down by a funeral procession, and in case of emergency, these might beat a tom-tom to welcome the world's procession if it should come marching by. The second and only consideration of moment to militate against the Express' reasonable hopes is simply that the same man who now fixes transportation rates in this State has full control of the new road, whose hoped-for cheap rates are to so revolutionize commercial affairs below here. It won't do.

A NEW process of obtaining stereotype plates for printing has been discovered by M. Emile Jeanin, a sculptor of Paris, who proposes to employ for that purpose the material known as celluloid. The process of preparation takes only half an hour, when the matter is once in type, and the plates thus produced are remarkably adapted for working on cylinder presses running at a high speed, being very light, flexible and durable. In this last respect they are said to even surpass metal plates.

THE jury, in the case of Schroder for killing Dr. Lefever, at Oakland, after "considering" their verdict for seventy-two hours, finally brought in a verdict of not guilty. The old thing--emotional insanity, of course. It is fortunate for all victims of assassination that modern courts and juries have no jurisdiction beyond the grave—otherwise those who permitted themselves to be deliberately murdered would be severely punished for "suborning" crazy fits in the unfortunates who took their lives.

THE other day in Oakland a young man named John Scofchler pointed an old pistol, "unloaded" as usual, at his affianced, Miss Catherine Tyler, and snapped it at her "just for fun"—she had just said she was afraid of pistols. The ball crashed through her brain, and she was dead in five minutes. It was undoubtedly an accident, but just such as the fools who cause them ought to be given five years in an asylum for idiots of the most dangerous description.

THE amount supposed to be needed, $100,000,000, to build the great De Lesseps ship canal across the Isthmus of Darien, has already been subscribed, and it is very probable the great work will go on. For fear that it will, another great canal across Nicaragua, and called the "American Canal," is being put forward by strikers for the various continental railroads. The idea is to kill off the Darien canal and have none at all to cut down railroad exactions.

THE crazy Socialist, Antoine Fischer, took a notion the other day that his late co-agitators, Railroad Commissioner Beerstecher and the delectable Kalloch, needed killing, and started out to attend to them. He commenced on Beerstetcher, shooting him in the breast, but fortunately the shot did not take a fatal direction. Kalloch was to be the next victim, but the crazy man was arrested.

MIXED.—Following are two Aurora Herald items side by side:

"An assessment of 50 cents per share has been levied by the Belvidere Mining Company."

"A dividend of twenty-five cents per share has been levied by the Belvidere Mining Company."

This thing would seem to average the wrong way.

IN Fresno county, in the vicinity of Kingsburg, it is said the land is gradually filling up with water, the effect of the many irrigating ditches through the country. This is perceived by the water rising in wells, and the sandholes and depressions, which were formerly dry, are now becoming miniature lakes and ponds.

THE BODIE Standard-News, owned by Crocker & Co., of Sacramento, has just been sold by that firm to Osborne & Cleaveland of the Bodie Free Press, who will hereafter run both papers, but the new purchase only as a weekly.

THE NEW OVERLAND ROAD.

In a couple of months more there will be another continuous "steel thread" stretching from the Pacific to the Atlantic; in other words, the Southern Pacific railroad will meet the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé railroad in the Florida Pass in New Mexico. This will be the consummation of the second greatest railroad enterprise of the world, taking length of track if not the cost as the standard. Yet so quietly has the stupendous work been carried on, but few, outside of circles immediately interested, seem to know anything about it. It was vastly different when the first trans-continental road was nearing completion; the driving of those silver and gold spikes as proof that a band of iron finally spanned the continent was an event which was anticipated with absorbing interest by the civilized world. In a few weeks more the continent will again be spanned, this time with steel; but the civilized world knows or cares but very little about it this time. Probably it is because the spanning business is no longer a novelty.

The completion of this second road will be an event of scarcely less general importance than was the first. If it was to be a competitive road in fact it would prove to be more of a real benefit to the Pacific slope than the other ever has. But it is in the wrong hands for the competitive business; nevertheless, it is certain to wield a vast influence upon the destinies of all the southern portion of this coast, especially the interior. Its influence for the better will affect even Inyo county. Were it not for the certainty that the Southern Pacific managers will continue their scoundrelly discriminations against way freights and passengers, the road would be a vastly greater benefit to this section, particularly in cheapening freights. It would, but for that discrimination, cost about one-third less to land our freights at Mohave direct from New York over the new road than it now does to get them from New York to San Francisco, whence to Mohave comes another heavy freight charge which would be all saved, besides fully a week's time, taking into consideration the usual detention at San Francisco, even though the cars were not unloaded there at all. The new road shortens the traveling distance full 1,400 miles between Mohave and New York, consequently placing all this region that much nearer that city, which, in the nature of the case, should become the direct base of supply and center of business for all this country. But as long as Stanford occupies his palace on Nob Hill it is not likely he will permit it to become so if in his power to prevent. That gentleman seems to have but one controlling fear in life, viz., the fear that some people won't know he is no longer a village merchant, but a king indeed, unless he cinches them liberally at every opportunity. Obeseity and flatulency are things Mr. Stanford can't "abare," and that is why he has ever cinched the Nevada people with such a strong and willing hand. As he will doubtless adopt the same treatment in the management of his part of this new road, all persons in this interior region who think to ignore San Francisco and deal direct with the East will quite surely find that no cars from the East will be switched off at any way station, but will be taken on to San Francisco, where through freights will be collected on the goods, after which they can be reshipped back over the same road to their proper destination, where they might have been discharged perhaps ten days sooner, and where freights are again collected as at present. At least such is and has been the identical system on the Central Pacific with respect to Eastern freights consigned to Reno. It is said car loads of freight for that place are hauled on to Oakland and back again without even breaking bulk. This is why Nevada people "love" Stanford so. Stanford runs the Southern Pacific, hence these fears.

But for considerations of this kind all this southern interior might well believe an era of substantial prosperity would come to it at once with the completion of this second continental road. As it is it must prove a material benefit to our interests in many ways, but not the great boon it might be made, and to nobody's detriment, were the "hog" eliminated from its management.

THE San Diego Union makes the following comments on the preliminary steps taken by the Southern Pacific to extend its line from Santa Ana to San Diego:

It is pretty certain that the Southern Pacific and Texas Pacific Companies have made a combination concerning the line to San Diego, and the presumption is that the Texas Pacific lands on this Bay will shortly be occupied and brought into use. We have anticipated this movement for some time past. San Diego will be the liveliest place in California this Winter and Spring.

ANNA SWANGER, belonging to the wealthiest family in Butlerville, Indiana, was known to reject three white suitors; yet she eloped with a middle aged negro widower, and refuses to part from him.

IN GENERAL.

A youth of 26 married a widow of 72 a few days since in Red Bluff.

General Stoneman, of Los Angeles, sold his grape crop for $10,280.

Placer county is free of debt. The railroad tax pays all expenses.

A number of English farmers are expected to locate on the Washington colony soon.

Tree planting in Santa Clara county will be on a larger scale this Winter than ever before.

The water-carts fail in severe Winter storms, and customers supply themselves from snow-bank springs, in Bodie.

Tramps who have camped near Bakersfield have been arrested and will be put into the chain gang.

J. R. Toberman has been re-elected Mayor of Los Angeles. This is his third term as Mayor of that city.

A duck shot near Chico was discovered to have small particles of black sand and gold in its gizzard.

Three Chinamen were stopped by a highwayman near Nevada City recently. They drew revolvers and put him to flight.

The McFatridge investigation is being continued at Los Angeles. The United States Postal Agent has gone to San Diego to investigate the postoffice there.

The people of Yountville are largely signing a petition, to be presented to the Legislature, praying for a law to prevent the wholesale slaughter of deer.

It is announced, says the Vallejo Chronicle, that the wages of shipwrights at the Navy yard during the next quarter will be increased from $4 to $5 per day.

The Arroyo Grande, San Luis Obispo county, was flooded to the depth of four feet duriug the late storm, and fully 3000 sacks of beans were carried away.

Last week G. G. Briggs bought of D. R. Clanton 320 acres of land, about two miles south of Woodland, for the sum of $32,000, or $100 per acre. This land is said to be used for raisin grapes.

Farmers in the Mussel Slough section are bustly plowing, their system of irrigation enabling them to keep their ground in condition the year round. The acreage will be larger this year than last.

The well of the Los Angeles Oil Company at the Sespe is yielding 50 barrels per day of fine green oil. The company intends to put down several more wells in the Spring.

A Beautiful Country.

A telegram announces that the track of the Southern Pacific Railroad is laid thirteen miles east of the Mimbres River, in New Mexico. Of all the country between the junction of the Colorado with the Gila, there is none more lovely than that part of the valley of the Mimbres which lies near where the railroad will cross. It is surrounded by wild and grand mountain scenery, and contains many natural wonders; among them, on a hill side, a series of natural colums standing on a floor of stone, as if they had at one time been the supports of frontier coliseum. Here, also, is to be found an immense rock on a pedestal, so poised that, like the Druidical stone, it can be oscillated without being overthrown.

Tourists will find it interesting to visit this region, which is described and illustrated in Bartlett's Narrative of the American Commission, which ran the line between Mexico and the United States. Doubtless, however, the valley will be teeming with population in a few years, and then the face of the coubtry will be changed by the march of improvement. This Southern Pacific Railroad Company has made marvellous progress in track laying. Since the 24th of January it has compassed no less than three hundred and one miles, bringing a vast expanse of desolate country into market for sale, ocupancy, and cultivation. It also renders the approach to several mining regions easily accessible, which would not for years be developad but for the facilities thus afforded. When this road has made its connection so that there will be a continuous line to the populous Western and Eastern cities, the Californian going to the Atlantic slope will have the choice of traveling from home on the Northern route, and returning by the Southern, or vice versa, which will enable him to see a wide scope of territory, with its endless variety of scenery and attraction.

NEW PROCESS.—At the Atlas furnace they have adopted a new method of feeding the same, which is declared to be a great improvement on the old order of so many shovelsfull of ore, coal, flux, etc. It has been noticed that the furnace did not emit such offensive fumes as when it was run in former years, but the secret lies in the feeding, and it is claimed that much is saved thereby. The steam from the ores and that which is generated in the smokestack saves much of the metal.—Eureka Sentinel.

After reading the above item one has about as much idea of any "new process" as he had before.

THE project of erecting a smelting furnace in Carson is receiving support. H. G. Parker has subscribed $5,000 ane G. W. Bryant $1,000. Mr. Yerington will give substantial aid to the project, and Col. Fair and D. O. Mills will help.

IN twenty years the yield of the Comstock lode has been $325,000,000 worth of bullion. The length of shafts and galleries is 250 miles. Three hundred and sixty million tons of waste rock have been hoisted, and 1,750,000,000 tons of water pumped to the surface.

LAWS to protect peoples' lives from the fools who "didn't know it was loaded," and murderers given to "emotional insanity," are the crying wants of the age.

A Chapter on Quartz.

Quartz is exceedingly various in color and form, but may be distinguished by [1] abscence of true cleavage, it always breaking with a conchoidal fracture like glass; [2] its hardness; [3] its dificult fusibility; [4] its insolubility in either of the common acids; and [5] when crystallized, by the forms of its crystals, which are almost always six-sided prisms terminating in six sided pyramids. Quartz crystals are often as clear and colorless as glass; sometimes yellow, amethystine, rose, smoky, or other tints. Also of all degrees of transparency to opaque, and of various shades of yellow, red, green, blue and brown colors to black. Sometimes the colors are in bands, stripes, and clouds.

The varieties of quartz owe their peculiarities either to crystallization, mode of formation, or impurities.

Rock Crystal—Pure pellucid quartz. This is the mineral to which the word crystal was first applied by the ancients; it is derived from the Greek and means ice. The pure specimens are often cut and used in jewelry, under the name of California diamonds. It is often used for optical instruments and spectacle glasses, and in ancient times was made into cups and vases.

Amethyst is of a purple or bluish white color, and often of great beauty. The color is owing to a trace of manganese oxide. It was called amethyst on account of its supposed preservative powers against intoxication.

Rose Quartz is pink, or rose colored. It seldom occurs in crystals, but generally in masses much fractured, and imperfectly transparent. The color fades on exposure to the light, and on this account is little used as an ornamental stone.

False Topaz occurs in light yellow pellucid crystals. They are often cut and set for topaz.

Smoky quartz is found in crystals of a smoky tint; the color is sometimes so dark as to be nearly black and opaque except in splinters.

Milky quartz is milk white, massive, and of common occurence. It has often a greasy lustre, and is then called greasy quartz.

Aventurine is common quartz spangled throughout with scales of golden-yellow mica. It is usually translucent, and gray, brown, or reddish-brown.

Ferruginous quartz is opaque, and either of yellow, brownish-yellow or red in color. The color is due to the presence of iron oxide.

Chalcedony is translucent, and massive, with a glistening and somewhat waxy lustre; usually of a pale grayish, bluish, or light brownish shade. It is often found lining or filling cavities in rocks.

Cornelian is a bright red chalcedony, generally of a clear rich tint. It is much used in common jewelry.

Agate is a variegated chalcedony. The colors are distributed in clouds, spots, and concentric lines.

Moss agate is a brownish agate, consisting of chalcedony, with moss like forms of a brown color. They arise from disseminated oxide of iron. All the varieties of agate are beautiful stones when polished. The colors may be darkened by boiling the stone in oil and then dropping it into sulphuric acid.

Onyx is a kind of agate having the colors arranged in flat horizontal layers. The colors are usually light clear brown, and opaque white. Onyx is the material used for cameos.

Flint, Hornstone, is massive compact silica, of dark shades of smoky gray, brown, or even black; it breaks with sharp cutting edges. Hornstone differs from flint in being more brittle; it is often found in limestone.

Jasper is a dull red or yellow rock, containing some clay, and yellow or red iron oxide. Riband jasper is a jasper consisting of broad stripes of green, yellow, gray, red, or brown. Jasper admits of a high polish and is a handsome stone.

Bloodstone is deep green, and contains spots of red, which have some resemblance to drops of blood; the red spots are colored with iron.

Granular quartz is a rock consisting of quartz grains compactly cemented. The colors are white, gray, flesh red, yellowish or reddish-brown. It is a hard siliceous sandstone; ordinary sandstone often consists of nearly pure quartz.

Petrified wood often consists of quartz, quartz having taken the place of the original wood.

Opal is usually milky in color, but within there is a rich display of delicate tints. This variety forms a gem of rare beauty.

Common opal has sometimes a milky opalesence, but does not reflect a play of colors. The lustre slightly resinous, and the colors are white, gray, red, yellow, bluish, and greenish. There are several other unimportant varieties.

WE learn from a gentleman who has just returned from the railroad front, that the connection with the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé will not be made before February. This has been caused by delays in receiving rails. Seventy miles of steel had been warehoused at Omaha, and no forwarding authority having been sent in time to that place, the cars that should have brought the rails on were dispatched with other freight.—Los Angeles Express.

PROF. DUFOUR, of Paris, has devised a thermometric apparatus which is so sensitive that it will denote—by a deflection of the index needle of two inches—the change of temperature caused by the entrance of a person into the room where it is placed.

THERE has been some trouble with the new mines on the Mohave, and the work has been entirely abandoned for the present. A large number of men employed in cutting a canal and carpenters and engineers were discharged. —San Barnardino Times.

THE Reveille understands that new machinery for the Nevada Central shops at Battle Mountain have been shipped from Chicago, which will aid the road very much in its mechanical department.

GRAY who killed Glancey, at Santa Barbara, has had his trial put over to the 20th of January.

THE following recipe for keeping lamp chimneys from cracking is taken from the Diamond, a Liepzig journal devoted to the glass interest: Place your tumblers, chimneys or vessels, which you desire to keep from cracking in a pot filled with cold water, add a little cooking salt, allow the mixture to boil well over a fire, and then cool slowly. Glass treated in this way is said not to crack even if exposed to very sudden changes of temperature. Chimneys are said to become very durable by this process, which may also be extended to crockery, stoneware, porcelain, etc. The process is simply one of annealing, and the slower the process, especially the cooling portion of it, the more effective will be the work.

THE tramp nuisance has been prevailing to an alarming extent in this vicinity during the last few days. They have been coming in by droves, and all of them are ragged, hungry and looking for work. There ought to be a law to put these fellows—all of them—at work on the public highways, paying a small amount per day and board. It would aid those who are worthy and deter the graceless scamps who tramp through the country bumming a living.—Fresno Expositor.

EXTRACTED HONEY.

THIS HONEY WAS REMOVED FROM THE comb by centrifugal force, with a machine made for the purpose. It is therefore virtually the same as honey in the comb, only you don't have to eat the bees wax, which is indigestible and therefore disagrees with many persons. When first extracted the honey is liquid, but nearly all pure honey will candy or granulate in course of time, especially if exposed to the cold. Putting the cans in hot water for a short time will bring the honey to its fluid state without injury.

This Honey is put up in 10 pound cans, with patented screw tops, which renders it convenient for family use, and especially for the mines, to which it may be packed, even upside down, without leakage. A neat label on each can gives full directions.

Price, $1 75 per can, or 15 cents per ℔ at the Apiary, if customers furnish their own receptacle. For sale at Harris & Rhine's, Independence, and at the Apiary, at Henry Fehrman's place, Camp Independence.

INYO INDEPENDENT.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 18.....1880

RETURNING.—The Indians are returning to their several campodies, from the big fandango at George's Creek, each horse carrying three or four bucks and each mahala two or three baskets and one or more muchachos. Our society editor was compelled to send in his regrets at not being able to attend the recherche affair, but the mining reporter took samples of the lot and returns an average assay of 94 per cent. alcohol, and expresses the opinion that the working of Indian ore will prove difficult until this element is eliminated. Our authority on sociology and political economy suggests the judicious use of hemp as having a tendency to eradicate the trouble.

NEW YORKERS.—J. H. Ely and G. R. Cottrell, together with Wm. E. Smith and Ross A. Weed, from New York, paid our town a visit during the week. The party are the representatives of the Cerro Gordo G. & S. M. Co., the New York corporation which is beginning operations on the Nevada, Detroit, Michigan, Mollie and Evening Shade mines in Swansea District. The principal officers of the company are Townsend Cox, President; Jno. Littell, Treasurer, and H. Daley, Jr., Secretary. John Ely is the Superintendent, and informs us that the work of developing the claims will soon commence with a considerable force.

CHANGE OF ROUTE. — During the coming week the stages of the Southern Line will be changed back to the old and direct route, on the west side of the Lake. From Mojave to Lone Pine or this point will be saved some 25 or 30 miles distance, cutting off a very rough, sandy stretch of road, and probably gaining six hours in time. We do not understand what arrangements the Stage Company is making as to the Cerro Gordo and Darwin mails, as under this route of travel for the regular stages these two points will be left way to one side.

PERSONAL.—Geo. M. Keeler, Esq., of New York, brother of Capt. J. M. Keeler of the Owens Lake M. & M. Co., has been around taking in the general situation. Mr. Keeler, about fifteen years ago, made the trip across the continent by the northern route to the Columbia River; this time he came by the U. P. and C. P. roads, and proposes returning home via the S. P. and the A., T. & S. F. route. This method of traveling would give one a fair idea of the extent of Uncle Sam's domain.

SMALL-POX.—An unmistakable case of small-pox has been developed near Lone Pine. Dr. Colleau, the physician in charge, writes as follows concerning the matter: "The sick man is named Jefferson Williams, aged nineteen. He is eight days from Tehachepi. The eruption is not over yet, but the fever has moderated. He is lying in a cabin on the edge of the river, far from the road, nursed by a younger brother and a man sent there by Supervisor Meysan. I think the case will be mild."

DELINQUENT.—Taxes become delinquent on Monday next, after which date five per cent. will be added. In view of the late operations of stage robbers and road agents, we would advise all parties to convey their coin to the county seat by express. When the transportation charges are paid and a receipt given Wells, Fargo & Co. assume all the risk. It is unnecessary to add that that concern can better stand the raids of robbers than can our taxpayers.

FOR KERN COUNTY.—Tuesday last there passed through town a train of ox-teams suggestive of the days of '49, as to length and numbers. It comprised twenty-four wagons and over 200 head of work oxen, besides a large number of dairy cows. The outfit is the property of Jesse Summers, the cattle king of Mono, and is bound for Kern County to winter, to return in the Spring loaded with grain and general freight.

BEE CULTURE.—In our next issue will be commenced a series of articles from the able pen of Mr. Muth-Rasmussen, which we are satisfied will prove both profitable and highly interesting to residents of the valley. The whole subject of bee culture is entertainingly handled by one who is evidently a master of the art.

DIED.—At the County Hospital, this morning, Albion K. P. Gould paid the last debt of nature. He died, we believe, from consumption. The deceased came to this county in 1870, from Virginia City, Nev., since which time he has been mining in Cerro Gordo and Darwin. He was a native of Maine, aged 48 years.

BODEITES.—A party of well known Bodeites, consisting of Jimmy Harrington, Bill Withrow, Tom Woodruff, Pat O'Neil, O'Brien, Clark and others, were in town on Wednesday last en route to Mexico. They were well outfitted with a "big bell team," and the boys made things particularly lively around town for awhile.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. F. M. Willis continued his meetings, begun two weeks since, until Thursday evening last, the attendance being quite large for this place nearly every night. The usual services will take place to-morrow evening.

TO ARIZONA.—Juan Meza, of Lone Pine, has sold his ranch near that place to E. E. Steers, and started out to hunt a location in Arizona.

HOLIDAY GOODS.—See Briggs' advertisement calling attention to his large new stock of toys and Christmas goods generally.

MODOCK.—The furnace starts up next Tuesday on a 500-ton run.

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.

To the Superior Court of the County of Inyo, State of California—

Your Grand Jury, impaneled December 6, 1880, beg leave to report as follows:

1st. We have found one indictment, and have ignored six complaints for malicious mischief and other offenses, for want of evidence.

2d. We have examined the books, records and bonds of the various county officials. We find it impossible in the limited time we have to make any thorough examination. But so far as the books and accounts of the present incumbents are concerned, we find them kept in a business like manner. We have no reason, from our limited examination, to think it necessary to employ an expert to examine the county records at the present time. We have also examined the bonds of the various county officials, and find that they are reliable. In looking over the Auditor's books we find some bills for work on the public roads of a private character, and for work which, when compared with pay for other labor, has, in our judgment, been most exorbitant, and that such have been allowed by the Board of Supervisors.

3d. We have visited the County Hospital and found everything connected there very neat and clean. We found none of the patients but were satisfied with their treatment. We would recommend that the Board of Supervisors take measures to provide clothing for some of the inmates, particularly for an old man by name of Crofford; also, to ascertain whether said Crofford is sane or not, and if not, that he be sent to the State Asylum.

4th. We have examined the Court House, and its several compartments we find in fair condition. Inasmuch as the Board of Supervisors have ordered the construction of new gutters, and re-shingling of said Court House, we recommend dispensing with gutters in said roof, and recommend the making of a new roof to rest on, and to extend from peak of present roof to outer edge of eave cornices, and to cut away lower part of fire-walls sufficient to make an air passage of from six to twelve inches between said roof and fire-walls to prevent the lodging of snow and ice on said roof; and for horizontal cornice at ends connecting eave cornices, we recommend a covering of corrugated sheet metal of suitable thickness, and with having an outward inclination to readily convey water off the building, thus obviating liability of fracture of metal by expansion and contraction; also, that the windows of the various compartments receive due and prompt attention to render them secure and water-tight; also, the construction of a tight floor in cupola, and a large and tight door-way in said floor, said door to be supplied with a good lock; also recommend the ceiling of cupola overhead to prevent birds from lodging in said cupola.

We would also recommend the construction of a fire-proof vault for the protection of the records of the county.

We are informed that the bridge at Big Pine is unsafe for the crossing of heavy teams, and we recommend the Supervisors take prompt action in repairing the same.

We would return thanks to the officials of the various departments for their assistance so freely rendered in our examination of books, records, bonds, etc.

In conclusion we would say that we have attended to, and disposed of all business brought before us, and would now ask to be dismissed.

JAMES OLDS,
Foreman.

HONEY.—We were presented a few days ago with a sample of Mr. Muth-Rasmussen's fine, extracted honey. This honey was removed from the comb without pressure or heat. The modus operandi is centrifugal motion, produced by a machine made especially for the purpose. After being emptied the combs are returned to the hive, to be refilled by the bees. This saves the bees much labor in comb-building while it enables the bee-keeper to sell the extracted honey for less than honey in the comb, thereby bringing it within the reach of all. At the price at which it is offered, this honey is almost as cheap as syrup, while far superior. As beeswax is indigestible, many persons can not eat comb-honey without disagreeable consequences, whereas this honey may be eaten with impunity by anybody. It will be observed that this way of separating the honey from the wax is much superior and cleanlier than the old-fashioned process of straining it. Mr. Muth-Rasmussen has been engaged in practical bee-culture in Los Angeles County for the last ten years. He commenced here last Spring with 14 stocks of bees, transferred them into improved, movable-frame hives; has taken over 1400 pounds of extracted honey and increased his bees to 25 stocks by artificial swarming. During the Summer he sent below for an Italian queen, raised from an imported mother, and Italianized a number of his stocks. Next Spring he will Italianize them all, besides raising queens for sale. He is now located at Henry Fehrman's place at Camp Independence. His advertisement will be seen elsewhere.

WILL SEE TO IT.—As can easily be imagined, it would be a great misfortune to whites and Indians alike should the small-pox get among the latter. It is the duty of every one to do all he can to prevent such a dire result, and for the sake of the whites if not for that of the redmen. Dr. George volunteers to vaccinate every Indian, large and small, that will come to him, and free of charge. Other physicians throughout the valley will doubtless be as public spirited, and it only remains for citizens generally to use proper efforts to induce the Indians all to avail themselves of the opportunity.

AT HOME.—J. J. Gunn, of Bodie, is down on a visit to his old stamping ground at Darwin and Lookout. Jack expresses the fullest confidence in a great future for old Bodie yet.

The Dread Diphtheria.

In view of the presence in our valley of that dreaded disease, the diphtheria, we take the liberty of publishing the following private letter from F. T. Bicknell, M. D., one of our most successful medical practitioners:

BISHOP CREEK, Dec. 15.

MRS.—— ——: Dear Friend—Your favor of yesterday is at hand.

Diphtheria is prevailing at Big Pine, with a fatality up to date of three cases out of nine that have already been affected—two in Mr. Gregg's family and one in George Hall's family. The latter died while I was down to Independence this last time.

You see by the proportion of cases that live that it is not necessarily fatal, though very dangerous in all cases. Where it is malignant in type it is almost certain to prove fatal, though this is no reason why radical and persistent treatment should not be followed up from first to last, for some of the seemingly worst cases recover. I attribute much to treatment in all cases, for its whole tendancy is towards death, even when in the mildest form. Its first symptoms are fever, and more or less sore throat and with a white deposit to be seen upon the tonsils and rapidly spreading. In case you discover these symptoms call in your family physician at once, for time is every thing in this disease. The present indications are that it it is going to be epidemic throughout the valley, for one case in mild form at present has appeared in Mr. Garretson's family. In all families in which it has appeared thus far, it has been without the possibility of contagion but it has affected all the children in the family sooner or later. I know of no positive preventitive. Of course, avoid exposure to contagion; see to it that the general health is kept in as good a standard as possible; dress warm and keep dry feet. Among the long list of disinfectants I would select for general use sulpher, and advise the burning of a little of it on the stove or a shovel of fire coals three or four times a day.

There is no known specific in treatment or as a preventative. Each case has its peculiarities and must be treated in accordance.

It is among the most dangerous of ailments and liable to make many sad homes throughout the valley under any and the best of treatment, especially if it partakes at all of a malignant character.

Trusting you and yours are well, and will escape this fearful scourge,

I remain, Yours truly.

F. T. BICKNELL.

ST. JOHN'S DAY.—A grand ball is to be given by Inyo Lodge, No. 221, F. & A. M., as an after piece to the Lodge installation ceremonies on the evening of St. John's Day, December 27. A general invitation is extended, and every effort will be made to promote the pleasures of all who may attend, and the presumption is that the attendance will be unusually large. For further particulars, see advertisement.

HONEST.—Reliable parties from Lone Pine claim that they had an honest horse race down there a Sunday or two since. We have forgotten the names of the horses or their owners, but the statement is a remarkable one to make.

SNOW.— Throughout the week there has been a heavy and almost continuous fall of snow upon the high mountains, with a few hours of rain in the valley—sufficient to place the roads in splendid order.

THE RACE.— The foot-race to transpire on the 27th is becoming a matter of great interest all around. Some $1,500 or $2,000 will change hands on the result, as matters now appear.

NEXT SATURDAY.—Christmas comes a week from to day. Who said anything about turkey, a Christmas tree or anything of that sort?

ORIGIN OF DIPHTHERIA.—Diphtheria is believed to have originated in Egypt more than 2,000 years ago. It prevailed in Egypt and Asia Minor, to which it extended, during the first 500 years, and hence was called Egyptian or Syriac disease. Having invaded Europe, the disease appeared in Rome, A. D. 330; and being akin to the plague, of which it may be a remote modification, having had the same origin, with some similar characteristics, and being like it and malignant typhus, highly contagious, the disease in its 1,500 year's transit on the continent of Europe, affected mainly rural districts aad garrisoned towns. It had extended to Holland, in which it was epidemic, in 1337; to Paris in 1576, and appeared in 1771; having prevailed more extensivly in France in 1818 and 1835, and in England and the United States from 1856 to 1860 and more or less since. In both city and country more cases have occurred, other things being equal, in warm autumnal and winter weather in damp localities, where the air is almost destitute of ozone, a powerful disinfectant, and being saturated with moisture is in a low or negative electrical condition of the nervous system, and correspondingly diminished vitality, in those predisposed to the disease. Damp air also, doubtless, by diminishing the cutaneous exhalation, and otherwise, may increase the predisposition to this as well as other kindred diseases.

THE wedding of Miss Flora Sharon and Sir Thomas Hesketh is announced for the 31st of December at Belmont, after which the bridal pair will immediately leave for England. The Baronet has settled $25,000 a year on his bride and Senator Sharon will do the same. Miss Sharon has the magnificent diamonds lett her by her mother, the necklace of which alone cost $50,000. Her trosseau has arrived from Paris and is a marvel of elegance and taste.

PROF. PALMIERI considers it proven that great earthquakes are always preceded by a season of preliminary earth trembling. He believes that, by means of telegraphically connected stations for observing these tremblings, it would be possible to foretell earthquakes just as storms are now foretold, and to issue warnings to all threatened districts three days in advance.

LATELY at Chester, Ill., a man who gone crazy on religion stripped himself and killed a whole family with an axe. A man and wife were killed, and chopping their little girl's head off, he rushed into the street waving the head by the hair.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Allgemeine Deutsche Unterstuetzungs Gesellschaft.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28, 1880.

Messrs. Harris & Rhine, Independence, Cal.: DEAR SIRS—The undersigned, President of the German Benevolent Society, begs leave to call your attention to this truly benevolent institution, founded in the early days of California, and being now in the 27th year of its existence. The Society was formed to carry out three objects viz.: to assist poor and worthy or deserving people by support, to find employment for those out of work, and to cure those who are stricken down with sickness. For the latter purpose the Society owns a magnificent Hospital, surrounded by extensive grounds, where all patients are under the charge of excellent physicians and a consulting board of the most eminent medical talent of this city. The Society has expended for hospital and grounds the sum of $188,895.

The object of this communication is to propose to you to act as agent for this Society, either personally or through one of your employees, suited for such position, for the purpose of enlisting new members.

The monthly fee is only one dollar and the initiation fee on becoming a member two dollars. Only healthy persons can become members, and only Germans or those who speak that language also their wives and children. Any member who meets with sickness is treated in the hospital without any expense to him until he has been restored to health. All persons who are not members, or can not become such, not speaking the German language, are admitted for medical treatment in the hospital at as low terms as it is possible to make them.

In this city we have about 3,000 members, but throughout the interior only about 300. It is our aim to increase the number of members throughout the State to make the hospital as much as possible self-sustaining, to enable us to extend the charitable department in this benevolent institution. For the trifling sum of one dollar per month members have the best aid and care in the German Hospital.

Frequently sick people in the country are crippled for life by false treatment from incompetent doctors, or even brought to a premature death. Only too late do they find out that if they had become members they would have been restored to health, and their earnings of years would not have gone into the pockets of inexperienced doctors, as the hospital employs only the best physicians. If there are no earnings, the employers and the friends of the sick are generally called upon to pay for his support. All this can be avoided, if the employers would vigorously enforce the rule, now introduced in most of San Francisco's establishments, that every man employed should belong to a relief society in order that in case of sickness he might be well cared for and not be reduced to the rather humiliating necessity of asking aid from the purses of his employer and his friends.

Persons of all nations of the age of 50 years or over are admitted as pensioners for life by paying a certain sum to be agreed upon to the Society. They receive a home at the hospital, first-class board, washing and attendance in in case of sickness, free of any expense.

To enable Germans and others who do not know of the existence of this institution, neither of the hospital nor its great advantages, to become members, I have addressed you the above, and hope that you will cheerfully accept the agency and do all in your power to further the interests of this society by enlisting new members, and recommending our hospital to those who may be compelled to seek medical aid.

Your Obedient Servant,

JULS. BANDMANN,

President G. G. B. S.

Mining, Metallurgy, Engineering and Science.

RICHARD P. RICHTHWELL, C.E., M.E., ROSSITER W. RAYMOND, Ph.D., } Editors.

WILLIAM H. WAHL, Ph.D., Department of Progress in Science and the Arts.

IT IS AN ACCEPTED AUTHORITY ON ALL questions relating to the great mining industries of the country. It is the oldest publication of its class in America, thoroughly independent; being of the trade and not in it, occupies a just and impartial position, which enables it to advise and teach without fear or favor. It devotes much space to questions bearing upon economical management of mines, and from time to time illustrates the more important improvements in mining machinery and engineering methods. Special attention is given to reliable mining news from all parts of the country, which is gathered by an efficient corps of correspondents in every section, and from an extended exchange list. The metal and ore markets, and gold, silver and miscellaneous stocks are reported and commented upon weekly by experienced financiers, who are unbiased by private interests, and upon these matters it is accepted as a reliable guide and unfailing instructor. Gives statistics of production of coal and iron, and of our great gold, silver and other mines. Its scientific notes are an epitome of the latest research, its trade reports full and its editorials sagacious and comprehensive. It enjoys the widest circulation and greatest influence of any journal of its class in the world; its patrons and readers comprising the most select and intelligent men in every quarter.

Route of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad.

The Atlantic and Pacific is better known as the Thirty-Fifth Parallel Road, and of the several trans-continental railroads, this, when completed, if it ever is, will come nearer the business centers of this country than any other. But besides that, the country it traverses is, for the most part, better than that on the other roads. The following letter from the Superintendent, F. W. Smith, to the President of the company, will give a fair idea of the country:

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, Nov. 18, 1880.

Thomas Nickerson, Esq., President: Dear Sir—In regard to prospects for business on line of our road from Albuquerque, on the Rio Grande, to the Great Colorado River, distant 600 miles, I would respectfully lay before you the following data based upon facts obtained and noted from the best authority obtainable, on a recent visit as far as the San Francisco Mountains, 320 miles west from Albuquerque.

The first point of business is Laguna and Cubena, sixty-six miles out, at present inhabited by the Laguna and Acoma Indians, large herders and stock-growers and an industrious people, living in pueblos or small villages, cultivating lands and rich in stock. Shipments outward of wool and grain will aggregate at present 200,000 pounds per annum. Merchandise, in bound, 150,000 pounds.

The next point will be the Mexican village of Guyo, ninety miles out, inhabited by Mexicans, who raise cattle and sheep. Probable shipments per annum at present would be of wool, hides, etc., 700,000 pounds; in-bound freight about 200,000 pounds of provisions, etc. Roads from this point lead to valuable timber lands, and this business will make a valuable addition to the annual tonnage.

The next point of interest is Fort Wingate, a large Government garrison situated on a Government reservation, distant 147 miles. Here are stationed several companies of Government troops and other attendant population; as it is the principal guard station to the Navajoe Indians it is probable Fort Minn will be moved here and a large town grow. The outward tonnage from surrounding country would be of wool, hides, pelts, stock and timber 1,100,000 pounds. In-bound of provision and merchandise 5,000,000 pounds annually. The lumber business at this point will be large and growing, fine forests of yellow pine surrounding it on south and west and very accessible to our road. Saw mills are already going in to begin work. The transportation of Government troops and attendants will be heavy and their trade valuable.

We next come to Fort Defiance or Navajo Station, 172 miles out, which is the point commanding the business of the Navajo Indian Agency and reservation. They are quiet, industrious people, raising and owning large flocks of sheep, cattle and horses, and shipping large quantities of wool, hides and pelts. This is a valuable grazing region, and at present but little occupied off the reservation. The out-bound tonnage from here would be hides, pelts, wool, stock, etc., 4,250,000 pounds. In-bound, upward of 4,000,000 pounds in provisions, Government annuities, etc. Navajo Springs, distant 212 miles, is also a valuable grazing region, with good water. Tonnage — outbound, 120,000 pounds of wool and stock; in-bound, 50,000 pounds of merchandise.

At 252 miles we reach Holbrook, situated at the junction of the Rio Pinco of the West with the Little Colorado River. Here is a finely located point, commanding the valuable grazing and mineral country of valley of the Little Colorado. Out-bound tonnage at present would be in wool, grain and stock, 2,000,000 pounds; in-bound, 4,500,000 pounds of merchandise and provisions. This may be a terminus of a division, and is a fine location for a business town.

The next point of interest is St. Joseph, 262 miles out. This is a Mormon settlement, of quiet, industrious people, engaged in agriculture and stock-raising, and who are fast populating the valley. Outward tonnage, 260,000 pounds grain and stock; in-bound about 40,000 pounds of provisions. We now come to Brigham City, 282 miles. This is a Mormon settlement, similar to St. Joseph. Here the main present road comes in from Prescott, the capital of Arizona, and from which I look for a heavy business. The town of Sunset on the opposite side of the river, is also a growing town, its people being Mormons and industrions. Out-bound tonnage, about 1,20 ,000 pounds of wool and stock; in bound, about 10,000,000 pounds of merchandise, etc.

The next shipping point will be Utah Station, 300 miles out, where our line leaves the Little Colorado River. Here the main wagon road from Southern Utah comes in, and here will be handled the entire tonnage in and out of a rich mining country. Out-bound freight will at present amount to 2,400,000 pounds of stock; in-bound, 3,000,000 pounds of provisions and merchandise.

Leaving this point, we take the southern slope of the San Francisco Mountains. A station here, 320 miles out, will freight out-bound 6,000,000 pounds wool and about the same of stock; in-bound, 12,000,000 pounds of provisions. This is the richest timber region we have, abounding in fine yellow pine, cedar and oak. There are also valuable grazing lands and the best living springs of water on the line. This place is capable of being made the first Summer and Winter resort in this country. The mountain parks, large areas of rolling, grassy sward, lying to the sun, surrounded with beautiful belts of evergreen, and dotted with picturesque groves of piñon pine, with fine clear water running down at intervals through beds of rock, and the finest natural driving roads on the continent, excelling the most skilfully prepared drives in our eastern parks, being the natural soil, hardened by a fine, small lava gravel or flint—forming a roadway not to be obtained by artificial means—while just to the north of the line we can ascend in one hour's ride the beautiful, open and grassy slope of the southern side of the San Francisco Mountain peak, and from its summit obtain a view of country for 250 miles, and looking directly north into the grand cañon of the Colorado for miles, making in all respects the most desirable and interesting watering place between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans; and added to these attractions we have here the finest climate in the world: almost eternal sunshine. Sun never too hot for comfort, and the nights cool and dry. As a herder told me, "this was the poor man's country, for he could sleep out every night in the year, and did not require a house."

From here to the Great Colorado river, 300 miles, I have not yet examined personally, but from most reliable information, I can safely assure you an out-bound tonnage of 6,000,000 pounds of wool and lumber, and in-bound of 6,000,000 pounds of merchandise, etc. There is also valuable mineral interests on both sides of our line from here to the Colorado, which, when developed, will give you an enormous traffic. This region is known to be rich in minerals, but as yet has not been opened on account of its inaccessibility. We will also obtain on this section of road a large and growing lumber and stock business, which is beyond estimate. I have thus far given you the results of my examinations as to tonnage only. To this we may safely add a large passenger business, paying treble the tariff of eastern roads, riding for long distances, and not subject to opposition. We will get the entire traveling element of Southern Utah, two-thirds of Arizona, and a large portion of Western New Mexico, much of which is now going to the Southern Pacific Railroad. To this add our mail service, which will be heavy, running as we do through a large belt of country now supplied only by the slow means of a one-horse buckboard. The express is large and valuable, as is always the case in mineral regions. You will bear in mind that the foregoing business applies locally to the 600 miles of road between Albuquerque and the Great Colorado river, and does not include a ton of freight from California or any through business whatever, and is based entirely on facts as they now exist. Of future developments I can only say that, from the experience of other Continental lines, and from the known character of the country, its immense grazing and mineral interests and its fine climate, we can have all we can do with through business on a single track.

Of the line of our road as located, I can say that the location is most skillful, and the route is marvelous in its alignment, its grades and general characteristics. To cross the Continental Divide, the Rocky Mountains of the United States, with only a maximum grade of fifty feet per mile, and this only going west (the east-bound approach being only thirty feet per mile), in a valley a mile wide, with no tunnels, is certainly an advantage enjoyed by no other line—either in operation or prospective—for we occupy the last pass for railroad route over the backbone of the continent.

Coal—This important item has lately been receiving due attention. Prospectors have lately discovered coal at different points, which is thought to be of good quality and in paying quantites. I have ordered a quantity taken out of one location for trial on our engines. I am of the opinion we will have a fine trade in this coal. * * * *

Holding for a Rise.

"No wonder you have such bad luck with some of your coal mines," observed the genteman from Nova Scotia, as the quartet sat roasting their shins around a broker's coal fire. "Ah, you ought to have such men as our old manager of the Red House Mine. He'd make the poorest mine in this country pay a handsome dividend in less than a year."

"How?" asked the broker.

"By shrewd management. Do any of you know how many times a wire-rope will stand the strain of the cage?"

"No."

"Well, he had it all figured down to a dot, and he never replaced it until the time before it was to break. He'd make a rope last three months longer than any other manager, and then he'd work it off on the farmers for clothes-lines. Do any of you remember our fire-damp explosion in '59?"

"No."

"Probably read of it at the time, but have forgotten it. Well, I was superintendent of the Red House then, and was driving down to the mine one day when I met Andy. He was mounted on a mule and coming on the gallop. As he came up I asked him what had happened."

"A great explosion — seventy-nine done for—hurry on!" he replied, as he tried to get past me.

"Anything else?" asked I.

"Yes, sir; the mine is on fire!"

"Then we are in for a loss of at least $10,000."

"I hope not," says he, as he got ready to go on, "as soon as I heard the explosion I saddled the mule. Then I ordered up the cage, and when I found it empty I opened the sluice and let the big creek tumble right into the shaft. The fire will be out before you get there!"

"And the miners?"

"They are gone for sure, sir. We shall be to some little expense, and to offset it I'm riding up to Brownstown as hard as I can go to buy up every coffin in town and hold 'em for a rise! Good bye, sir—gelang, you critter!"

"That was the kind of a man our old manager was, gentlemen, and we never made an annual dividend of less than 30 per cent."—Wall Street Daily News.

THE GERMAN METHOD.—The other day at Freiburg a firm of wholesale wine dealers were charged with fabricating wine, and the fact that the members were rich and influential citizens did not save them as it would here; neither did the fact that their adulteration consisted only of such harmless substances as raisins, water and blackberries. They pretended to sell wine and they did not; hence each of the prisoners was sentenced to five months imprisonment and a fine of 1,000 marks —over $3,000. In America men who adulterate wine are received in the best society and considered honorable gentlemen. Nearly everything that is sold in the United States is either short in weight, deficient in quantity or doctored and adulterated in some way. The public have ceased to be able to distinguish the false from the true, and the rascals who perpetrate the fraud thrive and fatten on their nefarious business.—Carson Appeal

THE Edgar Thompson steel works at Pittsburg have lately received orders for 80,000 tons of steel rails, the demand coming principally from new roads pushing their way westward, and including the Texas Pacific, the Atchison and Topeka, Wabash and Louisville and Nashville. These rails range from 56 to 60 pounds to the yard, while the Baltimore and Ohio and the Pennsylvania roads, for all their heavier grades are securing rails which weigh 67 pounds per yard. It is estimated that the Edgar Thompson works alone in 1881 will roll 120,000 tons of rails, for all of which they have orders. These rails will supply 1,140 miles of roadway with steel track.

EDISON has again made his bow in the papers to assure the public that he has has overcome all difficulties in his electric light, and will soon demonstrate the success of his invention. He claims that he has produced a light which does not flicker and one that can be used by all on account of its cheapness.

THE Silver Reef Miner says that Mr. Tom McMasters, formerly Superintendent of the Stormont mill, has now under his control two mills of 120 stamps each, and one of 80 stamps, in Lead City; two mills at Deadwood of 60 stamps each, and one of 30, making in all 470 strong.

THE mining districts throughout Utah will make a good showing for 1880. Excitement has not run high in any of them, but the developments have been substantial and the production large. In refined bullion the showing is much larger than ever before.

THE Tombstone Mill and Mining Co., of Arizona has declared the regular monthly dividend of 10 cents per share, payable at Philadelphia on the 15th. This is the ninth consecutive monthly dividend and the total is $450,000.

THE Sacramento Bee says that the general opinion is that if a few insane murderers were hanged, crime would not be so plentiful in this State. This peculiar kind of insanity might as well be stopped with a rope.

TWINS have occurred fifty-six times in Ohio within the last year, and there are still vacancies open for Ohio men under the new administration.

WITH THEM.

With compliments of THE INYO INDEPENDENT—A MERRY CHRISTMAS and a HAPPY NEW YEAR!

IT now transpires that Charles Crocker has not concluded to locate in the East on account of the New Constitution. Perhaps the following will account for his determination to remain on this coast: The earnings of the Central Pacific Railroad for November, 1880, were $2,154,000, against $1,489,-141 for November, 1879. The earnings for eleven months of the current year ending November 30th were $18,582,-195, against $15,817,292 for the corresponding period in 1879; increase, $2,746,903, or 17. 4 per cent.

CHICAGO has become a theater for speculation on the most stupendous scale. The mania has been growing steadily for years, but it has only been within the past twelve months that it assumed anything like its present proportions. Wall street in its craziest days never saw anything to compare with it. Millions of bushels of grain are bought and sold there now where tens of thousands changed hands five years ago, and transactions in pork and in stocks and bonds have increased in a like ratio.

JONES and McDonald of Chicago, made an attempt to corner the wheat market of that city, and have failed for half a million. The firm is in the corner, but the wheat dodged, being too lively for the firm. After Keene's failure at the same game, it is rather odd that the J. and McD. crowd tried it. An attempt to raise the price of the staff of life should always meet with a failure.

THE recent defeat of Boss Kelly for the Controllership of the city of New York, a place he has held for five years, seems to give all anti-Tammany Democrats quite as much satisfaction as it does the Republicans. The Boss's bossing days are about ended outside of Tammany, and badly shaken inside. No fault, however, is found with the manner in which he has administered affairs of his office proper.

THE total coinage of silver dollars up to Nov. 1, has been $75,847,750, of which only $25,259,644 is in circulation. The effect of the silver bill has been to put into current use $45,039,885 part coin and part certificates, which is doing better than it is commonly credited with. Fully two-thirds of this amount has been put into circulation during the past year.

THE Director of the United States Geological Surveys says: "It is estimated that the mere raw products of the mineral industries in the United States do not fall far short of four hundred millions of dollars annually, and it requires no gift of extraordinary foresight to reach the conclusion that a few years will bring the yield to a thousand millions."

THE extreme type of perishable property has yet to be discovered. Mr. James R. Keene has found out that money can melt away more quickly than in margins on grain. He paid $20,000 in England for Blue Gown, a famous horse, and the weather being very stormy on the voyage here, the poor animal fretted itself to death.

THE distance between the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé and the Southern Pacific Railroad is now but sixty miles, over which gap passengers are transported by stages. The Southern Pacific Railroad is already constructed twenty miles beyond the point where the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé road will intercept it.

ON the 20th, Congressman Berry introduced bills to grant to the State of California for public school purposes five per centum of the net proceeds from the sales of public lands therein, and extending to the State the provisions of the amendatory swamp land acts of March 2, 1855, and March 3, 1857.

THE British Government assayers appointed to examine ore from India, supposed to contain gold in paying quantities, have returned adverse reports.

CONGRESSMAN PAGE has introduced a joint resolution to make the anniversary of the discovery of America a legal holiday in the District of Columbia.

IT is now settled that Gen. Schofield will be removed from command at West Point, and that Gen. Howard takes his place.

WILL the San Francisco Stock Report please inform us where Hon. Joe Wasson is?

THOSE COLONISTS.

For some time past the newspapers have had a good deal to say about the "Oklahoma Colonists," a band of men, women and children, some ten thousand in all, who have started out for the purpose of invading the Indian Territory and taking forcible possession of the land there. These colonists are encamped on the southern borders of Kansas, and are under command of a certain Captain Payne, an adventurer who has in times past cut quite a figure on this coast, principally in the matter of taking another man's wife, who is now with Payne, and seems to be the leading spirit and the "better man" of the two.

The movement seems to be somewhat of a religious character, modeled upon and sustained by the experiences of those peope who got out of bondage in Egypt and in gratitude for the same murdered a nation of inoffending people and appropriated all their possessions. That murdering crew did that foul deed because their leader told them it was God's command—also, and chiefly, because they believed "might made right" under certain circumstances, such, for instance, as when seventy or eighty thousand ragged tramps should find it their power to become the owners of countless broad acres, with cattle and chattels and houses and cities all ready to hand, all to be had merely by killing off the lawful owners—of course, under particular circumstances like that, the tramps, knowing they had the power, would find ample justification in taking each an improved farm to himself, provided he took care to kill not only the man who originally owned it but all of his relations down to the babe in the cradle so as to avoid all future contests about the title—a man who tramps around forty years, on half rations, with temper additionally soured by constant bickerings with his fellows and leaders, will, by that time if ever, be in a frame of mind to settle down in a good home, and not be fastidious as to how he secures possession. But very many years have passed since that system of securing homes for the homeless went out of popular favor, at least as indicated by the statute books. And the written law is what troubles Captain and Mrs. Moses Payne and their followers. So far popular sympathy and "Moses out of Egypt" have encouraged and sustained them up to the Kansas line, and furnished them a text and an example to press on and possess themselves of the fat lands on the other side.

But at that point they are met by obstacles somewhat different from those which confronted Joshua when he took command of the big land stealing expedition after which this is modeled. In front of them are large numbers of red Hittites who religiously believe the land they live on is theirs against all the world, grasshopper sufferers from Kansas not excepted. [Note by the news editor—Kansas is the Egypt from which many of these colonists are fleeing, drought and grasshoppers being the taskmasters from which they are escaping.] Besides that these improved Hittites are able and anxious to do a great deal of rough fighting in defense of their homes. Then, unlike their ancient and unforfunate prototypes, these modern Hittites are backed by the United States Government and three or four companies of soldiers with real guns under Col. Coppenger, and Section 2118 of the Revised Statutes, which declares that "every person who makes a settlement on any lands belonging, secured, or granted by treaty with the United States to any Indian tribe, or attempts to survey such lands, or to designate any of the boundaries by marking trees or otherwise, is liable to a penalty of $1,000"—which is a different command and from a different source from that under which Joshua moved into Canaan. In fact, except both are gigantic land stealing expeditions, there is no further analogy between the cases, and the movers of the modern need no longer quote the ancient to encourage themselves. But we can tell pretty nearly the outcome of the pending movement by supposing what would have happened had the ancient Hittites been backed by the United States. The tramps from Egypt would have had the law read to them a few times, particularly Section 2118 above quoted, and advised to wait till Spring before crossing the Jordan. While they were doing this, and while the Government was keeping up a tremedous clatter about using all its vast power to maintain intact its solemn obligations to its helpless wards on the other side of Jordan, some commissioners from the regular stock on hand would be sent over to negotiate awhile with the said wards for their lands. A result would soon be reached. The last Hittite would shortly find himself on a reservation undergoing the starving-to-death process under the immediate supervision of a special government agent; in due time he and all his people would pass noiselessly away, and a new country be duly opened and civilized, and no blood shed to speak of. It is in regard to this last item that our modern system appears so much more humane than that of the ancients, who, it is fair to suppose, never heard of our reservation method. In those days they simply butchered the heathen outright and took possession in the name of law and order and religion. The improved method, after finding a heathen possessed of something worth having, is first to flatter his manhood by making him a party in formal negotiations, then take his property and move him off somewhere where he can be starved to death gradually—not cut his head off without any ceremony, as was the cruel fashion when they started out to open the way to civilization 3,000 years ago. While final results are identically the same, the modern plan is to be commended because it is not so shockingly abrupt.

BEE-CULTURE.

The science of bee-culture, although it has made rapid strides during the last twenty-five years, is yet in its infancy. Many things in regard to bees have not yet been explained, and many perhaps never will be; however, in the behavior and management of these interesting little creatures there are certain rules by which the bee-keeper generally can be guided, keeping in view that there are no rules without exceptions. In giving a brief guide for those who desire to keep a few stands of bees, either for pleasure or profit, I shall confine myself to facts from my own experience, or from that of such eminent apairists whose veracity and intelligence is beyond a doubt.

NATURAL HISTORY.

The honey-bee is evidently a native of warm countries, such as Minor Asia, Palestine, Egypt and ot'er countries adjoining the Mediterranean Sea. From there the bees have spread over the whole civilized world, following man in his wanderings and, until a few centuries ago, furnishing him with the only sweet in use till cane sugar became known.

DIFFERENT RACES.

There are many different races of honey bees, of which I shall mention only those best known and that have been tested for years. The common black or German bees, as they are often called, need hardly any description. They are found wherever man has made a home in a not too frigid climate, and are seen during the Summer in garden, field and forest, humming joyously from flower to flower in search of delicious nectar and many-hued pollen.

The Italian or Ligurian bees differ from the blacks in many respects. They are generally larger, the abdomen longer and more tapering. The tongue or proboscis is longer, so that they can reach the honey in flowers which are too deep for the black bees. They are hardier, flying out earlier, working later and going farther than the blacks. They are more energetic in every respect. If honey is scarce, the Italians will find enough to make a living, while the blacks are starving. They swarm more. They defend their hive better against intruders. They stick to their combs, when taken out for examination, while the black bees run down to the lower corner and fall off, or roll off like shot if shaken a little. The pure Italians are generally very gentle, seldom volunteering an attack upon their keeper if he treats them with becoming gentleness and care. And last, but not least, the Italians are the best moth-trap ever known, never allowing the moth-worm to infest their combs and if found in any other part of the hive, hustling them out before they have time to seek a retreat. The black bees, on the other hand, will suffer the moth-worms to spin their webs through the combs, imprisoning the young bees in their cells, and finally destroying the comb. For this reason alone the Italian bee is preferable to the black.

APPEARANCE OF THE ITALIANS.

The worker-bees have the three first rings or segments of the abdomen of a yellow, transparent color. This color is of different shades in different stocks. In those imported from Italy it is generally a dark leather or copper color, while those bred in America attain a much lighter shade. The darker Italians are generally regarded as the best honey-gatherers, while the light, golden hued bees no doubt please the eye most by their beauty. The queens are often as yellow as a new gold coin, sometimes with black dots in a line along the back, while the imported queens not infrequently are of a very dark shade.

HYBRID BEES.

The cross between the blacks and Italians is called hybrid bees. This is a misnomer, but the term having once come into vogue, is now universally accepted. If a queen from a pure Italian mother mates with a black drone, she produces worker bees with two and sometimes three yellow bands; while a black queen, mated with an Italian drone produces workers with only one or sometimes two yellow bands. The hybrids are excellent workers, but not as gentle as the pure Italians.

DIFFERENT BEES IN THE HIVE.

The queen is about double the size of the worker bee, but longer and more tapering in proportion. She is the mother of the whole colony, and her sole business is to lay eggs, while the nurse-bees attend to the care and development of the young. A good queen will, during the height of the breeding season, lay from two to three thousand eggs every twenty-four hours, while for a couple of months during the Winter she does not lay at all. As a rule there is only only one queen in each hive. The queen has a sting, but never uses it except in combat with another queen.

The worker-bees remain in the hive for the first 10 or 14 days of their existence, attending to the care of the young, feeding the queen (who seldom helps herself from the cells, but nevertheless is a great eater), building comb, storing and evaporating the honey, etc. After they get old enough, they sally forth in search of honey and pollen, and do no more work in the hive, except taking their part in evaporating the honey during the night.

The worker-bee has a sting, and will use it, too, when it deems it necessary. As the sting remains in the wound, the adjoining muscles are torn from the body, and the bee dies in a short time. The worker-bees are neuters. However, when the bees lose their queen from any cause, and have no means of raising another, one or more worker-bees will begin to lay eggs, which invariably hatch out dwarf drones. How these fertile workers, as they are called, are enabled to lay eggs is one of the mysteries of bee culture which has not yet been explained.

The drones are the males. They are about the size of the queen, but shorter and thicker in build. Sufficient of them should be retained to insure the speedy fertilization of the queen, but it is a great folly and waste to permit thousands of them to be hatched in each hive, for they are only consumers and gather no honey; therefore the bees themselves generally kill them off, when the object for which they were created has been accomplished, or whenever there is a sudden stop in the secretion of honey. The drones have no stings, and are as harmless as flies.

WM. MUTH-RASMUSSEN.

Piatinum.

But little is known by the people generally of the peculiar character of of this rare and curious metal, and how it is found in nature; and a few facts in regard to it may prove interesting to many readers.

Platinum is a metal of a grayish-white color resembling polished steel. It is harder than silver and of about double its density. It is so infusible that no considerable portion of it can be melted by the strongest heats of our furnaces. It is unchangeable in the air and water, nor does a white heat impair its polish. The only acid which dissolves it is the nitro-muriatic. It is usually found in flattened or angular grains or irregular masses. It is easily distinguished by its great specific gravity and by being almost infusible.

Platinum was first detected in 1735, in the alluvial deposits in New Granada where it received the name of platina, from the word plata—silver. It is now obtained in Brazil, and in very small quantities with gold, on the northern coast of California; but the greatest portion of the platinum used in the arts comes from the Ural mountains in Russia. It occurs there as elsewhere in alluvial beds. One to three pounds are procured from 3,700 pounds of sand.

Though commonly in small grains masses of considerable size have been found. A mass weighing 1,088 grains was brought from South America. A mass deposited in the Madrid Museum weighed 11,641 grains, and a more remarkable mass found in the Urals weighed 21 pounds.

The infusibility of platinum and its resistance to the action of the air and moisture, and most chemical agents renders it of great value for the construction of chemical and philosophical apparatus; it is also used for crucibles and capsules in chemical analysis, and for galvanic batteries. Platinum alloys readily when heated with iron, gold, lead and some other metals. Platinum does not harden under pressure, or under the hammer like most other metals, and it can be drawn into wire as fine as the finest hair.

Mining Outlook.

Anyone contrasting the wide difference between the prices of a large number of mining stocks to-day and the prices at which they sold a year ago, and listening to the loud-voiced complaints on all sides of victimized investors, could hardly be blamed for believing that the bottom had dropped out of mining, and everything in connection with the industry had gone to the bad. The fact is, however, that the industry itself was never before on so prosperous a footing as at the present time. Every day witnesses the outpouring of capital from both the East and the West into the mineral regions, extending from Idaho to Mexico and from Maine to California.

Over capitalization, recklees and imbecile management, and the manipulation of the stock market by mine managers, who have given this matter the attention they should have given to the proper development of their properties, have cast a temporary cloud over the business, but it will emerge, sooner or later, and be all the healthier for the set-back. No industry which contributes to the permanent wealth of the country something like $100,000,000 a year can be kept long in the background, and, with new corporations capitalized at fair amounts and on positive not fictitious values, managed by men of sagacity and prudence, with a proper respect for the magnitude of the business they are engaged in, and an honorable determination to use the money of their stockholders as they would their own, conscientiously, for the legitimate development of the mines, and not to gamble with the stock, we look, in the coming year, for a decided increase in the mining interest.—American Exchange.

A MILL FOR PAHRANAGAT.—Henry Raymond returned from San Francisco a week ago and has been busy trying to secure machinery, which he has succeeded in doing, for the purpose of erecting a 5-stamp mill in Pahranagat valley, in the vicinity of the Green Monster and other mining property owned by Harry Henderson & Co. A 5-stamp mill running in Pahranagat will add a little life to the valley.—Pioche (Nevada) Record.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 25.....1880

WATER AT THE LAKE SHORE.—In the work of securing a supply of water for steam and milling purposes at the new Hawley Mill, at Keeler City, it has been demonstrated that nature has not—as to the water question—done very badly toward the immense mining interests of Cerro Gordo and surrounding districts after all. The eastern shore of Owens Lake, a region abounding in natural sites for mills and furnaces, is shown to have beneath the surface an inexhaustible flow of water. There can be no question of the perfect success of artesian wells; in fact, the old Swansea furnace of the Owens Lake Silver-Lead Company was supplied by a natural flowing well, which advantage, however, may not have compensated for the awkward location of the works. The managers of the new works at Keeler, after a prolonged struggle with the inflowing water, succeeded in getting a well 38 feet in depth and 8 feet in diameter. A flow of 1,000 gallons per hour produced by the steam pumps had no perceptible effect upon the supply, and each time the well has been sunk a foot deeper the water has increased about that much in hight. Speaking of the operations on the 22d instant, Superintendent Holt writes: "In sinking a little deeper we took out a fine-looking boulder of quartz, containing native copper and native silver; the rock has also the appearance of being good gold quartz. We also found a sea shell, nearly perfect; but not being versed in shellology I can't give you its technical name. Don't know what may come next; but a prospect of a big lead of gold and silver (to say nothing of the copper) right under our mill is encouraging, to say the least." Another well, about 800 feet nearer to the lake, is only 12 feet deep, but when finished up four men with two 2-inch pumps could not keep the water down. These facts would seem to settle the question as to the proper location of reduction works for the mines of Cerro Gordo, Belmont and Swansea. With a wire tramway six miles in length down the steep mountain from Buena Vista Hill to the lake ore could be transported down, and water and supplies up, at a nominal cost. Wood and timbers, from inexhaustible supplies, would of course be run down the flume from the Sierras and towed across the lake in barges.

THE FOOT RACE.—There is a fast increasing interest manifest in the foot race to come off next Monday, between Dan. Crough and D. W. James, 100 yards for $1,000. It is rumored that some round sums of money has arrived to back up James—"the dark horse," and it is now more than ever thought that the sprint will be one of remarkable speed. If our readers insist upon gambling on the result we would advise them to bet on Dan. Dan is the front name of both the contestants, hence Dan must win.

GONE BELOW.—H. C. Yager, who has done a good work for this section in establishing marble cutting works at Big Pine, passed here a couple of days since en route for his home in San Bernardino. He, however, will return here with his family as soon as he can dispose of his property at San Bernardino, expecting to make this valley his home for an indefinite period. In the meantime, of course, his marble works will be suspended, until his return, after which he will be prepared to fill all orders in his line.

STARTED UP.—On the 10th instant the new gold mill at Freeborn Cañon, Beveridge District, the property of Messrs. Chandler, McEvoy & Taylor, started up for the first time since the addition of the battery. A note from Superintendent Taylor says: "We have been running right along in the day time, with but few delays. Everything works to a charm. The mines are looking well, and we will run quite a while before making a clean-up."

THE BALL.—The Masonic ball at the Court House on Monday evening next will probably be the best attended affair of the kind which has transpired in the county for some time, especially if the weather proves pleasant. The committee in charge desire it well understood that everybody is invited.

ACCORDING TO LAW.—In obedience to notice from the State Superintendent, and as required by law, County Superintendent Symmes started on Thursday to attend the State Teachers' Association, which convenes for its first annual session in San Francisco on the 28th.

TO THE COAST.—Mr. Henry Evans and wife and childrdn, of Round Valley, are on the road to some point on the coast to spend the Winter, and for schooling purposes. On the latter account the family will probably not return here with Mr. E. in the Spring.

NEW POSTMASTER.—A Washington dispatch to the San Francisco papers announces that Seth G. Sneden has been appointed Postmaster at Bishop Creek. The "billet" is a thankless one for anybody, and we doubt whether Mr. Sneden accepts.

NEW LODGE OF I. O. G. T.—We learn that a flourishing Lodge of Good Templars has been fairly established at Big Pine, but as yet, we are unable to give the names of the officers or other particulars relating thereto.

CLOSED.—The school here closed yesterday for three months, during which time Mr. Crough will teach the Camp Independence school three months, afterward re-opening this for a like period.

FESTIVAL.—A Church fair and festival was held by the ladies of Bishop Creek on the evening of the 17th instant, but with what results we have not learned.

RACING.—Lone Piners were indulging in horse-racing yesterday, the sport continuing to-day.

WILL GIVE RELIEF.—A lady and near relative of this "institution," now resident in Philadelphia, writes us as follows: "If you should be so unfortunate as to have diphtheria to deal with, let the patient inhale the fumes of lime just after ebullion ceases on being slacked with hot water. It is said to give great relief, killing the fungi. The patient should be covered with a quilt and the fumes directed under the same through a paper funnel." To this we may add that, according to our own observation, the fumes of sulphur burned in the bed room gives decided relief to whooping-cough sufferers.

COMING TO THE SCRATCH.—A few of our red brethren and sistern have applied to Dr. George to be "scratched" on small-pox account, as per notice of last week; but, in view of the fact that the arms of some of them who were vaccinated four years ago got "heap sick," the most of them are quite reluctant about coming forward for any more of it. Mrs. J. W. Symmes has used her influence to a good purpose in overcoming the Indian fear of or prejudice against vaccination—an example others would do well to follow instead of spending time and temper in silly efforts to secure safety, before danger comes, by driving Indians off the ranch.

MOIST.—For three weeks or more the weather here has been almost continuously cloudy, warm, and showery, and remains so to date—a remarkably long spell of web-foot weather for this region.

INSTALLATION NIGHT.—Monday evening next Inyo Lodge, No. 221, F. & A. M., installs its elected and appointed officers for the year A. L. 5881.

SPECIAL MEETING.—A special meeting of Busy Bee Lodge, No. 250, I. O. G. T., is ordered for to-morrow (Sunday) evening.

DEAD.—The Candelaria True Fissure of the 18th instant has the following relative to the death of a formerly well and favorably known resident of Bishop Creek:

Last Thursday night the soul of that noble old man, George C. Alexander, passed into the Great Beyond. His last illness was only of a few days' duration and he passed away without a perceptible struggle. Mr. Alexander was a man of more than ordinary ability. His younger life was passed in New York, where his associates were Samuel J. Tilden and men of like standing. When the Mexican war broke out he joined the volunteers and after its close came to this Coast. For a number of years he lived in the southern part of California, and was extensively engaged in the forwarding and commission business, being a partner of P. T. Banning. He was also Indian Agent when that department was under the control of the military, and in such position was the friend of W. S. Hancock, then a Captain in the regular army. Business reverses caused him to leave that part of the country, and during the past years he has resided at Columbus, Bishop Creek and this place. Here he practiced law and was a candidate on the Republican ticket for Justice of the Peace at the last election. His kind and gentlemanly disposition made him a favorite with all, and, although he died in the fullness of years, his death is regretted by our entire community. The flags of the town were at half-mast since yesterday morning until after the funeral to-day, which was largely attended. He leaves a brother in Wilmington, California, a son and daughter in New York and a daughter in Chicago. Peace to the ashes of the good old man who has passed over the river of death to the shore beyond.

"For none return from those quiet shores,
Who cross with the boatman pale;
We hear the dip of the golden ores,
And catch a glimpse of the snowy sail;
And, lo! they have passed from our yearning hearts,
They cross the stream and are gone for aye."

OUR SPIRIT FRIENDS.

How kind of those spirits who dwell far above us,
Who are now in the home of the blessed;
To come down to earth on their mission of kindness,
And watch over our friends while we rest.

How sweetly we slumber as they linger near us,
As a watchman that guards from the foe;
Refreshed in the morning by their heavenly presence,
A blessing that many are never to know.

The heathen and scoffer whose minds are in darkness,
May be inclined to treat this in jest;
But my convictions are still that those spirits come near us;
As a mother bird comes to her young in their nest.

God pity poor me should my mind become darkened,
And thus be deprived of those visions of light;
I'd pray to my father from morn until evening;
That my restless spirit might soon take its flight.

For why should I wish to remain any longer,
Thus groping my way on earth all alone;
As those spirits who have but so recently left me;
And up through their pathway to heaven have flown.

My desire would be to soon follow after,
To join my companions that passed on before;
And who may describe a lone spirit's feelings,
At meeting those loved ones in heaven once more.

Poets may sing of that beautiful city,
And try through their zeal to lessen your fear;
But one spirit present is more than sufficient;
To reveal all its beauties more perfectly clear.

Should this earth, as was Egypt, be smitten with darkness,
And those heavenly spirits be taken away;
Then sound that last trumpet and call us poor mortals,
For we'd have no desire any longer to stay.

A Express Agent to be Hanged.

The infamous road agent and murderer, Geo. Parrot, alias Big-Nosed George, has been sentenced by Judge Peck to be hanged next April. George is the last but one of the worst band of road agents and train robbers that ever infested Wyoming. The last act of the gang was an attempt to turn a Union Pacific passenger train into a chasm 150 feet deep at Big Springs in 1878. Two Deputy Sheriffs pursued the gang and were killed. George confessed this crime, desiring to be hanged in expiation.—Wyoming Leader, Dec. 18.

PREPARATIONS are being made to erect an ice manufactory at Tucson of sufficient capacity to supply Southern Arizona and the stations along the Southern Pacific Railroad. The machinery it is estimated will cost $35,000.

SEVERAL more of Nadeau's sixteen mule teams, drawing each four "prairie schooners," came into town to-day. They are destined, we suppose, for the new freighting line in Arizona.—Los Angeles Express, Dec. 18.

IN the Solano special election held on Saturday last, to decide the tie for Assemblyman, between Leach (Republican) and Goodyear (Democrat), the former won by about 600 votes.

A SHORT time since Pixley started a daily paper in San Francisco, and called it the Epigram. It is now dead. It was too smart to live long.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Allgemeine Deutsche Unterstuetzungs Gesellschaft.

[German General Benevolent Society.]

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28, 1880.

Messrs. Harris & Rhine, Independence, Cal.:

DEAR SIRS—The undersigned, President of the German Benevolent Society, begs leave to call your attention to this truly benevolent institution, founded in the early days of California, and being now in the 27th year of its existence. The Society was formed to carry out three objects, viz.: to assist poor and worthy or deserving people by support, to find employment for those out of work, and to cure those who are stricken down with sickness. For the latter purpose the Society owns a magnificent Hospital, surrounded by extensive grounds, where all patients are under the charge of excellent physicians and a consulting board of the most eminent medical talent of this city. The Society has expended for hospital and grounds the sum of $188,895.

The object of this communication is to propose to you to act as agent for this Society, either personally or through one of your employees suited for such position, for the purpose of enlisting new members.

The monthly fee is only one dollar and the initiation fee on becoming a member two dollars. Only healthy persons can become members, and only Germans or those who speak that language, also their wives and children. Any member who meets with sickness is treated in the hospital without any expense to him until he has been restored to health. All persons who are not members, or can not become such, not speaking the German language, are admitted for medical treatment in the hospital at as low terms as it is possible to make them.

In this city we have about 3,000 members, but throughout the interior only about 300. It is our aim to increase the number of members throughout the State to make the hospital as much as possible self-sustaining, to enable us to extend the charitable department in this benevolent institution. For the trifling sum of one dollar per month members have the best aid and care in the German Hospital.

Frequently sick people in the country are crippled for life by false treatment from incompetent doctors, or even brought to a premature death. Only too late do they find out that if they had become members they would have been restored to health, and their earnings of years would not have gone into the pockets of inexperienced doctors, as the hospital employs only the best physicians. If there are no earnings, the employers and the friends of the sick are generally called upon to pay for his support. All this can be avoided, if the employers would vigorously enforce the rule, now introduced in most of San Francisco's establishments, that every man employed should belong to a relief society in order that in case of sickness he might be well cared for and not be reduced to the rather humiliating necessity of asking aid from the purses of his employer and his friends.

Persons of all nations of the age of 50 years or over are admitted as pensioners for life by paying a certain sum to be agreed upon to the society. They receive a home at the hospital, first-class board, washing and attendance in in case of sickness, free of any expense.

To enable Germans and others who do not know of the existence of this institution, neither of the hospital nor its great advantages, to become members, I have addressed you the above, and hope that you will cheerfully accept the agency and do all in your power to further the interests of this society by enlisting new members, and recommending our hospital to those who may be compelled to seek medical aid.

Your Obedient Servant,
JULS. BANDMANN,
President G. G. B. S.

ENGINEERING and MINING JOURNAL.
PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

DEVOTED TO

RICHARD P. ROTHWELL, C.E., M.E.,
ROSSITER W. RAYMOND, Ph.D., } Editors.
WILLIAM H. WAHL, Ph.D., Department of Progress in Science and the Arts.

IT IS AN ACCEPTED AUTHORITY ON ALL questions relating to the great mining industries of the country. It is the oldest publication of its class in America, thoroughly independent; being of the trade and not in it, occupies a just and impartial position, which enables it to advise and teach without fear or favor. It devotes much space to questions bearing upon economical management of mines, and from time to time illustrates the more important improvements in mining machinery and engineering methods. Special attention is given to reliable mining news from all parts of the country, which is gathered by an efficicient corps of correspondents in every section, and from an extended exchange list. The metal and ore markets, and gold, silver and miscellaneous stocks are reported and commented upon weekly by experienced financiers, who are unbiased by private interests, and upon these matters it is accepted as a reliable guide and unfailing instructor. Gives statistics of production of coal and iron, and of our great gold, silver and other mines. Its scientific notes are an epitome of the latest researches, its trade reports full, and its editorials sagacious and comprehensive. It enjoys the widest circulation and greatest influence of any journal of its class in the world; its patrons and readers comprising the most select and intelligent men in every quarter.

Subscription, $4 per year, in advance; 10c., single copy.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT OF THIRD Township, in the County of Inyo, State of California. Frank Broder, Plaintiff, v. Wm. Dickenson, Defendant.

The People of the State of California send greeting to Wm Dickenson, Defendant: You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named Plaintiff, in the Justice's Court of Third Township, County of Inyo, State of California, and to answer before the Justice at his office in said Township, the complaint filed therein, within five days (exclusive of the day of service), after the service on you of this summons—if served within the township in which this action is brought; or, if served out of said Township, but in said County, within ten days; or, within twenty days if served elsewhere.

The said action is brought to recover judgment against Defendant and in favor of Plaintiff for the sum of Sixty Dollars, and interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent per annum from October 1, 1880, due on a promissory note given in the Third Township in said County June 23, 1880, and payable October 1, 1880, together with costs of suit, as will more fully appear by the complaint filed herein, to which reference is hereby made.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to so appear and answer said complaint, as above required, said Plaintiff will take judgment against you for the sum of $60 and interest, together with costs of suit.

Make legal service and due return hereof.

Given under my hand this First day of November, 1880. THOMAS PARKER,
Justice of the Peace of said Township.

EXTRACTED HONEY.

THIS HONEY WAS REMOVED FROM THE comb by centrifugal force, with a machine made for the purpose. It is therefore virtually the same as honey in the comb, only you don't have to eat the bees wax, which is indigestible and therefore disagrees with many persons. When first extracted the honey is liquid, but nearly all pure honey will candy or granulate in course of time, especially if exposed to the cold. Putting the cans in hot water for a short time will bring the honey to its fluid state without injury.

This Honey is put up in 10 pound cans, with patented screw tops, which renders it convenient for family use, and especially for the mines, to which it may be packed, even upside down, without leakage. A neat label on each can gives full directions.

Price, $1 75 per can, or 15 cents per ℔ at the Apiary, if customers furnish their own receptacle. For sale at Harris & Rhine's, Independence, and at the Apiary, at Henry Fehrman's place, Camp Independence.
